

ONLY SIX HAD THE NECESSARY NERVE

Fine Rain Kept Most of the Aviators Out of Contest at New York.

NO RECORDS WERE BROKEN

Claude Grahame-White, the Englishman, took First Place in Distance Trial.

New York, Oct. 22.—Claude Grahame-White, the Englishman, took first place in the distance contest and in the totalization of duration at the international aviation meet at Belmont park today; an American, Hoxsey, of the Wright team, soaring highest into the scudding mist, and another American, John B. Moissant of Chicago, was the only contestant who cared to take chances on a twenty-mile cross-country flight into the teeth of the wind, and with the fog so thick that he could not see the ground after he rose 150 feet.

Moissant's flight was a second demonstration—both his own—of the fact that an airman, like a seaman, can steer by compass, without regard to the time of day or night, foul weather or fair. As on his trip from Paris to London, he steered wholly by compass.

In point of fact, Moissant, as observed, covered probably three miles, but he was not credited with the excess.

No records broken. It was sufficient triumph to fly at all in a persistent fine rain, driven by a steady twelve-mile east wind. Only three of the twenty-nine aviators at the park attempted to fly.

Grahame-White, in a steady Farman biplane, keeping close to the ground and cutting the corners with workmanlike precision, piled up twenty laps in two successive hours, flying for distance only. He was just two hours in the air, and the official scorers credited him with fifty kilometers—21.87 miles—for each hour, weather.

Moissant was second, with fourteen laps for the first hour and fifteen for the second—respectively, 21.75 and 23.3 miles. He started late and, although he gained in the straightaways, he was lost at the turns, and in the first hour was penalized four laps for cutting corners inside the pylons.

Air Currents Wild. None of the Wright team tried for distance. Hoxsey and Johnstone both went up for altitude, but Johnstone had engine trouble and Hoxsey evidently found the currents up above the fog too wild, for he quickly settled from a height of 742 feet to more modest levels. Ely of the Curtiss team tried his luck at height and took second place for the first hour with 474 feet.

Hoxsey tried it again in the second hour, and did worse—673 feet this time. Course de Lesseps made 628 feet, J. Armstrong Drexel 619 feet, and Ely, on another trial, 298 feet. None of them liked it much up above.

WORKING TO FREE CHURCH FROM DEBT

Members of Local Unitarian Society Planning to Improve Conditions.

Efforts are now being made by the members of the Unitarian church of this city to clear the church of its present indebtedness, and to secure a minister, so that services can be resumed in the near future. The first step in this direction was taken last night, when several of the members of the church met in Unity hall with L. G. Wilson, field secretary of the American Unitarian association for the intermountain district.

Mr. Wilson outlined several plans by which the debt could be satisfied, but no definite action was taken by the members, though arrangements are under way for another meeting, which is likely that definite steps will result. Members of the church are desirous of reopening the house of worship just as soon as an agreement is reached with the American Unitarian association. A minister will be secured and work of the church taken up in earnest.

Mr. Wilson, who makes his headquarters in Boston, had arranged to remain in Salt Lake today to deliver an address to the members, but a telegram received yesterday, advising him of the death of his wife's mother, in Boston, necessitated a change in his plans, and he left last night for the east.

MRS. BEAN DEAD.
After a lingering illness Mrs. Ellen Bean, wife of Thomas Bean, died at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at her home, 1843 Main street. She was the daughter of John and Ellen Long of Salt Lake and accompanied her parents to this city from Woolshire, England, where she was born April 17, 1854. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

FOND OF MUTON.

"Red" Tremaine, a collar button peddler, was arrested by Patrolman G. P. Tingey, last night, charged with the larceny of a leg of muton from a butcher's wagon at First South and Main streets, shortly after 9 o'clock. Tremaine, who is said to be an old offender, says the leg of muton was given to him, but it developed it had been stolen.

INJUNCTION ISSUED BY A FEDERAL JUDGE

Memphis, Oct. 22.—Federal Judge McCall today issued a writ of injunction against the sale of saloons and other places selling intoxicating liquors. The writ was issued on the ground that the petitions of the law and order league had been denied equal protection of the law by the state authorities which is guaranteed them by the constitution of the United States. The writ is returnable October 17.

In the main it was a contest between the monoplane and the biplane, with the monoplane the swifter and the biplane the steeper. None of the gnomes revolving engines missed once during the day, whereas the American vertical and oblique thrust four and eight-cylinder engines were all more or less troubled with faulty ignition.

The altitude, distance and duration figures made today entitle the first, second and third place men to daily cash prizes, and will count in the percentage distribution of the profits at the end of the nine days' meet.

Barlow's Bungling Bunch Browbeats Innocent Woman

"H"ST. "I'm on the trail."
"Hal there she goes into a Chinese store. Now to rush to the door, seize her as she seeks to escape and drag her before the big chief. A record for me! 'I'll do or bust every brass button off his blue coat.'"

It was Gumbo, the leather-medal hero of Barlow's bungling bunch. He grasped the butt of his trusty forty-five in his hand, pulled his helmet down over his steely eyes, set his jaws with determined firmness and, stealthily, cautiously stole, on rubbered tiptoes, down Commercial street, hiding in the shadows of the buildings. He stepped the door of a Chinese store, into which he had seen a young woman walk.

As the dauntless Gumbo peeped around the door casing, the young woman, pretty and trim in her neat traveling suit stepped almost colliding with the valiant minion of the law.

But the navy Gumbo gripped his trusty gun, a little tighter, braced himself to meet the worst that might come, and let his powerful hand descend the shoulder of the quarry.

"You're under arrest," roared the brave sleuth. "Come with me to the station, and explain why you dare go into a Chinese store on Commercial street."

The woman acquiesced, and Gumbo led her, triumphantly, to the balltwick of the big chief, where Sub-Chief Hunt-for-the-Saw Shannon was mixing a fresh pot of gum for the shoes of the detective department.

"Sub-Chief Hunt-for-the-Saw cast his 'ex-ray' eye upon the captive, gave the gang a bit of vicious snarl and demanded to know of the woman what right she had to go to a Chinese store on Commercial street, or even be on Commercial; if she was addicted to the use of drugs or 'dope' and if she had friends among the Chinese.

"There, let her answer those questions satisfactorily if she can," mused Hunt-for-the-Saw as he leaned back in his chair with the superior air of a Sherlock Holmes who had run a criminal to earth and sat waiting for him to convict himself with a confession.

Then something happened. The young woman calmly presented documents showing she was a student in the Chicago public schools, now on a tour of the west. Being interested in a study of Chinese life, she strolled down Commercial street while walking about Salt Lake, and not knowing the name of the street, stopped at one of the Chinese stores.

The information was like rain upon a starved collar-Hunt-for-the-Saw did wilt, likewise did the valiant Gumbo. Also, they turned very red in the face, and they spent some time working harder than they could try to find the saw, making the most profuse apologies to the Chicago school teacher and the innocent blunderer by Barlow's bungling bunch.

understand the necessities and more nearly represent the interests of the solid producing sections of the city, we decline to be led astray by the demand of the present political parties, who are not willing to accept our political and business guidance from that source, and that the Boise Commercial club, respectively advised that we are opposed at this time to the creation of a state railroad commission."

ade, the opinion of the Idaho Falls and Greektown resulted in ridding the city of the more exclusive type of crooks and delvers in the realm of law, who are not cracking safes, committing the bravado of the underworld, but who are actually robbing the state, that Sheriff Sharp showed himself thoroughly familiar with the hiding places of the thieves and kept some of them hidden until they were finally discovered by deputy sheriffs and driven out of the city. Since the sheriff's office began its system of protection, the department has practically been inactive.

After a careful investigation by Sheriff Sharp Friday it was found that the criminal element had been driven out of Salt Lake and Friday night a majority of the special deputy sheriffs were dispatched to the various points of the entire fall and winter regular deputy sheriffs will make frequent visits to the harbors of thieves and criminals and the army of special deputy sheriffs will be subject to call whenever it is found that the police department is unable to cope with the situation.

SECOND INDICTMENT AGAINST MRS. LAVIN

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 22.—A second charge of murder was entered tonight against Mrs. Belle Lavin, the San Francisco lodging house proprietress, arrested in connection with the Times disaster.

While the names of nine persons, who died in the disaster, were mentioned in the first charge, that of Don E. Johnson, linotype operator, is given in the second. It is believed that the second charge is for the purpose of averting any possible habeas corpus proceedings.

SUFFERS GREAT PAIN

Senator Elkins Somewhat Improved After Restless Night.
Elkins, W. Va., Oct. 22.—After a restless night Senator Elkins, who is ill at his home, "Hallehara," near here, is somewhat improved. Dr. W. W. Golden said today that the cause of his illness was connected with the upper bowels and produced an intense pain akin to acute indigestion. While the disease in some instances is fatal, Dr. Golden assured the family that Senator Elkins' splendid vitality was in his favor.

Under these conditions, according to the complaint, the McNamaras paid $1,000 down on the purchase price of the property, and agreed to pay the balance in monthly installments of $35. The complaint alleges it has been found that both the purported deed of the Baumgartens and the factory lease are fictitious, and that the defendant has attachments on the machinery in the factory to cover rents that were reported to have been paid.

The plaintiffs ask that the purchase price of the property be reduced to $2,500; that they be awarded $600 as recompense for the machinery removed; that they be given a deed to the premises, free of all encumbrance; that they be given judgment for $1,033 paid on the purchase price; if the price is not reduced, and they also demand $2,000 punitive damages and $500 actual damages.

Reflex Gas Light

Turns Night Into Day.

The invention and perfection of the inverted gas lamp has been by far the greatest achievement recently accomplished by illuminating engineers. Note some of its advantages:

1. No shadows underneath the lamp.
2. Throws the light downward.
3. Lights by pulling a chain—no matches.
4. Produces perfect white light—easy on the eyes.
5. Lamps will last for years of service.
6. Burns for half the cost of the latest improved electric lamps.
7. Is the most reliable light and cheapest to keep up.

Reflex light has had a wonderful sale all over the world, and you see it in nearly every store in Salt Lake; also in many of the best homes. It makes an especially desirable home light—one lamp usually being sufficient to light a room.

The cost of burning each lamp is one-half cent per hour—and each lamp will produce 100 candle power.

They are sold in single units or in very handsome clusters, making a beautiful, soft, steady white light, most desirable for all classes of business houses.

Call us up and ask for our representative to give you further information about this wonderful Reflex light.

PRICE REDUCTION SOUGHT IN COURT

McNamaras Allege Misrepresentation in Property Deal.

Alleging misrepresentation in the sale of a lot, occupied by a house and factory at 636 North Third West street, Daniel J. and Mary V. McNamaras, the purchasers, yesterday filed a suit in the district court against A. N. Humphries, in which they seek to have the purchase price reduced.

The complaint alleges that on September 1 through the representations of the defendant, the plaintiffs purchased the property at an agreed price of $5,500. The plaintiffs say that Humphries represented to them that the property had been formerly purchased from Otto and Cora Baumgartens for the consideration of $3,500, and that a purported deed was exhibited in proof; that it was also represented that the rental of the factory was $750 a year and that an alleged lease was also exhibited, together with the assurance that the lease carried with it the proviso that unpaid rents on the factory building constituted a lien on the machinery. The lease was to run twelve months from September 3, 1910. It was also set out in the complaint that Humphries, at the time of the sale to the plaintiffs, paid over to them $46, as their share of the first month's rent on the factory under the lease.

Under these conditions, according to the complaint, the McNamaras paid $1,000 down on the purchase price of the property, and agreed to pay the balance in monthly installments of $35. The complaint alleges it has been found that both the purported deed of the Baumgartens and the factory lease are fictitious, and that the defendant has attachments on the machinery in the factory to cover rents that were reported to have been paid.

The plaintiffs ask that the purchase price of the property be reduced to $2,500; that they be awarded $600 as recompense for the machinery removed; that they be given a deed to the premises, free of all encumbrance; that they be given judgment for $1,033 paid on the purchase price; if the price is not reduced, and they also demand $2,000 punitive damages and $500 actual damages.

RACE NOT YET DECIDED

America II. Not Yet Reported and Fears Are Entertained for Safety of Pilot and Aids.

St. Louis, Oct. 22.—The balloon Dusseldorf II, a German entry in the international race for the Bennett cup, came to earth near Kiskissing, Quebec, according to a brief message received here tonight. The time of landing was not stated. Lieutenant Hans Gericke, pilot, and Samuel F. Perkins, aide, believe they are winners of the race.

Kiskissing is 139 miles north of Quebec, or about 1,100 miles from St. Louis. The Germans, by landing at Cococochade, Quebec, 1,200 miles from here, is believed by the Aero club officials to have won.

But one more balloon, the America II, carrying Alan R. Hawley and August Post of New York, remains to be heard from.

Unless word is received by morning that it has landed, the Aero club will send a man to Canada to lead an expedition for the relief of her crew.

The man who will lead the expedition is Lewis Spindler, field marshal in charge of the foreign balloons in the race. He knows the pilots and the country in which they are supposed to have landed Wednesday.

Fear is expressed for the occupants of the America II. It is supposed they have come down on one of the many of any of the aeronauts.

This fear was strengthened today by the receipt of an Associated Press dispatch from Montreal, quoting Colonel Schaeck of the Hibernia, who said he saw a balloon falling over Lake Huron. If the aeronauts landed on an island they would have no means of navigating to the mainland.

The Aurora, piloted by Emil Messner, came to earth in twenty-two miles north-west of Bisca, Ontario. Its landing was reported today after the pilot and aids had struggled for three days and nights to reach a telegraph office.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 22.—Practically every inhabited spot in middle Canada from the islands of the Great Lakes to the Arctic circle, however isolated, is or within forty-eight hours will be alert to ascertain the fate of the aeronauts who drifted away from St. Louis last Monday aboard the balloon America II. In the international race.

Up to a late hour tonight no reassuring word had come through this rapidly growing network of search gusts Post, aide, of the missing balloon, have not been heard from.

The weather conditions have been unfavorable throughout the day. A cold rain has fallen and it is probable that in the more northerly region there has been considerable snow. Indications for the Georgian bay region were for clearing weather to-morrow.

REVOLT AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT

Chinese Senate Demands That Throne Convoke a General Parliament at Early Date.

Peking, Oct. 22.—A surprising revolt has taken place against the government. The imperial senate, not yet three weeks old, has voted to memorialize the throne for the early opening of a general parliament. This action appears to indicate that the new senate will not be a submissive or mock institution, but one with which the grand council must reckon.

As far back as last June a formal demand was made for the immediate convocation of a national parliament, the establishment of which had been promised for the year 1915. An imperial decree was then issued, refusing the demand, which was adopted by delegates to the provincial assemblies and was supported by organizations of merchants throughout the country.

The imperial senate, which was assembled on October 3, then the provincial delegates formed an opposition party and arrayed themselves against the throne. The question of the parliament was brought up daily and the demand was made that it have executive power. The campaign culminated yesterday, when impassioned speeches were made, in which it was pointed out that a change was imperative for the salvation of the country. This plea won over a large majority.

The Russo-Japanese agreement with reference to the annexation of Korea by Japan has been employed effectively by agitators and the press during the last few months to create a wave of patriotism and this propaganda has made considerable progress among the intelligent classes. The progressive party now showing a strong front against the united officials and the Manchurian army.
