PREY FLOWERS ADOR ST. MARK'S

Christmas Is Celebrated at the Cathedral by Dean Samuel R. Colladay.

Holy communion was observed at St. Mark's cathedral yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock, and at 11 o'clock there was a special Christmas service with a musical program, which will be repeated at the service this morning.

The cathedral was beautifully decorated with wreaths of holly and a finishing touch to the decorations was given by bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

Dean Samuel R. Colladay presided at the 11 o'clock service, speaking on the significance of Christmas day and the mission of the Christmas spirit. Taking his text from Luke II, 14, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men," he said that all undoubtedly realized the beauty of the fellowship and service of the Christmas spirit. The Christmas spirit, he said, has a real source with some individuals, and if his hearers could get in touch with that source they would be enabled to make that spirit their own throughout the year.

The true source of the Christmas spirit, Dean Colladay said, was the message of God's love in the coming of Christ, and only the love and service which is based on the vision of God's love in Christ can enable man consistently to spread the Christmas cheer. A love that is flowing forth, disinterested, unselfish, and selfless, must have the strength of duty on one hand, and if it is to be a real blessing it must be natural, unforced, and unfeigned. This condition, he said, was possible only if the love of man is based on a realization of God's personal love to man. He said it was the true purpose of religion and especially of the religious side of Christmas to develop this love to God as a reality and power in daily life.

PROVE SPLENDID HOSTS

The Commercial club rooms had more of the aspect of a home than of a business man's or bachelor's lounging or recreative place on Christmas day. Through the holy and evergreen-folled rooms and corridors, yesterday afternoon and evening, there was a steady throng of the Christmas-cheer seeking folk of all ages. The early diners entered the club, and every one enjoyed for the day the freedom of the rooms given to men for 34 days in the year. Children romped through the rooms with all the freedom of their own home and the curious interest of exploring a new country; modishly-gowned ladies sauntered about inspecting the paintings, picked up the latest magazines, or rested in the easy chairs while watching the favorite diversion of the clubroom—billiards. Through the rooms echoed the strains of the catchy, humming tunes of the latest opera played upon the piano.

Along the Big Muddy. Three years ago the Moapa & Salt Lake Produce company became interested in the Moapa country by buying several ranches near the headwaters of the Big Muddy river. This company was promoted by the Fitzgerald Brothers Land company. To secure sufficient water for the irrigation of the lands purchased a big spring, one of the feeders of the Muddy river, was filed on. One of these ranches alone contains 1,030 acres, and this great acreage has been improved by the planting of crops such as have made that section of the west famous.

Francis G. Luke Surprised. Francis G. Luke, manager of the Merchants' Protective association, was pleasantly surprised by his young lady employee on Christmas eve, when he was presented with a beautiful pastel landscape, the product of the brush of one of his employees. The pastel is of exceptional beauty and will in the future adorn the office of Mr. Luke.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink. The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors,
