GLOOMY OLD 'FRONT PARLOR'

Mid-Victorian Furnishings Served to Remind Beholders of Particularly Solemn Mortuary Chapels.

The mansard sheltered the accumulations of two or more Garland households of mid-Victorian tastes. It was a debauch of black walnut and haircloth in a twilight of heavy lambrequins and large figured wall paper. Never in all my twenty-two years had I beheld so many marble-top tables gathered under a single roof. There were three in the parlor alone. One bore a Rogers group—"Coming to the Parson," it was called; another a stereoscope with views of the Yosemite and the centennial of 1876; the third served as pedestal for a case of pallid wax flowers. On the walls hung "oil" of mountain scenery which it would have crased a geologist to classify.

"The sitting room across the wide hall was even worse. It was bulged by the ugly bulk of a secretary with vicious rams' heads carved on its lower doors. Second in massive gloom was a black marble mantelpiece crowned by a black marble clock with a limping tick and an asthmatic chime. Tables filled the spaces unclaimed by haircloth sofas and chairs, and a what-not bedstee a corner. I was now prepared to find 'The Maiden's Prayer,' and I did, poor maiden, neatly done in best female academy style. There was also a bronze plaque of 'Washington Crossing the Delaware.' It was a bad crossing. None of the pictures were inspiring, but one at least was appropriate. It portrayed the youthful Victoria in her nightgown receiving the news that she was now queen of Great Britain, defender of the faith and high sponsor for art."—Woman's Home Companion.

Partners in Joys and Sorrows.

A writer says in the American Magazine: "It is a good phrase we have for describing women, 'partners of our joys and sorrows.' I know not how it may be with other men, but it is thus with me: in the regular routine of life, when nothing much is happening, when the days go by one after the other filled with their monotonous rounds of duties, I can, if necessary, exist for long periods without the company of women. In such days and weeks they are sometimes, to be sure, a pleasing distraction; but they are not food and drink and shelter. I can, if need be, survive. But let success break through the monotony of the daily grind; and I must have a woman to share it; half its sweetness is lost otherwise. And failure without their God-given chatter and unquenchable optimism is utterly intolerable. I say I know not how it may be with other men, but it is thus with me."

All Sailors Superstitious.

All sailors are superstitious, but none is so completely under this influence as the old deep-sea fisherman. He puts the deepest faith in "signs" and omens of all kinds. Nothing would induce a skipper of the old school to sail on a Friday. One intrepid unbeliever who dared to leave the docks at Grimshy, England, on a Good Friday was hooted through the lock gates by the scandalized populace. In spite of this challenging the fates, however, he returned safely with ship and crew.

Superstitions of Seamen.

If a man is ill at sea, his most critical time is when land is first sighted. If he survive an hour after the sighting of land he will recover. On some travelers whistling is forbidden; it scares away the fish. Other skippers believe that to wash your face in the middle of a trip will break a spell of calm weather.

Tracing Use of Lightships.

The first lightship, the Nore, was established in England in 1732, at the mouth of the Thames. The first in this country was stationed in 1820 in Chesapeake bay, off Willoughby Spit, Sandy Hook, now Ambrose, light vessel was established in 1823. A light vessel was placed off Cape Hatteras in 1824 and was driven ashore in 1827, and a ship was not established again in this dangerous position until 1897, after unsuccessful attempts had been made to build a lighthouse on Diamond Shoal.

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night—would lie awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around and in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZ, 608 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "it seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultz's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

CANARY RISES TO PROTEST

Declares Increase in Cost of Living Has Been Excessive, and Gives Figures to Prove It.

Among the latest to protest against the habit of raising prices, simply because the raised price can be secured, there was heard, recently, a new voice. It was that of a canary. Being a bird whose motto had ever been: "Strict application to business," it had been his custom, when the rest of the family left the city during the summer and shut up the house, to board himself out. Two years ago, he could, he says, get good accommodation, an airy room with a sunny aspect, good seed, water, bath, and unrestricted opportunity for vocal exercise for thirty cents a week. Last year, however, the charge for the same accommodation was raised to forty cents, and this year it appears he has been obliged to pay fifty cents. He is willing, he declares, to sustain his share of the burden of the war, but he regards a 66 per cent rise as unduly hard on a bird of moderate means.

STOMACH UPSET?

The Two.

There were two inseparable companions—By name, Opportunity and Responsibility. Almost daily they walked together. One morning Opportunity quickened her pace and outwent her companion and always Responsibility followed.

But on rare days, Responsibility set the pace—And then Opportunity fairly ran to catch up.—Savannah News.

Receipt in Full.

A little episode that occurred when I was about to leave the Seirin Kwan hotel at Tang Kang Tzu, Japan, says Mr. Joseph L. C. Clark in Japan at First Hand, amused me greatly. I had "tipped" a very efficient little maid, and was not surprised to see her standing with the others to bow us out with smiles and good wishes, "Sai yo na ra."

Suddenly, as one who had forgotten something important, little Miss Plum Pudding rushed over to me, thrust a paper into my hand, and backed off, bowing and smiling. I fear I blushed as I put the paper into my pocket. Later, on the train, I asked my learned friend, Uyeda, to translate its ideographs for me. He read it aloud, solemnly:

"Received fully, one dollar."

Truth About Premonition.

"Once in a while an error turns out to be the truth," said the editor.
"How is that?" asked the caller.
"Why," replied the editor, "in writing about the death of Mrs. Rounder I referred to Mr. Rounder as 'the bereaved widower,' but the compositor made it 'the relieved widower,' and it got into the paper that way, and Rounder never even called up to demand a correction."

For Eighteen Years

She Has Found the Same Medicine Good. The Story in Her Own Words.

The experience of Mrs. David Horn of Route No. 1, Irwinton, Wilkinson Co., Ga., is not exceptional. Peruna has been an accepted standard household, ready to take remedy, for forty-five years.

Mrs. Horn writes under date of July 30, 1918:—"I have been using your medicine for eighteen years. I think it one of the best tonics I ever used. I owe my life to the use of it. I recommend it to all sick people. Peruna cured me of stomach trouble."

For coughs, colds, effects of the grip and influenza, catarrh and catarrhal conditions of every description, Peruna is recommended. Thousands have been helped or are able to attribute a full and complete recovery from some terrible affliction to Peruna. Try Peruna first.

Time and Tide.
During the War Savings stamps drive in Brown county, Indiana, William L. Coffey, county chairman, appointed William Yawter, the artist, as chief solicitor for the county. At the time of his appointment Mr. Yawter each morning was walking two miles to paint the picture of an old elm tree, which was surrounded by wild flowers and beautiful foliage. He readily accepted and for two weeks he put forth all energy in the stamp drive. When the soliciting was completed Mr. Yawter took his painting outfit and walked to the old tree, but the scenery had changed so much that the picture will not be completed until next summer, when the wild roses and other wild flowers will be in bloom.

Suffered Terribly!

"Every Step a Torture," Says Mrs. Whitenack—But Doan's Cured Her

Mrs. Florence Whitenack, 84 Armstrong Ave., Jersey City, N. J., says: "I suffered with rheumatism for six or seven years. My limbs and joints were so stiff and swollen, I could walk only with difficulty and the pains in my hips were so severe, I could hardly bear them. Every step I took was torture. My feet and limbs were swollen and so sore, I could hardly bear my weight on them. During the night I would lie awake for hours and become so nervous, I would have to get up. Dizziness came over me suddenly and my sight blurred. I was never free from the miserable backaches and rheumatic pains. I used different remedies, but I didn't get any better. Then I commenced to use Doan's Kidney Pills. The swellings began to leave right away and I continued to use them. The pains and aches left my back and hips and I am cured of the rheumatism and all signs of kidney trouble."
