MARY SAUNDERS
IS LAID TO REST

Hyde Park, Jan. 7.—Funeral services were held over the mortal remains of Mrs. Mary Saunders, Friday, Jan. 5th at 1 p. m. The speakers were Elders Frederick T. Ballam, Joseph W. Summerhays (brother of deceased) and Lorenzo Peterson, of the Bishopric. The speakers all bore testimony to the faithfulness of the deceased in every position she had been called to fill. The musical numbers by the choir were "Home Sweet Home," "Softly Beams the Sacred Dawning" and "Sister Thou Wast Mild and Lovely." Mrs. Jean Lindquist of Smithfield sang very beautifully "Sometime We'll Understand," and Willard Ballam, accompanied by Miss Leah Christensen rendered a beautiful violin solo. After the services the body was taken to the Hyde Park station and shipped to Ogden, where the husband of Mrs. Saunders was buried several years ago. Mrs. Saunders was a woman greatly loved by those who knew her. Quiet and unassuming and a great sufferer from bodily ailments yet she was ever cheerful and striving to make others happy. For many years she was associated with the Primary association and many of the good times had by the children were due to her resourceful mind. In the death of Mrs. Saunders Hyde Park loses a worthy and dutiful citizen, and her children a loving and wise mother. Her three sons are George, Alma, Willard, her daughters Mrs. Margaret Peck and Mrs. Esther Ames both now residing in Salt Lake.

The heet campaign came to an end Friday, Jan. 5, 1912, when the last of the eight thousand tons piled there were loaded on the cars. We have here in Hyde Park a goodly number of fine teams, and hard working young men who are ready for any work that may come their way. So if Mr. Eccles or any other enterprising capitalist will start the street railway or any other enterprise, Hyde Parkers can furnish a great deal of the necessary help.

Mr. Suel Lamb our esteemed citizen and Pioneer is at this writing quite sick. Also Mrs. Mary E. Ballam is in a critical condition. Alma Balls and Ima Thurston, who moved into Nevada last fall, came back to the old home to spend the holidays. They speak well of Nevada at that part in particular where they are located. George Nielson and Nephi Jorgenson have been down in Millard County and purchased land with a view of moving there in the near future.

RUNS AMUCK
WHILE ON SHIP

San Francisco, Jan. 8.—Failing to subdue Anton Runick, a passenger who had run amuck on the steamer with a revolver, Captain Charles C. Gaylow of the coaster City or Topeka resorted to his searchlight, turning the powerful beam into Runick's face and driving him into a stateroom. Runick fired through the door and a stream from a fire hose was turned on him. He forced his way into an adjoining stateroom, holding up two ship's officers with his revolver, until a second hose was brought into play and the maniac overpowered. The steamer arrived from Eureka this morning with Runick in irons in the hold.

Runick boarded the Topeka at Eureka Saturday night and deposited $155 with the purser. Early Sunday morning he approached Captain Gaylow and, declaring that he had been robbed, demanded that the Captain repay him. Runick was armed with a revolver and the captain fled to the pilot-house to secure his own weapon. They exchanged shots without result and Captain Gaylow determined to try the searchlight, as it was still dark. The battle which followed terrorized the ship for more than two hours. Runick is a laborer and is believed to be insane.

Charles Durham, Livingston, Ill., has succeeded in finding a positive cure for bed wetting. "My little boy wet the bed every night clear thro' on the floor. I tried several kinds of kidney medicine and I was in the drug store looking for something different to help him when I heard of Foley Kidney Pills. After he had taken them two days we could see a change and when he had taken two thirds of a bottle he was cured. That is about six weeks ago and he has not wet in bed since." Co-op Drug Co.

CAUGHT AFTER A LONG CHASE

Two Men Accused of Looting New Westminster, B. C., Bank of $375,000 Last Sept. Now in Custody — One is Captured.

New York, Jan. 8.—John McNamara of San Francisco, known to detectives of a half a dozen cities as "Australian Mack," was arrested here tonight by Central office and private detectives on a warrant charging him with the larceny of $375,000 from the Bank of Montreal at New Westminster, B. C., which was dynamited September 14.

Eleven hundred dollars was found in his wallet and detectives are searching the city tonight for $240,000 of the bank's funds, which he is believed to have brought to New York. For ten days McNamara has been under surveillance after traveling over the United States and Canada for more than two months, it is said. Police headquarters here say they first learned of his arrival through a tip that some one was trying to exchange a large amount of Canadian money for American currency. Money brokers and the man who approached them were shadowed until the trail, they said, led to McNamara's lodgings. No money was found there, however.

Negotiations for McNamara's arrest between the police here and the Canadian authorities ended this afternoon with the issuance of a warrant.

Submits to Arrest. Four detectives arrested McNamara on a street in Harlem. He submitted quietly, asked to see the warrant, and after reading it, smiled and said: "I am greatly relieved. I thought it was some more serious charge."

In addition to larceny, McNamara is charged with dynamiting the bank's safe and blinding and gagging a Chinese watchman. McNamara joked with his captors when he was urged to confess, and said he was traveling over the country, looking for a good location to open a cafe. He admitted, the police say, that he was in British Columbia at the time the bank was robbed and had lived at the Strand hotel in Vancouver afterward, but declined to say anything further.

McNamara will be arraigned tomorrow. Assistant Police Commissioner Dougherty said tonight that the British consul here coincidentally would ask for his extradition to Canada.

For nearly fifteen years, the police assert, McNamara has been known to the authorities throughout the country. His picture, they say, is in the rogues' galleries here and in Washington, Louisville and Chicago, but there is no record of any conviction.

Trailed for Months. Although the detectives trailing McNamara could have arrested him at any time within the last two months, they say they held off in the hope that he would reveal the hiding place of the loot. Whether he had done so, the police declined tonight to say. They did declare, however, that he had been positively identified as the man who cranked the automobile in which the cracksmen fled from the bank with the money. The robbers dropped a $5,000 bundle of bills in their haste, and, finding that they had more than they could carry, hid $24,000 beneath a wooden sidewalk in New Westminster.

Two hundred and forty thousand dollars of the stolen money was negotiable, lacking, however, the signature of the bank's officials. A world-wide warning was sent to banks to be on guard against receiving this money.

Six weeks later, a bank in Buffalo received $1,095 in the stolen bills, deposited, the police declare, by a pool-room keeper. The bank is said to have asked the depositor where he procured it, and upon his failure to give an answer, the money was confiscated.

PEPSIN DOES NOT CURE INDIGESTION.

Laboratory tests which we have made for 20 years proved it. The majority of so called Dyspepsia cures on the market are simply Pepsin Tablets which digest only albuminous foods. When you begin taking Chambers' Dyspepsia Tablets we don't want you to deny yourself a thing. Eat everything your stomach craves. Read the following testimony from a Utah woman.

"I suffered untold agony from acute indigestion. I tried physicians and numerous patent medicines but none of them did me any good. During one attack a friend recommended your dyspepsia tablets. With absolutely no confidence in them I began taking Chambers Tablets. After using three boxes I was completely cured. That was over a year ago and I have never had a return of the trouble since. I weigh 15 pounds more than I did a year ago and can eat anything. My stomach never troubles me and I want to give full praise to Chambers' Dyspepsia Tablets.

The Chambers Medicine company will be glad to furnish the name of this lady on application.

When purchasing Chambers' Dyspepsia Tablets do so with the understanding that if you are not benefited the dealer from whom you purchased them will gladly refund your money. He loses nothing. We stand the loss. All we ask is that you be fair with us and we know you will be.
