LET HIS OPPORTUNITY GO

Now New York Lawyer is Regretting
His Lack of Foresight That Cost Fortune.

"I suppose every man who has lived very long among the men who do things looks back with some degree of regret upon not exactly what he has lost, but what he might have had if his foresight had been as good as his hindsight," said a New York lawyer. "I am one of these, and it didn't happen a great while ago, either."

"An inventive friend of mine who had given me his legal business to attend to came around one day with a new thing in doing something or other to rubber and told me if I cared to go in half with him I could do so by putting up a certain amount of money. The amount was small enough, but I hadn't any to spare and less to lose, and told him I was satisfied with the legal part of my connection, and didn't care to risk any of my hard-earned savings. He wasn't broke by a whole lot, and told me he wasn't offering the chance to anybody else, and I'd better take it, but I wouldn't be persuaded. He gave me a gentle laugh of scorn and went his way."

"Not long after he went abroad with his invention and was gone three or four months, letting me hear from him occasionally, and saying all was going well. Next I had a cablegram telling me when he was sailing, and to meet him the following week Tuesday at a certain dock. I was there when the ship came in, and he was feeling so good that he fairly yelled at me as he came down the gangway. And he had reason to yell and I had reason to kick myself, for he had sold his process or invention for $735,000 in cash and $2,250,000 in the stock of the new corporation. You see I would have been a millionaire that very minute if my foresight had been worth anything and I had taken his offer when I had the chance. Of course it meant some luck to me, for the fees grew, and I got $20,000 or more out of it, but $20,000 doesn't make a millionaire, does it?"

Big Field of Sweet Peas.

The largest single field of sweet peas in the world is to be found in southern California, near Redondo, London Tit-Bits states. It comprises 350 acres, in which are grown sweet peas of nearly every known variety and color. It constitutes a truly interesting sight, and the fragrance from the flowers loads the air so heavily as to be almost unbearable. Another single field of carnations, 20 acres in area, located near by, yearly affords a similar marvelous sight.

Besides these immense fields of sweet peas and carnations there are many smaller areas in California devoted, respectively, to the growing for market of chrysanthemums, violets, daisies, asters, dahlias, all kinds of lilies, roses and so forth. They are cultivated in much the same way as vegetables, requiring on an average about the same care. Many of the flowers are sold through the flower shops of the cities, but the chief income to the growers comes from the sale of seeds. The annual shipments of flower seeds from California amount to many tons.

Novel Fruit Barrels.

A partitioned barrel has been invented by a fruit man in British Columbia, patents for which have been applied for in Canada and this country. It is similar to any ordinary barrel, according to a commerce report, but it is divided into two equal parts by partitions which are adjusted so that the barrel may be sawed in two without injuring the contents, practically making two half barrels. The advantages claimed for the new barrel are that it can be made of cheap sawed lumber, shipped in the "knock down" state and assembled easily at the packing house; also that the fruit can be shipped without wrapping because of the firmness imparted by the central partition. The fruit shipped in it is said to arrive in perfect condition.

Unreasonable.

"Muh wife am de most puihsistent lady I ever seed in all nuh bawn days, sah!" complained Brother Ram-diddy. "Why, looky: We been mar'd three yehs now, and she's still axin me to buy her a new hat!"—Kansas City Star.

RECOMMENDED FOR CROUP

W. C. Allen, Bosely, Mo., says: "I have raised a family of four children and used Foley's Honey and Tar with all of them. I find it the best cough and croup medicine I ever used. I used it for eight or ten years and can recommend it for croup." Same satisfactory results for coughs and colds. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

His Plea.
"Well, Cuddyhump," said Squire Peavy, addressing a colored citizen who was suspected of having wandered from the straight and narrow path, "what have you to say for your self?"
"Des dis, yo' honah—dis yuh am muh prevarication, was the reply. "Nemmine wadder I's guilty or not, but dess tempt mercy wid justice and tuh me loose. Tuh me loose, sah, and sho's yo' bawn I'll do as much for yo' some time!"

Sensitive.

"Evidently that young man I met at your party does not know who I am," remarked Mr. Cumrox to his wife.

"What makes you think so?"
"If he appreciated the extent of my financial influence he would have laughed at my jokes instead of my grammar."

Friendless.

The Candidate—Here are a few of my cards. Would you mind distributing them among your friends?
The Other—But I haven't any friends.

The Candidate—Why, how's that?
The Other—I'm the official dog catcher.

How it Happened.

The house that Jack built had just been completed.
"And the beauty of it," boasted Jack, "is that it actually cost 30 cents less than the architect's estimate."
Thus another classic found its way to the desk of the fairy tale editor.

Something in Store.

"I'll face a dragon to win that girl, just as knights did in days of yore. In fact, I'd welcome a dragon to face."
"Your wish may be gratified. Wait until you see her mother, my boy."

NO TEMPTATION.

Mrs. Earlydawn—Get up, daughter. Remember, it's the early bird that gets the worm.
Daughter—Let him have 'em. I think worms are horrid, anyway.

The Usual Result.

When modern-fiction writers try their thoughts to serve up hot, we get erotic novels—with the accent on the "rot."

His Classification.

"This one of the pair of receivers of stolen goods, your honor, acts as a lookout while the other is getting the goods."
"I see. He's a picket fence."

Still Extant.

"Uncle Jim, have dragons gone out of existence?"
"Oh, no, my lad. You can see one almost any day chaperoning a pretty girl."—Judge.

Unfortunately Not.

"You say she treats you like a dog?"
"I don't say anything of the sort. When I see how she treats that Boston bull of hers I wish she would."—Judge.

A Question of Time.

The New Parson—Well, I'm glad to hear you come to church twice every Sunday.
Tommy—Yes, I'm not old enough to stay away yet.

A Personal Tragedy.

"The stranger you saw took me apart to tell me a startling story."
"What happened then?"
"I could not pull myself together."

Friendly Advice.

"Women are taking up sports more than in former years."
"Well, that may be all right, my dear. But don't marry 'em."
