

Library Announcement.

We are pleased to announce that we shall begin now to place new books on our shelves as regularly as our library finances will permit. In preparing to adopt the new loan system and getting our supplies for cataloging all the books we have, our funds will have to be used very considerably, our constant thought is to do the best and most we can by the trust reposed in us.

The following books are added to our shelves today:

"Added Upon," "Piney Ridge Cottage" by Nephi Anderson. "Captain Stormfield's Visit to Heavens," "Eve's Diary," by S. L. Clemens.

On the rental shelf we have: "Queed" by Harrison. "Peter" by F. Hopkinson Smith.

We ask the parents to remember the story hour every Thursday at 3 p. m. for children.

NOTHING LIKE PATIENCE

Bill—I never lose my temper when a man shoots me.
Pete—But you didn't waste any time on Bad Ike.
Bill—No. But I didn't lose my temper. I've learned by experience that nothing keeps a man from shooting straight like losing his temper.

Man Power and Coal Power.

Does any one realize the power of coal as a worker? A man was set to work to pump as hard as he could all day, and at the end of ten hours it was found that he had done just as much work as a little less than two ounces of coal could do.

Taking all the energy put forth by a hard-working man during one whole year, the same amount of force would be furnished by 36 pounds of good coal, or say 40 pounds of average coal.

We produce six tons a head of population, and this contains the energy of 336 men working for a whole year. Of course, even in our best engines the greater part of the working energy of coal is wasted. But even if only one-tenth is turned to account, one and a half hundred weight of coal is equal to a man working for 300 days of the year.

A horse can do as much work as ten men, but one and a quarter pounds of coal has as much working force as a horse expends in one day. So that a ton of coal, if we could use all its force, would do as much work as six horses working for a whole year.

Greatest Dairy Sire

Ever Shipped Into Southern Utah.

His breeding and individuality justifies the claim. On his sire's side he comes directly from the stock that made the Jersey cattle famous at St. Louis World's Fair, being a grandson of the great Eurybia, the cow that stood 3d in that contest, and great grandson of Merry Maiden's 3d son, the 1st prize winner at the same fair. His mother is a register of merit cow, with a great record as a milk and butter producer. She is a daughter of Merry Maiden, the 1st prize winner at Chicago World's Fair 1893. This bull (Eurybia's Compound) has a sister, by the same mother, that holds the world's record for milk with her first calf as a two year old. She gave in one year 11, 152 lbs. milk and 602 lbs. butter. As a breeder, his calves are considered the best ever yet dropped in Utah County. Heifer calves by him, are held at prices ranging from $50 to $100, out of common cows. It would take $200 to $300 to buy some of his calves out of registered cows. It is an opportunity to be able to breed to such a sire at almost any price in reason. Every community does not have such a chance. He is pronounced by dairy experts as being one of the best prospective dairy sires in the country. Located at Barn of Uriah T. Jones, Cedar City, Utah.
