NATIONAL FLAG DAY

Gov. Cutler Issues Proclamation Setting June 10 as Day of Observance.

Requests that all State and Public Buildings be Decorated with Red, White and Blue.

The following proclamation was issued June 5th by Governor Cutler: On the 14th of June, 1777, the Congress of the United States of America enacted: "That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." Later the Congress fixed the shape of the flag to be thirteen stripes and a new star for each state. This, the anniversary of the birth of our flag on the 14th of June.

Utah was the last star added to the constellation, and it is most fitting that the citizens of this state should unite on that day in cultivating a sentiment of patriotism and in promoting a healthy nation spirit. Patriotism in and reverence for the national emblem should be instilled into the mind and heart of every citizen. Teach it to the young. The best and greatest government that the world has ever known is the one over which floats our own starry banner. Let the present as well as coming generations know that wherever that flag floats it is an emblem of liberty and hope.

Therefore, in harmony with a commendable public desire, I hereby designate and proclaim Wednesday, June 14, 1905, as Flag Day, and request that the custodians of the buildings of the state, wherever located, cause the buildings to be appropriately decorated with the Red, White and Blue. I earnestly recommend that the municipal officers of our towns, cities and villages cause all municipal buildings to be likewise decorated, and that all our citizens will display from their dwellings and business houses the flag of our common country. It is hoped that the schools and patriotic societies will hold appropriate exercises. The story of the flag, its history, what it cost in blood and treasure, what it represents, and our duty as citizens of Utah to our great republic, cannot be too often told, nor too deeply impressed upon our children.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State of Utah to be hereunto affixed at Salt Lake City, this 5th day of June, A. D., 1905.

(Seal.) JOHN C. CUTLER,
Governor.

C. S. TINGEY, Secretary of State.

Pleased with Coal Properties.

Gomer Thomas, state coal mine inspector, and one of the best coal experts in the Western country, was in Cedar and vicinity a few days ago looking over coal properties of this region. The principal object of his visit was to examine the Kirker semi-anthracite veins near Harmony, but while here he took occasion to visit the Jones & Bulloch mine in Coal Creek canyon, and on which he commented very favorably. Mr. Thomas said that it was his opinion that the properties of this region had been misrepresented, and that we had some meritorious and valuable deposits.

Mr. Thomas is a very reserved man and has but little to say about his business affairs; but it is indirectly learned that he was also favorably impressed with the Kirker properties. Mr. Kirker informs us that a number of the eastern stockholders of his company will be out to inspect the mine soon, and if their report is favorable as there is scarcely a doubt it will be, development work will be vigorously pushed again, and the mine placed in a position to ship a large volume of coal by the time the railroad reaches the iron fields.

George Fowler of Parowan passed through Cedar last week en route to St. George where he will spend a few days working in the temple. While in town he dropped in and renewed his subscription to The Record.

L. D. S. Secures Milne.

Willard Bean has resigned his position as physical director of athletics at the L. D. S. University, and Erastus J. Milne of the Branch Normal school at Cedar City has been selected as his successor. Mr. Bean's resignation was due to the fact that he has so many outside matters to attend to that he did not feel that he could longer give the time required as physical director. While holding the position he did very capable work and although the Saints have never won first in the State meet, that has been due to the lack of men to pick from and not to Mr. Bean's inability to train them. He has always made the most of his chances and students of the L. D. S. University feel that he has done much during the past two years to raise the standard of athletics while acting as director.

Erastus J. Milne, the new physical director, is an old University of Utah man. While attending school there he was one of the best short and middle-distance sprinters at the University. After leaving, the University he went east and took a course in clinical work and athletics at the Chautauqua summer school. While there he did good work and in the final athletic meet he carried off second honors, winning a beautiful medal. In this meet he carried off all the honors in the sprint races, but when it came to putting the weights he had to take second place to the Yale man, who won out by a narrow margin.

Mr. Milne is more than an athletic instructor—he is a thorough student of physiology, and in all his work he follows the latest scientific methods. He is an expert on spine work and while in Salt Lake will do some hospital work along this line. In Mr. Milne the Saints have secured a good man, and next year they ought to make a very creditable showing in athletics.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Dying of Famine

is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its early stages," writes Wm. Myers of Cearfoss, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Every bottle guaranteed. Price 50c. and $1.00 a bottle. Trial bottles free.

Well Done "Ted."

We often hear of strong, healthy men going around the country begging their living in fact the words tramp, vagrant, Weary Willie, etc., are getting to be very common in our newspapers, but we seldom if ever, hear of a female tramp. But there are exceptions to all rules. Last Sunday evening a very nice appearing young woman came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cox, and by looks and signs, (as she could not speak a word of the English language) appealed to them for aid. She was very much in need of both food and clothing. Mrs. Cox said she would not think of turning any person out such a night as that was, much less a lady. So they furnished her with clothes that would do her for the present and said if she wished she could make her home with them. Ed. was willing. He also says that he will have no objections to have friends call and get acquainted with this young lady, especially near relatives, and they can be introduced any time they wish to call.

CHANGES IN NORMAL

Annie E. Spencer, E. J. Milne and Mr. Silver Sever Their Connections.

John T. Marsman of Ohio, and Harriet Miller of Warrensburg, Mo., Engaged for Next Year.

The faculty of the Branch Normal school will have undergone some changes at the opening of the next school year, and while the efficiency will be maintained as far as possible, the familiar faces of some of the instructors who have gained the love and respect of the students will be missed.

Howard R. Driggs, with the exception of one year, has been with the institution ever since its commencement, and who is recognized as one of the ablest instructors in English in the state, has been granted a leave of absence.

His place will be filled by John T. Marsman of Ohio, who comes highly recommended.

Miss Annie E. Spencer whose service with the institution dates back to the opening year, and whose efficient work in art, reading and physical culture for young women has done much to uphold the standard of the school, retires, probably never again to enter the pedagogic ranks. Next week she becomes the life partner of E. J. Milne, who also, will sever his connection with the Branch for the coming school year. Mr. Milne has accepted a position with the L. D. S. University as physical director.

Harriet Miller of Warrensburg, Mo., has been engaged as instructor in art and physiology and will virtually fill the vacancy caused by Miss Spencer's withdrawal.

Mr. Silver, who had charge of the manual training department last winter, and who was spending his first year in the south, will not return next winter, having secured a desirable position as superintendent of a large electric light plant.

There still remains one instructor to be engaged to complete the faculty for the coming year.

Delineator for July.

A magazine that is filled with seasonable interest for women is the July Delineator. In it the Summer fashions are exquisitely pictured, and described by such fashion authorities as Helen Berkley-Loyd and Edouard La Fontaine, of Paris, who write for the magazine exclusively. Albert Bigelow Paine's serial, "The Lucky-piece," develops an element of mystery that adds to the interest of the story and there is also a short story by Zona Gale, "The Never Lighted Fire"—a very delicate piece of work. A sketch of Longfellow's boyhood, by Peter Freneau, contains something new about the poet and the friends and home of his early life. T. Cromwell Lawrence describes the curious customs and costumes of Holland in an interesting travel sketch, and W. Jay Mills relates some of the prettiest romances of the old time Summer resorts, Bordentown, Mt. Washington and Long Branch, in a remarkable illustrated paper. Something of the story and influence of the famous Christian hymn "Rock of Ages" is given in a paper by Allan Sutherland, and N. Hudson Moor writes of the evolution of the chest in "The Collector's Manual." Entertaining stories and pastimes are provided for the little ones and a variety of articles on domestic topics will be of particular value at this season when the demands upon the housewife are exceedingly trying.

Huge Task.

It was a huge task, to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache, and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed bottles 50c.

Milne-Spencer Wedding.

Next Wednesday, June 14th at the home of the groom's mother in St. George the wedding reception of E. J. Milne and Miss Annie E. Spencer will be celebrated. A large number of invitations have been issued, and the event promises to be a notable one in social circles.

The home of the bride is in Salt Lake county, and a reception will also be held for the young people there on the 22nd inst.

During the past five or six years both bride and groom have spent most of their time in Cedar city, where they are as well known as in their native towns, and a wide circle of friends, both in the northern and southern part of the state, will unite in wishing them joy and happiness.

Mr. Milne entered the Branch Normal as a student six years ago, and being athletically inclined, soon conceived the idea of adopting athletics as a profession. He pursued his studies at the Normal four years, and spent a summer in the Chautauqua school of Physical Education in New York, where he won the silver medal in the all around meet.

For the past two years he has held the position of physical director of the Branch Normal, and has accepted a position with the L. D. S. University at Salt Lake City for the coming year.

Miss Spencer was a member of the first faculty of the Branch Normal and with the exception of one year, when she was given a leave of absence, has been included in the corps of teachers ever since.

Before coming to the Branch Normal Miss Spencer was a graduate under Miss Maud May Babcock of the University, and during the summer vacations and the year she obtained a leave of absence from the school, has put in her time to the very best advantage. She has spent one summer traveling in Europe, two at the Chautauqua Institute in New York and the winter of 1900-1 in New York City, taking work under such well-known masters as Alfred Ayres, Mdm. Bertho Kunz Baker and Henry Gaines Hawn. The following summer she spent in the Chicago School of Oratory under Mdm. Mary A. Blood and Prof. Clark at the University of Chicago. She also spent a summer at Harvard.

Miss Spencer's work in elocution is beyond criticism, and there are many who hold her to be the peer of Miss Babcock.

The future career of the couple is most propitious, and we are glad to be numbered among their friends and acquaintances.

Work Will Proceed.

Manager Brooks of the Utah & Eastern Copper Company was in town Monday and left for Shem Tuesday forenoon.

Mr. Brooks stated that the company was not discouraged on account of the cave in, but that they intend to go on with the work.

The present plans of the company are to run a tunnel about two hundred and fifty feet below the old tunnel level and tap the old works and use the shaft below that point.

This will take practically the entire summer, but they will push it with all possible speed. They will employ about twenty men on the tunnel, running three shifts. This level will be the working level and the ore will be raised to the roadway above by means of a tramway.

Work is suspended at the smelter for the summer. The boarding house is closed and nearly all are gone.

Mr. Brooks corrected the account of the cave in that appeared in our columns two weeks ago. He said that the three hundred stope was the one being worked at the time, but that the men had been taken out of the other stopes and work stopped owing to their dangerous condition. Also the men, instead of being pulled up the shaft on a rope from the one hundred and eighty-five level, were taken out of a large cave that was tapped in running the present tunnel.

The shut down has been quite a blow to this part of the county as it has compelled the men to seek work in other quarters.

PAROWAN.

Parowan, Utah, June 8, 1905.

William J. Walker and Miss Sarah E. Reese of Cedar City were quietly married here June 5th, by County Clerk Morris.

George Holt of Hebron and Miss Etta Adams of this place, started for St. George the first of the week to be married in the temple. (Three weddings in one week here, but no cake or—soda water.)

By "phone" we learn that ex-Sheriff Kelly and quite a number of the men and boys from Minersville have been searching the country for traces of the Pennys, but have found nothing yet. They intend to go back to the place tomorrow and renew the search.

The county commissioners met as a board of equalization and held a three days session in looking over the assessment rolls. The books were gone over thoroughly and but few changes made. At the close of the session a commissioners meeting was held but no business transacted, only the general routine, viz.: allowing bills.

Alvin Penny, one of the sons of Penny of Kanosh, arrived here June 6th and positively identified the harness that Sheriff Froyd found with the wagon in the Minersville hills as being the one that his father took with him when he left home for the last time. Mr. Penny stated the exact description of the harness before he saw it, so that there could be no question as to its ownership. On seeing the harness Mr. Penny broke completely down. He and Sheriff Froyd left for Minersville about three o'clock Wednesday morning where they intend to meet ex-Sheriff Kelly of Millard, and then return to the place where the wagon was found and make a thorough search of the country.

City council met in regular session and the following business was transacted: Thomas Taylor petitioned the council to appoint some person to join in with the fields in trying to locate some place wherein a ditch could be made to carry off the gravel that is now flowing down the streams and doing considerable damage in filling up the ditches.

On motion the Mayor was instructed to appoint some person to co-operate with the field committee and councilman Gurr was appointed. The question of getting the water into the city cemetery was discussed and the following committee was appointed to take the necessary steps: J. J. Adams, Heber Benson and Alex Matheson.

George Heaps petitioned the council to sell him a piece of land lying west of his residence. The mayor was instructed to sell the said land at some reasonable price. The city watermaster was instructed to make ditches across the sidewalks and streets to carry all waste water from lots, etc., and not allow the same to run into the culinary ditches; also that he notify all persons to keep said waste water from running into said culinary ditches and enforce the city ordinance in relation thereto.
