MAPLE SYRUP

Plants of one kind or another are found in every part of the world. The maple tree is one of the most valuable of our native trees. Its sap is the source of our maple syrup. The quality of the syrup depends upon the quality of the sap. The best maple syrup is made from the sap of the hard maple tree. It is a pure, natural product, and is of great value as a food and as a medicine. ST. PAUL STRIP REFINING CO., ST. PAUL, MINN.

A WOMAN'S ORDEAL

DREADS DOCTOR'S QUESTIONS

Thousands Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and Receive Valuable Advice Absolutely Confidential and Free

There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions in regard to her private ills, even when those questions are asked by her family physician, and many continue to suffer rather than submit to examinations which so many physicians propose in order to intelligently treat the disease; and this is the reason why so many physicians fail to cure female disease. This is also the reason why thousands upon thousands of women are corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. To her they can confide every detail of their illness, and from her great knowledge, obtained from years of experience in treating female ills, Mrs. Pinkham can advise women more wisely than the local physician. Read how Mrs. Pinkham helped Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Ia. She writes:

"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude in words. Before I wrote to you telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steadily, and spent lots of money in medicines besides, but it all failed to do me any good. I had female trouble and would daily have fainting spells, backache, bearing-down pains, and my monthly periods were very irregular and finally ceased. I wrote to you for your advice and received a letter full of instructions just what to do, and also commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I have been restored to perfect health. Had it not been for you I would have been in my grave to-day."

Mountains of proof establish the fact that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for restoring women's health.

EVIL OF PRESENT DAY.

Mental Faculties Greatly Disturbed by Noise.

"Noise, in my judgment, is one of the most powerful and most successful disorganizers of the mental faculties in the world," said a thoughtful citizen to a representative of the New Orleans Times-Democrat, "and when we reflect on the enormous increase in noises of all kinds, we will probably be convinced that the time is rapidly coming when the race will be in no small danger mentally on account of noise. Progress is noisy; necessarily so, I suppose. But what I speak of is progress of the noisy type. We can't build, in a material sense, without making noise. Intellectual progress even is not always unaccompanied by noise. But I was thinking of noise in a lighter aspect. Have you not noticed how some men become mentally reckless on account of loud talking? Have you not noticed that children will sometimes shriek themselves into a highly nervous state? They become mentally disorganized on account of the noise they make. I was a rather close observer of a man at a game of baseball the other day. He started to yell gently and gradually worked his way up to the all-time shrieking rooster. Before that game ended that fellow was as mad as a March hare. He had been grazed by his own voice. Noise is a dreadful distractor, when you come to think of it, and the trouble about the noisy rooster at a ball game is that in driving himself to the madhouse he is likely to take a few other fellows with him."

DOG DEALER'S HARD LUCK.

Pup He Thought Worthless Turned Out First Class.

I am an unscrupulous dog dealer. I had for sale a very fine Irish terrier. His mother cost me $500 and his sire cost $750. I thought their get, my pup, now a year old, worth $200, and so advertised him.

I was incensed by an offer of $10 over the phone.

Party never saw the dog, and said any good ratter would do him (this I had claimed for mine); he did not care for pedigree, breeding or cost of parent dogs.

A bright idea struck me. I knew a curly haired alley dog I could get for 25 cents. I told the fellow I would accept the $10 offer. He asked me to meet him at depot with the dog. He was going home on a suburban train. I met him with the curly-haired alley dog, on which, by the way, I had an option, but at 50 cents, not 25 cents, as I expected. My customer sneered when he saw the dog, but handed me a $10 note.

I smiled when I thought of my joke. Next week I received a postal card from my customer—that read: "Your dog is the best ratter I ever saw. He caught forty-two rats the first two days. He is worth all you advertised him at, $200. I would not sell him for $300.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Kentucky Yarn.

Out on the veranda of a little Kentucky hotel several "colonels" were sipping mint julep and telling yarns about the weather.

"When Ah was up in thaw mountains, sah," said a lanky old gentleman, "it began to rain one aftahnoon and before thaw shower was ovah thaw was fish all ovah thaw ground. Bass, trout and carp fell right out of the clouds, sah."

The old gentleman who was rather corpulent placed his glass on the table and said:

"Cunnel, that thaw was a pretty good yarn, but it don't tech thaw experience I had forty miles south of Frankfort. Why, sah, it began to rain thaw one day and fish came down by thaw ton. But that isn't thaw strangest of it. A thandah stohm arose, th' lightning struck thaw field, fried thaw fish just as nice as if they were fried in yonah own kitchen an—"

But the other "colonels" fled.

Prof. Wiener and the Peasant.

Prof. Wiener of Harvard university tells a story illustrating the non-talkative disposition of the Russian peasant. While traveling recently in Russia he found himself for a whole day in the company of a peasant.

"Where did you come from?" asked the peasant by way of greeting.

"From America," replied the professor.

Toward evening, when the journey was nearly completed, the peasant asked: "And where are you going?"

The professor replied: "To Moscow."

These two bits of information were about as much as the peasant's brain could hold.

Forbidden Guest.

The following verses from a recent poem on "Our Christmas Guests" disclose a delicate little hint:

Come from that darkened corner! You're the loup who in my ear; For thirty years has whispered, with feverish lips of fear, That the thing to get was money, the stuff that men most prize— Don't think I'm hindered by the glimmer of your lies. For you're a mighty liar, and the thing And it has a value greater than all your boasted wealth; And another eye is honor, and some more are fruit and right; I can hardly bear your presence amongst my guests to-night.

Prizes for Inventors.

Among the prizes offered by the Paris Academy of Science to inventors is one of $20,000, founded by Pierre Goussans, which is to go to the person who finds a way of communicating with the inhabitants of another planet. Another prize—the Bregant—awards anyone who discovers an infallible remedy against Asiatic cholera.

Japanese Idea of Beauty.

Prof. Onakura Yoshisaburo, author of "The Japanese Spirit," thus describes the Japanese ideal of womanly beauty: "She is to possess a body not much exceeding five feet in height, with comparatively fair skin and proportionately well-developed limbs; a head covered with long, thick and jet-black hair; an oval face with a straight nose, high and narrow; rather large eyes, with large deep-brown pupils and thick eye-lashes; a small mouth, hiding behind its red, but not thin, lips; even rows of small white teeth; ears not altogether small, and long and thick eyebrows forming two horizontal but slightly curved lines, with a space left between them and the eyes."

Promoted.

A family of the Newport set, who number among their occasional guests an Austrian count, took on a new parlor maid. She was hardly up to the every-day handling of titles, and was evidently much impressed by the importance of the visitor, for she was overheard by a member of the family to ask another maid, in an awestruck tone:

"Is the king coming to-day?"

How Cameos Are Formed.

Cameos are gems formed from precious stones, having two distinct layers of strata of different colors. The darker stratum is left to form a background, the object to be represented being left in relief by cutting away the surrounding parts. The onyx is generally used for this purpose.

BORRY HE SAW HER FIRST.

Game of Hide-and-Seek at a House Party and Its Sad Ending.

It was not so very long ago that a jolly party of young men and women from the capital went on a week-end visit to Miss Dash, whose father has a country house not a day's journey away, says the Washington Post. It was not the sort of house party you read about in "smart" novels. They didn't play bridge nor hunt; they romped like a lot of children. Mr. and Mrs. Dash were away one evening and if the house had not been very solidly built it would have been torn down. Nobody ever heard such rollicking laughter, such mad scampering and shouting, such mad shouting and searching. He opened every door he saw and in one room his keen eyes espied somebody trying to hide in a bed. He pounced forward and seized the figure.

"Get out of that!" he cried. "I've got you. You can't hide from me."

Wild shrieks and the noise of combat rent the air. Furious invective and stammered expostulation brought the rest of the party in no time at all. The usually sedate young man had found the cook and nothing he could say had any weight with her. She came of fighting stock. She blacked his eye and—well, that's why the Dash country house is now minus a cook.

Truths that Strike Home

Your grocer is honest and—if he cares to do so—can tell you that he knows very little about the bulk coffee he sells you. How can he know, where it originally came from, how it was blended—or with what—or when roasted? If you buy your coffee loose by the pound, how can you expect purity and uniform quality?

LION COFFEE, the LEADER OF ALL PACKAGE COFFEES, is of necessity uniform in quality, strength and flavor. For OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY, LION COFFEE has been the standard coffee in millions of homes.

LION COFFEE is carefully packed at our factories, and until opened in your home, has no chance of being adulterated, or of coming in contact with dust, dirt, germs, or unclean hands.

In each package of LION COFFEE you get one full pound of Pure Coffee. Insist upon getting the genuine. (Lion head on every package.)

(Save the Lion-heads for valuable premiums.)
