to the winners of first places, and ribbons were awarded to the winners of second and third places in the field events. The entire forenoon was taken up with the shotput and the jumping events. The shotput was won by Frank McMurtry of the Lafayette school, with a mark of 32 feet 3 inches. The high jump in the middle class, which consists of youngsters weighing under 70 pounds, was won by Jack Ellerbe of the Bryant school, who cleared the tape at a mark of four feet. Second honors were carried off by Ewan Stephens of the Hamilton school, and Chester Wood of the Ogurth school took third place.

The contestants took a deep interest in all of the events of the day, and abided by the decisions of the judges as well as trained athletes. Lincoln Wins Championship. The baseball game for the championship of the city was played at 2 o'clock between the teams from the Lincoln school and the Training school, the former winning in a hard-fought game. The lineup was as follows: Wasatch. Lincoln. Beatrice Busman, f. c. Eva Wetzel, Margaret Roy, r. c. Lucille Hanson, Madeline Droubay, f. c. Lila Renshaw, Leona Cushing, f. c. CIRCUS TODAY.

Not least among the many features of the Campbell Brothers great consolidated shows are their twentieth century clowns. In modern shows of such high magnetism, fun makers are doing and talking clown is an impossibility; consequently, clowns are provided in such profusion that they are in all parts of the tent simultaneously, and there is always some foolery going on. At all times within the tents of this great show, the fun makers are doing something to make old young again, and the young frantic with their funny actions. Not one dull moment do these mimics of the saw dust ring allow you. Yet they are but one of the many features that have been gathered together in this galaxy of entertainers by the Campbell Brothers great consolidated shows which will exhibit here tomorrow and evening. Come early, bring the children, and see the parade which starts at 10 o'clock this morning.

MISSION THEATRE.

A treat is in store for music lovers of this city who attend the Mission Theatre, this week. The week is distinguished by the Berinis, in "Fifteen Minutes of Grand Opera." The man and the woman in the voice, while the voice of the woman is a mezzo-soprano of great range and sweetness, in addition to which the woman is playing more than ordinary ability. Five numbers are rendered, four of which are Italian grand opera. The only number in English, being "Annie Laurie," sung by the woman, playing her own accompaniment. The act is proving one of the biggest musical hits that the Mission has yet offered.

THE AIRDOME.

That "in town" summer resort, the Airdome, is still getting the crowds. Ivan Coogan and James Mullen, comedians of the "Wine, Women and Song" company, are about as bright and snappy as good comedians can be. And there is a bright bunch of chorus girls, who are good lookers and good singers. There is a bright, sparkling number in "A Trip to Africa," being a travesty on the travels of Colonel Roosevelt and his son Kermit in the jungles.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

Tomorrow is scheduled as the opening day for the stock company that is to inaugurate a summer run at the Orpheum theatre. Willard Mack and Miss Maude Leone, who head the company, are too well known locally to need much mention, save that they are both said to be happily cast in the initial offering, a bright bunch of chorus girls, who are good lookers and good singers. There is a bright, sparkling number in "A Trip to Africa," being a travesty on the travels of Colonel Roosevelt and his son Kermit in the jungles.

THE FLORENCE THEATRES.

New programs will be the feature at all of Manager Max Florence's theatres at the present time. Tomorrow, today, and the usual excellent Saturday night business is anticipated. Thus far the opening of the resort season has made very little difference with the theatres. The bills at the Shubert, Luna, Isis and Elite theatres are declared to be up to the usual high standard and at the Shubert an act entirely out of the ordinary is being featured as the headliner. The management of the Shubert was successful in securing the services of Samuel Stewart, popularly known as the black Paderewski.

CASINO THEATRE.

The new bill beginning Monday at the Casino presents Marquis and Lynn, musical entertainers, and Howard and Dolores, singing and talking comedians, both headline acts from the large eastern houses and said to be artists in their lines. The picture end of the bill is exceptionally strong. There are three feature subjects, embracing comedy, drama and romance, all of which are presented in the manner typical of the Casino.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

The last two performances of that unique romantic drama, "The White Squaw," at the Colonial, will be given this afternoon and evening.
