

Hosiery You'll Appreciate

THERE is a decided preference during the warm weather for distinctive treatments in hose. This is but natural due to low shoes making this bit of apparel an important factor in your appearance. You will find here silk, silk faced and lusterized lisle, which will appeal to your good taste as much as their wearing qualities will appeal to your judgment.

HERMITAGE HOTEL GETS MENTION IN ARTICLE IN INDIANA PAPER

The Hermitage hotel in Ogden comes in for a bit of pleasant publicity in an article written for the Indianapolis News, by "Old Timer." The article is headed, "High Scenery and Low Prices." It follows: Reflecting on the incidents of one of the most delightful trips the writer ever took—the journey to the San Francisco convention and return—the prosaic subject of prices begins to divide attention with the scenery. Though man can not live by bread alone, he certainly can not live without it. There can be no sound idealism that does not have a basis in reality. The Rocky mountain country, and that to the west of it is not a heavily producing section. Compared with the rich middle west it is lean. Distances are great and freights are high. These factors must be kept in mind by one who would study the subject of comparative prices. On the way west meals were served in the dining car—and good ones—at a price of $1.25 for breakfast and lunch, and $1.50 for dinner. Reaching San Francisco, those who ate at the Fairmont hotel, one of the handsomest and finest in the country, enjoyed dinner complete in every detail from oysters to dessert, for which they were taxed only $1.75—diners which would have cost probably $5 in an Indianapolis hotel. Club breakfasts and luncheons were also served, and at most reasonable prices. GENERAL LEVEL LOWER. The women of the party are authorities for the statement that prices in the shops are considerably below those charged in Indianapolis shops.

will bear. But whatever the explanation, the facts are clear. Food costs less in the far west than it does in Indiana, or else they could not serve a dinner for $1.75 at the Fairmont and for $1.75 at the Hermitage. The men who provide food at these prices are not philanthropists, on the contrary, they are money-makers. RAPID RECOLLECTIONS. Perhaps it was natural that pleasant thoughts of comparatively reasonable prices should mingle with rapturous recollections of sublime scenery, about the time we reached Omaha and were swiftly approaching a region in which prices were not reasonable and scenery was, on the whole, tame. While the change from canyon to corn country was pleasant, that from a fairly low to an exorbitantly high cost of living was not. Where the upward movement of prices begins I do not know, nor is it clear that they mount in proportion to the declining altitude. In passing through Iowa, a state which looks, as viewed from the car window, as though it could feed the world, it was interesting to speculate whether its prices were those of California and Nevada or those of Indiana. All this is, no doubt, distressingly utilitarian. Yet one member of the party whose mind is even more practical than mine asked: "Why don't you plot a curve showing the trend of prices and their relation, or want of it, to altitude? Perhaps the lowest prices will be found at the top of Pike's peak?" Interesting as the suggestion was I refused to adopt it. It is more in line with the talents of the late Lewis Carroll, I am now concerned with phenomena, and not with their causes. It does occur to me, however, that the happy folk whom I have in mind, have found relief without resorting to Prof. Irving Fisher's flexible dollar.

INDIAN RUG SPEECH. A touch of realism as a finish may serve to lift the mind of the reader above the mere materialities of existence. A few nights ago Dr. McCulloch made a speech, the occasion being the presentation of an Indian rug to the conductors of the tour, and it was full of Indians—more Indians than those present had ever heard of—poetry, and the most beautiful adjectives. It was tumultuously applauded, and for a time we all forgot that there was such a thing as food in the world. Of the latter fact we were painfully reminded shortly after we reached home. No one who participated in the presentation of the rug can ever forget that it was "woven under water." But neither can we forget that we once had a dinner as good as the Waldorf ever set up for $1.75, and had the chance to buy watermelons for 2 cents a pound. OLD TIMER.

Wanted—Girl for cashier. Lyceum Theatre. 4666

Deaths and Funerals

HARDEN—Twin infant sons of Charles and Angie Hale Harden will be buried in the city cemetery this afternoon, following private funeral services at Larkin & Son's chapel. One of the babies died Friday and the other Sunday.

Enid Bennett in "Partners Three," a dandy western, a Mack Sennett comedy and Jack Dempsey in "Daredevil Jack" at the Lyceum today only.

Simple, Sure and Easy this way to a pretty skin

HERE is the safe, sure way to a smooth, healthy, blooming skin. An easy way, so simple that many women will say it can't be true.

It calls for no medication, it requires no special treatment. It is simply helping nature by aiding the natural action of the skin.

For when you know the skin is composed of countless minute glands and tiny pores you will understand that it must be kept clean. Accumulations of dirt, oil and dried perspiration clog and irritate and ugly blotches result.

This cleansing can only be done with soap, pure, soothing soap which does its work without harshness. Such soap is yours in Palmolive, mildest yet most thorough of cleansers.

In classic days Palm and Olive oils served both as cleanser and also as a lotion. Ancient records picture their use and record the benefits.

Now, though centuries have passed, these same oriental oils still hold their place as cleansing cosmetics. Their blend in Palmolive has made them famous the world over.

It has produced a soap with a thick, penetrating lather, which cleanses like magic while it soothes, leaving the skin smooth as velvet.

If you value the health of your skin, wash your face daily—wash it thoroughly. Wash it with Palmolive Soap.

THE PALMOLIVE COMPANY, MILWAUKEE, U. S. A.

PALMOLIVE

Copyright 1920—The Palmolive Company (114)

The Coolest Place in UTAH

THE BEST TALE OF MARRIED LIFE EVER FILMED

Don't Fail to See It

ENID BENNETT in "HAIRPINS"

A SPICY DRAMA OF YOUNG MARRIED LIFE

ALSO

CHARLIE MURRAY in Mack Sennett's Newest Comedy "Let 'Er Go"

PRICES: 10c-20c-30c

SCHEDULE

Doors open 1:45
Curtain at
2:15, 4:00, 5:45, 7:30 and 9:15 p. m.

ALHAMBRA

AGAIN TODAY

COMING WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

HARRY RAPP Presents
FLORENCE REED
MILTON SILLS and IRVING CUMMINGS in
"THE STRUGGLE EVERLASTING"
By Edwin Milton Royle

All men are playthings to the woman with youth and purpose. See how men—each different from the other—had this proved to them in "The Struggle Everlasting," where Lois, a primitive temptress, ensnared them in the meshes of her moods and exacted a steep price for their follies. All-star Broadway cast.

COMING FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Shanghai! A Great Picture of the Underworld

A thrilling scene in a thrilling tale of the unknown, a mone-eyed East.

Where East meets West, and both tumble their rascals into the dens of Shanghai—there pretty Gail Ellis went to learn of life.

But when the sinister undertow caught her, and the man who rescued her charged her with opium smuggling—

Come and see a moving picture that moves.

On Same Program

"The Cheyenne Round-Up"

PRICES 10c-20c-30c

Jesse L. Lasky presents

ETHEL CLAYTON in
"Crooked Streets"