Announcement:

We have purchased the CEDAR CITY TAILORING CO., and have decided to change the name to the SOUTHERN UTAH CLEANING & PRESSING CO.

We are prepared to handle cleaning and pressing work, and guarantee satisfaction—"Service" being our motto. We have arranged to install modern equipment as soon as it can be obtained.

We are the gateway in this town to the great Tailoring institution of E. V. PRICE & CO., of Chicago, who have a National reputation for tailor-made clothes at reasonable prices.

We have arranged with a reliable Dyeing firm of Salt Lake City to handle our dye work, and this class of work will be handled promptly.

We have the Agency for the Palace Laundry of Salt Lake City and if you have any laundry work that you want done right—why bring it in and give us a trial.

Your patronage will be appreciated.

SHOPPING THAT SATISFIES

"I've just been to the Cedar City Drug Store, and I know where I'm going the next time I want to buy a nice present for birthday, wedding, or Christmas.

"Have you seen the dainty cut glass they have—those cunning teapots in such pleasing shapes, those novelty glass spoons that give just the right touch to the company table, and those dear little bud vases?"

"They are something just a little different."

The results of the summer's work of the Junior Farm Bureau of the county are being gathered and will be sent to Logan and thence to Washington, D. C. Club work will continue throughout the winter.

The wide range of usefulness of the Fordson tractor on the farm was shown by the recent demonstration at the Iron county fair where a Fordson was anchored and hitched to a feed grinder. Farmers who have not investigated the Fordson have as a rule the impression that it merely plows, whereas it is shown to be a portable power plant for running all kinds of farm machinery, as well as a dependable draft animal.

In place of the regular meeting, the Home Economics Association will entertain all the young men of the B. A. C. and members of the Faculty on Friday at three o'clock in the auditorium. Each young man will be expected to invite his mother or the lady with whom he boards to be there to laugh, play, sing or dance and enjoy the "cats" that boys like so well. Friday, Oct. 22, 3 o'clock at the B. A. C. auditorium.

Forest Supervisor Mace of the local forest office has gone to Richfield to attend a meeting to supervisors of the forests of Southern Utah with Chief of Grazing, Wood of the Washington office and the new district forester of the fourth district, R. H. Rutledge. The supervisors to be present besides Mr. Mace are John H. Raphael of the Fillmore-Fish Lake forest, Geo. H. Barney of the Powell forest and J. C. Roak of the Kaibab forest.

The Cletrac on the Cedar-Lonrvalley road is pulling trees and difficulty was had in finding a plow that would stand the work of following it. Billy Carter, Klieber truck man who was in town last week, said he had just come from Wyoming where he noticed Cletracs working all around the bigger makes of tractor and was told that the little fellows did the work more cheaply and could be used at work on which other sizes were helpless.

Alma Esplin, county agent of Iron county, who returned from the State Fair at Salt Lake, represented county farm bureau activity at the fair with an exhibit of methods of control of grain diseases. Juvenile Club Leader, Price furnished an exhibit of better methods of dry land corn culture. Mr. Price expressed himself as well satisfied with the showing made by the Iron county boys who competed at the fair in stock judging. Scott Day of Parowan came fourth in beef judging. It is interesting to note that the boy who won first in judging of jerseys was given a valuable jersey bull as a prize.

William J. Matheson, writing from Duncan Arizona, says the land produces two crops each summer some farmers getting two crops of potatoes in succession, others raising a crop of corn higher than the writer's head after taking off a big crop of grain. He found the days hot in August but the nights always pleasant. Cotton there has given very satisfactory results from the small test crops raised. He says the facts bear him out in the statement that 40 acres of land there produces as much as 100 acres in the higher altitudes. The milling company for which Mr. Matheson is working is working to capacity and has a good demand for its products.

S. W. Leigh Mgr. of the Cedar City Co-op Store, who returned Tuesday from the State Fair, said he found great interest among the other state fair visitors in Cedar City and its surroundings. That this county is becoming well known through its progressive spirit as is evidenced by its tourist park and big hotel, was shown by the volley of questions fired at him from all sides when he made known the fact that he was from Cedar City. He said that Salt Lake was crowded to capacity so that it was next to impossible to get hotel accommodations. He was told that the crowd was the largest that ever attended a state fair in Utah.

FIRST NOTICE

East, West, Home's Best.

It has been said that The Youth's Companion has had more readers per copy than any other publication in America. There is good reason to believe this to be true. But the important thing is that the influence of the paper upon its millions of readers has always been directed to building character. "East, west, home's best," has been its unuttered slogan. In its articles, editorial and otherwise, it has dwelt upon the importance of good citizenship. In all its contents it has aimed to give not only entertainment, but "steppingstones to higher things."

A year of The Youth's Companion brings a tremendous tide of delightful and diversified reading that cannot be found elsewhere.

The 52 issues of 1921 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1921.
2. All the remaining issues of 1920.
3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1921.

All the above for $2.50.

4. McCall's Magazine for 1921. The monthly authority on fashions, $1.50 a year. Both publications, only $3.50.

Mrs. H. E. Woolley and two small sons arrived in Cedar last Sunday to join Mr. Woolley who has leased the Cedars Hotel dining room and intends to be a permanent resident of Cedar City.

ROAD TO BE MADE
FEDERAL PROJECT

snowy winter weather, the prisoners will be employed in repairing the road machines, including automobiles and trucks.

William L. Young, county commissioner of San Juan county, presented bills for work done by O. M. Porter for road work to the amount of $1,067.25 which were ordered paid. A misunderstanding had prevented their previous payment. At the request of Mr. Young, $10,000 worth of work will be done in putting the road between Coyote and Joe Wilson's ranch in shape before winter. This is a 13-mile stretch of highway. The work will be done under the supervision of the state road engineers, by men who will work in the direct charge of County Commissioner Young.

Owen Bennon, a county commissioner of Duchesne county, appeared at the meeting to inquire if the county is paying for a part of the work which is being done in his county by the state road workers, or if the county is to help pay for the maintenance of the highways, after they are constructed. He was informed that to date, Utah has paid out $226,175.86 in Duchesne county and that the county has not paid one penny of it except that the citizens have contributed to the fund that will repay the bonds, when they have bought their automobile license plates from the state.

County Wants Say.

As to maintenance, the county will have to stand its share. Mr. Owen Bennon served notice that where Duchesne county is to pay a share in the expense, Duchesne county wants to have a say in the spending of the money.

The Logan-Garden City highway work will be closed as quickly as possible for the winter, and the road in Echo Canyon is being made ready for winter.

The state road commission is in possession of many sets of leather harness which were obtained from the government at the close of the world war, with the idea that horses would be used on road work in Utah for many years. But old Dobbin has been supplanted by many fleets of powerful trucks, and the harness hangs idly and rapidly going to pieces. Twenty sets were sold to the state prison, two sets have been sent to the state asylum at Provo, and Mr. Browning was given permission by the road commission to sell the remainder. In the sale of harness, which will be about at cost, the counties will be favored first with the state institutions.

FITZGERALD ENTHUSES OVER CEDAR SCENES

Mr. Desmond Fitzgerald, retired government engineer, who lately visited Bryce's canyon, Grand Canyon, Zion Canyon and the Cedar Breaks, and whose appreciation of the Breaks was printed in a recent issue of the Record, writes as follows to Dr. J. W. Bergstrom from his home in Brookline, Mass:

Brookline, Mass., Oct. 5, 1920.
My dear Doctor: After all my wanderings I find myself again at home with a long list of things to be done to get my house in order—boiler broken, range ditto, and everything at sixes and sevens.

When I think of all the self sacrificing things that you and others did for me in Cedar City I am lost in admiration and can only say that I have already entered upon a campaign to tell people here of all the wonders of your land and of your fine spirit. I still clamber about Cedar Breaks in my dreams and wind around the sharp bends of Coal and Little creeks with you in your wonderful car.

May Heaven bless you all. My regards to Mr. Mace and others.

Faithfully,
DESMOND FITZGERALD.

ECONOMY, AND LABOR EFFICIENCY, NEEDED

Discussing the financial situation, A. C. Foster, President of the Bankers Trust Company of Denver says: "All of us want to know what the average man can do to relieve the present situation and prevent a recurrence of financial stress next year."

First: He can practice economy. Second: He can avoid speculating, especially on borrowed money. Merchants should not over-buy on borrowed money or hold their goods for higher prices. They should avoid excessive borrowing even though it means less profit. Next year labor will be more plentiful and more efficient. Commodity prices, cost of living and interest rates will decline slowly but surely. Whatever our problems may be for the coming year, I am confident that they can be solved. We have the richest country in the world in money, resources and brains. The American people are equal to any emergency.

Many counties have served notice upon the state road commission that they will send delegates to the next meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 12. An eager disposition is shown throughout the state for a participation in the road building projects of 1921, many of the visits arranged for Tuesday being in regard to co-operating with the state in next year's road program.
