

DEMOCRATS EXTOL JEFFERSON'S NAME

Banquet at Washington and Another at Indianapolis Which Leaders Attend.

USUAL TARIFF ATTACKS LETTER FROM BRYAN GREETED WITH APPLAUSE.

Washington, April 13.—Vigorous attacks on the Republican policy of high protection; condemnation of the Payne-Adair tariff law, which it was claimed, was one of the principal causes of high prices; strong defense of the principles of Thomas Jefferson, and loudly-applauded prediction of Democratic victory at the coming congressional elections, were made by the speakers at the banquet here tonight in honor of the birth of Thomas Jefferson. With members of both houses of Congress among the speakers and representatives of Democracy from all parts of the United States present, the banquet was an enthusiastic approval of the principles of Jefferson's reverence for the individual love of liberty, was praised by Representative Clayton of Alabama, toastmaster of the banquet.

The writings and teachings in favor of "individualism under highly developed civilization as the antithesis of communism" were praised by the speaker, who spoke of Jefferson's belief in state's rights and the separation of the different branches of government.

Alleged Harmony.

"The certainty of Democratic harmony and the restoration of government to the rule of the Democratic party, were declared to be due to the 'sins of omission and of commission by the Republican party. Vigorous sacrifices of certain members of the Republican party, he said, would not be accepted by the people of the country as a sufficient atonement for the faults of the party. The Democratic party, he claimed, will remain harmonious.

In motion of Representative Lloyd of Missouri it was voted to send greetings to the Jefferson day banquet at Indianapolis.

The first speaker of the evening was Representative Harrison of New York. Senator Ben F. Shively of Indiana spoke on Jefferson's political philosophy. He charged Alexander Hamilton as a "believer in corruption as a means of government, who went on the floor of Congress and traded patronage of the treasury department in legislation for votes."

"It was this," said the senator, "that Jefferson challenged. Today," said Senator Shively, "the Republican party may appeal to Lincoln on sentiment, but it always appeals to Hamilton for its principles."

Senator Shively attacked the Republican party rule as a confederacy of special privileges which has turned the taxing power of government into private assets.

"The great issue today," he said, "is that if the people of this country cannot recall their taxing power, no other reform is possible in this country. A colonial system of graft has been placed in this country at presidential elections by the Republican party."

Champ Clark's Speech.

Minority Leader Champ Clark of Missouri then spoke. Condemning the Republican party as the "most extravagant the sun ever shone on" and calling what he dubbed "the Payne-Adair-Smoot tariff bill" the worst tariff bill ever placed on the statute books, Mr. Clark declared "it and its predecessor, the Dingley bill, with the trusts bred by the high tariff, are largely responsible for the high cost of living."

"If a high tariff does not increase prices," he asked, "why do the tariff barons, who are high tariffers? The question answers itself."

"The people this fall," he said are quite likely to take it into their heads to locate the authors of the vast extravagance which is eating up their substance and to punish them when found—a just and patriotic performance of duty on the part of a Democratic House of Representatives and both a Democratic president and House of Representatives.

Senator Charles J. Hughes of Colorado emphasized the declaration of independence and characterized Jefferson as the greatest political captain in the history of this country.

A letter was read from Chairman Norman E. Mack of the Democratic national committee, who was unable to attend in person. The letter set forth that the writer had just completed a seven weeks' trip about the country and that he had found everywhere "distrust of the Republican party for failure to keep faith with the people by carrying out its platform pledges and its promises made to them by the President in his letter of acceptance."

Banquet at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, April 13.—Six hundred Democrats of Indiana entertained prominent leaders of the party from other states at a banquet in celebration of the birth of Thomas Jefferson tonight.

John W. Kern, the Democratic candidate for vice president in the national election, introduced the speakers, and in presenting Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, said "he has made good to the extent that we think he should be called to a higher position."

Responding to Mr. Kern, Governor

Marshall declared he was "a candidate for no office under the sun. He would not take care of himself," said Governor Marshall. "I believe a man that seeks by trick or scheme to be nominated for President of the United States is not fit to fill that office. I am only the governor of Indiana."

The reading of a congratulatory letter from Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio was received with cheers and great applause also greeted the name of William Bryan when Mr. Kern took the floor from him in which Mr. Bryan said President Taft in his Lincoln day address had endorsed "the quantitative theory of money."

Governor Harmon's Letter.

Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio in his letter to Mr. Kern said in part: "The belief has rapidly spread throughout the country that the leaders of the party which has long succeeded in securing majorities at the polls are not able, even if they were willing, to rescue the government from the grasp of those who use it to thrive at the expense of the millions of citizens who support it. So the opportunity of our party is at hand."

Joseph W. Folk of Missouri attacked the principle of protective tariff. "The right should not be merely for a reduction of tariff duties, but against the system of protection," said he. "If protection is a good thing, there cannot be too much of it. If it is a bad thing, there cannot be too little of it. If protection benefited all alike, no one would want it."

"It is because it gives a few special benefits that the many that the few claim for this tariff and for the few reasons the many should not submit to it. The only purpose of a high protective tariff is to stifle competition, and to that extent create monopoly. It is better to protect the people from monopoly instead of protecting monopoly from the people."

PITTSBURG CRAFT CASES

Three More Former Councilmen Take Immunity Bath—Hands of Prosecution Strengthened.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 13.—Though District Attorney William A. Blackley did not proceed with the trials of the several councilmen whose names were charged with grafting, the hands of the prosecutor were strengthened and further efforts to defeat the course of the law met with rebuffs.

Three former councilmen who had declared they would "stand on their feet" in defense of Harrison Nesbitt as a witness in the immunity bath. Efforts to harass the prosecution by bringing technical objections into the courtroom were filed. An affidavit was issued for another who was delinquent in his appearance, while two others were given a further respite to decide whether they would stand trial.

John Casserty, Isaac Libson and John Hogue were the ones who consented to stand on their feet. In the case of John Taylor, an effort was again made to "take the immunity bath" but he refused to do so. He was the defendant in the grand jury, and, defeated in this, the defense tried to secure delay on the ground that he had not been notified in a timely manner. Judge Cohen, who was on the bench today, refused this motion.

NEW KNOT TIED AT LAST

Captain Ashton Potter Weds Mrs. Grace Goodyear Dewey, Legal Impediments Having Been Removed.

Colorado Springs, Colo., April 13.—After a delay of forty-eight hours, due to legal complications, Mrs. Grace Goodyear Dewey and Captain Ashton Potter were married at the bride's residence here tonight. The wedding was held for Monday night, but it was discovered that through a delay in the California courts, the final decree of divorce, permitting Captain Potter to wed again, had not been signed. The decree was signed today. Mrs. Potter, a daughter of Robert Goodyear of Buffalo, N. Y., was formerly the wife of Ganson Dewey, nephew of Senator C. M. Dewey of New York, from whom she was divorced in January, 1909.

Captain Potter is a nephew of the late Bishop Potter and was divorced from his former wife, who was Miss Mary Louise McNutt of San Francisco, April 9, 1909. Captain and Mrs. Potter left immediately after the ceremony for New York.

BUY LYNN DYLL LANDS.

Among the purchasers of choice land at the recent Lyndyl drawing was J. J. Hubert of Morrison, Ill., who secured 329 acres paying $20.00 for the tract. The water is turned on. L. G. Gorham of Portland, who was also present at the drawing as a guest of E. E. Perrine, secured a tract of 80 acres on the high bench.

RECOMMEND E. C. BAGLEY.

E. C. Bagley was unanimously chosen at a last meeting of taxpayers at Holladay last night as the logical successor to D. W. Matlock as a member of the board of education for the Granite school district. Resolutions urging Mr. Bagley's appointment were adopted and will be sent to the board of education. Mr. Matlock recently resigned from the board and moved to Murray.

VICTIMS OF POISON.

Pittsburg, April 13.—Two sons of Philip Badall, a wealthy resident of Wilkinsburg, were found dead in bed early today. The youths, one 18 and the other 16 years of age, were victims of poison, according to the coroner's office.

FORMER GOVERNOR CHANGE FOR DEMOCRACY IN CRITICAL MOOD

Hearst Paper to Join Forces if the Independence League Principles Are Nailed to Masthead.

Washington, April 13.—John Temple Graves, former candidate for vice president of the United States on the Independence League ticket, injected into the Jefferson day dinner here tonight a sensational feature. Mr. Graves, who was not on the program, had been requested to make an hour's speech.

He referred to the Democratic party in the coming campaign the support of the Independence League and its originator, William R. Hearst, if the party would recognize the protestant principles of the Independence League.

"We are here today," said Mr. Graves, "at this time of hope for Democratic success—that is, the success of real Jeffersonian Democracy—the Democratic party is ready for the principles for which our league has fought, we should use it in this forthcoming struggle."

"The Independence League," against the Democratic party of caucus, but not the Democratic party of responsibility, the party of principle, we should use it. We see an opportunity for united action. It depends upon you. We are ready to accept the Democratic party that is not half Bryan, but full of Bryan, full of Hearst, full of Ryan. If these terms are not acceptable, the Independence League must stand outside and await a better day."

PROGRAM FOR MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION'S MEETING

At the next meeting of the Salt Lake Ministerial association, to be held Monday, April 18, at 8 o'clock, at the Hotel Utah, the program for the remainder of the year follows:

April 25, "The Diary of John Wesley," F. W. Bussard; May 2, "The Meaning of Christ's Religion," J. A. Smith; May 9, "The Significance of the L. M. M.," H. J. Talbot; May 16, "Booker T. Washington," W. A. Magrett; May 23, "Divorce and Remarriage," H. E. Hays; May 30, "The Law of Titling and Beneficence," D. W. Crane; June 6, "The Church," S. R. Colladay; June 13, "The Amusement Frenzy," J. McClain; June 20, "The Mohammedan Propaganda," C. R. Noel; July 7, "Religion in the Home and the Church," S. R. Colladay; July 14, "The Divinity of Christ," R. G. McNeice; September 5, "Gordon—Religion and Miracles," J. B. Bowman; September 12, "The Twice-Born Soul," C. G. McIntire; September 19, "Recent Mormon Literature," F. S. Spalding; September 26, "The Mystery of the Incarnation," P. A. Simpkin.

Taxes Increasing.

"In 1902," he said, "the percentage of the revenue of all the cities in the country to their debt was 37.3. By 1909, this percentage was increased to 45.7. In cities above 300,000 in population, the municipal expenditures increased 20 per cent per capita from 1902 to 1907. If this increase continues the pressure of taxation will soon become intolerable and credit exhaustion will be the result."

The cause of governmental dishonesty and incompetence is due, according to Mr. Herrick, to the fact that the ablest men in the country are attracted by the extraordinary opportunities which business affords in the United States and refuse to adopt a political career.

"Many of those who have assumed the administrative functions of government," he said, "are so poorly qualified for their duties, so devoid of high purposes, that the consequent extravagance and waste is appalling. This condition is not confined to any particular administration, nor to any one section of the country, it is widespread as the nation, and characterizes the governments of municipalities, counties, states and the nation."

Postoffice and Policies.

Incidentally Mr. Herrick condemned the proposed postal savings bank. He declared that the postoffice department is run as a political organization, instead of a business department.

"Since the Jackson administration," he said, "the postoffice has been essentially a political organization. It is now proposed that this department, which costs $44,000,000 in expenditures of its business without exciting more than passing comment, which has not changed its method since 1835, shall become the custodian of the people's savings."

The remedy for governmental evils, in Mr. Herrick's opinion, lies in the extension of the activities of such organizations as the bureau of municipal research in New York and the Merriam commission in Chicago. These, and similar organizations should, Mr. Herrick maintained, carry their inquiries into every department of the national and state governments, and lay before the people an exact account of how their affairs are being transacted.

ALL-STAR VAUDEVILLE BILL FOR THIRD WARD

A program of advanced vaudeville of especial merit will be given tonight in the Third ward amusement hall, beginning at 8:15. It will be an all-star bill. The music will be furnished by an Italian orchestra, and the numbers will be as follows: Little Myra, Myra, Myra, a costumed song and story; Clayton, Morck & Co. in a side-splitting sketch, "Almost a Partner"; Anita Eddick, musical oddity and skirt dancer; "Don De Giovanni," Italian monologist; Slocum and Don in the roaring comedy, "In Politics"; Curtis Allen, daring comedy cyclist.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO HAVE FINE MUSICALS

A rare musical entertainment is being arranged for the Commercial club for next Tuesday night, under the auspices of the joint musical and smoker committee, which will convene in the Commercial club at 8 o'clock. The entertainment is in the quarters occupied by the club for years, and which was shortly vacated for the pretentious home in Exchange place. The committee has secured the services of Fred Smith, bass; Will Sibley, tenor; the arpeggiated chorus and a string quartet, with Professor J. J. McClellan leading, and is negotiating with Miss Maggie Tour to sing. The arrangements are in the hands of Professor J. J. McClellan, Harry Shearman, H. L. Harding, Dr. I. C. Smullyan and J. H. Anson.

SPORTSMEN ARE GAME WARDENS WITHOUT PAY

The sportsmen of Cache county held a meeting last night at Smithfield, at which Fred W. Chambers, state game and fish commissioner, was present. Thirty-five of the men present offered their services without pay as game wardens, and they were enrolled by the commissioner. Mr. Chambers is in Cache county to superintend the planting of several hundred thousand eastern brook trout in the streams of that county. Tonight he will leave for Willard to meet Hugh A. McMillin, state game and fish commissioner, who is to plant these fish. Yesterday 100,000 were planted in the streams of Salt Lake county.

WILL COUNT INDIANS.

Special Agent Arrives to Help With the Census. J. K. Moore, special Indian agent on the Shoshone reservation in Wyoming, arrived in Salt Lake yesterday to confer with Hugh A. McMillin, state game and fish commissioner, regarding the work of taking the census of the Indians in Utah. He has had long experience with the census of the Indians. Mr. Moore will go to the St. George country, where next Friday he will begin to supervise the counting of the Putes and other tribes. Afterwards he will go to Uintah county and on the completion of the work in this state, will go to Nevada.

The want ads. are the busiest of "chance-makers" in that they act as sort of "assistants to Fate."

MURDERER OF SENATOR'S WIFE

DR. COOK IS NAMED FAKER ONCE AGAIN

Paterson, the latter representing the prohibition or state-wide element of the state Democracy—are drawing tighter and tighter. A governor and state judiciary are soon to be elected.

The state Democratic committee, dominated by Paterson men, recently called a blanket primary for June 4 to make nominations. Enemies of Paterson freely charged the inclusion of the judiciary as an attempt to wield a club over the Supreme court, which had the Cooper case under advisement and every member of which was a candidate for re-election. Matters were complicated by the refusal of Chief Justice Beard and Justices Shields and Neil to enter the primary. This will run independently.

Many of Paterson's friends are urging him to announce his candidacy, while equally strong pressure is being used to induce him to run for United States senator to succeed James B. Frazier. Mr. Frazier, a candidate to succeed himself, has refused to enter the June primary.

commencing April 18 as advertised, as he received yesterday afternoon, through his film exchange, the first copy of the several prints ordered of this production, for use in this territory. Mr. Florence Murri's assistants who saw the film run through this afternoon, are enthusiastic in their praise of the production and declare it to be the best topical feature it has been their privilege to see. Mr. Florence will present the original production at the Shubert theatre.

WILLARD MACK, Salt Lake's Favorite Actor, Who Returns to the Stage Tonight, Supporting Jeanne Russell Alford in "Cousin Kate."

ATTRACTIONS TODAY. Salt Lake Theatre—The Merry Widow 8:15 p. m. Grand Theatre—Vaudeville, 8:15 p. m. and 8:15 p. m. Colonial Theatre—Jeanne Russell Alford in "Cousin Kate," 8:15 p. m. Douglas Theatre—Blanche Douglas in "Arizona," 8:15 p. m. Mission Theatre—Vaudeville, 8:20 p. m., 7:30 p. m. and 8:15 p. m. Grand Theatre—Theodore Lorch in "St. Elmo," 8:15 p. m. Shubert, Luna, Isis and Elite—Illustrated moving pictures and illustrated songs, afternoon and evening. Casino Theatre—Vaudeville and moving pictures, afternoon and evening.

THE MERRY WIDOW TONIGHT.

Tonight at the Salt Lake theatre "The Merry Widow" begins her second flirtation with the Salt Lake public. We are promised a company even better than the last. Mabel Wilbur in the title role has made a great hit in the west. The grand orchestra will be added to the theatre orchestra, necessitating the removal of two entire rows of seats in the parquet. The wonderful gowns will be in evidence, the great chorus will again charm the senses of the Salt Lake music lovers, and the Maxine scene will put the finish on this wonderful opera. The demand for seats has been great, but Treasurer Brown says he can squeeze a goodly number more in all parts of the house.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

Fred Lindsay, the Australian whip expert, and the other performers of this week's Orpheum bill, are nightly drawing away many of the State street playgoers. The bill is proving satisfactory to the patrons of vaudeville in Salt Lake.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

The management of Miss Jeanne Alford has engaged Willard Mack to finish the engagement here and play opposite Miss Florence Murri in "Cousin Kate." If any actor ever playing Salt Lake has the following enjoyed by Mr. Mack. His many friends, tonight and the balance of the week, will be glad to see the play and the part. He assisted in staging the first production of "Cousin Kate" at the Hudson theatre, New York.

"HIS LAST DOLLAR."

Theatregoers will welcome the opportunity to see David Higgins in his celebrated racing play, "His Last Dollar," which will be given at the Colonial for a week's engagement, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees. In writing this play, the son of the author has been to surpass all previous efforts, "Up York State," "At Piney Ridge," "Burr Oak," "Captain Clay" and others, which are all the full measure of his success is evidenced by the heavy patronage the attraction has received from the past several seasons ago. The story briefly told concerns Eleanor Downs, the Kentucky girl, who comes to Long Island to sell her race horse, but remains to enter him in the Great Futurity. Joe Braxton rides the horse to victory. By this time the play and the part. He assisted in staging the first production of "Cousin Kate" at the Hudson theatre, New York.

ARBOR DAY MATINEE.

In honor of the return of Willard Mack to the stage, a special Arbor day matinee will be given at the Colonial Friday afternoon, April 15, and a reception held by Miss Alford and Mr. Mack for their friends immediately after the performance.

BUNGALOW THEATRE.

Finely staged and beautifully played, with Miss Blanche Douglas in the leading role, "Arizona," is proving one of the biggest draws among the theatres and is bringing to the Bungalow all the old friends of Miss Douglas, who delight in her hoaxotic characterization of Bonita, and in Mr. Travers' fine interpretation of the role of Lieutenant Denton in the great army play.

MISSION THEATRE.

Commencing with a matinee this afternoon at the Mission theatre. One of the big features of the bill is promised in the first appearance of Miss Taylor, who has just completed a tour of the world. Mr. Carver is an equilibrist. Miss Taylor is a dancer. A Detecto Detective locally famous for his best woman shots in the world. Next is the Columbia Comedy duo, dealers in hay, money and fun. A Detecto Detective locally famous for his best woman purposes only, will be the offering of Hickman Brothers and company. The Miller and Mack are a pair of classy dancers. For the week of April 18 the management announces it has secured the original picture of Colonel Roosevelt in Africa.

ROOSEVELT IN AFRICA.

Max Florence says the mind of the public can be set at rest as to whether or not the original films of Roosevelt in Africa will be exhibited in this city.
