NEW BANKING ROOMS READY FOR OCCUPANCY

After Three Years Absence the Thatcher Brothers Banking Co. Will Return Home Saturday

Three years ago at 5 o'clock p. m. on the 12th day of April, the sound of the city fire bell was notice to the Thatcher Brothers Banking Company that it must make haste quickly for a fire had started in the building then occupied which would entirely destroy the large structure. The bank books, notes, drafts, checks and other office supplies were informally bulked together with the office equipment and dumped into a heap in the street on the Methodist church corner. Here it lay for a short time until the bank employees could get their breath and it was then moved into the building west of the Co-op Drug Store, where the bank was ready to transact business at 10 o'clock the following morning, having borrowed money sufficient to carry them along until the big safe in the bottom of the ruins could be cooled sufficient to permit the removal of the gold, silver and currency. In this building the bank has continued to transact business for these three years, but on Saturday morning, March 27 at 10 a. m. will see the Thatcher Brothers Banking Company again occupying the same spot, from which it left post haste three years ago, and in one of the most elaborate banking quarters to be found in the entire west.

While the bank officers and employees have trudged along, with inconvenience, lack of equipment and undesirable location, yet they have borne it all patiently as they have had dreams of this new home which they are about to enter where every convenience known to modern banking is to be had throughout the entire building.

Upon entering the banking apartments one is met with a beautiful view, the Italian marble, mahogany furniture, bronze rails and bars and large electric fixtures give a most massive and elaborate appearance, and yet the unique arrangement, placing of desks, rest rooms, check counter, etc., indicate that nothing has been over done.

The desks of the president and of the cashier are at the north of the lobby. West from the door are the various booths, for paying teller, savings and collections, and for receiving deposits. In the first booth will be found H. J. Hatch, head teller; second booth, Norman D. Salisbury; third booth, Harry Homer; fourth booth, Harry Farr, who has charge of the savings and collections accounts.

Hereafter all posting will be done by two large Borrowers posting machines which dispense with the work of four men. These machines will be operated by Miss Sylvia Cutler and Miss Alta Shurtliff. Joseph Quinney Sr., will also be found among the bank employees and in point of service is the oldest employe of the bank, aside from President H. E. Hatch. Miss Kate Mackenzie as stenographer and Miss Eva Woolf as remittance clerk will also be found occupying positions in the new bank.

One never need fear from fire in the new building, it being classed as a fire proof building. The vaults with steel lining are fitted out with burglar proof safes. Leading from the main banking room to the basement is to be found a large vault equipped with safety deposit boxes; leading from this same room is a golden finished stair which leads to the mezzanine floor and balcony where the directors rooms are equipped with appropriate furniture.

H. R. ADAMS PRESENTS VIEWS ON BOND ISSUE

Gives Facts and Figures on High School Maintenance in Some of Larger Schools of State

It is true that Cache county is facing a serious problem in deciding the question to build two high schools or only one, but as there is more than one viewpoint on this matter, and since Dr. Thomas has shown his side of the question from the city point of view, I shall endeavor to give the voters of Cache county a glimpse of the other side of the question.

As was said by Dr. Thomas, and in which we thoroughly agree, the students in our high schools are in the age of specialization and we sense very keenly the necessity of having efficient high schools. Let us consider the condition of some of the counties in our state. In Weber county they have no high schools in the county outside of Ogden and, therefore, send their eighth grade graduates to Ogden. Only seven per cent of these students are actually attending high school. In Utah county there are about 1200 high school students in their high schools. The county has seen fit to build six modern high school buildings and have in attendance 90 per cent of their graduates. Many prominent educators consider a high school education worth $10,000. It is also logical to consider that where high school conditions are so favorable 50 per cent of the students who enter will complete the work. Therefore, their school machine is turning out $6,000,000 worth of material to be used in making better citizens. Now Mr. Taxpayer, is it a paying investment or not?

Cache county graduating classes from the eighth grade are steadily increasing. Last year our class numbered 300. If two schools are built in natural centers we can expect at least 75 per cent of these students to enter our high schools. If conditions are as they should be, and will be if the bond carried, we can reasonably expect in four years from now an enrollment of 500 to 600 students allowing for no growth in the county, but we are optimistic on this point, and believe Cache county will have a very substantial and steady growth.

The state high school inspector gives as the most economical school a school of from 250 to 500 students. Following is the enrollment and per capita cost of some of the best high schools in the state:

	Enrolled	Per Capita Cost
Jordan	370	$70.22
Box Elder	517	68.00
Granite	340	62.62
Kaysville	335	60.00
Springville	250	62.50
Pleasant Grove	170	70.00

Dr. Thomas referred to Carbon county where the cost per student is $220.05. Carbon has ten teachers whose total salary per year is approximately $11,000. Their enrollment is 186 which would make the total cost of maintenance $40,920, leaving about $30,000 for running expenses of the school with the item of most expense, the teachers salaries, left out. From this it can be seen that there must have been some mistake in figuring per capita cost or that some items have been included which will not occur each year.

The great danger I see is in repeating Cache county's past history when all eighth grade graduates had to attend school at Logan. Very few students got the advantages of a high school education and college graduates were still fewer. Is there not also a danger of being in the same plight as Weber county is at present?

The teachers in our high schools are paid a salary equal to the salaries paid in other parts of the state and they are all doing good efficient work. None of them have seven or eight subjects to teach. They are working under disadvantages which will be overcome with the construction of new buildings.

It is also said that good buildings cannot be built for the amount we are going to spend in case the bond carries. First let me say that $70,000 (Continued on page eight)

Prince Kalaniana'ole Will Lead Congressional Party to Hawaii

Photos by American Press Association.

Plans for a congressional tour to the Hawaiian Islands under the auspices of Prince Kalaniana'ole, the Hawaiian delegate, are completed. There will be 130 persons in the party. The expense will be borne by the Hawaiians. They will leave the last of April and spend twenty-two days on the islands, returning to San Francisco about May 25. Among those in the party who have accepted invitations are Representative Mann of Illinois, the minority leader of the house; Senators Stone, Overman, Saulsbury, Cummins, Poindestor, Martine; Representatives Sherley, Kentucky; Glass, Virginia; Anthony, Kansas; Stafford, Wisconsin, and Copley, Illinois. Prince Kalaniana'ole is here shown with a typical Hawaiian scene.

TOO ECONOMICAL TO SUBSCRIBE FOR A PAPER

What Happened to Himself and His Family as a Direct Result

The following clipping was handed us by a friend. Some of you may have seen it before, but it is worth reading again:

"A man who was too economical to purchase or subscribe for a paper sent his little boy to borrow a copy from his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a swarthy summer squash. His father, who ran to his assistance, and falling to notice a barbed wire fence ran into that, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a $4 pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence, and got into a corn field and killed herself eating corn. Hearing a racket, the wife ran out, upset a four gallon churn full of rich cream into a basket of kittens, drowning the entire litter. In her haste she dropped a $25 set of teeth. The baby having been left alone, crawled through the spilled milk and into the parlor, ruining a brand new carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up 11 setting hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four new shirts."

COMPLIMENTARY PERFORMANCE FOR OLD FOLKS

"Flora Dora" the B. Y. C. Opera to Be Given Saturday Afternoon. All Over 65 Years Free

The annual complimentary performance of the B. Y. College opera to the Cache stake old people over 65 years will be given at Nibley Hall Saturday afternoon. Professor W. O. Robinson with his excellent cast of the best musical ability the school affords, will have a treat in store for all the stake old folks. In addition to the performance being gratis, the stake old folks committee have arranged with the street car company to haul at half fare all the old people coming to Logan from out of town to attend the opera.

APPROPRIATION BILLS SHAVED BY GOVERNOR

Among Others is the Bill for $20,000 to Improve Logan Canyon Road to Garden City

Salt Lake, March 23.—During the closing hours of yesterday Governor William Spry reduced the extravagant appropriations made by the recent legislature by $298,600. In addition to this amount, which was deducted by the wholesale vetoing of special appropriation bills, the governor made a tentative sharing of the general appropriation bill to the extent of about $200,000. He is not through with the budget yet and it is expected that on the second time over the big appropriation bill he will trim it another $100,000.

All special road and bridge appropriations were slain by the governor yesterday. These included a large number of miscellaneous "pork barrel" appropriations for small and unimportant roads and a few meritorious road appropriations. Among the latter appropriations, which were killed with the bad ones, were an appropriation of $52,000 for the improvement of the Grand Yellowstone Park highway, an appropriation of $30,000 for the construction of a road through Tooele county to the Nevada line, an appropriation of $25,000 to open the Uinta basin country, and $20,000 for Logan canyon road to Bear Lake.

Other Bills Are Vetoed

In addition to the road and bridge appropriations, the list of the dead includes the appropriation of $50,000 for the Indian war veterans, $16,000 for the publicity bureaus of the Salt Lake Commercial Club and the Weber Club, $25,000 for the trip of the Ogden tabernacle choir to the California fair, $5000 for the investigation of the smoke nuisance and $17,500 for the demonstration work of the Utah Agricultural College.

FARMERS SHOWN NECESSITY FOR VOTING BOND

Leading Citizen of Richmond Points Out Facts and Figures on High School Problem

March 27 is the day for you to decide a vital question. The argument for one central high school in Cache is against your interest and against your children's interests. The school population of Cache is in the south end and in the north end of the county. To establish a central school would be just an additional expense without giving us any more than we have had for the past twenty years. The few that could afford it have been getting a high school education in the colleges at Logan. High schools are not established to help the colleges; they are established for the purpose of giving farm children an education at the least possible expense. This can be done by establishing two high schools in Cache. We could today support two ideal high schools and Cache has just begun to develop. Big schools may possibly run cheaper as to equipment, buildings and professors, but all they gain in economy is lost in efficiency. Students of large classes never progress as rapidly as students of smaller classes.

Then in the contemplated high schools of Cache the transportation of students is a big item of expense. All high school students of south Cache can be transported to Hyrum, at an average distance of 4.1 miles, while they would have to travel an average of 8.3 miles to reach a central school no farther north than Logan. All high school students of north Cache could be transported to Richmond at an average distance of 6.2 miles while the same students would have to travel an average of 13.9 miles to reach a central school at Logan. Now the eighth grade graduates is about 5 per cent of the school population. If 85 per cent of the present eligible high school students and 85 per cent eighth grade graduates of 1915 were to attend a central high school next year the transportation at the minimum charge would be $17,500, more than if the same students were transported to a north central high school and a south central high school. I have the school population and the distances and can verify these figures. In ten years the difference in transportation of these students to a central high school and the transportation to two central high schools would pay back the $140,000 and leave $35,000 for extra equipment or building.

Of course if you don't want high schools now the opportunity to get them is here, that's different, but if you want high schools for the bulk of farm boys and girls and the advancement of agriculture in Cache at the least possible expense, and the greatest possible results for goodness sake, don't be so foolish as to be talked into one central high school, as against two in Cache.

While the lack of efficiency in big schools and the difference in the cost of transportation are sufficient reasons for you to vote for two high schools, there are a dozen other reasons which we have not time to give.

Farmers, you don't realize what it means to have your sons educated in manual training and agriculture while they remain on the farm. They get the practice along with the theory. The same is true as to your daughters, in relation to domestic science and home economics. Your votes on March 27 must say whether or not this day marks a great step forward in educational Cache, or a step backward.

Farmers you can't afford to vote "No" March 27, and I know it. Not that I may seem to be working for Richmond, but that I am sincerely fighting for the life of high schools in Cache.

Yours respectfully, C. Z. HARRIS.

BOUVET'S CREW DIED AS BRAVE MEN KNOW HOW

Stood at Salute and Shouted "Vive la France" as Ship Went Down in the Dardanelles

Paris, March 23.—Standing at salute and shouting "Vive la France," the officers and crew of the French battleship Bouvet, sunk in the Dardanelles on March 18, went down with their ship according to the Tenedos correspondent of the Athens Patris who thus describes the action in which the Bouvet and the Gaulois were engaged:

The captain of the Bouvet had been ordered to cross a dangerous mine zone and force a passage to Chanak Kalesi, thus making the allies masters of the straits as far as Negara. At 1:20 p. m. the Bouvet was five miles from Chanak and was firing at Fort Dardanus. She had crossed two mine zones. The Gaulois followed, firing all her guns. The commander of the Bouvet, by a skillful maneuver avoided two mines which were exploded by a destroyer, but a third struck her in the region of her magazines and she sank by the head.

Seven survivors of the Bouvet climbed into a boat and spent the night in a bay on the European side of the straits. They were taken off the next day by a British destroyer.

"When the captain of the Gaulois saw the Bouvet was sinking he ordered "full steam ahead" without an instant's hesitation, but his ship had been struck seven times and he was obliged to put back, anchoring off Vavras Island."

A dispatch from Mytilene says a division of the allied fleet is still keeping watch on the gulf of Smyrna.

A Greek ship picked up a floating mine near Imbros island and another was found by fisherman near Lemnos.

VAUDEVILLE AT THE LYRIC EACH WEEK

Entire Empire Show Has Been Engaged to Give Weekly Performances in Logan

After weeks of persistent effort Mr. Horne, manager of the Lyric theater, announces that he has been successful in signing a contract for the bringing to Logan one night each week the entire Empire Vaudeville show direct from the circuit out of Salt Lake City.

This attraction has been in demand for a long time by many of the prominent business men of our city will be welcomed by the show going public as an important addition to the amusements furnished at the local play houses.

The first bill to be presented next Wednesday afternoon and night, is an extremely attractive one, being composed of five big acts, as follows: Crawford and Broderick, in a catchy singing, talking and dancing specialty; Juggling Delsile, in an artistic juggling act; The Three Higgle Girls in bits of comedy and music; Tom Mahoney, the Irish Chairman, in an imitation of a "Hod Carriers Meeting," and the big feature act with eight people and special scenery, Ye Olde Tyme Hallowe'en, presented by Frank Bolm & Company.

This entertainment is brought in at an enormous expense and unless well patronized, will incur a big financial loss to the management of the house. Patronage from the outside towns is solicited. There will be two shows each night, so that plenty of time to take the car out of town after the show.

STICKING TO HIS POST
