VETERAN OF HYDE PARK PASSES AWAY

Hyde Park, May 21.—Again we have to record the passing away of another of our aged and highly respected citizens yesterday, Brother Neils J. Kjeldsen, after about a week's confinement to his bed, took suddenly worse and passed to the great beyond. Mr. Kjeldsen had been ailing for the past few months with rheumatism, but no one thought the end was so near. He was not a very old man, being about 75 years of age. He and his wife have never been blessed with children and hence have no one to perpetuate their name. Funeral services will be held in the meeting house Monday, May 22 at 2 p. m.

Crop prospects at present are not very flattering, owing to the heavy frosts and drouth. The first crop of alfalfa is about ruined. Considerable damage was also done to the early beets.

At the services Sunday, Elders A. E. Cranney and W. W. Maughan gave the gains some good timely counsel and admonition. Elder Cranney spoke of the great calamities coming upon the nations, and urged the people to prepare for the coming of the Redeemer of the world and not to be numbered with the foolish virgins. Elder Maughan referred to the visitation of the Father and the Son to the Prophet Joseph Smith and of the importance of Christ's instructions to him. He also said we should learn to distinguish between the principles of the gospel and the ideas and theories of men. We may well regret all scientific theories that do not harmonize with the revealed principles of the gospel.

Mr. Jesse S. Hancey who was so badly hurt a few weeks ago in a runaway, came home from the hospital last Monday His broken shoulder is doing fairly well, but he still suffers a great deal.

Mr. William Perkes is building a new up to date residence.

FAUST' AT THE LYR'C THEATRE ON SATURDAY

Inasmuch as Faust has not been presented in Utah for a considerable period, music lovers will undoubtedly welcome its presentation at the Lyric, Saturday May 27, especially in view of the fact that Lucy Gates one of Utah's most famous singers, will appear in the leading role.

Faust, is undoubtedly the best loved opera in both Europe and America. It has been played oftener than any other and seems to have a far more general appeal. This has been explained by the fact that its theme has a profoundly universal interest. It teaches a great lesson, common to every people, namely the futility of bartering one's salvation for worldly joys and honors. With its tragic ending, it drives home a stern truth, but it gives, after all, a message of hope. This, coupled with the fact that its music is of surpassing beauty, accounts for the instant, never ending appeal it has to every human heart.

Preparation for the presentation of the opera began soon after Miss Gates' return to the west in April, when stage rehearsals were regularly held with the principals who made rapid strides with their parts from the first. The chorus as well as the principals, is in excellent trim, and as the members were selected from within Miss Gates' own circle of talented friends and ready supporters, it may be supposed that the results are satisfying.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF AFRICA

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 20.—In the stately figure and clear eye beaming countenance of Bishop Jos. C. Hartzell, 74 years old for twenty years missionary bishop for Africa, the Methodist Episcopal general conference in session here greeted one whose call to carry the gospel to distant lands has given experiences that fall to few men.

His travels aggregate more than 1,000,000 miles, equal to 40 times around the globe.

"I have traveled by water and by land on every sort of conveyance, from the finest ships and trains to the oxcart, the native hammock and on foot, and in all these years covering 1,100,000 miles, I have not suffered the slightest injury," said the bishop. However he has twice been stricken with yellow fever, once with cholera and often with typical African fevers.

Many Languages Spoken
Speaking of present conditions in Africa he said: "In our six mission fields there are more than 30,000,000 of people, the population doubling every 50 years, with classes ranging from the highest form of Christian culture to the lowest barbarism, and speaking more than 800 languages and dialects. They live under the flag of five nations.

"Looking backward, despite the antagonism of our creed to the common belief of the people of Africa, I can truly say I have not had any serious trouble in carrying on the work. I have seen and have long enjoyed the personal friendship of the rulers of the nations I have visited and have had their cooperation rather than opposition."

Discussing the effect of the world war in Africa, where England, France, Italy, Portugal and Belgium govern more than three fourths of the population, Bishop Hartzell said: "Martial law is in force almost everywhere, and while the battles have not been great, as we think of them now, there have been some dreadful losses. The outcome of the struggle will have momentous bearing on religious as well as political life.

A Menace to Christians
"Turkey, head of the Moslem world, if restored to military power through her powerful and victorious allies in Europe, would most certainly menace the Christian movement. Mohammedan Africa with its 59,000,000 followers, would be awakened, united and aggressive."

Bishop Hartzell speaks affectionately of the heroism and labors of the men and women missionaries who have gone to Africa in the last 20 years, spending their lives in service.

There were a great many people who went to Mendon on Saturday and partook of a free lunch given by the Cache Valley Oil Company.

The case of J. S. Allen versus H. H. Allen was decided yesterday in the district court, Judge Call giving a decision in favor of the plaintiff.

SOUTH CACHE HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Closing Exercises to Be Friday, New High School Building Now Started

It was with a feeling of entire satisfaction to the students and faculty of the South Cache High School as well as to the citizens of the entire South end of the County, that the news was given that ground had been broken for the new high school. Monday morning the contractors Dahle and Eccles sent a large force of men to prepare for the foundation of the building. All speed possible will be used and the building will settle definitely the ing of school in September. The building will settle definitely the high school policy of Cache County and we can now boast the possibility of having a school that can favorably compete with the larger schools of the state.

The building will be a three story brick structure with 46 foot front facing Hyrum. Ample class rooms and laboratories are provided for and the best known system of ventilating and heating will be used.

The students were very much disappointed to learn that the much looked for year book would not appear until after the close of school. The delay was caused by the rush of work for the engravers this time

The Home Economics Club held their final meeting on Thursday. An excellent program was given which was enjoyed by all present. Among the good things on the program was a valuable talk by Miss Parish on various topics of special interest to the girl in the home and in society. The work of this club has been a great success and deserves our congratulations.

Instructions in all subjects was completed Friday and next week will be used in examination and commencement. The following program will be rendered on Friday evening in the Third Ward Chapel at 8 o'clock:

Overture—Progressive Orchestra.
Invocation.
Quartet—A. J. Petersen and Co.

The school is proud to have three graduates. They are: Audrey Petersen, Willis Savage and Raymond Green.

The school will offer complete fourth year work for next year and therefore will have a larger graduating class.

The list of students who are excused from taking the final examinations for excellent scholarship is unusually large, many students having found that an A grade during the year is worth while.
