

Announcement by the Management
ORPHEUM THEATRE

Facts about
"THE IDOL DANCER"

It is the film that D. W. Griffith and his players were working on when the entire company was blown to sea in a disabled yacht and reported missing for several days by the entire press of the world. You no doubt saw the report in the newspapers.

It is the most vivid and thrilling drama of the strange life and stranger conglomeration of whites and natives of the South Sea Isles ever screened.

Clarine Seymour plays Mary, "The Idol Dancer," one of the screen's most unique characterizations.

Richard Barthelmess plays the beach comber. You'll remember his magnificent acting in "Broken Blossoms."

PUSH DRIVE FOR JEWISH RELIEF

Representative of National
Take Part

Hamilton Bond, representing national headquarters of the American Jewish Relief committee, is in Ogden assisting S. G. Dye, county chairman, in raising the remainder of Weber county's quota of $7,500 for the relief of the suffering Jews in the devastated war zones. Mr. Bond declared today that there are six million Jews in eastern and central Europe whom the war has left dependent upon America. "About 800,000 of these are starving, ragged, helpless, orphaned children. This is a condition where neither race, creed nor nationality counts. Nothing counts except humanity."

Mr. Bond comes to Utah from Tennessee where the campaign was recently conducted and states that Tennessee gave $250,000 for the saving of these lives. Weber county has raised about half of her quota and it is expected that she will contribute the remainder within the next few days. Headquarters have been established at the Weber club.

Youth Held in Jail on Burglary Charge

Harvey G. Miller, 18 years old, of 674 Canyon road was lodged in the city jail this morning by Detectives Robert Chambers and W. A. Jones for the alleged burglary of Detective Jones' residence, 1911 Wall avenue, yesterday morning. Miller, it is claimed, was peddling vegetables from a push cart. He called at the Jones residence and upon learning that no one was home, is alleged to have entered the house and taken a revolver and some cartridges. He was seen, and a description of him was given to Detective Jones. This morning the boy was arrested at his home. He confessed, it is alleged, and took the officers to the Ogden river, where he had hidden the revolver.

A charge of burglary was preferred against the youth by Officer Jones. The boy gained entrance to the Jones residence by cutting the front door screen.

GRAZING ACTION DEFENDED HERE

Assistant Forester Explains
Just Why Use of Certain Ranges Restricted

That cattle associations from Wasatch, Utah and Juab counties are not united as represented, against the decision of forest authorities to delay the opening of the grazing season in the spring, was the statement this morning of L. F. Kneipp in charge of the local forest service headquarters.

It has been reported that sixteen cattle associations in the three counties mentioned, with an ownership of more than 40,000 head of stock, met at the Provo Commercial club and registered a vigorous protest against action on the part of United States foresters in attempting to close forest service reserves to cattle until May 15, beginning 1921.

Representatives of the cattlemen are alleged to have stated that under the forest service ruling the stock industry in that country would die.

Regarding the protest of the cattlemen, Assistant Forester Kneipp said today:

"J. W. Nelson, grazing expert from the Washington offices, was in the territory in question for two months this spring and decided that the ranges had been opened too early during previous seasons.

"Part of the forest service range is available for opening prior to May 15, and in event that cattlemen show inclination to co-operate in keeping cattle off restricted range until after May 15, such portions of range as are available, will be opened prior to May 15.

"Because of the high altitude of the ranges in question they cannot be opened as soon as the ranges on lower elevations. Last season, the ranges in question were either under snow, or furnished very little feed at the time for their opening.

"If the ranges are opened prior to May 15, before forage plants have had an opportunity to start a vigorous growth, the very ends for which the forest service has been organized will be defeated.

DANGER OF OVERGRAZING

"Fifteen years of experiment and study has proven to the forest service that too early opening of forest range results in overgrazing. At first the superior and highest grade forage plants give way to other plants which are not as acceptable as food. The cattle, choosing the most palatable food available keeps even the inferior plants closely cropped. In this manner, the range is soon depleted of plant life, excepting plants of low palatability to the cattle. Thousands of acres of grazing lands in the district over which the agitation has been raised are at present in this condition, and it is for the betterment of the cattle industry in this section of the country that the opening of the range is being deferred.

"While protests have been made from time to time among a number of the cattlemen in this section, they are not protesting as a unit, scores of the stockmen being entirely favorable to the delaying of the grazing season."

BELGIUM PLANT
MAKING BROWNING GUNS REBUILDING

J. M. Browning, inventor, has returned from Chicago where he was in conference with representatives of the Fabrique Nationale D'Armes de Guerre, of Belgium. According to the representatives of that country, the reconstruction of that country is progressing rapidly. The immense factory at which Browning pistols, rifles and guns are manufactured, will soon be turning out arms on a scale equal to that of pre-war times, it was said.

To Lecture Here on Jugo-Slav Claims

Miss Lila Van Kirk, associated with the Italian government during the late war, will deliver a lecture on the claims and counter-claims of Italy and the Jugo-Slavs with reference to the port of Fiume, at the Hermitage hotel Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock. Miss Van Kirk is intimately associated with Italy and its people. She is a landscape painter of note and is well acquainted in Ogden, having been here several years ago. During her other visit to this city she was influential in the establishing of a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals. The lecture will be delivered with illustrated slides and maps which were presented to Miss Van Kirk by the Italian government.

Are the Best Tires too good for the Small Car Owner

EVERYBODY agrees that it is generally desirable for merchandise to be graded.

A good principle that often comes out at the wrong end for the car owner—the man with the upkeep on his mind—the tire bills to pay.

He feels that tire economy should be a personal contract with the tire-user. Not a transaction with his car, whether it be big or small.

Reasoning tires in human terms instead of trade custom has written this policy for the United States Rubber Company—

Build all tires to one standard and let the tire user choose his own size.

When the oldest and largest rubber manufacturing concern in the world focuses all its resources upon one grade, one quality, it makes one client—and that is the whole public.

This single ideal is visible in any U. S. Tire factory, at any U. S. distributing branch, in any U. S. dealer's store.

Seeing that the tire-user gets his economy mileage along with an unlimited guarantee.

Policies are harder to make than tires

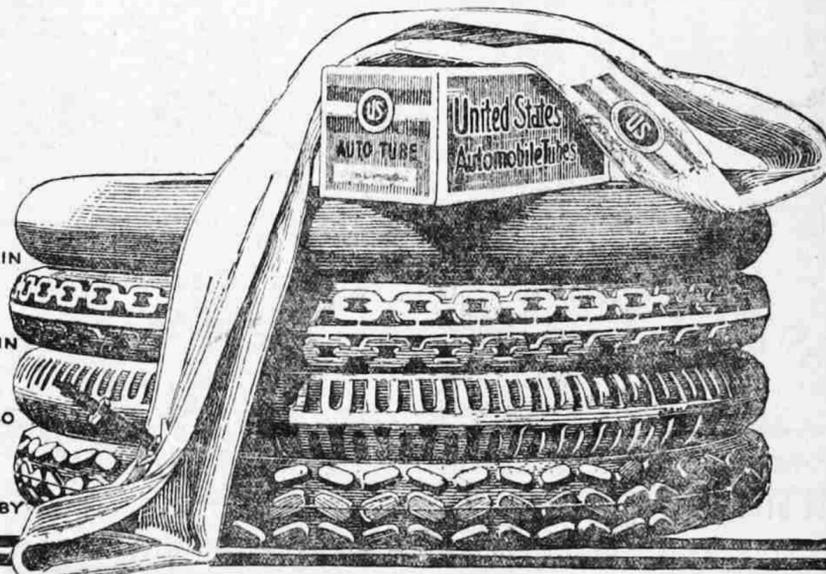

Probably the deepest reason why U. S. demand keeps always ahead of the number of tires the U. S. makers can supply.
