

SCENE FROM "FAIR AND WARMER" AT THE LYRIC, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24TH

"FAIR AND WARMER"

The "cocktail scene" is what the major part of its admirers describe as the most exultingly funny of all the funny parts of Avery Hopwood's "Fair and Warmer," the widely heralded farce which Castle Call will present at the Lyric theatre on Monday, November 24th, following its two seasons' run at the Eltinge and Harris theatres in New York and six months in Chicago at the Cort theatre to packed houses and half hysterical audiences.

This scene put the critics on their wits ends for suitable similes when it was first presented. One of them said, "It would make the lions laugh on the steps of the public library," and another said, "It would make Horace Greeley's statue laugh."

"Fair and Warmer" is indisputably the brilliant Avery Hopwood at his best. His "Seven Days" and "Nobody's Widow" had run the standard of American farces to the very top—in fact, it was the first of these which first displaced the foreign farce from its post of honor. In "Fair and Warmer" he settled once and for all any question of his supremacy.

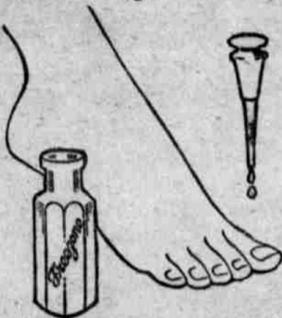

Two upright and respectable persons, the one a husband far too good for human nature's daily entertainment, and the other a little wife whose experience with life has been largely got from the end of mother's apron string, to their astonishment find that their respective spouses have been deceiving them, and having more jop out of life than can be found at the family hearthstones. The put-upon pair decide to retaliate by being utterly wicked. Not knowing how, they mess things up for themselves and everybody else and end by promising inhumanly good behavior for the rest of their lives, in order to keep out of jail and divorce courts.

There is not a flagging moment from Mr. Hopwood's first curtain to his last and the sparkle of wit enlivens every rapid fire situation.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Frezzone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Frezzone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Frezzone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

SHE WANTS THE WHOLE WORLD TO KNOW ABOUT IT

"I have gained twenty pounds actual weight since I commenced taking Tanlac, and the troubles that have been causing me to suffer for ten long years have been completely overcome," said Mrs. Merthe Meyers who lives at Lankershim, Cal., while in the Owl drug store in Los Angeles the other day.

"When I think of the great good Tanlac has done me," continued Mrs. Meyers, "I actually yearn to tell everybody in the world about it, especially those who suffer as I did. I had an aggravated case of stomach trouble which had been pulling me down for years and finally gotten the best of me. My condition was so bad for a long time that I had to live on a milk diet and never dared touch anything else. Even this light diet would cause gas to form and I would be perfectly miserable for hours afterwards. My nerves were in terrible condition, and it was out of the question for me to get a good night's sleep. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatments, but I just kept on going down hill all the time. Specialist after specialist treated me and one by one they told me that my case was hopeless. I was so blue and discouraged over my condition that I just felt like giving up altogether."

"I was looking over the paper one night and I noticed a statement about Tanlac, and when I told my husband that I had a notion to try this medicine, he laughed and said, 'Well, I don't suppose it will hurt you anyway, and if you want to try it I will get you a bottle.' Well I commenced taking Tanlac then, and to my great surprise I felt a change for the better before I had finished that first bottle. Of course I bought more Tanlac, and when I had finished the second bottle my appetite had come back and for the first time in ten long years I could eat a hearty meal without suffering afterward. I have just finished my fifth bottle and I can truthfully say that I am as well and strong as I ever was in my life. We own and live on our own ranch and I am going right ahead putting up my fruit all by myself. I never have a sign of stomach trouble or indigestion, and I can eat just anything I want. My nerves are in perfect condition and oh how I do enjoy the sweet restful sleep I get every night. I really don't see how my health could be any better and as sure as I stand here I owe it all to Tanlac. I am under lasting obligations to this wonderful medicine and feel it my duty to give this statement so that I may help others who suffer as I did."

Tanlac is sold in Logan by the City Drug Co.; in Wellsville by the Wellsville Drug Co.; in Smithfield by Ritter Bros Drug Co.; in Hyrum by Hyrum Drug Co.; in Richmond by A. A. Thomas, and in Lewiston by Lewiston Drug Co. Adv.

STRONG MEN WEEP SAYS DR. DAVIS

Former Red Cross Commissioner Tells of Recent Trip to Poland.

FOUND CHILDREN STARVING.

American Jews Raising $35,000,000 to Save Survivors—Plan to Aid Christians as Well as Own People.

"The tragedy of the next few months in Eastern Europe bids fair to equal, if not to surpass, that of the actual war years themselves. Words are utterly inadequate to describe the suffering from poverty, starvation, disease and other allied causes that is met on every hand. Literally hundreds of thousands of the unfortunate victims of circumstances are looking to America as their only hope, but it is a question if America has not heard so much of suffering in recent months that she is numbed and perhaps cannot fully realize the terrible crisis that now confronts vast numbers of people abroad."

The above gives in brief the carefully considered opinion of no less an authority than Dr. Halm I. Davis, well known neurologist of Chicago, who returned a short time ago from Poland, where he served for some months as American Red Cross commissioner and made an intensive study of economic, social and political conditions with a special view to determining America's present and future responsibilities. At the request of Louis Marshall, Felix M. Warburg, Jacob H. Schiff of New York, Julius Rosenwald of Chicago and other prominent members of the American Jewish Relief Committee, Dr. Davis submitted a special summary of conditions in Poland. This report, together with additional information secured from other commissioners abroad, forms the basis for the appeal which the above committee is making for $35,000,000 this year to save the lives of war's victims in those countries where the situation is most dire. The headquarters are at 15 East 40th Street, New York.

"If America could be given but a glimpse of the childhood of Poland," says Dr. Davis, "the millions of dollars that are needed would be forthcoming instantly. The common lot of literally thousands of these youngsters, both Christian and Jewish, makes strong men weep and has actually been the cause of a number of investigators for various organizations leaving the country before their work was completed."

"Walk down the streets in certain sections of Warsaw, Vilna, Kovno and other cities in Eastern Europe and you will see mother after mother, themselves emaciated, carrying children who are apparently infants of a few months, but in reality are five to eight years old. For years they had no milk, and all the other food procurable has been sufficient only to keep them alive. Undernourishment has been so long continued that the little bodies are stunted, rickets being a common affliction, and many of them can never be restored to normal health and strength."

"The lives of thousands can still be saved, however," the doctor told the Jewish Committee in his report, "if food is rushed over quickly. It is in the name of the pitiful children of Poland, the babies of Christian as well as Jewish parents, that I urge you to make your appeal to America for the funds that will restore their birthright to these little ones."

RABBIS BLESS MEAT AS STEAMSHIP LOADS

First Kosher Meat in Five Years Goes to European Jews as Gift.

New York.—Included in the more than $8,000,000 worth of supplies sent abroad by American Jewish relief agencies thus far this year were several hundred tons of "kosher" meat. The steamer Ashburn, which left here some time ago for Danzig, carried 500 tons of this commodity, while the Huachuca, which has just sailed, is carrying a smaller consignment to Constantza, Rumania.

Unusual interest attaches to both these shipments. Prominent Jews of this city inspected the first cargo. Jewish rabbis blessed the barrels of meat as they were lowered into the ship's hold. The meat was a gift from the Jews of America to their co-religionists in Poland and other parts of Europe. These European Jews have eaten virtually no meat in five years, for their religion prohibits them using meat other than that killed by a rabbi and in an orthodox manner, and "kosher" meat has been unobtainable.

Among the other supplies sent in these regular shipments are soap, clothing, shoes and shoe-repairing materials, large quantities of notions, medicines, hospital supplies, and a long list of additional articles, every one of which is lacking in the war-wrecked countries across the Atlantic.

Funds to continue these regular shipments of relief ships are now being sought by the American Jewish Relief Committee, whose headquarters are at 15 East 40th Street, this city. Louis Marshall is chairman and Henry H. Rosenfeld director of this organization. Campaigns are scheduled for this fall in some twenty states, and it is expected to bring the total contributions for Jewish relief this year up to $25,000,000.

A Great Advantage.

The principal of a college was lecturing his staff of teachers upon efficiency. "What," he demanded, "would be thought of a glove-maker who at the close of the season found 10 per cent of his stock returned because it fell below standard requirements? Why should we require a 100 per cent efficiency of the glove-maker and only 90 per cent of a teacher?" "Because," responded a teacher, "he can select his

Busy Week for Charles.

Charles was being buttoned into a clean white suit one Sunday morning after a glidy week. "Well," he mused, "this has been some exciting week. Monday we went to the zoo; Wednesday I lost a tooth; Thursday was Gladys' birthday; Friday I was sick; yesterday I had my hair cut, and now here I am rushing off to Sunday school."

Calendar Facts.

The month of January always begins on the same day of the week as October, and the same is true of April and July, September and December. February, March and November also begin on the same day of the week. This, however, is only true in normal years of 365 days. A century can never begin on Wednesday, Friday or Saturday. Furthermore, the ordinary year ends on the same day of the week as that on which it begins.
