FLAG POLE IS PRESENTED TO BOY SCOUTS

FLAG POLE
Tuesday afternoon the flag pole recently erected on the tabernacle square was presented to the Boy Scouts, Mayor W. M. Howell making the presentation speech. The pole was accepted by Scout Harold Peterson.

Addresses were made by Scout Director Carl Wood, Bishop Will Sloan and Rev. Harris Pillsbury.

The order of Eagle Scout, the highest in scouting was conferred on Harold Peterson, Cecil Cooley and Ezra Cardon.

In making this contribution to Logan City in honor of the Boy Scouts the city commission has done a great service. These clean young boys of today are the good fathers and defenders of this great country of tomorrow, and this scout work is performing a great work with the boys. Success to it.

LOGAN WINS FROM SMITHFIELD

Yes we really won from Smithfield. First we talked about a shutout; next an easy game, and last when the Logan team went to pieces, began to talk of defeat but the Collegians were on the top side of a 19 to 12 score. Features of the game were the hard hitting and good team work, and most of all almost entire abolishment of crabbing. The batteries were Jacobs, Dimmock and Arnsperger for Logan and Driscoll and Black for Smithfield.

Will Protect Motherhood

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Protection of maternity and infancy by providing opportunity for mothers every where to receive suitable instruction in child hygiene is given in a bill favorably reported to the senate by Chairman Kenyon, of the senate committee on education and labor.

The measure is the result of disclosures by the Childrens Bureau that 23,000 mothers died in 1918 from causes connected with childbirth. The bureau also demonstrated:

High maternal mortality rates, above the average for the United States as a whole.

The fact that 89 per cent of the mothers had received no advice or trained care during pregnancy.

Many mothers had no trained attendants of any kind at confinement. Inaccessibility and often entire lack of hospitals, doctors and nurses.

Practically no organized effort to meet the need for instruction in prenatal and infant hygiene and for trained care during pregnancy and confinement.

An almost prohibitive cost for providing adequate care at confinement in scattered and isolated rural districts. The very districts where advice and supervision during pregnancy and better help at confinement are most needed are the ones least able to obtain it without financial aid.

Joseph Johnson of Richmond came to Logan yesterday to see the hall.

FARMER VS. FISHERMAN

By James Kelly in the Utah Farmer
On June 15th the open season occurs for taking trout by rod and line in the state of Utah. On that date and thereafter until November 30th the disciples of Isaac Walton will be in evidence in every community where water flows and where the speckled beauties are to be found.

From time immemorial there has existed a certain strained feeling, in many instances and in various localities, between the farmer and the fisherman. In most cases cause for this feeling is due solely to the actions of uneducated city fishermen. We cannot in all sincerity call him a sportsman. In a few cases it is the farmer that is to blame for the ill feeling existing.

To eliminate the causes for friction and any unpleasantness that may arise between the fisherman and the land owner and to help furtherance of fish propagation and protection of wild life in our state there has been organized in many of the counties of Utah, since December 1, 1920, various county fish and game protective associations, all of which are now on the verge of being welded into a state association.

In every community where such a protective association exists you will find the better element of real sportsmen amongst the members.

The primary purpose of the Fish and Game Protective associations is for the elimination of rowdism and destruction of property by irresponsible, lawless, so called sports, who do not care for, or place a value on the other fellows' property—be he farmer or city man.

The real red blooded sportsman, be he city or country resident appreciates the privilege of fishing to an extent that he is willing to ask permission to walk over or camp on the farmer's land, to see that gates are closed properly and to refrain from any way in destroying the farmers holdings and to see to it that others do likewise.

The farmer will readily appreciate the fact that he has an ally and a watchman in the person of an association member who is accorded the privilege of fishing along the stream or streams that run through his farm.

Any man who even attempts to live up to the following is a pretty decent chap in any person's opinion and the farmer can help himself immeasurably by cooperating with the movement as outlined by the work attempted by the various county fish and game protective associations of the state of Utah.

THE AMERICAN SPORTSMAN'S CREED

I want my boy and his comrades and the boys of the future to receive this heritage of gun and rod. It is a heritage of the open, which now must be idealized to a love of nature and a thoughtfulness for the meaning and preservation of life.

Feeling this I record my unalterable belief that a Sportsman should:

1. Never in sport endanger human life.
2. Never kill wantonly or needlessly or brutally.
3. Obey the laws of state and nation, work for better laws and uphold the law enforcing authorities.
4. Respect the right of farmers and property owners and also their feelings.
5. Always leave seed birds and game in covers.
6. Never be a fish hog.
7. Discourage the killing of game for commercial purposes by refusing to purchase trophies.

TIME TO GET ON YOUR FIGHTING CLOTHES

There is a deal on to reduce transcontinental freight rates and this intermountain region is not in on the deal. On fifty or more items it is proposed to make the schedules from the east to the Pacific coast far below the present rates, and at the same time to keep the intermountain freight rates at the extremely high point which we find them today.

The west has been discriminated against a great many times in the past, and this uncalled for discrimination has greatly retarded the growth and advancement of the west. There was a time when goods could be shipped from New York through Ogden to San Francisco and then back to Ogden at less than a direct delivery rate. This outrage was permitted for a long time, or until the interior shippers got on their fighting clothes and mustered the courage to resent and resist such extortion.

Now the movement is on to bring back these old conditions, and unless the shippers of this region get busy the deal will be put over and the old conditions will maintain. There is no good reason why we should be placed under such a handicap and it is time some power was being manifested that is strong enough to get us a square deal. When the rates are reduced we should share in the reduction. It is time we were getting our fighting clothes on.

5. Love nature and its denizens and BE A GENTLEMAN.

Excerpts from County Fish and Game Protective Association

Objects, as Given in By-Laws

1. The object of this association shall be to assist in the protection and propagation of fish and game, secure a better stocking of streams and other waters of the state, and the establishment of game sanctuaries.
2. To procure the enactment of laws for the preservation and protection of fish and game and to promote the observance of such laws.
3. To create and foster a public sentiment in favor of better protection of fish and game.
4. To encourage the study of the natural history of fish and game species and promote an appreciation of sportsmanlike methods in angling and hunting.
5. To cooperate with all associations having a similar object and to assist in the prevention of forest fires and encourage the promotion of public hunting grounds.

Slogan: Protection Fish and Game

What Is Expected of You.

Every member should accept a personal responsibility to obey the game laws, no matter how great the temptation and should promptly protest against violations by others. Much of the future sport will depend on the tolerance of the farmer and you owe it to yourself and your brother sportsman to maintain the good feeling of the property owner! Do not destroy his crops or leave his gates open. Pay him the courtesy of asking permission to camp on his ground or cross his fields, in nearly all cases such permission is freely granted. Place yourself in his position and make a practical application of the golden rule.

REMAINS SENT HOME FOR BURIAL

Almost daily the remains of some gallant soldier is sent home for final burial. If it is not some fond mother's son in Cache county or Utah, it is in some other part of the United States. This time it is Hyrum Olsen Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum Olsen of College. This gallant defender of his country was 23 years old, was in a number of dangerous battles, went over the top several times and came up to the armistice without a scratch. In the fall of 1918 he contracted typhoid fever and on December 18th of that year he died.

The remains reached Logan Wednesday in company with Private Nelson Rabator of the 15th cavalry of Fort Russell, Wyoming.

Funeral services will be held Sunday in the First ward chapel at 12 o'clock, and the interment will be in the Hyrum cemetery.

LEGION MEMBERS ELECT OFFICERS

The third annual convention of the department of Utah American Legion unanimously selected Logan as the place for holding their next convention which will be in October of 1922. The Logan delegates who attended the convention state that they were highly gratified by the results of the convention. Many problems were brushed out to the complete satisfaction of the convention which argue well for a very successful year in the department of Utah. Logan received unusual recognition inasmuch as she was selected for the next convention and two of the members of the local post were selected as state officers and one as a national officer. Harold W. Brangham at present commander of Logan Post No. 7, was elected as alternate national executive committee man and a delegate to attend the next national convention of the Legion which will be held in Atlanta, Ga., of this year. Henry B. Johnson, a member of the local executive committee was elected second vice commander of the department of Utah and Julius B. Bearson was elected to represent the first judicial district on the state executive committee. Mr. Bearson is a member of the Logan Post and training officer for the federal board at the Utah Agricultural College.

Dr. E. W. Black will guide the destinies of the department of Utah, American Legion for the next year. The rules were suspended and his election as state commander was by acclamation. Dr. Black is supervisor of the United States Bureau of Public Health for Utah and has taken an active part in Legion affairs since coming to Utah. He is also commander of Salt Lake Post No. 2.

Earl L. Anderson of Salt Lake City was appointed adjutant for the department of Utah by Dr. Black. Mr. Anderson was formerly assistant state adjutant.

Charles Parsons of Salt Lake was elected first vice commander. Mr. Parsons has been an untiring worker for the American Legion since its inception and he was formally national secretary of the emblem committee.

R. T. Forbes of Cedar City was re-elected third vice commander. Mr. Forbes has taken an active interest in the Legion and has done much work for it. All of the vice commanders were elected by acclamation.

TRUMAN COLE IS DEAD

The many friends and relatives of Truman J. Cole and especially a large army of younger people, were shocked beyond measure yesterday when the news spread that this fine young man had passed away.

He had been ill for some time but even those nearest to him did not even suspect such a sudden ending. Heart failure following a nervous breakdown took him away, greatly to the sorrow of his dear mother and brothers and sisters.

He was the son of the late George Cole and Mrs. Cole, who with the following brothers and sisters survive him: G. W. and A. L. Cole and Mrs. F. G. Sewell, Mrs. C. H. Sorensen and Miss Cora Cole.

He was born in Logan July 26, 1890, graduated from the B. Y. College in 1909, and took his bachelor's degree at the U. A. C. in 1912. He taught in the Nephth High School during 1912-13 and filled a mission to the eastern states in 1914-16. He was employed at the Granite High School in 1916-17. Enlisted in the aviation service December, 1917, and trained at San Antonio with the 399th Aero Squadron. He sailed for Europe July, 1918, and returned home on the first troop ship. He was unmarried and was a young man of exemplary habits, and a choice specimen of high class manhood. Many expressions of genuine sorrow will find utterance as these lines are read over the death of this good young man.

Funeral arrangements had not been made last evening. They will be announced later.

Mr. N. J. DeSanders received his fourth large shipment of Iver Johnsons yesterday. He reports the bicycle business to be fine in Logan this season, having sold over one hundred Iver Johnsons so far.

Five committees followed the election of the department officers. Murray W. McCarty retiring department commander was elected committee man with Harold W. Brangham as alternate.

The following were elected as delegates to the national convention: Dr. B. W. Black, department commander; Beverly Clendenin of Salt Lake, Harold W. Brangham of Logan, Earl L. Anderson of Salt Lake, Frank P. Stewart of Salt Lake, John E. Holden of Salt Lake and Mart W. Roylance of Provo. C. C. Parson of Salt Lake, C. C. Blintz of Salt Lake, Roscoe Glassman of Ogden, and J. R. Williams of Grantsville were selected as alternates.

State committeemen were elected to the state executive board in the various districts as follows: First district, J. B. Barason of Logan, Second district, J. C. Littlefield of Ogden; third, J. C. Robboz of Salt Lake; Fourth, George N. Harris; Fifth, Walter K. Dranger; Sixth, E. A. Porter; Seventh, Albert Kirkpatrick.

The convention voted to cut the state dues from $2.00 to $1.00 commencing on January 1, 1921. They also voted to prorrate the dues for the balance of the present year. This will enable new members to come in without having to pay for a full year being required to pay only for the period from the date of the membership card to the end of the present year.

The Logan delegation has returned from Provo. They state that they were royally entertained by the Provo Post of the Legion and the Rotary club and that many fine sightseeing trips around the city were arranged for the benefit of the delegates.

CHAUTAUQUA OPENS WITH LARGE AUDIENCE

A large crowd greeted Supt. Parlee and the local committee when they appeared on the stage Tuesday to greet the many lovers of music, literature, art and the many other fine features that the Chautauqua always brings to Logan.

Prof. A. M. Durham made the opening address saying that the present program was one of par excellence, and predicting that this would be the most enjoyable and entertaining Chautauqua program ever rendered in Logan.

Professor Durham introduced Manager Parlee who at once made the announcements for the session, and then got right into the hearts of the vast throng with his genial ways and pleasant smiles.

Mr. Burnell Ford, scientist and electric expert, no relation to Henry Ford, gave the lecture of the evening. Mr. Ford demonstrated some of the marvelous accomplishments of electricity with the assistance of many pieces of equipment from his own laboratory. He called a number of boys to the platform and initiated them into some of the wonders of wireless electricity. He had Mrs. Oweji doing stunts and later let the audience on to the inner workings of the board.

Yesterday afternoon Ada Roach and Ruth Freeman, entertainers of note, gave a complete program of song, readings and class imitations.

Last evening Vilhjalmur Stefansson was the drawing card, and it is safe to say that no lecture ever delivered in Logan cleared away so many points of misinformation regarding the Arctic regions.

Stefansson proceeded to make evident that our school geographies and histories and our reference books have been misleading us in our search for truth as to the Arctic region.

"The Arctic is not a land of perpetual snow," he declared, "in fact there are no perpetual snows or ice anywhere except at high altitudes or where glacial action has forced ice into the lowlands."

Stefansson said the rigorous climate of the north is not more severe than that of Havre, Montana, or other places to the north of us, and in summer time much of the entire Arctic land surface is a prairie carpeted with grass. He predicted that eventually the region would be utilized by ranging domesticated reindeer over the grass land and shipping reindeer meat to the outside and he told of the reindeers in northern Alaska which had grown in twenty years from a herd of 1200 to over 200,000 and said that within fifteen years the animals would number 5,000,000.

The speaker declared that Peary had reached the north pole, but Cook had not.

Stefansson thinks of the Arctic north as the frontier of civilization that is to be the future home of countless thousands, where cities will be built and great developments take place.

This picture is so strangely new to us as to be almost unbelievable, but, as Stefansson says, nearly all our information in the past, on the Arctic, has been far from the truth, many of those coming back from that region finding it to their advantage to keep up the old fiction of perpetual snows and unendurable cold.
