SWALLOWED A LAMP.

Peculiar Accident That Happened to a Four-Year-Old Child.

When Edward Laug, a driver for a department store in New York City, returned home Saturday night, he laid on the dining room table the small electric lamp and battery which he uses after dark to read the names on door bells in delivery of goods. About noon Sunday his little daughter Anna, 4 years old, espied the lamp. The child touched the button and the little bulb glowed. Then she put the bulb in her mouth; it was but an inch long and about half an inch in circumference. Somehow the bulb broke off and slipped down her throat. Her mother heard the child strangling and ran to her assistance, and the father hurried for a physician. He was gone half an hour, and found no doctor home. He then decided to call an ambulance and the child was removed to a hospital and tracheotomy performed. Before the operation was completed little Anna was dead. The physicians finally located the glass bulb in the child's left nostril. It is supposed the mother had succeeded in clearing the infant's throat, but that the child was too far gone to breathe and really died of strangulation.

After preparing himself a lunch and eating it, Strayer picked up a paper and read for a time. "Going to bed?" he asked Ryan. There was no response. Strayer shook him and he toppled forward. BOLIVIA WANTS WAR.

BUT BRAZIL IS NOT SO ANXIOUS FOR TROUBLE.

But in Case Trouble Comes, Brazil Will be Prepared, Having Decided to Concentrate Troops.

The Brazilian legation at Paris has issued an official statement by the Brazilian government explaining the latter's position toward the Acre dispute and the projected expedition into the Acre territory of President Pando of Bolivia.

The statement declares that the Brazilian government has given Bolivia to understand that the contract with the Bolivian syndicate is a monstrous law, since it entails the partial alienation of sovereignty to a foreign company, and that the concession is void, inasmuch as it disposes of territory which is at the present time the subject of dispute with Peru. The statement proceeds to say that Brazil has always given a liberal interpretation to the treaty of 1867, seeking to favor Bolivia by procuring her facilities of communication of the Amazon and the Paraguay. But Bolivia, having alienated to a foreign syndicate the rights conceded to her in the Acre territory, Brazil will now sustain the strict interpretation of the treaty.

After recounting the various proposals which have been made to adjust the dispute, the statement concludes: "Bolivia having refused all these proposals, and President Pando having decided to march against the Brazilian subjects in Acre, the president of Brazil has decided to concentrate troops in the adjoining states of Mato Grosso and Amazonas."

DEMOCRATS SELECT TELLER.

But Colorado Republicans Declare He Will Not be Next Senator.

An even fifty Democratic members of the Colorado general assembly late Saturday afternoon compelled M. J. Madden, a house member, to quit his bid, attend the joint session of the two Democratic houses, and vote for United States senator. Madden's vote made fifty-one members present and voting, a majority, according to Democratic claims. The entire fifty-one then voted for the re-election of Henry M. Teller, all Republicans keeping away from the joint convention. The Republican leaders do not admit an election.

Wolcott Admits Defeat.

Wolcott, the candidate of the "stalwart" wing of the Republican party, announced his practical withdrawal from any further contest, and urged the people of Colorado to accept the situation as it stands by the election of Senator Henry M. Teller to succeed himself by the joint session of the Democratic senators and representatives. The announcement was made in a signed statement, in which Mr. Wolcott charges certain Republican leaders associated with the anti-Wolcott forces in the Republican ranks with treachery, deliberate and continuous, although he disposes of others of the anti-Wolcott crowd by characterizing them as "dupes" of the main conspirators.

GERMANS SHELL FORT.

WARSHIPS BOMBARD VENEZUELAN FORT AND TOWN OF SAN CARLOS.

Natives Are Helpless, Twenty-five Fishermen Having Been Slain, Even Children Not Escaping.

A dispatch from Maracaibo says the bombardment of Fort San Carlos by the German cruisers Vineta, Panther and Falke was continued Wednesday afternoon until 6 o'clock. It was resumed Thursday morning at daybreak. The first shells were hurled at the fort at 4 o'clock at long range. At 6 o'clock the Panther, being of light draft, closed in and again became actively engaged. The fort replied. At 8 o'clock the engagement was proceeding fiercely. Although the damage inflicted upon the fort by the sustained fire of the German cruisers is very great, it is not all that could be expected from a continued fire from modern high-power guns. The village of San Carlos suffered greatly. The aim of the German gunners appears to have been inaccurate, for more than 60 per cent of their shells exploded in the village before reaching the fort.

Some of the artillery on the fort has been destroyed by the German fire, but there are still five guns that can be fired. General Bello is a soldier of remarkable courage and daring. He has shown great bravery, and is in no way intimidated. He will not abandon the fort, but will resist as long as it is possible for him to do so. He swears that on January 17th, the occasion of the first bombardment, the Panther fired upon him first, without reason, and without provocation.

A fisherman from the village of San Carlos has arrived here in a canoe, with his family. Two of this man's children were killed by shells from the German cruisers. He reports that more than twenty-five Indian fishermen have been killed or wounded at San Carlos. The fishermen there are helpless.

LYNCH MUST DIE.

Convicted in British Court of High Treason and Sentenced to Death.

Colonel Arthur Lynch, member of parliament for Galway, was on Friday found guilty of high treason and sentenced to death.

The jury, after having been out half an hour, returned a verdict of guilty. When asked if he had anything to say as to why he should not be sentenced to death, Colonel Lynch replied: "Thank you, I will say nothing."

The sentence of death was passed on each of the four counts in the indictment. The prisoner then bowed to the court and was removed in custody.

The London newspapers take it for granted that the sentence passed upon Colonel Lynch will be commuted. They urge that a punishment should be inflicted exemplary enough to act as a deterrent upon others, but not sufficiently severe to make Lynch a martyr.
