WM. SPRY GIVES STRONG ADDRESS

APPEARS BEFORE HUNDREDS OF CITIZENS IN WARD HALL. GAVE STIRRING POLITICAL TALK.

(By Special Reporter)

Probably the largest and most enthusiastic reception held in Southern Utah during this campaign was staged by the Iron County Republican Committee last night in honor of Ex-governor Spry at the Ward Hall. There were between 400 and 500 people in attendance and were most enthusiastic in the reception of the various speakers of the evening.

The meeting started with an illustrated lecture by Randall L. Jones, the republican candidate for state representative, showing the wonders of the southern Utah scenery, showing incidentally the tremendous development possible for this part of the state. The lecture closed with the singing of the Holy City by Mrs. Annette Betensen which left the audience very much impressed.

Wilford Day, the chairman of the evening, was then introduced by Dr. J. W. Bergstrom, Precinct chairman, in a speech in which he referred to Mr. Day as one of the big republicans of the county.

Mr. Day in presenting Commissioner Spry took occasion to urge the support of Mr. Jones for representative and ended by recalling some of the former experiences showing the great achievements of the commissioner. He stated that in his opinion Commissioner Spry had done more for the southern part of Utah than any man in the United States, referring to him as the "Abraham Lincoln of Southern Utah."

The commissioner then addressed the audience in a most pleasing speech which was greeted with applause many times during its course. The commissioner promised the people that he would bring his wife to see our scenery and promised us a real home visit in the future. He expressed himself as overjoyed with the apparent enterprise and progress of the community and predicted great things for southern Utah with the coming of the railroad.

He then plunged into the course of the address on the theme that business was necessary in the course of government rather than any sentiment, and stating that this course was necessary in governmental affairs as well as private affairs.

He then dealt at length upon the business administration of the republican party during the present administration, calling particular attention to the budget system which has resulted in a saving to the taxpayers in the annual budget of appropriations in the amount of some $3,000,000.00 over the appropriations of 1920 and citing specific instances of enormous savings as a result of the system of budgeting the appropriations.

He also pointed out that the government has discharged some 122,000 unnecessary employees thereby saving to the taxpayers an enormous amount spent in salaries.

He paused in his address to call attention to the fact that the great development of the agricultural lands of the west through the national government was taking place and praised at length Don B. Colton the republican candidate for reelection to the office of representative to congress for his untiring efforts in the development of this phase of governmental activity.

He called attention to the tremendous advantages to be obtained from the development of our reclamation projects, stating that Utah needs badly more of these projects.

He touched upon the sugar beet industry lauding Senator Smoot for the vigorous stand taken by him in the protection of this industry.

The commissioner then went into the subject of the tariff explaining that a tariff could be compared most

ORGANIZED THINKING VS. MERE GUESSING

TOPIC DISCUSSED BY CHAUTAUQUA LECTURER AT B. A. C. ELLSWORTH AND PETTY ALSO ADDRESS STUDENTS.

(By Special Reporter)

Mr. Rathwell, the Chautauqua Lecturer, who gave a lecture in the Ward Hall Thursday evening entitled, "Getting by Your Hoodoo" delivered another prepared lecture to the students of the Branch Agricultural College on Friday at the Chapel exercises. The theme of this special lecture was "Thinking". Mr. Rathwell explained the vast difference that exists between clear, organized thinking and mere guessing. He made a strong point of the fact that many of us are only imitators, having no individuality in our thoughts and actions. Among the clear thinking men of our nation Mr. Rathwell gave much credit to Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt. The lecture was thoroughly constructive and was given in a most entertaining manner.

German E. Ellsworth, former President of the Northern States Mission, was also a visitor at the B. A. C. on Friday. He addressed the students as future citizens and spoke of the clear sky and pure air as being comparable to the fine, clear, pure minds of the Utah boys and girls, which is the real reason for the clear thinking of Utah men and women that has brought them such prominence. Mr. Ellsworth stated that Utah was better represented at Washington D. C. than some of the larger states.

Wednesday morning, at the Chapel exercises at the B. A. C., Chas. B. Petty, candidate for State Senator, addressed the students. Mr. Petty is a graduate of the B. N. S. and is one of the most successful business men of Southern Utah. He related incidents of school life at the old B. N. S. and remarked that a good percent of the prominent and successful men and women of the State along executive and educational lines were products of the B. N. S. or B. A. C.

In the course of his talk Mr. Petty mentioned that if the principle streets of the town, particularly those leading to the B. A. C., were improved so that students were not compelled to tramp through mud ankle-deep going to and from school it would be an important factor in the attracting of greater numbers of students to Cedar City and the B. A. C. Certainly, a little civic improvement along this line would tend to bring about this desired result.

Later, Mr. Petty inspected the grounds, buildings, barns and stock. He said that although he had been back to visit several times he wouldn't have believed that the B. A. C. could have made such growth and progress as it has since he attended there.

B. A. C. SLOGAN "BETTER SPEECH"

COLLEGE TO GIVE EXCELLENT PROGRAM DURING COMING WEEK. PROFANITY & SLANG CENTER OF ATTACK.

(By Special Reporter)

The careless habits of speech of the American people have become of national concern, so much so that "Better Speech Week" has been set apart for the purpose of making the whole people conscious of their language short comings. The English teachers have been unfavorably criticized because of their failure to correct wrong habits of speech in their students, but it should be borne in mind that the teachers' influence is small indeed in comparison to the influence that comes to students in their association outside the schools. The "Better Speech" movement, striving to improve the language of all the people, is the first constructive step that the teachers have felt by way of co-operation with them and it is sure to bring the results which they have so much desired.

The student body of the Branch Agricultural College is planning an excellent program to be carried out on this important week. Profanity and slang, including prevalent grammatical errors will be the center of attack. Special speakers will be sent to the Mutual Improvement Association's Sunday night and President Joseph F. McGregor of Beaver has been invited to speak at Chapel next Monday, November 6th at 10:15 on the subject of "Profanity".

Superintendent H. Claude Lewis will speak at the Wednesday chapel on "Words in Relation to Thought". The subject, "How to Improve Current Speech" will be discussed by the faculty and students during the week. The best written theme will be published in the Iron County Record. Other events by way of banners, posters and various displays emphasize correct forms of speech. The B. A. C. earnestly solicits the townspeople to join with the students in the exercises of the "Better Speech Week."

TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION FORMED

Wednesday night several men interested in starting a gun and rod club in Cedar City met and formed a temporary organization, and discussed various phases of the proposed activities of the sportsmen interested.

Propositions discussed were the stocking of Cedar canyon with Elk, Pheasants on Cedar Mountains, Bob White Quail on the bottoms, two motor boat projects, one on Navajo Lake and one on Quitchaph Lake, importation of Cat Fish, and the securing of different species of trout for the various streams of the county.

The boys present at the meeting appointed a committee on constitution and by-laws, who will prepare them and present them for ratification at the next meeting.

It was also decided to purchase a good trap shooting outfit, and to apply for membership in the State and National rifle associations.

The meeting closed with the formulation of the following invitation that is extended to all lovers of sport: "A big roast duck supper is coming to you. Come out and get full particulars at W O W hall Wednesday night, November 8th, 8 P. M. sharp. Bring your friends." "Cedar City Gun & Rod Club."

FUNERAL SERVICES IMPRESSIVE

HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON OVER THE MORTAL REMAINS OF ELDER JOHN KARL CARPENTER. MANY ATTEND.

(By Special Reporter)

At the Ward Hall Sunday afternoon impressive funeral services were held over the mortal remains of Elder John Karl Carpenter who passed from this life Friday, October 27, the immediate cause of death being uremia.

Bishop E. M. Corry officiated, and after the singing of the beautiful hymn, "Sometime We'll Understand", called Elder Wm. R. Palmer to offer prayer. Elder Moroni Urie sang the solo, "I'm a Pilgrim," after which Elder Uriah T. Jones spoke on "Faith," giving much comfort to the sad hearts of the bereaved parents and brothers of the deceased.

Dr. M. J. Macfarlane was the second speaker, and he told of the shock it was to him when Elder Carpenter came for examination and medical advice, when he found that such a robust young man was destined to be no more within a few short months, his ailment being known as uremia. The doctor also spoke of the patience and faith the young man had through all his illness, and especially during the time he was at the hospital. Dr. Macfarlane said that he had found that Elder Carpenter was filled with divine faith in his God and the religion he had espoused and preached as a missionary, quoting one remark of the deceased, "I would rather die now than live to lose my faith in God." The speaker said that he had come to learn that Elder Carpenter was a devout, sincere and earnest man, and said he was glad to have learned and become acquainted with such a man.

Elder H. L. Frisby sang the solo entitled "Hand in Hand", after which Elder Wells O. Murdock of Beaver, and a companion of the deceased during the last year of his mission in the North Western States mission field. The speaker told of his love for the departed, how enthusiastic and sincere in his labors he was, and how devout in his love of God. He also said that Elder Carpenter was a steady and willing worker and took great delight in promulgating the principals of the Gospel.

After a few remarks by Bishop Corry, the choir sang "Beyond the Hilltop," and benediction was pronounced by Elder M. D. Higbee, of the Parowan Stake Presidency.

Elder John Karl Carpenter was the son of John C. and Annie N. Carpenter, and was born at Glendale, Utah, June 30, 1898, and died in Cedar City, October 27, 1922, thus being 24 years of age at time of death.

The deceased was a graduate of the B. A. C., and was a volunteer during the world war in 1918, being honorably discharged in 1919.

Elder Carpenter was called to fill a mission for the L. D. S. Church, leaving for the North Western States Mission field in May 1920, where he labored 25 months, returning home in July, 1922.

The deceased was taken ill in August of this year and battled from that time to the day of his death with patience and uncomplaining against the disease that sapped his life.

After his return from the mission field it was his ambition to enter law school, but sickness prevented, and death stepped in to rob the community of a bright, honorable and upright young man.

Those whom he leaves behind to mourn his departure are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Carpenter, and two brothers, Art L., aged 18, and Mont C., aged 6.

Wm. Ward of Parowan was a visitor in Cedar Wednesday, having come to see a physician concerning an infected eye from which he has been suffering several days.

CO-OPERATION OF PARENTS DESIRED

PRINCIPAL FENTON OF THE JUNIOR HIGH ANNOUNCES THAT QUARTERLY REPORT CARDS WILL ISSUE.

(By Special Reporter)

During the coming week the junior High School issues the report cards for the first six weeks of school.

The report is somewhat different from that issued by the grades and we take this opportunity of making some explanation of marks, etc. The marks will be the letters A, B, C, D, and F. A, stands for excellent work, signifying a mark between 90 and 100 per cent. It is also a mark of honor. B, is Good work, 80 to 90 per cent. C, is Medium mark, 70 to 80 per cent. D, is Inferior mark, from 60 to 70 per cent. No child doing a D grade of work can hope for promotion. F, is a mark of Failure. No child thus marked in more than two basal subjects can retain his position in his grade, and will be dropped back to a lower grade. The mark in Citizenship implies many things such as: attitude toward school and school work, toward teachers and fellow pupil, toward home, community, etc.

We trust that this report card will mean much to both pupil and to his parents. It seems to be the best and, at times the only means of communication between parents and teachers. It is the sum total of the faculty's opinion of your child.

If the child is doing good work both he and teacher should receive commendation—if poor work is being done, a thorough investigation should be made, the cause discovered and the remedy applied. This year our school stands prominently for the two great objectives in education—Scholarship and Citizenship, and in our effort to obtain these we solicit the hearty cooperation of every man woman and child in Cedar City.

Sincerely yours
FRANCES FENTON.

A meeting for the purpose of reorganizing the Parent-Teachers Association, held in the Junior High Auditorium on Thursday evening, November 9, 1922. At eight o'clock everyone is urged to be present—The program will be announced later.

The Eighth grade Hallowe'en party was a success, many teachers and students from the B. A. C. helped the pupils enjoy the evening. The B. A. C. orchestra furnished the music.

Miss Matilda Peterson, State Primary Supervisor, visited the Cedar Schools on Friday of last week, and in the afternoon gave a demonstration in silent reading to the teachers of the elementary school, and the teachers training class of the B. A. C. It was an interesting meeting and productive of much good.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the help and many kindnesses shown to us during the illness and death of our beloved son John Karl; for the beautiful floral offerings contributed; the lovely singing and encouraging remarks at the services Sunday afternoon. And especially do we wish to thank the capable, loyal and efficient nurses at the county hospital for the kind and considerate attention given to our son during his last days of life. And the "pals" of our boy, who were so loyal and sympathetic in their efforts to assist and encourage him, as well as those he leaves behind in sadness.

May the Lord bless each and all who in any way assisted and encouraged us.
MR. & MRS. JOHN C. CARPENTER AND SONS.

SHALL WE HAVE TARIFF OR NO TARIFF

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY DISCUSSES QUESTION MONDAY AT LIBRARY.

(By Political Reporter)

At a Democratic rally held here last Monday night J. M. Foster discussed the political issues for over an hour; devoting most of his time to the tariff and the claims made by the Republican Party.

He stated that the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill was the result of trading between the senators representing the various "interests", that the costs of production at home and abroad played very little or no part in it; that it levied a tariff on nearly everything imaginable, including such things as iron and steel, dyes and chemicals, cotton and woolen goods, and many other articles out of which the big corporations and trusts made thirty billions of dollars during the war. He stated that many of these articles need no protection whatever and quoted Senator Smoot who said that the tariff on dyes and chemicals was "A crime" and an "outrage" and "no human being can defend it before the American people". Quoted Andrew Carnegie, the greatest steel man in the world, who testified before the tariff committee, a few years ago that "the iron and steel industries need no protection whatever. We can manufacture them as cheaply as any other nation on earth". He stated that the excessively high tariff on wool has created such a storm of protest in the East from both Republicans and Democrats, that time will very likely show that the tariff of 25c or 25c a pound on wool as proposed by Senator King, would have been wiser than the 33c rate.

He quoted from the Republican New York Herald as reflecting this feeling: "The national scandal of an insufferably burdensome wool tariff made by sheep-raising wool-growing senators for the benefit of their own private pockets has deeply stirred the people of the United States, the tariff makers of the present congress cannot go before the voters of the United States next November on the issue of the Senate's monstrous wool schedule, the handiwork of sheep-raising wool-growing senators, without inviting political revolutions if the crazy wool schedule were torn out of the tariff measure by the roots, if the sheep growing wool-raising senators never had startled and shaken the American public with the wool tariff they have tried to impose upon the country, still the Fordney-McCumber tariff is so bad, so unworthy of anybody's support, so incapable of meeting the test of popular approval, that to take it to the polls as the great national issue might blow any political party so doing off the face of the earth."

He stated that the Democratic party stands for placing the tariff in the hands of an independent tariff commission as proposed by President Roosevelt and enacted into law by the Wilson administration. That the progressive Republicans voted with the Democrats against the present tariff bill; that the issue is not "Shall we have a tariff or no tariff?" but "Shall we have an excessively burdensome tariff or a reasonable tariff?" He stated that while without doubt a tariff on wool has a beneficial effect for the sheep men, yet he was uncoined out of his 1920-21 crop by the Republican policy of rapid deflation; by their withdrawing $100,000,000.00 from circulation and that the present high price of lambs is due more to the reduction of the rate of discount by the Federal Reserve Banks from 7 per cent to 4 per cent than it is to the tariff. Good times always immediately precede an election if the Republicans can make them.
