POLITICAL JARGON

Campaign Music as taken From Republican Hand-book.

Mention of Candidates for Recorder, Representative and Other Offices.

A new Republican campaign song book has just been issued by the State Committee, and it certainly contains some gems. Just who the author of the doggerel may be is carefully kept a secret, and 'tis well. However, the public understands that the sentiments expressed are merely for the entertainment and gratification of those persons in an audience who like a joke at their opponents expense, consequently there need be no apology. Below will be found two of the best and it will be readily seen that there isn't a ghost of a show in the coming election for either King or Young. The first is entitled

DEMOCRACY! DEMOCRACY!

(Tune, My Maryland, My Maryland.)
They've got you in the field again,
Oh Billy King, Oh Billy King!
You tried to dodge their plans in vain,
Oh Billy King, Oh Billy King!
When'er an office was in sight
'Twas hard to keep you from the fight,
But now you're in a sorry plight,
Oh Billy King, Oh Billy King!

For Howells our Congressman will be,
Oh Billy King, Oh Billy King!
A sure defeat you'll only see,
Oh Billy King, Oh Billy King!
You hear from the east to west,
On every lip it is expressed,
No wonder you had to be pressed,
Oh Billy King, Oh Billy King!

Oh Major 'tis a bitter pill
That you must take, that you must take,
We know 'tis sore against your will,
The run to make, the run to make;
But courage Dick and grip it down,
Though fate does have a sorry frown,
You'll wear a martyr's glorious crown,
For party's sake, for party's sake!

The words are written on the wall
Democracy, Democracy!
You hasten only to your fall,
Democracy, Democracy!
Harris and McCarty in the fight
Will dash your hopes to ruin quite,
You'll learn it one November night,
Democracy, Democracy.

A WATERLOO.

(Tune, Just as the Sun Went Down.)
Over the state came a wall of woe
One cold November day,
For 'neath a deep bank of white, white snow
Many a Democrat lay;
From every county there came the tale—
From every burg and town;
Till to a roar came the dreadful wall,
Just as the sun went down.

CHORUS.

Richard and William and Joseph L.
Numbered were with the slain;
And a whole host of smaller fry
Saw their hopes fade again;
Up in a parlor there sat a few,
Wretched and grim and brown,
Gazing dim-eyed o'er their Waterloo,
Just as the sun went down.

Garfield and Beaver, Sevier and Kane,
Salt Lake and Utah, too;
Sanpete and Iron and Cache and Wayne,
Republican were clear through;
Fearful the slaughter there was that day,
O'er every burg and town,
Blasting the high hopes of Frankie J.
Just as the sun went down.

(Chorus.)

Mrs. Rebecca Eames of the 3rd ward is receiving every encouragement in her candidacy for the nomination for Recorder. She is so well and favorably known, and her qualifications are so apparent for this position so apparent that she will in all probability be placed on the ticket. Geo. H. Thomas of Smithfield is the only other aspirant for this nomination, but friends of Mrs. Eames say that George is too gallant to come before the convention and make a fight against a lady. Mr. Thomas says that various persons in Logan who are interested in music have frequently urged him to return to this city and give them and the city the advantage of his excellent musical training—and now is their opportunity. George feels that if he is nominated he will be elected, and that event he will come to Logan, thus giving him an opportunity to organize an excellent band and other musical aggregations in Logan.

T. H. Merrill of Richmond states positively that he does not want the nomination for State Senator. He does want the nomination for Representative though and will be pleased if his friends will stand by him for this. Mr. Merrill means exactly what he says and would prefer that those who are urging him for Senator would believe what he says and direct their energies toward his nomination for representative. Mr. Merrill is a capable man for either place, but since he prefers the one, why not let him have it.

C. E. Lloyd believes that his candidacy for commissioner is meeting with favor, and from comments we have heard, we are led to believe likewise. Mr. Lloyd's staunch Republicanism, his undoubted familiarity with every nook and cranny in the county, his successful business experience, and his popularity among Cache county voters, commends him very favorably to the consideration of the convention. Mr. Lloyd is a heavy tax payer, honestly interested in the building up of the county, and there is little doubt of his competency. He would make an excellent race if nominated.

At the Republican convention next Saturday considerable interest will be manifested in several of the contests, chief among which will perhaps be the Senatorial question. The respective candidates are all feeling satisfied with results so far, and whatever happens will be satisfactory to the candidates, and those who are defeated will go out of the convention determined to support the winner. Since the Logan City primaries the supporters of Mr. H. Bullen, Jr., are more hopeful than ever, and predict that he will be nominated on the first ballot. In fact sentiment seems to be blowing in that direction and the chairman will no doubt receive the honor. Should such be the case it will not be unjustly bestowed, but on the other hand will be a reward of merit. He is a representative citizen who pays taxes in Logan, Richmond and Lewiston; is thoroughly capable; widely and favorably known throughout the county and state, and is popular with all classes. It is urged that he will make Mr. Barber a harder race than any one who could be named by his party, and at this writing it certainly looks as though he will get the nomination.

R. B. Thornley of Smithfield is still in the race for the nomination for sheriff. Thornley served two terms as Marshal of Smithfield and is at present a councilman. He is regarded highly as a capable and honorable man worthy of this office if the convention sees its way clear to nominate him.

WOMAN'S DUTY.

The truth can no longer be suppressed. It must be acknowledged and acted upon. In a lecture before the students of the University of Chicago, Chancellor E. Benjamin Andrews of the University of Nebraska, said: "Bachelors are moral degenerates. From them emanates most of the sin and shame of the world. They are lacking in mental and physical poise. The life of no individual is complete unless he or she have a life companion of the opposite sex."

This is a burning truth. In fact, it is four burning truths. And there was no better place to spring them than at a co-educational institution. It will be more beneficial than another million from Rockefeller. Of course bachelors are degenerates. Anybody is a degenerate who violates the laws of nature, and as Dr. Andrews continued: "Providence intended that men and women should marry. The world was made for the family and not for the individual. The unmarried individual of marriageable age has no place in society or in the scheme of the universe. Individuals who do not form legal ties with the opposite sex will form illegal ones. The world does not want that kind of ties. Marriage is a good thing. The great men and women of the world—the ones whose lives were symmetrical and whose works are best for posterity—have been married."

But what are we going to do about it? The last census shows 6,726,779 bachelors of twenty years or more, and 4,195,446 spinsters of the same age. Think of it! Over ten million degenerates bringing misery to the country. What a shame, when there might as well be 8,390,892 minds with but 4,195,446 thoughts, 8,390,892 hearts that beat as 4,195,446, and a surplus of only 2,531,333 degenerates to blast our national life.

Hitherto it has been supposed that there was a surplus of unmarried women in the country; but this condition no longer exists, if it ever did. In every state the unmarried men exceed the unmarried women. Even Massachusetts has a surplus of 5,221 bachelors. There are husbands for all and to spare if men would give up their degenerate existence. Man must be punished. The right of courting must be taken from him. It is now woman's duty to assume the initiative. Every unmarried woman should become a missionary to some desert man and urge him to give up degeneracy, quit bringing sin and shame into the world, and devote his attention to supporting a wife. Are the women of the country awake to their responsibility? Are they equal to the emergency? The future of the nation may depend on the answer to these momentous questions.

LOGAN PRIMARIES

Monday Evening Select Forty-nine Delegates to the County Convention.

Mention of D. R. Roberts, Joseph E. Cowley, George Cole, A. A. Law, and J. C. Knowles.

The Logan primaries were held on Tuesday evening and delegates to the county convention selected. Each precinct held its own primaries and at various places quite elaborate programs were prepared. The delegates and alternates selected are as follows: 1st precinct:—F. W. Burr, Rasmus Nielsen, Willard Jacobsen; Alternates, Soren Sorensen, Hiram Larsen.

2nd precinct:—Fred Turner, A. G. Lundstrum, John Spande, Joel Ricks, John A. Hendrickson; Alternates: Emer Crockett, Orson Smith.

3rd precinct:—H. A. Pedersen, John Deacon, John Nickelsen, F. Jacobsen, Hiram Petersen; Alternates, J. W. Crawford, H. A. Hansen.

4th precinct:—Ed E. Nelson, Niel S. Bell, E. M. Cole, Ole Laurentzen; Alternates, Herbert Hawks, John Hansen.

5th precinct:—W. H. Thain, I. N. Smith, C. C. Cressal, Joseph Squires, N. E. Clemenson; Alternates, Ben Wilmore, John Thomas, Chas. Baker, G. G. Smith, W. H. Apperley.

6th precinct:—Richard Yeates, Rebecca Eames, Marry A. Tarbet, J. C. Knowles, D. R. Roberts; Alternates, J. C. Petersen, Thos. Smart, C. M. Porter.

7th precinct:—Andreas Petersen, H. J. Nielsen, Jos. Odell, Geo. Cole, W. W. Maughan; Alternates, Hattie Smith, Mrs. Geo. Cole, Mrs. Robert Murdock, Thos. X. Smith.

8th precinct:—H. Bullen, Jr., J. C. Walters, P. W. Maughan, Ariel Cardon; Alternates, Lorenzo Benson, W. S. Lamoreaux.

9th precinct:—J. P. Cardon, Michael Andrews, Wm. Brangham, Gottleb Smith, Peter Christiansen, Mrs. Wm. Brangham, Mrs. Knute Petersen, Jos. Nelson; Alternates, Oscar Swendsen, Nephi Andrews, Jas. McNiel, K. C. Schaub, John Adams.

10th precinct:—J. W. Barrett, Will Jensen, J. C. Nielsen, Waldemar Hansen, Casper Hoffman, Parley Armond.

Joseph E. Cowley of the 3rd Ward is suggested as a candidate for the lower house. Mr. Cowley is a prosperous farmer and a member of the firm of Quayle & Co. He is known as a solid citizen, thoroughly qualified and a man in whom the business and honor of the county may be safely intrusted. He has many friends who would be glad to have his name come before the convention.

J. C. Knowles is not making much of a blow about what he is doing, but it is a significant fact that quite a number of the Logan delegates are known to be for him. Mr. Knowles' knowledge of political affairs and his ability as a worker along political lines enables him to see far ahead and lay his wires accordingly. He is a vote getter, and would make a good race if nominated for the Senatorship.

D. R. Roberts is still in the race for representative and at last accounts was easily in the lead for the nomination. In fact there is no one out actively against him. He is so well and favorably known over the county that those who would like to make the race have kept in the background. Mr. Roberts is so thoroughly competent as to make him an ideal candidate.

George Cole is a candidate for commissioner and his friends will place his name before the convention. He is known over the county as a safe business man and a party worker worthy of recognition. The fact that Mr. Cole is a contractor, makes against him a little, but if the convention favors him he will make a good race. His record is known to all and it is a favorable one. He has been put up and knocked down, but he's taken it like a man and that's what men admire in one another.

THE DAY BEFORE

The Standing of Various Candidates As It Looks the Day Before Convention.

Andreas Peterson Is a New Man Brought Out for Representative.—The Fight For the Sheriff's Nomination.

T. H. Smith, Fred Turner, and C. C. Cressal are making an active fight for the nomination for Sheriff and the delegates in convention assembled will have to decide the matter. Smith brings certain claims that are good ones, and his friends say he will be nominated. Turner says he believe the convention will see its way clear to nominate him, for reasons that have been set forth before. Cressal is an unknown quantity, but by those who are pushing him he is regarded as a good substantial man. Smith says his long stand with the party and faithful service, combined with capability, entitles him to the office, while Mr. Turner stands on his past record as Sheriff and the idea that if nominated he can come nearer winning, from the fact that he will draw the full strength of the Republican party, and largely from the Democratic.

Either of the three men will make a good Sheriff if elected, but the convention should pick the man that gives the most promise of election. If Smith is that man Turner and Cressal will help elect him, and if Turner is the man there is little doubt that Smith and Cressal will do all that is possible to secure him a victory. Like wise if Cressal is the man. Excellent feeling exists in this race, a state of affairs that argues well for the nominee.

When asked in regard to his chances for nomination, Mr. John Hendrickson said that he felt assured that the convention would nominate him for senator. The Logan primaries were entirely satisfactory to him, and if his friends in the county stand by him as he fully expects, there is little doubt of the result. Should Mr. Hendrickson be nominated the honor will fall upon a faithful, hardworking and liberal Republican who will put forth the fight of his life to be elected. Mr. Hendrickson's prominence in the political, business and social world makes him a formidable opponent and if he is nominated, Mr. Barber will find him a hard man to down. Mr. Hendrickson's popularity among the Scandinavians is universal, and he will draw great strength from this element. He is thoroughly qualified for the position and in the state legislature will be a senator of whom Cache county would be proud.

A Republican county convention is hereby called to meet at ten o'clock a. m. on Saturday, October 11, 1902, at the County Court House, Logan, Utah, for the purpose of nominating the following officers:

One State senator; three representatives to the State Legislature; one county commissioner for four year term; two county commissioners for two year term; a county clerk; a county attorney; a county sheriff; a county treasurer; a county recorder; a county assessor; a county surveyor. The convention will consist of 145 delegates based on one delegate for every 20 votes cast for Governor Heber M. Wells in 1900, proportioned to the various precincts as set forth below:

JOSEPH ODELL,
Chairman County Committee,
WM. H. THAIN,
Secretary.

Friends of Jacob Larsen are still urging him to become a candidate for commissioner rather than clerk. They urge several reasons for this, and one is that he can secure the commissionership without a doubt, but the clerkship is beyond him. Mr. Larsen as a Paradise man will probably be recognized with a nomination for some office, and he is thoroughly competent for any office to which he aspires. Personally, he prefers the clerkship but no doubt if his friends would rather give him something else he will accept gracefully and serve creditably if elected.

Joel Ricks says that T. H. Smith will be the nominee for sheriff on the Republican ticket. Smith's qualifications are known to Cache County people, who recognize in him a capable man worthy of this honor. Some say that in the convention he will develop an unexpected strength.

Andreas Petersen, one of the most substantial and favorably known Republicans in Cache county is now being urged as a candidate for the lower house. Mr. Petersen is an able man, a sound reasoner, a student of the State's affairs, an excellent speaker, and a man who would reflect credit upon Cache county were he a member of the next legislature. Mr. Petersen's election is an assured fact if he is nominated, for he stands well with both parties and is regarded as a good, all-round citizen, square, honest and worthy. He would draw well with the Scandinavian element, as he is one of them. Mr. Petersen is a man foremost in religious and social affairs and having been in business in Logan for years is well known over the county. If the Republicans nominate as good men as Mr. Petersen for the various offices there can be no doubt of the ticket's success at the polls on Nov. 4th. He does not feel inclined to make an active canvass for the nomination, but if it is tendered to him he will doubtless accept.

Mrs. Maggie Douglas Morehead of Smithfield is mentioned as a candidate for recorder before the Republican convention. She is a woman having excellent qualifications, and one known well and favorably over the entire county. It will be remembered that she served as deputy in this office for two years at the time Miss Bessie Morehead was recorder. At that time she was regarded as an excellent assistant and in the course of business she had the opportunity of becoming well acquainted over the entire county. For several years she was active in her father's, business, and is regarded very highly in her home town. It is claimed by her friends that her name on the ticket would add strength to it.

Thomas Smart as a candidate for commissioner is a man who would add great strength to the ticket. Competent, thoroughly acquainted with the county's needs, a good business man, he would bring to the county a service that is much needed. Mr. Smart is one of the heaviest tax payers in the county, and naturally one whose personal interest in the best conduct of county affairs is great. He has always been of the greatest service to the party, and the party can hardly do less than nominate him. He is thoroughly genial, not a chronic office seeker, and is a man whom the Democrats would regard as a man worthy of their votes. Tom's friends are pushing him to the extent of their ability.

C. C. Cressal (more familiarly known as Cal Hawkes) thinks his chances for the nomination of sheriff are very good. Mr. Cressal has always made Logan his home and is widely known over the county. He has been affiliated with the Republican party since its existence in the county and has been an earnest party worker. He has never received recognition from the party nor has he before asked it. At present he is chairman of the 5th precinct and in that capacity is a reliable party servant. Mr. Cressal's friends say for him that he has the qualifications for an efficient service to the county in the capacity of sheriff and that should he receive the nomination would be a strong man on the ticket as he has many friends in the opposite party. Mr. Cressal asks that he receive due consideration from the voters of Cache county and promises to do all in his power to be elected should he receive the nomination. If it should happen that he doesn't receive the nomination, he will be for the man whom the party may select.

VERY FAIR TICKET

Nominated by the Democratic Convention Last Week.

Judges W. H. King and R. W. Young Make Short Talks Before the Convention.

The Democrats of the county met at the court house last Wednesday and nominated a county ticket. According to some Democrats it was the "biggest, best, most harmonious" gathering of Cache county's untried that has been held in years, but to others it was hardly that—not by a long shot—and the Republicans as a whole are well satisfied with the ticket. The men put up are fairly good men, and the ticket may be regarded as a fairly strong one, but the Republican leaders believe they can and will swamp the entire affair, with the exception of the Senatorial candidate, and there are excellent fighting chances on that.

Chairman Fullmer called the convention to order at 11:15 and after the usual amount of hot air was expended, committees were appointed, and a resolution advocating the establishment of a state road tax and state road commission was adopted. This was followed by "the great and only" W. H. King, and R. W. Young, who in a very few minutes demolished the entire Republican party—platform, principles, votes and all. Judge King spoke about ten minutes. The burden of his talk was the glory of the Democracy and the certainty of its ultimate triumph. He charged the Republican party with failure, mal-administration, and corrupt alliance, and prophesied its ultimate overthrow, as the people come to understand its real character and purpose. He excoriated most unmercifully the men who have abandoned the Democracy for the Republican party, calling them "renegades" and "apostates," and expressed his utter contempt for them, and incidentally took a fall out of "religious apostates," as well.

The Judge was followed by "Dick" Young, who had little to say and said it in few words. He made a plea for non-partisanship in politics when it comes to the election of judges, and asking Republicans to give him their franchise if they think him better fitted for the supreme bench than his opponent, but he did not advocate a vice versa course.

According to the Journal the speakers were widely applauded, and the convention adjourned to meet at 2 p. m. Presumably this recess was for lunch but some say it was more for the purpose of relieving the strain occasioned by King and Young.

At the afternoon meeting the following ticket was nominated: For senator, A. G. Barber; Representatives, Samuel Oldham, L. R. Martineau, Christian Sorenson; County Commissioners, W. H. Darley, Wm. Edwards, James V. Allen; Clerk, A. L. Farrell; Recorder, Jennie P. Slater; Sheriff, George C. Rigby; Assessor, I. C. Thoresen; Treasurer, H. A. Campbell; Attorney, J. Z. Stewart, Jr; Surveyor, T. H. Humphreys.

This Counts.

We now have no doubt that Richmond possesses at least one man who is alive to his opportunities. If more Republicans over the county who say they are interested in the success of this institution, would do as this Richmond man has done, the upbuilding of "The Republican" would be surer and more rapid. The following letter is self-explanatory. Read it and you will have no difficulty in determining the kind of complimentary letters that we consider very substantial compliments.

Richmond, Utah, Oct. 2, 1902.
Editor Republican,
Logan, Utah,

Dear Sir:—Have been intending to send you check for some time but overlooked it, or rather have been too busy to read much. I send you $5.00 for which you will please send me The Republican for one year and also a copy to my brother, A. L. Harris, this paper, for the same period. As to your place, it is all right. Its entire appearance shows the Republicans of the county have the right man in the right place. I heartily wish you continued success.
Yours truly,
Z. C. HARRIS.
