

DR. BUTLER IS FOR REDUCING U. S. BUREAUS

Treasury Department Only Government Branch Adequately Organized.

MILWAUKEE, April 23.—Every forecasting man expects that armies will continue to exist for national defense and as factors in national development, but hopes that armies will be less and less called upon to wage war, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, and candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, told the city club tonight.

Speaking on reorganization of the administrative machinery of the government, Dr. Butler advocated that the name of the war department be changed to army department, so that it would be analogous to the navy department. "There is a good deal in a name and its psychological effect upon the public mind," he said, "an army department would better suit the present public temper and outlook than a war department."

Mr. Butler characterized the department of the interior as a "waste basket" where wholly unrelated tasks were dumped under a system of haphazard assignment of bureaus.

The treasury department is the only governmental branch at Washington adequately organized, thanks to the genius of Alexander Hamilton, he said, and even it is cluttered with bureaus and functions which could better be taken elsewhere.

PUT RUBBISH ON CURB IS ADVICE

Wagons Will Not Call Second Time in the Same District

With twelve motor trucks and teams working in the first district today, Ogdens' cleanup and paintup campaign is progressing nicely, according to Dr. J. M. Elliott, city sanitary inspector, who is directing the drive. It is expected that the first district will be completed today and tomorrow morning the trucks will move to district No. 2, to dispose of the accumulations in this section.

A warning was sounded to residents this morning by Dr. Elliott, who said that after the trucks have once gone through a certain district they will not return. In some instances, he declared, persons have put their rubbish out after the trucks have passed and it still remains on the street, making unsightly displays. He urged that all persons who are taking part in the campaign place their accumulations on the curb a day or so before the scheduled arrival of the trucks in order that it might be gathered up promptly.

Residents in the second district are requested to get their accumulations out today or tomorrow morning as the show exhibits in Ogden on May 4th.

Various contractors are arriving daily, ordering supplies, the press agents are telling y Editor all about it, and pretty soon the big things itself will be here.

It takes 52 cars to haul the Barnes show now, according to R. W. Thompson, representing the circus, who is now in the city, and there are 1200 animal actors, to say nothing of the 600 people and 550 horses.

There are 12 Siberian tigers in one act; 30 tons of elephants in another; 29 Nubian lions in the arena at one time.

Everything is on a massive and gorgeous scale, and the street parade is two miles long.

NEW EDUCATION PLAN EXPLAINED

Francis W. Kirkham, Director of Vocational Education, Addresses Teachers

Francis W. Kirkham, state director of vocational education, is in Ogden today, and this morning addressed a meeting attended by Superintendent W. Karl Hopkins, principals of all the grades, junior high and high schools, and superintendents of departmental education at the offices of the board of education, with regard to the state law dealing with vocational education.

Mr. Kirkham brought to the attention of his audience the forward character of Utah's legislation with regard to this subject, making the point clear that this state holds the highest place in the educational program of the country for what it authorizes to be done for the children of the community in the matter of education in health, work, thrift and community civics. The state law, he said, authorizes boards of education to use money from the taxes for educational purposes in these subjects. Long before the state law became a fact, the board of education had had some on record about this matter in resolutions passed at a meeting of the board of education and teachers in health, home economics, agriculture, and the superintendent of schools, on April 1, 1918.

Yesterday at Tooele the same body went on record as follows:

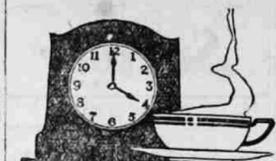

"That in the high schools of the Tooele county schools district, no person enrolling during or after the school year of 1920-21, shall be entitled to a high school diploma who has not conformed to the standards prescribed by the board of health, work and thrift, and community civics. This work is to be in addition to the required sixteenth units."

"That for unconditional promotion from grade to grade in the elementary schools the pupil shall satisfy minimum requirements in health, work and civics to be set up by the board of education."

Mr. Kirkham pointed out that Utah's legislators are wise in seeing that the only way to combat excesses of radicalism in the human mind is to have a four-square education, that not only takes up the matter of pure scholarship alone, but pays the rightful attention to matters of health, work, thrift and community civics. This will permit a child to grow up into the sound apprehension of what the body is and is for, what should go to the making of successful work, what to do and where to put his money, and how to live in the community, not merely as an individual, but as a constructive member of a healthy social organism.

Mr. Kirkham will be present tonight at a meeting of the city board of education, when the plan for a twelve-month system of education in these subjects will be thoroughly discussed from every point of view and plans laid down for the practical application of the law in Ogden.

Salt Lake and Jordan, as well as Tooele, now have their plans laid for a strict application of the principles of the law.

OPINIONS VARY ON ROAD WORK

Box Elder County Still Up in the Air Over Improvement Program

BRIGHAM, April 23.—The people of Box Elder county are as much up in the air as ever about road building in this county. Many of the taxpayers of the county assembled at the court house Monday at the request of the county commissioners and discussed the advisability of bonding the county for $500,000 to build good roads.

Some of the farmers were in favor of the high cost of everything were opposed to bonds of any kind at the present time.

The meeting adjourned and no action was taken, leaving it entirely to the commissioners to act as they think best. What they propose to do with reference to calling an election is not known. Commissioner C. R. Carpenter of Garland favors a bond issue, while Commissioners Wright and Sweeten do not, unless they can be convinced that a large majority of the people are in favor of bonding, it is said.

The commercial clubs of the county and the taxpayers out in the valleys where there is mud a plenty, are for the bond issue. The people residing north along the mountain side, some in Brigham City and those south where the roads are generally good, are against the bond issue.

Outside of Brigham City, Peter M. Hansen of Bear River City and the Commercial clubs of Tremonton, Garland and Bear River City are backing the proposition. Willard S. Hansen of Fielding and others along the mountain side east of the valley, where they have good roads nearly all the year, are opposing it.

It is thought by many that the bond election for good roads will carry if the election is called.
