Pre-war System of Car Loading Resumed

According to an announcement made from the Oregon Short Line offices yesterday their department of less than one carload shipments from eastern points to Salt Lake and neighboring points through routed cars, which was somewhat interfered with under the federal railway administration, has been resumed now that the roads are back in the hands of their owners.

During the war, less than carload shipments bound to Salt Lake and intermountain points were often greatly delayed by being shipped in shorter distance cars, which required sometimes several transfers.

Claim Bamberger Line Trespassing on O. S. L.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 4.—The Oregon Short Line railroad today filed suit in the third district court to enjoin the Bamberger Electric Railroad company from trespassing on a right of way, which the plaintiff claims to have owned for thirty years. The land in dispute is situated near Beck's hot springs.

According to the petition, the land was acquired by the Oregon Short Line from the Utah Central railroad, which was granted a franchise and right of way by an act of congress on December 15, 1870. The right of way included land for a distance of 200 feet on each side of the road bed, which was built from Ogden to the intersection of Third West and South Temple streets in Salt Lake.

It is alleged that the defendant company is now having a road bed graded and is laying track on part of the land in question. The plaintiff sets forth that if the defendant is not immediately enjoined, its alleged trespassing will be the means of causing a multiplicity of court actions as it is the intention of the defendant to construct the railroad for the purpose and intention of operating locomotives, cars and trains thereon.

N. J. WOMEN WILL VOTE THIS FALL, SAYS OFFICER

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 4.—The statement of suffrage leaders in Washington that New Jersey is one of the few states in which women may find themselves unable to vote at coming general elections, is erroneous, Attorney General McCran announced tonight.

In this state, he said, women will be privileged to register and vote at coming elections on exactly the same basis as men.

MAY SHOOT FALLS AGAIN

"BOBBY" LEACH AND THE STEEL BARREL IN WHICH HE WENT OVER NIAGARA FALLS IN 1911. HE SAYS HE MAY USE THIS BARREL IN ANOTHER TRIP OVER THE FALLS IF SUFFICIENT MONEY IS OFFERED HIM.

BY EDWIN D. RIDER, N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 4.—"Bobby" Leach is pulling up stakes. He's going to leave Niagara Falls tonight.

Before he hits the trail "Bobby" may go over the falls again in a barrel. He did it July 25, 1911.

Leach won't try it again, however, unless the cash is forthcoming.

"I'm through with making money for the railroads and resorts around here," said Bobby. "I've been diving off suspension bridges, shooting the rapids, and going over the falls for years. I'm through risking my life for the love of adventure. I'm out for the money now."

WIFE OF THIRLLS

Leach, who is 59 and very gray, has led a colorful life, a life of thrills—from high diving and parachute descensions to going over Niagara Falls in a barrel.

His tramp inn the dare-deviling line was going over Horseshoe Falls—the Canadian falls—in a specially constructed, torpedo-shaped steel barrel July 25, 1911. He was in the hospital 23 weeks after the event, with a broken jaw and a smashed knee.

"It was terrible," says Leach. "The steel barrel, being so heavy, plunged behind the falls into the soft water. I thought I was a 'goner' then because I had oxygen for only an hour. In 10 minutes or two, however, it caught the current and I was towed ashore in Ross Eddy, just 39 minutes after I started."

"What about the police?" I asked. "Oh, they don't count," he answered. "Of course they'll try to stop me. They tried to do it the other time. When I got ready to do it, I'll just do it if the cash shows up."

"WIFE OBJECTS." "Mrs. Leach doesn't want me to go over again, but I've just about persuaded her I can do it easily. I've made several improvements in the new barrel. It will be 'egg-shaped' with two compartments, and with rollers between them. The hammock has also been improved. From my experience with Niagara Falls for 22 years, I know now just about what I want."

"If I use the old barrel again, I'll fix it up a little. Stephens (Charles G. Stephens of Bristol, England, killed July 11, 1920) was going over the falls in an oak barrel. It didn't have a chance. I told him so. His wooden barrel condemned him before he started."

SING ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD

More than 4000 music lovers attended the third "sing" held at City Hall park last night under the direction of Community Service. From the first song until the final number the music lovers put vim into their singing, easily making the "sing" last night the best thus far held here.

Gus Wright of W. H. Wright and sons was the speaker. He endorsed the movement established here by Community Service and stated that employees of the Wright store were devoting 15 minutes daily to singing prior to the start of each day's work.

Douglas Brian sang "I Take You Home Again Kathleen." As an encore he sang the "Yodel Song."

Leslie Sattile introduced "Utah I Love You," Miss Gladys Rich the composer was at the piano.

The program opened with "There's A Long, Long Trail" and was followed by "Let The Rhythm of the World Go By," "Bubbles," "Isle of Dreams," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Old Folks at Home," "Caroline Sunshine," "Smiles" and "Till We Meet Again."

Harry Morrison the conductor of the sing, introduced a new novelty when he had all singers omit the words "smiles" in the song. Instead they smiled, giving the song a unique appeal.

Two photographs of the gathering last night were taken to be used in the national publication of Community Service, the crowd smiling from "ear to ear" when the camera clicked.

A mass meeting will be held Thursday evening, the place to be announced later in the Standard-Examiner.

The fourth sing of the open air sing will be held at the City Hall park next Saturday evening.

3 STATES DENY VOTES TO WOMEN

Louisiana, Mississippi and New Jersey First Will Not Permit First Suffrage

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Louisiana, New Jersey and Mississippi are the only states in which women may find themselves unable to vote in the coming general elections, according to suffrage leaders here. All other states were said to have either officially held that adequate provisions for this purpose already were on their statute books or to have arranged for passage of enabling legislation.

Attorney-General Robertson, of Mississippi, has written the National Woman's party headquarters that the state constitution requirement or registration at least four months prior to an election precluded any hope of women voting in that state.

The party leaders said they had received no replies from the attorney-general of Louisiana and New Jersey to request regarding the status of woman voters.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Police and special guards were thrown around the White Star line piers here today prior to the sailing at noon of the steamer Baltic, against which a demonstration was made a week ago by Irish-American women pickets and 4,000 longshoremen who quit work on British ships on the west side waterfront.

Women pickets in front of the Baltic's berth carried banners protesting against British imprisonment of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, and the removal from the ship of Archbishop Mannix by British authorities on the Baltic's last voyage to England.

Sir Thomas Lipton sailed on the Baltic, bidding another goodbye to America and reiterating that he would challenge again for the America's cup.

Sir Thomas received a "letter of adieu" from the Mutual Welfare league of Sing Sing prison, which the Irish baronet recently visited, assuring him that "the doors of the prison always will be open to you, welcoming your return to America."

Many people are suffering with chronic ill health and do not know what is the matter with themselves.

Decayed teeth and diseased gums are very often the cause of ill health. Poisons from these sources not only contaminate the food while it is being masticated but it also enters the blood stream and is carried to all parts of the body.

Thrombosis is very often caused by an unsanitary condition of the mouth.

Food cannot be properly masticated if the teeth and gums are diseased. If the food is not properly masticated the person will suffer from malnutrition, anemia, stomach trouble, etc. If a person is not properly nourished he is susceptible to all kinds of diseases.
