The Times would be very pleased if our delinquent subscribers would send us the price of their subscription. It is not a very large amount, and there are very few who are not able to pay up. Our paper bills must be paid, so let us hear from you occasionally.

We remark that a number of people in Coalville who would erect nice brick dwelling houses if the bricks could be obtained at a reasonable figure. But when this article is shipped from Salt Lake building is quite expensive. There is everything in Coalville which which bricks can be made, and we believe someone should take hold of this work and manufacture a good supply of bricks. Near John Dexter's mine there is plenty of clay and sand that could be used for this purpose. Mr. Dexter has the coal for burning, etc., and bricks could be made there at a very low price. We hope someone will take this matter up, for it would prove a profitable business.

It is wonderful the number of people who read a newspaper, who are not subscribers. Some people, who are too "poor" to take their home paper, have the habit of calling on their neighbors just about the time their home paper is issued, so that they can read it and find out what is going on in town. We know of one case where a man quit his home paper, and now happens around at a public place where the paper is and reads the news every week. He thus saves himself the price of subscription and the editor is that much out, notwithstanding the fact that the latter is compelled to pay for everything he gets, and sometimes quite dearly, too. But then, a man who is too "poor" to take his home paper is not the most wide-awake man in his town.

CHINA.

China, ruled by destiny, is slowly arriving at the point where nations, like men, fall—some to rise, others to sink in the deep abyss of decay. China is a remarkable country; she is the mother of our first countrymen; she has passed through trials and tribulations until now she holds her hands out to the nations which have been knocking at her door for centuries with the gift of enlightenment and free education. Her great history marks the black spot on national history; her religion is the cloak which hides her people and government so national decay. Have we done our duty in the far east? Have we driven our battle-line of learning and grandeur far enough westward? Let the words of Kipling ever be a reminder of our duty, a watchword of hope.

"God of our Father's knows of old,
Lord of our far-flung battle-line,
Whom whose awful hand we hold
Diminution over palm and pine;
Lord, God of hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget, lest we forget!"

Our duty to a dying and suffering humanity—China. G. R.
