REVOLUTIONARY LEADER AT-TACKS FEDERAL TROOPS, BUT IS COMPELLED TO RETREAT.

Thousands of American Witnesses Ask Upon Agas Priests, During Which Eleven Federals are Left Dead on the Field.

Douglas, Ariz.—Eleven federal soldiers dead, eleven wounded, with the losses to the rebels unknown is the result of a battle just east of Agas Priests on Monday.

The opposing forces were 200 insurgents under General Jim de la Cruz Blango, and a federal force of 250 directed by Colonel Mora.

The battle was a hard-fought and was witnessed by about 6,000 Americans, many of whom rushed close to the battlefield while the firing was still at its height. After the smoke had cleared away, it was American in automobiles who gave the first aid to the wounded, hurrying them to Agas Priests, where two American physicians were in readiness to care the Mexican army surgeons.

After negotiating with the Mexican officials over the evacuation of the border for a week, Blango suddenly broke out of the canyon leading from Coahuila Springs and engaged the federal troops that had been routed into Agas Priests Saturday night on a special train, under command of Colonel Mora. Except for a few prisoners taken by the federals, the rebels retreated in good order. It is estimated that Blango's entire force did not participate in the engagement.

PRESIDENT ADMITS MOVEMENT OF TROOPS IS FOR PURPOSE OF CRUSHING MEXICAN REVOLT.

Washington.—The administration has decided to discontinue no longer, and admits that the movement of troops to the Mexican border is for the purpose of putting an end to the revolution. President Taft is satisfied with the situation.

The action of the United States was precipitated by the late from Mexican governments that this country was opposed to the cessation of the peace in the western hemisphere. The Mexican government was once more invited by the foreign powers to sustain this convention, it is said.

The Diaz government is certain to profit by the presence of American troops along the boundary line.

There is a possibility that the soldiers now being rushed southward may be sent into Mexico in the event of the death of President Diaz.

Secretary Knox said to be out of sympathy with President in mobilizing Army on Mexican border.

RUSSIANS MENACING CHINA

Army Moves to Within One Hundred Miles of Peking, and Ultimatum is Sent to Celestials.

Peking.—The British official has asked Mr. Komarov, the Russian minister at Peking, to make verbal representations to the Chinese government that would have no doubt as to Russia's firm attitude.

This is a sequel to the announcement that the Russian army was not satisfied with China's recent protest. The Russian demand concerning Russian consuls and commercial privileges in H and Mongolia, in violation of the Russo-Chinese treaty of 1907.

Only the immediate withdrawal of China's troops obligating toward Russia can interrupt the advance of the army which is to occupy Kailas. Two battalions of sharpshooters, four battalions of Chinese, two battalions of field guns and eight batteries of machine-guns were dispatched from Mongolia in Peking, Tsingtau, shortly after the receipt of China's second reply.

Advices to the war office say the expedition is within a hundred miles of the frontier and advancing in order to reach the frontier about the time of the presentation of the ultimatum.

WARSHIPS ORDERED HOME.

Announcement Made by State Department That American Vessels Will Not Patrol Coasts of Mexico.

New York.—The Mexican ambassador and the Mexican minister of finance received assurance from Washington Monday night which convinced them there is almost no cooperation between the administration of President Taft and that of President Diaz.

It is not probable that all the American troops remain in force on the Mexican frontier. It is admitted some vessels will continue, but apprehensions will be approximately lessened by the news of peace.

First in importance was a long telegram to Ambassador De la Barra from the state department announcing that the American warships assigned to patrol duty on the Pacific and Gulf coasts of Mexico had been ordered to sail as Mexican ports only for coal and then withdraw promptly.

This action is reassuring to Senator Linaur. In a recent interview he said he could consider only the presence of American men of war in American waters, so far distant from their base at Galveston, as part of an unnecessary effort to impress on Mexico the power of the United States.

REBEL LEADER A HARVARD MAN.
