Logan's chamber of commerce is planning a trip to Provo on August 16. In order to reach Provo the Logan boosters must pass through Ogden.

At Kemmerer, Wyoming, four men are dead and four fatally injured as the result of an explosion at one of the coal mines.

Now and then complaint is made that the coal miner is paid too much for his services, but those who object to his pay see to it that they are not coal miners.

There is a rumor to the effect that the outlaw switchmen who went on strike are not to be permanently barred from their old positions.

Capital and labor must get away from the old idea of doing each other to the death. Remorseless punishment and anarchy go together.

Efforts should be made to wipe out the distrust which exists and keeps capital and labor apart. Capital should be sympathetic and labor should be loyal.

Governor Cox is no more eager to discuss prohibition than is Senator Harding. The two great parties are attempting to keep the liquor question out of the campaign.

On Monday Homer S. Cummings visited Governor Cox and, being interviewed as to the subjects under consideration, was asked: "What about the liquor issue?"

"I don't think it is an issue," said Mr. Cummings. "Neither party mentioned it in its platform, and I do not hear it discussed to a degree that would class it as even a minor issue."

There was a promise, immediately after the conventions, that the speeches of acceptance would contain positive statements on the liquor issue, but it is evident the candidates prefer to treat on other subjects.

Eureka has grown from 3085 in 1900 to 3708. These figures indicate a prosperous condition in the silver-lead mining industry.

But Mammoth, once a lively camp, must have experienced a slump. In 1910 that mining community numbered 1771.

J. E. Weatherly, economic expert of the department of justice, has stated that approximately $9,600,000,000 will be added to the nation's cost of living for the year beginning with September.

Because every merchant, every wholesaler, every middleman, every jobber, every retailer, every man who handles a single product that human beings buy will add his percentage of profit on top of the increase in freight rates that he will pay.

He will pass on to the consumer, not only the increased freight rate that is necessary for the railroads to live, but an additional amount of profit, which Weatherly says is 4.8 times as much as the freight increase itself.

Texas will be disgraced, if, in November, former United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey be elected governor of the Lone Star state.

More than a decade has passed since Bailey was driven from public life by the Standard Oil scandals, which disclosed that, while he was serving in the senate, ostensibly as a representative of the people of Texas, in reality he was the servant of the big oil monopoly and received for his services a large retainer.

During the war the former senator was in the twilight zone, doing little or nothing to sustain the government.

In his early career he was a brilliant fellow, with promise of unlimited advancement. He was the pride of Texas and the admiration of his party.

In the Democratic primaries in Texas, Bailey is in the lead, and the prospects are he will be one of two men to participate in the elimination contest of August 28.

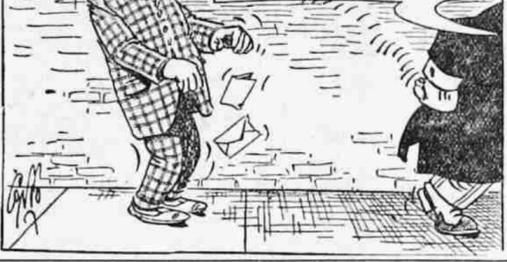

Texas Democrats will create a bad impression, if they fail to defeat Bailey.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.—Day at one of the highly manicured young men behind the front desk you would not suspect that he was the same gentleman who two years ago unblushingly suggested that you rent an alcove at the rate that you formerly paid for a suite.

Though every loyal Washingtonian and what denizen of the capital is not loyal—insists that his city is the most beautiful on earth, most of them will admit that the town suffers somewhat from the system of parking motoring cars, runabouts, sedans and other vehicles marring the sweeping lines of these handsome thoroughfares.

Practically speaking, there is no way out of the difficulty, but the fact remains that the unbroken front of touring cars, runabouts, sedans and other vehicles marring the sweeping lines of these handsome thoroughfares.

Under the influence of fear, we lose our sense of proportion, our power of analysis, and our ability to reflect.

He "has not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." That should end the reign of ganders.

AUTO IN PARK GOES OVER BANK

Machine Turns Completely Over and Lands Upright in Stream Below

SALT LAKE, July 27.—Most tours to Yellowstone park are favorable ones but Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rushton who returned to Salt Lake yesterday stated that their trip was not altogether satisfactory.

"Father was driving the car," said Mr. Rushton, "when we met another machine, and it was necessary to pass where the grade, which was new, was rather narrow. We went on the outside, and when some of the new grade gave way under our car, the machine slid down the embankment a ways, then turned completely over and landed right side up in about three feet of water.

"I was lucky without a scratch. But I was the only one. All of the others received bad bruises and lacerations, although there wasn't a bone broken. The machine was so badly damaged that we left it by the road there. We pulled it out of the river, but it wasn't worth bothering with further. Others helped us up the bank and a stage took all of us to the Canyon hotel, where medical attention was available.

After staying there two days we decided that we had seen enough of the park for this summer and left for home.

"Mother and Mrs. Elmore were badly shocked from the fall and Mrs. Elmore stopped with my parents in Idaho Falls and the three of them are under a doctor's care here. Mrs. Rushton still is nervous from the trip and isn't enthusiastic about the park."

FOUR DEAD IN WYOMING BLAST

Powder Magazine At Sublet Mine in Rock Springs is Exploded

KEMMERER, Wyo., July 27.—Four men are dead and four are in a serious condition as the result of an explosion of a powder magazine at Sublet No. 6 mine of the Kemmerer Coal company, twelve miles north of this city, at 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The cause of the explosion is a mystery, but it is believed that Matt Wisniewski, 21 years of age, powder man, lighted a match in the magazine. The exact facts of the accident may never be known for Wisniewski was instantly killed and none of the other injured men were in the magazine at the time of the explosion.

At the time of the explosion three miners on their way to work had stopped at the magazine, which is a considerable distance up a hill from the mine workings, to obtain powder, and four others who had just come off shift were on their way to their cabins by way of the magazine.

The force of the explosion tore the men's clothing into tatters and burned and lacerated them until their features were almost unrecognizable. Several of the men were blown from a span of mules attached to a wagon near by and the wagon was reduced to fragments. The mules, however, escaped and have not since been seen in the vicinity of the explosion.

One of the men, whose clothing was in a blaze ran some distance and jumped into a creek. He was unconscious when taken out.

VICTIMS RUSHED TO HOSPITAL. As soon as the explosion occurred a big force of men rushed from the mine to the rescue of the injured, and as soon as possible a special train, consisting of an engine and box car, was placed at their disposal, upon which the injured men were brought to this city and placed in the Lincoln county hospital.

Seven doctors were summoned and did their utmost to alleviate the suffering of the patients, all of whom were unconscious. Shortly after their arrival at the hospital three of the injured men passed away. They were T. Imaga, Japanese; Fred Konifinkel, Japanese, and K. Shin, Korean.

The four injured men who are expected to die within the next few hours are: Steve Weber, Pole; John Teroglio, Italian; Robert Nennino, Italian; and Alfred Wonki, Finn.

CHILDREN UNABLE TO FIND THEIR PARENTS SALT LAKE, July 27.—Three children, whose mother and stepfather were to have met them when they arrived in Salt Lake from Chicago yesterday, are still in the city, but the parents would learn of their arrival and call for them this morning.

John James and Gladys Stromos, 12, 10 and 4 years, were to have been met by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Borst. The grandmother had put the children on the train at Chicago and had given the conductor an envelope containing the name and address of the parents. This envelope for some reason, was not given to the children. The youngsters were heartbroken when their parents failed to appear and it was with difficulty that they were persuaded to cease crying.

John James was made last night to communicate with the conductor who had the envelope, and to procure the name and address of Mr. and Mrs. Borst.

$50,000 BUILDING IS DESTROYED AT MURRAY SALT LAKE, July 27.—Sampling Mill No. 4 of the American Smelting and Refining company plant at Murray burned to the ground early this morning. The fire started shortly after midnight, supposedly from a carelessly thrown cigarette. Despite efforts of the Murray fire department, the building was reduced to cinders by 1:30 o'clock. The property loss is estimated at about $50,000.

POCATELLO, Idaho, July 27.—Fumes which recalled bygone days, wafted from a soft drink establishment near the Auditorium theatre, resulted in a raid by Sheriff Mabey and M. Benninger at 10 o'clock last night. Trailing the elusive scent, the officers entered the Idaho Social club, and beneath a bar used in dispensing soft drinks, found a quart bottle three-quarters full of "hard stuff." The officers expressed an opinion that the liquor had been sold over the bar.

John Floyd, alleged proprietor of the place, was arrested and is being held in the county jail.

PRISONER ON HUNGER STRIKE IN DANGER SALT LAKE, July 27.—Ben J. Salzman, conscientious objector of Colorado, is confined in the Fort Douglas hospital in a serious condition. Salzman is serving in the military prison for evading the draft and recently went on a hunger strike.

Salzman, who refused to report for duty when drafted, was court-martialed as a deserter and is completing a five-year term of an original 25-year sentence. There are 42 conscientious objectors in the various war prisons of the United States. Most of the sentences of these men will expire in 1921, two will expire in 1922 and a few will expire in 1923 and 1924.

HEALTH

BY UNCLE SAM, M. D.

Health Questions Will Be Answered if Sent to Information Bureau, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

Q. Will you kindly tell me if there is any cure for snoring? The doctor told me that I have nothing to obstruct breathing in either nose or throat. I must spend a lot of time traveling, and am often embarrassed by what I would gladly prevent if I knew how.—Embarassed.

A. This is a very difficult condition to treat with success. In some cases the trouble can be avoided by changing the habitual position in sleeping. It is suggested that you try sleeping on the side or even face down.

Q. Please advise me how to cure a "milk leg," and also what is the cure for hot urine?

A. In cases of "milk leg" it is usually very important to keep the leg absolutely at rest for a long time, preferably in a horizontal position. Above all, do not massage or rub it. Be sure to get a competent physician and have him tell you just what to do. So far as the "hot urine" is concerned, this is probably caused by an inflammation of the bladder, or of the urinary passages. This, too, requires prompt treatment by a physician. Do not attempt to treat yourself. It may make matters very much worse.

Q. I am bothered considerably with cystitis. Physicians give me only temporary relief. Kindly give me a remedy that will effect a cure.

It is not possible to give you specific information regarding a cure for cystitis. If the condition does not respond to the treatment prescribed by your physicians it may be that there is some serious underlying condition which is responsible for this failure. It is suggested that you discuss the matter frankly with your physician and, perhaps, if necessary, have him refer you to some specialist for consultation.

Rippling Rymes

SUGAR. The price of sugar truly vicious—we're rationed at the place I board; the little sacks the grocers dish us cost more than tollers can afford. They give us many a far-fetched reason why sugar calls for so much kate; but little does their logic season our coffee, tea, or home brewed ale. A lot of reasons will not sweeten the ones on which the workers feed, and so the pastry must be eaten so sour it makes men's bosoms bleed. And all the reasons are but joshing, sent forth to cheer us when we dine; they'd all lose color in the washing and shrink if hung upon the line. Some fat old skates are profiteering, so we lack sugar at our meals, and from our anguish they are clearing all kinds of doubloons, bucks and wheels. Some human hogs are busy raking unholly profits to their trough, while we our bitter drink are taking, and asking where well all get off. My aunts through all the days are weeping, my nieces fill the house with shirking, will taste like tar in a bumper. I'd like to see the state in a bumper, I'd like to see the state in a bumper, I'd like to see the state in a bumper, I'd like to see the state in a bumper.

BUMPER BEEF CROP PROMISED IN IDAHO

POCATELLO, Idaho, July 27.—That the sugar beet industry of southern Idaho shows a twenty per cent increase, and will result in a bumper crop if weather conditions continue to remain favorable, was shown by a recent survey of Idaho experiment stations. In the Idaho Falls district, nearly the entire acreage has been placed in sugar beets and the condition prevails throughout the districts of the southern portion of the state.

Under the agreement between the growers and manufacturers, Idaho farmers will receive $16.37 1/2 per ton. While the Idaho yield will be far above normal, the national yield will only be 89.9 per cent, according to statisticians.

TUBERCULOSIS CLAIMS POULTRY IN IDAHO

BOISE, Idaho, July 27.—Tuberculosis is making rapid inroads upon Idaho poultry according to G. H. Werkman, assistant bacteriologist at the University of Idaho experiment station. A campaign to eradicate the disease will start immediately.

Under the auspices of the university, Professor Werkman will devote two months to a study of the disease in the state, the study to be conducted in cooperation with the farm bureau. His work will commence in northern Idaho and will continue to the southern sections.

INSTRUCTOR RESCUES PAIR FROM DROWNING

SALT LAKE, July 27.—Fully clothed Miss Lola Farrell, 67 East Second street, dived into the deep water of Pioneer park and saved two of the girls in her swimming class from drowning. Miss Farrell's girls' swimming instructor at the park.

Two girls, sisters, 7 and 12 years old, had become separated and the younger had reached water that was eight feet deep. The older girl noticed that her sister was having difficulty and swam to her assistance. The weight of the two girls proved too much for the rescuer and both were about to sink when Miss Farrell noticed them. She was standing alongside a spring board and immediately plunged in after the two youngsters. With difficulty she succeeded in getting them to the side of the pool where they were quickly restored to consciousness. In the excitement Miss Farrell failed to procure the names of the children whom she had rescued.

WEST CACHE AUDIT

LOGAN, July 27.—As a result of a special audit of the books of the West Cache Sugar company, former President John A. Hendrickson today made public a statement stating that the financial condition of the company was better than at any time for a number of years.
