LOGAN CACHE COUNTY UTAH TUESDAY JULY 28 1914

TWELFTH YEAR

STATE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE WILL MEET SATURDAY IN SALT LAKE

Campaign this fall offers much that will interest the G. O. P. followers.

LOOSE TO BE NEW CHAIRMAN

Johnson and Howell will be pitted against each other in friendly contest for representative honors.

August 1st, Saturday next, is the date set by State Republican Chairman Henry Gardner for the State Republican committee to meet and decide upon the dates and other necessary details for holding the state and Congressional district conventions. As has been forecasted the conventions will undoubtedly be held August 31st and September 1st, and when the conventions are over the campaign will begin to warm up.

New State Chairman

On the day following the state convention the state committee will reorganize and at this meeting it is safe to say that Colonel C. E. Loose will be made state chairman. This will be a happy choice and a coincidence that ought to mean much to the Republican party. Colonel Loose is a strong character, faithful to his friends, a safe barometer as to industrial conditions, and a man who believes in taking the right step before it is too late. During the last Presidential campaign he was an ardent supporter of Theodore Roosevelt. He felt that Mr. Roosevelt had been a true friend to Utah and her people, he sympathized with him in his canvass for the presidency, and it is assumed that he voted for him. Now when Colonel Roosevelt says "I SHALL OPPOSE THE POLICIES OF THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION WHICH I REGARD AS DEEPLY INJURIOUS ALIKE TO THE HONOR AND INTEREST OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE" he finds a vigilant lieutenant in Colonel Loose. Colonel Loose espoused the Progressive cause for principle, and now that the substance has been sacrificed for the lust of office, now that his party which made such gallant strides in 1912 has become the tail to the Democratic kite, now that those of his fellows who subscribe to the present order of things have become "assistant Democrats" in very deed, he will, when endowed with the responsibilities of the Republican state chairmanship, be found working ever time to prevent the success of such a conflicting, discordant, hybrid, mongrel, conglomerated mass of inconsistencies as the Moyle, Nebeker, Warrum, Thoresen, Blair, Hendricks, officious afflicted machine is attempting to saddle on to the people of Utah.

Congressional Conventions

Now that the state has been divided there will be two congressional conventions, one for the first district comprising Salt Lake, Utah, Tooele and Davis counties, and the second comprising all the other counties of the state.

First District

In the first district a merry war is going on with a bevy of candidates in the field, and as this district claims neither of the present congressmen as a resident the selection will be made from entirely new timber. Cache county's old time friend Hon. Harry S. Joseph is in the race in dead earnest and his friends are backing him as an easy winner this time. Harry has many friends in Cache who are just waiting to shower congratulations.

Second District

In the second district the battle royal promises to be staged. Here Congressman Howell and Congressman Johnson promise to be the central figures, and the result will no doubt be a choice between the two. Both are on the job, have a strong following, and the contest will be one of good natured rivalry between two good men that for the past year or more have been working shoulder to shoulder for the well being of the state of Utah.

Congressman Johnson

Congressman Johnson is serving his first term in congress, and go where you will throughout the entire state you can hear no other expression than that "Judge Johnson has made a good congressman." His address on the Panama tolls question was clear and logical, as have been his addresses on many other important matters in Congress. He is a strong, steadfast, level headed man, and has discharged the duties of his office with ability and fidelity, and deserves the confidence and support of his friends. Although there is some opposition to his candidacy in San Pete county, his home county, occasioned by the ambitions of other sons of that great commonwealth, some of whom are desirous of getting into the Congressman's shoes, others desirous of making places for themselves in other capacities, it is safe to say that Judge Johnson's program of "watchful waiting" while the game of checkers is being played by ambitious aspirants in his home county, will by the 31st of August reveal such openings from Gunnison to Fountain Green, that he will have no trouble in getting into San Pete's king row, and come to Salt Lake with a united delegation.

Congressman Howell

Congressman Howell will again contest for the place, and unlike Congressman Johnson he will not have opposition from his home county, at least opposition of the same character. That is he will not be in conflict with others from Cache county who want to run for Congress, and this being the case, and as there are no other places on the ticket to which any of Cache county's Republicans are aspiring there is no good reason why he should encounter any material opposition in Cache county. Congressman Howell has been before the people of the state many times and has never failed to pull heavy at the ballot box. In the last election which was perhaps the most critical of his entire political career he led the Republican candidate for president, his colleague for Congress, Justice of the Supreme court, Governor, and Secretary of State. It is argued from Richmond to St. George that he is a good vote getter, and aside from that he has discharged every trust during his long term at the National capital with dignity, ability and discretion. He has the good will of the membership of the House of Representatives, and has been placed on many important committees which mean much to the west. True he is not a fiery orator whose efforts cease when the silver coated words fall from the lips, but he is one of those modest, earnest, level headed, judicious workers whose tireless toil is never over as long as he holds a commission from the State of Utah. He has many friends throughout the entire state who are daily saying "Congressman Howell must go back. The next election will witness the passing of the present Democratic house of representatives. His ability and experience of long standing make it imperative that he be retained. His positions on important committees cannot be sacrificed, and his term cool judgment, and fidelity to western conditions, will mean more than words can tell in shaping the destinies of the west when the present discriminating regime shall have passed away and the new Republican Congress is endowed with the responsibilities of reconstruction, caused from the havoc the schoolmaster and his servile students have wrought County pride, together with the tone of the natural order of things coupled with the faithful performance of a trust many times bestowed, will bring to Cache county's son Hon. Joseph Howell a solid, united Cache county delegation, and on general principles will give him a united north that will place him in a good position to contest successfully for the nomination against Congressman Johnson of the south, and any and all comers that may enter the field.

The State Convention
At the state convention interest centers in the nominations of candidates for United States Senator, Justice of the Supreme Court and Superintendent of Public Instruction.

U. S. Senator

For United States Senator the united sentiment throughout the entire state says there will be no contest. It will simply be a ratification meeting, just one great, big, whole souled, manifestation of approval of the work of the present Senior Senator from Utah—Hon. Reed Smoot. Reed Smoot the man of all the membership of the Senate whom the present administration would prefer to have defeated. Reed Smoot the man of all the membership of the Senate whom the promoters of industry, and toilers for their daily bread, would prefer to see elected.

Justice of the Supreme Court

For Justice of the supreme court we have heard of no opposition to the present incumbent Hon. W. M. McCarty. Judge McCarty has succeeded in piling up a record of which any man might well be proud, and perhaps on that account the legal fraternity of the state feel that it is the wisest thing to keep him where he is. Of course there may be other candidates, but to the fellow that expects to wrest the nomination from McCarty obstacles well nigh mountains high will follow in his wake.

Supt. of Public Instruction

For Superintendent of Public Instruction the nomination will perhaps be between Hon. A. C. Matheson, the present incumbent, and Dr. E. G. Gowans, the nominee on the Democratic and assistant Democratic tickets.

All For Utah and the United States

While all of the above gentlemen are candidates, and will appreciate any further honors that may be bestowed yet we feel that we are justified in saying for them that they place far above any personal consideration the earnest desire that Utah stand firmly by the principles which have made her the mighty commonwealth that she is, and that insure her future growth and prosperity. They cherish the hope that Utah will place the seal of condemnation on the Democratic policies which as Theodore Roosevelt says "are deeply injurious alike to the honor and interest of the American people." They stand firmly, first, last and all the time against the "Wilson Blight" and ask to be counted among their fellows in casting a vote that will relegate this withering, blasting, destructive insect to another twenty years oblivion. With all good citizens they are more deeply concerned in the welfare of Utah and the United States than in the personnel of those who may be favored with the continued confidences of the people.

CHILD DIES IN SIXTH WARD

The infant daughter of Professor and Mrs. J. D. Howells died on Tuesday at the Howells home in the Sixth ward. The little one was buried Saturday evening in the Logan cemetery. Funeral services were held at the residence about four o'clock in the afternoon. Bishop Rice and Olf I. Peterson spoke briefly, striving to give hope and comfort to the bereaved family. Numerous friends came in with flowers to express their sympathy.

VISITS FRUIT GROWERS OF THE WEST

Ras Rasmussen, Secretary and Manager of the Cache Fruit Growers Association Makes Tour of Oregon and California

Los Angeles, July 24.—When I left Logan I promised to write you from California. I am now at the end of my journey, have visited a good deal of the fruit sections and beginning to conclude that Cache valley fruit is up with any and talk about your beautiful California to me the crops do not look as good here as we see them in Cache valley. All we need is to boost for our valley for neither our crops nor our climate is excelled anywhere.

What is of most interest here at present is naturally the great exposition at San Francisco. A city within a city is rising as by magic on the shore of the Golden Gate. Four of the principal buildings are the Palace of Horticulture, the Palace of Liberal Arts, the Court of the Universe and the great Tower of Jewels. Of these four the most striking is the classic Palace of Horticulture. The great glass dome of this imposing structure is 186 feet in height and 152 feet in diameter. The great Palace of Liberal Arts which adjoins the Palace of Horticulture on the right is one of the greatest sights of the exposition. The Court of the Universe, on San Francisco harbor can be seen from all the bay region. The Tower of Jewels is a large structure spanning the main entrance and will be 433 feet high. These buildings are forming the center of the grounds comprising 635 acres divided into sections, groups, Court of Palm Court of the Universe, Court of the Four Seasons, and Court of Abundance, inviting the world to evidence man's high achievements.

I can say but little of Los Angeles as I just arrived and the parties I should meet are out of town but in travelling from San Francisco to this city I had an experience that I do not care to relate. Three masked men boarded the train about an hour before we were due at Los Angeles the one remaining on the rear platform of the Pullman sightseeing car, while the other two robbed the passengers in all the cars but the smoker. I was riding in the car just behind the smoker and with other passengers in that same car was told of the hold up in car behind, and looking back sure enough there was everybody standing with hands up. We did not stop to see why but rushed to the smoker which now was crowded with kneeling, crying and hysterical women and excited men in the excitement some passenger pulled the air brake rope and the train came to a sudden stop the bandits stepped off the train and into an automobile that had followed us while the daring work had been done. A sigh of relief and all the estrangement had left the passengers, everybody knew everybody now and each told their experience. All told the robbers made a gain of about five thousand dollars and may have got a good deal more but they politely refused to accept anything from women. One lady offered them a handbag containing two thousand in currency but was told that all she was asked to do was "shut up and hold your hands up, and if any of you screams we will shoot and if we shoot, we shoot to kill."

Respectfully
RAS RASMUSSEN.

LARS HANSON BURIED SUNDAY

Impressive Funeral Services Held in the Fourth Ward Meeting House

Lars Hanson, the aged Fourth ward pioneer, was buried Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were held in the Fourth ward meeting house at 12 o'clock, noon. Splendid music was furnished by the ward choir. The speakers were Andrew Eliason, Joseph Newbold, Thomas Morgan, President Serge Ballif, and Bishop John H. Anderson. The funeral services were impressive and there was a profusion of flowers. Interment was in the Logan cemetery. Funeral arrangements were in charge of G. W. Lindquist.

MANY CAMPERS IN THE CANYON

Picturesque Logan canyon is becoming a regular rendezvous for seekers of natural scenery and summer resort. On Sunday the Logan canyon road was perhaps the most traveled road of any public highway in the valley. Already hundreds of Logan people are on their annual summer vacation and as a consequence the canyon is being filled with tents and cabins where the occupants have gone to rest from care and trouble.

Some of the canyon camps are becoming very popular. For instance, scarcely an evening passes that a crowd does not gather either at the camp grounds of the Frank Benson camp, the D. C. Budge camp or the William Edwards camp. Among those who are seen enjoying the canyon beauties regularly at present are, the Budges, William Edwards family, H. E. Hatch, and family, C. W. Hansen and family, Herman Harms and family, Frank Nebeker and family, George Torgeson and family, S. B. Thatcher and family, W. H. Thain and family, George Q. Rich and family and many others whom we were not able to see.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR HANS HANSEN

Many Friends Come From Outside Towns to Attend Services

Funeral services over the remains of Hans Hansen were held in College ward Saturday morning at eleven o'clock. The meeting house was crowded with people from all parts of this section. There were probably 500 present.

James Olson of Brigham made the first speech. He was followed by J. Z. Stewart of this city after which there was a solo by Benson Parkinson. Abraham Jorgensen, half brother of the deceased, spoke feelingly of his sterling qualities. Other speakers were Hans Sorenson, John Schenk, and Bishop Joseph Olson. There were many flowers and beautiful floral decorations. A long train of carriages followed the hearse to Logan cemetery where interment took place.

LIVE DOINGS IN HYDE PARK

Pioneer Day Celebrated in Fine Style. Farmers Harvesting Big Crops

Hyde Park, July 25.—The Pioneer celebration here yesterday was a very enjoyable one, and marked many good features. The children's dance began at 9 a. m. and was well attended. The band concert from 10:30 to 11, was a good one and the boys were often applauded for their excellent music. Master of ceremonies Henry Seamons called the meeting to order at 11 a. m. and the program as previously announced was carried out without a hitch. The choir was at its best, and sang a very pleasing selection. The master of ceremonies read a list of names of all those who lived in Hyde Park in 1850 and who are still alive. Those still in Hyde Park, are Mrs. Mary Ashcroft, Elijah Seamons, Samuel and Louise Seamons, James S. and Horace W. Hancey, and Stephen Thurston. Some twenty-three others living in other places are all that remain. The orator J. W. D. Hurren paid a glowing tribute to the pioneers. Showed how they laid the foundations broad and deep upon which our great commonwealth is built. Spoke of the

J. B. ROPER BURIED IN PRESTON

Large Concourse Turns Out to Honor Remains of Cache Valley Pioneer

Cache Valley pioneer was buried on Thursday afternoon. The funeral was held in the Preston Third ward. A brief account of the exercises follows:

The choir sang "The Deepening Trials, Unanswered Yet, Jesus Lover of My Soul." The opening prayer was offered by Former Bishop L. C. Larsen of Glendale and the closing prayer was by Bishop Henry Rogers of Preston First ward. Marvin McNeil sang, "What Voice Salutes the Startled Ear," and Leonard Moore sang, "Oh My Father."

Elder Fred Turner related his experience with the deceased from childhood to manhood and testified of his integrity and of his sterling manhood. He said the families connected with Brother Roper are among the best in the church. The favorable conditions surrounding them have been brought about by the gospel which has gathered one of a city or two of a family. Elder Lorin M. Mendenhall of Preston Third ward testified of the good works of the deceased. He did not spend all his life gathering about him the material things of life but cared for the eternal welfare of himself and his family. He spoke of the promises and conditions revealed concerning the resurrection.

Former Bishop John Larsen of Preston ward spoke of his 28 years acquaintance with Brother Roper and family in Preston during its growth and development, testified of his faithfulness and exhorted his family to comfort and care for the bereaved mother.

Elder Stephen Thurston of Hyde Park testified of the labors of Brother Roper which have not required a long life to accomplish.

Elder Taylor Nelson of the Onelda stake presidency said his acquaintance of the past ten or twelve years justifies him in accepting as true and just that which has been said of the deceased. Said all will have to come to judgment and will be judged by the gospel. We feel sure that a reward of glory is awaiting the deceased.

Elder Thomas Greaves of the Third ward bishopric related some of his associations with Brother Roper in his capacity as clerk of the ward.

Bishop George H. Carver testified that what had been said by the speakers is true.

The grave was dedicated by Elder Bingham of West Weber.

OLD FOLKS OUT-ING A BIG SUCCESS

The old folks committee of the Hyrum stake has just completed a successful outing to Lagoon, July 25 and 26 where over 1000 people accompanied the excursion. The committee wants to thank all the people of the Hyrum stake who assisted in any way to make this excursion the great success that it was and was assisted in making it pleasant for the old people. The committee wants to especially thank the Oregon Short Line officials and the Logan Short Line for their kind and courteous treatment, and the stake presidency for their presence as they always send their hearty support to these functions. The committee hopes that some time in the not far distant future a similar trip may be taken over the railroad and to the same resort where those who were fortunate enough to go say they had one of the most pleasant times of their lives. The committee which had the arrangements of this outing in hand was composed of A. G. Wilson, Jos. B. Woodward, Ernest Peterson, Albert Savage and William Murray.
