

Her Daughter and His Son
A Great Married Life Story by
IDA H. McGLONE GIBSON

GRACE CAMERON'S YOUTH. I cannot remember the time when I didn't envy Grace Cameron. You see we lived on the same street, but she came from the beautiful, colonial house with pillars that rose white and stately from the floor of the wide porch, at one end of the short, sandy street, while I lived at the other end in a tiny cottage that was already tumbling to decay.

It is a long time since I remember that the big house in which she lived used to appeal to my childish love of mystery, although I was not invited into it until I was a young woman and only a few times then, as a child I laid all the plots of my fairy tales there and I peeped into the house with the fancies and gnomes which always became real to me when I saw the golden haired Grace Cameron (Grace is three years younger than I) carried about in the arms of her humpbacked and misshapen colored mammy.

Barometer of Embassies Shows American Women More Anxious To Vote Than Their Foreign Sisters

WASHINGTON, D. C.—American women are more anxious to vote than are foreign women. That's the conviction one gets after talking with the women of the embassies at the capital. This in spite of the fact that more than 20 foreign countries had enfranchised the women of their race before Tennessee ratified the American woman suffrage.

Many housewives will order mayonnaise at the restaurant but not make it at home. Why?

PROBABLY because many still have the idea that mayonnaise is lots of trouble to prepare. Or that they cannot make good mayonnaise—or that it won't "keep." None of these reasons keeps the woman who knows Mazola from making her own mayonnaise every week.

Mazola being an absolutely pure vegetable oil, blends the ingredients perfectly and imparts its own delicate flavor to the dressing—which will keep for weeks without separating.

MAYONNAISE recipe: 2 Eggs, Yolks only; 1 Pint of Mazola; 1 teaspoon of Mustard; 1 dash of Cayenne or White Pepper; 1/2 teaspoon Paprika; 1 teaspoon of Salt; 2 tablespoons each of Lemon Juice and Vinegar; 4 tablespoons of Vinegar (any flavored vinegar may be used); 1/2 cup of Mazola.

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE FUZZY FOX. Copyright, 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. (By Howard R. Garis) "Uncle Wiggly, are you going to be very busy this afternoon?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzie as she came to her door.

"Good evening," growled the Fuzzy Fox. "Hum! It will be bad evening if I don't look out," thought the bunny. "This Fox is hungry, I guess. I wonder how I can get away from him?"

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON. COBBY COON WAKES UP. Now it happened that Mr. Scribble Scratch, the fairymaster of Menlo Grove school, had trained his pupils for just such an occasion as I told you about—the school board walking in that fine fall morning when everyone was sleepy.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

"Why is the moon round?" he asked. "F. Because it changes 'ex' into 'fox,'" replied Cutie shivering. "Wonderful," beamed the visitors. The next question was Scamp Squirrel's. Scribble Scratch asked, "If you get nuts off a tree, how do you get down?"

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS—It's No Easy Matter to Cross the Street.

ASSERT DOCTORS MUST TREAT MENTAL DISEASE. NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Psychology will be an important study for students at the college of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University this year. Medical school were told by Dr. J. A. Fordyce, professor of dermatology, in his opening address, that physicians of the future must not only be able to administer to bodily ills, but mental ones, also.
