News From the Lively Town up North

Richmond, Sept. 18.—To some extent a community is very much like one family by having a great many things in common and also by daily association. We rejoice at our citizens good fortune and we grieve and sympathize with him at his misfortunes.

This was manifested last Tuesday evening when William Woodland was brought from Franklin, home in C. Monson's auto with his back badly hurt having fallen from a scaffold. It was at first feared that his back was broken, but by further examination by the doctors it was found that the spine had been curved and was at the time causing him most excruciating pain. He is now doomed to lie on his back about six weeks. William and his family certainly have the interest and sympathy of the community.

Joseph Erickson son of Erick Erickson, died at his home in Park City, last Monday, September 11. The cause of his death being pernicious anemia, a disease of the blood corpuscles. His brother Bert, was at his bedside when he passed away.

LUCY GATES ON COLUMBIA GRAMOPHONE

The voice of Lucy Gates ever to be known as Utah's Nightingale, was heard this morning at the Ogden Tabernacle by Director Joseph Ballantyne of the tabernacle choir and a few favored guests in a rendition of Echert's Swiss Echo Song, reproduced by a Columbia concert gramophone. Had we not been in view of the gramophone, Prof. Ballantyne stated after hearing the song, we would have thought Emma Lucy was with us in person, for the reproduction was virtually perfect.

The song is probably the favorite with the audiences of the singer's extensive repertoire, and has been a request number on nearly every occasion she has appeared in concert in Utah says the Ogden Standard.

Miss Gates has received numerous requests to sing the Echo Song, here at her concert in the Tabernacle on Monday evening and Manager Harman of the Thatcher Music Co., is trying to arrange with Miss Gates manager to permit of a phonographic reproduction of the Echo Song at the close of her recital here.

Miss Gates is busily engaged in giving six concerts here and in Idaho before leaving for the east where she goes to give a season of grand opera in connection with some famous metropolitan grand opera house stars in a series of Mozart opera. She still finds time to play the hostess in her new home here where she is located with her husband on Center street. She is giving a series of dinner parties, musical evenings and
