GIRL HEROINE SAVES UNCONSCIOUS ESCORT

CONNECTICUT COUPLE THROWN INTO RIVER FLOAT QUARTER OF MILE BEFORE LANDING.

New Milford, Conn.—Afloat on an ice cake in fog and darkness Miss Anna K. Wilmberg, 22 years old, the athletic and attractive daughter of Henry S. Wilmberg, a farmer, won a plucky battle for her own life and that of John Hilliardson, a neighbor's son, on the Housatonic river, near Cornwall.

With Miss Wilmberg, Hilliardson drove to a country dance, and because of the rain and fog that made traveling difficult they set out for home before midnight. A part of their route lay along a narrow and winding road that runs close to the bank of the river, and here their horse, a spirited animal, became frightened by the lights and noise of an automobile that rushed toward them suddenly from around a turn in the road.

Miss Wilmberg bravely remained with Hilliardson.

Blinded for the moment by the glare of the headlights on the automobile, Hilliardson lost control of the horse, which dashed over the low bank of the river, carrying the buggy and its occupants on to the ice, which, unbroken close to the shore, was a swirling mass of cakes further toward mid-stream. Scenting its own danger, apparently, the horse wheeled about when close to the water and overturned the buggy. Hilliardson and Miss Wilmberg were thrown on to the ice and the young man was stunned.

Under their weight the ice that supported them gave way and the young woman and her companion were carried out into the stream. Miss Wilmberg could have jumped to the firm ice at the moment the cake she was upon broke away, but she realized that to desert her unconscious companion would mean his death, and she decided to attempt to save him at the risk of herself.

The piece of ice that supported the couple remained intact for a journey of nearly a quarter of a mile down stream, where it was carried beneath some overhanging bushes that Miss Wilmberg was able to reach and cling to. Supporting her companion with one arm, she reached shore by means of the bushes and revived her companion. They found their horse a short distance from the place where the runaway occurred.

BATTLE WITH A WILDCAT.

Wisconsin Youth, in Desperate Encounter, Finally Overcomes Beast.

Ladysmith, Wis.—While hunting north of this city Walter and Otto Schroeder and an exciting and sanguinary battle with a monster wildcat. Otto was trailing the cat with three trained hounds, when Walter, stationed on a log, saw the cat coming directly toward him. He was armed with a double-barreled shotgun loaded with buckshot, and in his excitement he discharged both barrels at the cat at once, instead of only one as he intended to. The recoil of the piece knocked him off the log onto his back.

Before he could regain his feet the cat was upon him and a desperate fight ensued. Walter clubbed his gun and at the first swing broke the barrel from the stock. Seizing the barrel the man punched and belabored the wildcat in desperation until the dogs came up and then the cat turned his attention to them. Cat and dogs rolled and tumbled, spitting, growling and yelping. The men watched their chance and finally dispatched the cat with a few well-directed blows on the head.

One of the dog's ears was found to be literally torn to shreds, another had an eye gouged out and the third was badly scratched and torn. The gun barrel shows evidence of the encounter by numerous teeth marks and scratches. The men escaped with a few slight scratches and torn clothes. The cat weighed 56 pounds and was the largest ever killed in this vicinity. It will be mounted and kept as a souvenir of the liveliest time the men ever had in the woods.

CASTRO IS CONVINCED THAT HE IS ANOTHER NAPOLEON

Former President of Venezuela Leaves Paris for Country in Which He Has Been De-throned and Discredited.

Paris.—Cipriano Castro, the former president of Venezuela and the members of his party left this city Thursday morning for Bordeaux.

At the railroad station Senor Castro confided to a small group of Venezuelan adherents and admirers his intention of re-establishing his power in Venezuela by a revolution, should this be necessary. After entering the car, where he donned the gilt embroidered skull cap that has figured in every description of Castro when he was an occupant of the yellow house at Caracas, the deposed president of Venezuela leaned from a window and spoke to his countrymen with an earnestness and passion which left no doubt in their minds that he was convinced that he was another Napoleon returning from Elba to reconquer his country.

Castro declared that his trip to Europe had been misunderstood both at home and abroad. He had come to the continent not only because he needed medical treatment, but also to serve his country by interesting foreign capital in Venezuelan industries. He spoke bitterly of the treachery of Juan Vicente Gomez, and predicted that those now in control of the state would drive the country into bankruptcy.

In conclusion, Castro denounced as lies the stories of his fabulous wealth and said he was not even rich enough to remain in Europe, where, furthermore, life had no attractions for him. His impassioned nature, he explained, yearned for activity and forced him again into the tumult.

BATTLE WITH NEGROES.

Men in Search of Alleged Cattle Thieves Given Warm Reception.

Guthrie, Okla.—On the scene of the famous Creek Indian uprising of last year at Hickory settlement, three negroes were killed, many wounded and forty negroes captured in a battle between twenty deputy sheriffs and 100 negroes. The fighting began late Wednesday afternoon and continued with interruptions until 1 o'clock Thursday.

A posse of five deputies went from Henrietta, eighteen miles to the negro settlement to arrest cattle thieves thought to be concealed in a negro's house. The deputies were met at the outer edge of the camp by a party of armed negroes who refused to allow them to enter. The deputies persisted and were fired upon. Outnumbered, the five men fled for reinforcements, when fighting continued throughout the night. At daybreak firing ceased and neither party made another move until 10 o'clock, when the deputy sheriffs renewed their attack.

About 300 shots were fired in the last encounter, when the negroes were dislodged and fled. The posse pursued and captured forty.

Social Queen and Wife of Millionaire Takes Her Own Life.

Washington—Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, wife of a well known racing millionaire, and leader of exclusive New York and Washington society, was found dead in the bathroom of her sumptuous home, 2030 Hillyer place, shortly after 8 o'clock Thursday evening. Gas was flowing from an open jet in the apartment. Despite the insistence of Pierre Lorillard and other relatives and acquaintances of the family that Mrs. Lorillard's death was the result of an accident, District Coroner J. Ramsey Nevill, as the result of his investigation and autopsy Thursday afternoon, declared officially that Mrs. Lorillard was a suicide.

Frontera, Mexico.—During the work of excavation going on here, a receptacle with an immense assortment of prehistoric arms was uncovered. The entire deposit is in an admirable state of preservation. A great many of the arms are strange to the collections now extant. A complete suit of armor made from copper is among the articles, and every conceivable kind of weapon.

Explosion in Smelter.

El Paso, Texas.—One man was killed, two were fatally injured and four others were seriously injured by a premature explosion in a slag pit at the El Paso smelter Thursday afternoon. The men had placed the round of blasts to be fired at the close of the day's work and were preparing to leave the pit when, for some cause not yet determined, the blasts exploded. Pieces of lead were hurled among the workmen, and the slag hanging above them came crashing down, burying seven men.

Cortelyou Taken Care of.

New York—George B. Cortelyou, former secretary of the treasury, on Thursday was elected president of the Consolidated Gas company. Cortelyou was elected a director in place of Arthur H. Elliott, resigned. It was only within the last few days that he agreed to accept the place, although overtures were made several weeks ago. The presidency of the Consolidated has been open since 1904, when President Harrison E. Gairdrew resigned, became chairman of the board and directors of the company.

CONGRESSMEN IN SERIOUS CLASH

Fordney of Michigan and Byrd of Mississippi Almost Come to Blows in the House.

Incident Grew Out of a Misunderstanding, and Both Men Made Mutual Explanations and Apologized.

Washington.—The monotony of the tariff debate in the house was relieved for a time on Friday by a clash between Messrs. Fordney of Michigan and Byrd of Mississippi, which came near ending in blows. Mr. Fordney had been discussing the lumber schedule when he was interrupted by the Mississippian, who insisted that the lumber manufacturers, of which Mr. Fordney was one, were in a trust. Mr. Fordney peremptorily denied the statement and said that Mr. Byrd "did not know a damned thing about it."

Mr. Byrd made a move toward Mr. Fordney, and was in the act of removing his coat when some of his Democratic colleagues interfered. Later it is developed that the incident grew out of a misunderstanding, and both men made mutual explanations and apologized.

Mr. Fordney in his speech pleaded for better protection on that product in the rough. Opposed to him was Mr. Howland of Ohio, who wanted the product placed on the free list.

PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT.

Russia and Austria Negotiating Agreement on Balkan Situation.

Vienna.—Baron von Aehrenthal, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, is quoted as saying that Russia's recognition of the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina by Austro-Hungary is very satisfactory, and that there is no idea of demanding a humiliating declaration from the Belgrade government.

Prices on the bourse rose sharply on Friday on the belief that Russia's recognition of the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina paves the way for a peaceful solution.

There was much interest here in a report that Russia and Austria were negotiating a general agreement on all Balkan questions.

Will Consider Two Bills Only.

Washington.—To emphasize the determination not to attempt any general legislation during the extraordinary session of congress, Senator Hale has sent a note to every senator who is chairman of a committee, calling attention to the president's suggestions that this session's business be confined as far as practicable to the tariff bill. The note states that the committee on the order of business has decided to recommend that no legislation other than the tariff bill and the census bill shall be reported.

Sailor Swept Overboard.

Victoria, B. C.—With four of her boats swept away and one of her crew washed overboard, the steamer Clan MacFarland, laden with raw sugar from Java for Vancouver, reached Willamhead quarantine station on Friday, twenty-six days from Moji, and proceeded. The turret steamer had a rough passage, and four days ago, when nearing Cape Flattery, an exceptionally heavy fog was encountered with seas that swept over the vessel. Part of the pilot house was wrecked and a Lascar seaman was swept overboard.

Taft Wishes to See Big Ditch Completed by 1913.

Washington.—President Taft has again told Chief Engineer Goethals of the Panama canal that the great waterway can be completed by the close of 1913, and he wanted to see that feat accomplished. Colonel Goethals has already declared that the canal will be completed in 1915, and he is understood to consider it impossible to save two years on the work, but he told the president he would make every effort to expedite the work.

Kidnapers Killed.

El Paso, Tex.—A special from Tucumcari, N. M., says that a negro named John Johnson and Sebastian Sandoval, a Mexican, were killed near Cuervo, N. M., after a long pursuit by a posse. Johnson and Sandoval, at the point of rifles, had kidnaped a girl named Juana Sanchez from her uncle's ranch, fifteen miles from Cuervo, it being the negro's declared intention to marry the girl. The uncle of the girl immediately organized a posse, and at its head started in pursuit of the kidnapers.

Had Too Many Diamonds.

Pittsburg.—A poker game at Clairton, a few miles from here, broke up about daybreak Friday, after a second ace of diamonds was discovered in the deck. Peter Marsh, who held the two aces of diamonds, as well as an ace of hearts and an ace of clubs, is in the McKeesport hospital with two bullet holes in his lungs. It is said he cannot live. There were seven others in the room at the time this hand was held, and six of them were hurt by the flying bullets and furniture.
