MIDDLEWEIGHT MAT CHAMPION WILL WRESTLE YOKEL HERE

Mike Yokel of Salt Lake and Henry Gehring of Cleveland, Ohio, will meet April 22 at the Salt Lake theatre in a finish wrestling match to decide the world's middleweight title. Having won the welterweight title and in three matches meeting no man at his weight who made him extend himself Yokel asked Promoter Harry Heagren to challenge the Cleveland man and yesterday the terms of the match were arranged by wire.

In one of the best matches ever seen in Cleveland, Gehring last month won the middleweight title from Chris Jordan, the Boston wrestler picked by Ackerman when he was here, as the man to throw Yokel.

Gehring agrees to meet Yokel at 155 pounds ringside, the middleweight limit. While Yokel is a welterweight, he will go on the mat around 152 pounds, so that the weight difference will not be large.

Many local wrestling fans have long wished for a match in which Yokel would have to extend himself to the limit to win, and if he can win from Gehring he certainly will have to put up all he has got in the way of skill, strength and nerve.

In a brilliant career, Gehring has never been thrown by a man at his weight, and is thought invincible in Cleveland, even at the hands of middleweights. Gehring, however, had heard of Yokel and it was more than a week before the final agreement was reached.

Both wrestlers and the promoter have posted $200 forfeits to live up to the terms of the contract.

With the match but three weeks away, Yokel will start training at once.

and frankly admits that he has the toughest job of his career on hand. Interest in the match picked up upon the announcement of Yokel's opponent yesterday afternoon. Yokel's friends are still convinced that no wrestler within ten pounds of his weight can throw him, and will back Yokel to win, despite the odds and the class of the man he is to meet.

Called "Young Gutch," in Cleveland, Gehring has been dubbed "Young Gutch," because his form on the mat closely follows that of the champion. Gehring has defeated all the crack middleweights and some of the light heavyweights.

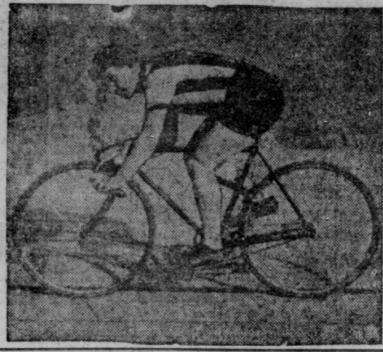

Yokel feels that in case he is thrown by the Cleveland man his welterweight title will not be disturbed. Mike believes, however, that he has a great chance to win the middleweight title, and is willing to try.

The match should bring out the best wrestling and the greatest mat contest ever seen in the state. Gehring is now in Cleveland, but will start west with his manager in time to be here ahead of the Cleveland man. He wired that a week's work would put him in top shape, and that he would come prepared to defend his title.

SPEED STARS OF BICYCLE GAME SIGN TO RIDE 1910 SEASON AT SALT PALACE SAUCER

WILL RIDE AT SAUCER.

- Floyd McFarland
- Iver Lawson
- Hardy K. Downing
- Norman Hopper
- Gordon Walker
- J. Davies
- Brownie Carslake
- Jack Burris
- Tommy Morgan
- Sax Williams
- Gussie Lawson
- Whiskers Devonovitch

- A. J. Clarke
- Ernie E. Pye
- Walter DeMara
- S. H. Wilcox
- Oliver Dorian
- Fred Wells
- Steve Senhouse
- J. A. Achorn
- Ray Duer
- J. DeFargo
- F. E. Whittler

A glance at the above list of professional bicycle riders shows that the 1910 racing season at the Salt Palace saucer track will have the largest aggregation of stars ever appearing at a local track. The list of riders signed up was announced by Manager Harry Heagren yesterday. Starting late in the season, because the track was held back by the Salt Palace owners, Mr. Heagren went about lining up his men under a handicap, but the success of his efforts is plain to be seen.

By cable from Paris yesterday Manager Heagren received the acceptance from Floyd McFarland and Jackie Clarke of a contract to ride in Salt Lake the entire season. Gussie Lawson will come with the two cracks, the party leaving to be here the middle of May in time for the opening card Decoration Day.

The fact that Clarke and McFarland will ride in Salt Lake will be met with enthusiasm by the local fans and by a corresponding regret by the Valesburg fans, where the two rode last year for Johnny Chapman at the Newark saucer. There Clarke was considered by many the equal of Frank Kramer. With another year back of him the little Australian should try this season. Lanky McFarland, always a feature of any race meet, is one of the best known riders that have ridden in Salt Lake.

Lawson Must Ride. Of the other stars lined up by Manager Heagren, Iver Lawson, former world champion, and western champion last year, is too well known in his hometown, to need comment. That he will have to ride to stall off Clarke's challenge for the western title will add largely to the interest in his work. Downing, DeMara, Hopper and Wilcox are members of the old guard. A goodly number of the australians will be in Walker, Pye, Senhouse, Jumbo Wells, Carslake, J. Davies and others, making international time races possible as a feature.

With the sprints well taken care of this year more than in the past will the most valuable be featured. In Whittler, Salt Lake now has the champion motor rider. On the coast this winter the "Wobbling Wheel" demonstrated his superiority as a speed marvel over Jake De Rosier, from whom Whittler won the title.

Gussie Lawson is a motor rider of international reputation who returns to the local saucer after an absence of two years.

A new comer will be J. DeFargo, champion motor cycle rider of Australia, who also claims the world's championship. With the three motor stars named the opportunity for match and open races as well as championship events later in the season will be unsurpassed.

As for the amateurs it looks as if there will be a "flock" on hand. More riders, more prize money, improvement to the track and stands, a manager who has in the past shown his ability and has just now signed up a record number of stars, well known and competent officials—all should combine to give the fans of Salt Lake's great game a great season of sport.

Due to Outdoor Winter Plan All Animals on Long Island Tracks Show Advanced Form.

New York, April 2.—Not for years have the horses in training at the Long Island tracks been in as advanced a condition at this season, as they are now. The warm weather has afforded the trainers every opportunity and though no work of a sensational character has been reported from Gravesend, Sheepshead Bay or Belmont Park, a greater number of horses are ready for the speed trials than ever before. All through the winter months there has been practically a clean bill of health from each of the training stables, and the handlers have a rugged lot to work on for the coming campaign.

One marked change in the winter program appears to have been a great benefit, the scheme of permitting the horses to run out in paddocks during the cold weather. This seems to have resulted in more excellent physical condition than the old system, whereby the horses went into retirement in the fall and were bled and blanketed all winter long in warm stalls.

BASEBALL TOO EXPENSIVE FOR SCHOOL AND COLLEGE LEAGUES

With the University of Utah, L. D. S., the B. Y. U. and Salt Lake High school pulling out of the state intercollegiate baseball league, leaving the two Logan schools, the B. Y. C. and Agricultural college alone in the game, all hope for a college league for 1910 is left.

While the B. Y. U. refused to enter the league on account of the four-year rule adopted by the intercollegiate conference, the main reason for the withdrawal of the college teams lies in the fact that the teams were run at a financial loss that the athletic treasuries could not stand.

With the league apparently well under way, the L. D. S. team was met with the proposition on the part of the faculty that if the team entered the league the players must stand the expense. This caused the withdrawal of the "Saints."

Upon being informed of the action of the L. D. S., the university followed the faculty at least $40 will be saved, and a fenced diamond, which would be had at a reasonable rental, there was no chance to break even on the receipts.

The university athletic authorities figure that by giving up baseball for the year at least $40 will be saved, and this sum will be devoted to the improvements on Cummings field.

With the L. D. S. and the university out of the running, the Salt Lake High school was forced to step out of the league and the league itself has gone under.

With the exception of the university and B. Y. U., all of the schools will keep up their baseball lines, however, and will play games with all teams when it is seen that the receipts will equal the cost.

No attempt to start a high school league has been made, and it is doubtful if one will be started.

The fact that baseball will not pay for itself in the schools and colleges of the state is to be deplored, and yet until the schools and colleges get together and form an intercollegiate and scholastic league, respectively, with regular schedules and regular championships to be played for, independent play, which in itself is sufficient to take away the chance for placing baseball on a paying basis, will have to continue.

Utah county has a live school league started, with every prospect of success. Why Salt Lake and Weber counties, the two largest in point of population in the state, cannot support a school league is hard to tell.

SPRING PRACTICE FOR UTAH ELEVEN

New Rules Will be Worked Out Under Direction of Maddock and Bennion.

Beginning Monday the football team of the University of Utah, for the first time in the history of the school, will begin active spring practice. The spring training schedule was decided upon last week at a meeting of Coach Joe Maddock of the university and Coach Fred Bennion of the B. Y. U., who will next year guide the destinies of the Utah team. The work will begin by a general class work which will consist of schooling the men in the new rules as they will be used next year.

The class work will be supplemented by a regular line-up in which all of the rules will be completely worked out and the possible plays for next year formulated.

In order to make the work more effective Coach Maddock will be assisted by Coach Bennion, Tille Olsen, captain of the star backs in last year's line-up.

The men who have signed up for suits for the first work are Captain William Home, Grant, H. Richardson, Romney, Horsefall, Love, D. Olsen, S. Olsen, Christensen, Nielson, Shores, Walker, Doolittle, Korne, Roskelly, Swapp, E. Holmstead, N. Holmstead, Erickson, Risser, D. Bennion and Deane. In addition to these men, Coach Bennion will bring with him five men from Provo, who intend to break into football next year. With this line-up, which consists of about thirty men, the greatest aggregation of football men ever brought together at one time at the school.

In speaking of the prospects for Utah under the new rules, Coach Joe Maddock said: "I think the new rules will be a great benefit to Utah, as it will permit of faster and more open playing. In the past, Utah has always played an open game, and with the new rules their chances will be greater."

COAST LEAGUER DIES. San Francisco, April 2.—Joseph Nealon, who played first base on the Pittsburg National league team for two seasons, died at his home in this city today after a brief attack of typhoid fever. Nealon entered professional ball as a member of the local team of the Coast league, where his playing attracted the attention of the Pittsburg scouts and he was drafted for that team after one year with the San Francisco team.

ORIGIN OF "YANIGAN" IS FOUND AT LAST

Philadelphia, April 2.—Maybe you have wondered where the word "yanigan" originated, and you may also have wondered who originated it. The man who did so is in Atlanta with the Philadelphia Athletics. He is Sam Irwin, manager of the Philadelphia Yanigans.

This word has been in existence since 1888. It was during the season that Mr. Irwin named the Reserves, as they were then called, the Yanigans, and it came about in this way, according to Mr. Irwin:

"I had a pitcher with the team named Mattimore. We were barnstorming through the New England states at the time. On coming into the bench after each inning he would yell at me, 'Oh, you Yanigan.' The name struck me as original, and I asked him what it meant.

"Hanged if I know," he said, but he kept on using it. After the game I thought it over and it struck me as a pretty good name for my bunch of Reserves. I named them the Yanigans the next day when they came out to the ball park. It stuck from that time on, and all the other teams have used it ever since.

"Other persons have claimed the distinction of originating that word, but that is how it really started."

Mr. Irwin is over 70 years old, but is hale and hearty and as lively as all the youngsters over whom he has charge, and with whom he is extremely popular.

STAGG TO HOLD TRIALS FOR PENNSY RELAYS

Chicago, April 2.—Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago will hold his annual "prep" relay trials on April 23, according to the announcement made yesterday.

All western high schools will be eligible for the meet, and the winning quartet will go to the University of Pennsylvania relay games at Philadelphia, April 30. The individual eligibility rules provide that all contestants must be amateurs, bona fide students and under 20 years old.

NEW YORK FAN PLEADS FOR A Milder GAME

New York, April 2.—Revision of the baseball rules in the interest of milder and gentleness along the lines presumably of suggested football revision is urged upon President Thomas J. Lynch of the National league in a letter he has received from a New York fan.

"The breaking of the ankle of the captain of the Yale baseball team and the fractured hand received by a catcher of the same team demonstrate conclusively," says the writer, "that there is something fundamentally wrong with the game. It seems almost worse than a gladiatorial contest when our young men must be exposed to the continual flight of a cannon ball."

"Unless baseball men themselves institute a reform the state legislatures will surely take up the matter. Some changes I suggest are:

"Make the diamond about twice the present size to avoid danger from collision, substitute a tennis ball for the present iron arrangement, thus eliminating half the danger of the game and making the fielders' work more spectacular; remove the present kind of base and substitute wicker chairs, so that the runner may recuperate while the ball is being served by the pitcher."

"There is no indication that Mr. Lynch takes the suggestions too seriously."

MUST CREASE PANTS.

Toledo, O., April 2.—Umpire Jack Haskell, chief of the Western league staff, has decreed that not only must the umpires sport themselves in blue this year, but they must keep their trousers creased. Jack says that a classically clad master of ceremonies adds much to the elicit of the game, and that he will insist on all his indicator holders wearing blue trousers, blue blouses and the cutest little blue caps. They may wear blue or tan or black shoes, even the footwear with the green tops not being barred, but the clothes edict goes for sure.

KETCHEL LEAVES TO TRAIN FOR LANGFORD

Pittsburg, April 2.—Stanley Ketchel, middleweight champion of the world, left here early today for New York, where he will immediately start training for his six-round bout with Sam Langford in Philadelphia on April 27. Ketchel has been having his left hand, which he broke in his recent fight here with Frank Klaus, treated by local specialists.

ENGLISH POLO TEAM.

London, April 2.—Prominent members of the Hurlingham Polo club have taken steps to raise a fund of $50,000 to be vested in trustees for the purchase of ponies and their care during the trip to the United States to compete for the international polo cup.

The players are to be responsible for their own expenses.

BERGER TELLS OF WIDE INTEREST IN BATTLE

San Francisco, April 2.—Sam Berger, manager for James J. Jeffries, returned to San Francisco last night from the east, where he has been making arrangements for a theatrical tour for his proteges in case he is victorious July 4. Berger says the fight has aroused widespread interest and that indications are that it will be impossible to handle the crowds which will attend the fight.

Berger met Jeffries on the latter's arrival from Los Angeles Monday morning, and accompany him to Roward-sumner, where the fighter will begin training for the championship battle.

JORDAN DISTRICT HAS GOOD ATHLETIC TEAMS

The baseball season among the schools of the Jordan district will, within another week, be in full swing. In the league will be teams from Union, Sandy, Draper, West Jordan, Midvale and Bingham. Of the six teams entered in the tournament, that representing the Jordan High is admitted to have the best chance of carrying off the championship honors.

The squad, under the supervision of Coach Dietton, has been putting in nightly practice for more than three weeks, and just now the team is showing up strong. A number of games have been played with teams around the county, and in several of the contests the Jordan High had winners have been victorious.

The dual meet to be held next month by the schools in the district is attracting more than ordinary interest. Already competition is quite keen, and it is the consensus of opinion that the meet this season will be the best ever held in the district. Track work at all institutions is progressing under able supervision. The nightly turnout is more than encouraging. Each school will put forth its best effort, in order to win the handsome trophies which are to be given to successful contestants.

PAPKE DISGUSTED WITH FRENCH GAME--RETURNS

New York, April 2.—Billy Papke, disgusted with his inability to get on a fight with European pugilists, came back to this country today on the La Lorraine. Papke said he had heard from Promoter Coffroth that he could get a match with Stanley Ketchel for the middleweight title soon. He will go to California, stopping off at his home in Keewauau, Ill.

"If Fight is Short Picture Films Will Be Pearls Without Price"

New York, April 2.—The shorter the fight at Emeryville, Cal., on July 4, the more valuable the moving pictures of the contest will be. Such is the opinion vociferously by John J. Gleason, partner of Tex Rickard in promoting the affair. He added that the films will be as pearls without price if, in case the fight does go only about five or six rounds, Jeffries is returned the winner.

Gleason said that none of the seats to be sold by the railroad, lower priced seats will be held for sale in San Francisco, as it is believed by the promoters that those who care to do so extensive traveling to see the contest likewise will be willing to pay liberally to get near the Ringside.

"If the fight goes four or five rounds, with Jeffries the winner," said Gleason, "there is no way of estimating the value of the moving pictures. Of course the general public wants to see Jeffries win. They will pay liberally to see the fight if it goes, but they know that if the fight lasts thirty or forty rounds they can possibly buy the pictures."

"It would be difficult, too, to make as good a picture showing with 15 rounds as it would be with fewer than ten. Then every minute that the men were in the ring would be minutely exhibited."

HAVE WON THEIR LETTER AT UNIVERSITY

"U" CLUB—UNIVERSITY OF UTAH. The University of Utah "U" club is composed of the men of the university who have won their letter in some college fraternity. The club was organized for the purpose of holding the athletes of the university in more direct union. In this way the men, after they leave the university, are always kept in contact with the things of interest which are going on in the university athletic circles. It was through the club that many of the old men have been brought back to the university during athletic activities and have materially helped in the development of the athletic teams. The men in the picture and the branch of sport in which they have won their letter are: Top row, left to right—Shores, football; Grant, football and track; Banning, baseball; S. Olsen, football; Cole, track; Erickson, track; D. Bennion, football; Roberts, track; D. Olsen, football; Love, football. Second row, left to right—Larson, baseball; McLean, football; Karrick, track; Sneddon, assistant manager; Lovell, football; N. Judis, track; H.
