POSTMASTERS MEET IN S. L.

G. E. Browning of Ogden is Named Member of Resolutions Committee

SALT LAKE, Oct. 13.—Though volume of parcel post is increasing rapidly improved methods of handling has greatly cut down the number of claims for losses. It was shown yesterday in discussions at the annual convention of the Utah Postmasters association, held at the Federal building.

Resolutions favoring increases in salaries for postmasters and clerks passed at the annual convention of third and fourth class postmasters last September were given the endorsement of the convention. Another resolution passed at the meeting pledged the postmasters to the expenditure of their energies in improvement of the service to the public and increased the present postal administration.

E. M. Tyson, postmaster at Brigham City, was elected president for the ensuing year, succeeding G. S. Anderson, postmaster at Lehi. Postmaster James H. Clark of American Fork, was chosen first vice president. Mrs. Sarah Sweeten, postmaster at Collins, second vice president. Postmaster Calvin Hall of Washington, third vice president. Mrs. Geneva Garalde, postmaster of Riverton, fourth vice president, and Postmaster Niels Lind, of Midvale, was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Tyson was fourth vice president of the organization and Mrs. Sarah Sweeten, third vice president. Retiring officers are Mr. Anderson, C. L. Countyman, of Bingham, formerly first vice president and Postmaster M. A. Browne of Mammoth, formerly second vice president.

The following executive committee was elected: Postmasters Noble Warrum of Salt Lake, J. M. Blair of Logan, A. O. Smoot of Provo and H. J. Sheffield, Jr., of Kayville. The nominating committee consisted of F. J. McLaughlin of Park City, Thomas Brimley of Farmington and E. D. Halliday of Grantsville. The resolutions committee included E. M. Tyson, G. E. Browning of Ogden and Niels Lind.

The program for the morning session of the convention follows: Invocation, James H. Clark, address of welcome, President Joseph Anderson; response, Postmaster Noble Warrum; discussion of parcel post, opened by George A. Zabriski, Springville, and E. J. McLaughlin, Park City; address, Charles F. Dutton, district postoffice inspector.

The afternoon program was as follows: Musical program by double quartet from the Salt Lake carriers' organization; consideration of the relative of postoffice and railway mail service; introduction by Thomas Brimley of Farmington; discussion led by James Gowans of Tooele; reports of committees; election of officers and consideration of business pertaining to the National League of Postmasters.

KENYON HEARD AT SALT LAKE

Senator From Iowa Attacks League of Nations; Praises Smoot

SALT LAKE, Oct. 13.—Holding up the league of nations as a menace to the American government, Senator William S. Kenyon of Iowa, addressed a large audience at the Salt Lake theatre last night.

He declared that "Outside of God Almighty, there is nothing greater than the government of the United States." He expressed unalterable opposition to any league of nations containing an article ten, although he said that he was not opposed to an association of nations.

WILSON'S LEAGUE

"The Wilson league of nations is the great issue of this campaign," said Senator Kenyon. "Mr. Cox has said he will go into it and Mr. Harding has said he will stay out of it. But it is hard to tell now just what the Democratic party wants. The United States cannot shirk world responsibility. When we say we are opposed to the Wilson league of nations, we do not say that we are opposed to an association of nations. We have studied that league out in the senate and have concluded that, instead of being an instrument of peace, it is an instrument of war. The proposition now is by the people who tried to destroy the United States in 1861. They seek to give it all away."

Every seat on the main floor and the first balcony of the theatre was occupied. The visitor was given a warm reception, the audience rising and cheering when he was introduced by W. D. Ritter, who presided. The meeting was called to order by former Governor Spry, Republican state chairman, who immediately turned the meeting over to Mr. Ritter. Musical numbers were given before the meeting was called to order.

Senator Kenyon expressed pleasure at the cordial reception, referred briefly to his predecessor, the late Senator Jonathan B. Dolliver of Iowa who had been mentioned by Mr. Ritter. Then the visitor launched into the issues of the campaign.

"I have been campaigning from Maine to Salt Lake," said Senator Kenyon. "I didn't make many speeches in Maine, but I am well satisfied with the results."

A compliment to the men who grew in the mountains was paid, and was immediately qualified by the statement that he had been disappointed in what the people of Utah did two years ago in defeating Senator George Sutherland in his race for the senate. He declared that Senator Sutherland was the greatest lawyer since Daniel Webster and that, under the administration of President Harding, he would be placed on the supreme bench.

PRaises Smoot

The senior senator of Utah was praised. Senator Kenyon said: "Senator Smoot is the hardest working man in the American senate. He is the best informed man also on government questions, a veritable walking encyclopedia of knowledge concerning the government in its various activities. I will not venture to say how much he has saved the government in the last four years by his diligence, but I know of one single item where he saved $1,800,000. On paper alone, wickedly wasted by departments, he has saved over $2,200,000."

He has been the constant friend of the men who served the country in its wars. If ever a man was needed at Washington in the great problem of reconstruction, he is the man. The nation at large has the right to ask Utah to return Senator Smoot to the senate."

Agriculture was discussed early in the address, the speaker declaring that the farmers had grievances. He said that for sixteen years there had been a real farmer in the office of secretary of agriculture, but when President Wilson took charge, he had put a professor in that place who didn't know a Jersey cow from a Holstein pig.

DEER SEASON OPENS FRIDAY

Hunters Urged to Wear Markers on Hats to Prevent Serious Accidents

Hunters of Weber county are preparing for the opening of the deer season, which will open in Utah October 15. From all sections of the state sportsmen have made their plans for a trip into the mountains in quest of a choice deer.

The season closes October 25. President A. T. Hestmark of the Weber County Rod and Gun club wishes to impress upon hunters that the law allows the killing of only one "buck deer with horns by one person." Fawns and does are protected by law.

President Hestmark also urges all hunters to wear markers of some nature on their hats in order to prevent accidents which have happened in past years.

Almost all seasons were due to hunters taking a haphazard shot when they saw "bushes" moving. By placing a red or white piece of cloth on the hats or caps worn by hunters, President Hestmark thinks accidents which have happened of past years will be prevented.

Deer are reported numerous in the mountains this season and hunters should find their successes materially advanced by the snows which have recently fallen in the mountains of the state.

SOCCER TEAMS FORM LEAGUE

Ogden Aggregation to Be in Race for State Title; Game Here Sunday

Games will be started in Ogden and Salt Lake next Sunday. The Salt Lake eleven will oppose the Ogdenites at Lorin Farr park Sunday the contest to start at 2 o'clock. The Caledonian and Hollandia clubs will tangle at Salt Lake.

O. Liptrot of Ogden will referee the Sunday contest.

The Ogdenites will practice this evening and Friday evening for the coming contest. Games with other organizations throughout the state will also be arranged according to members of the local club.

FAST HORSES IN VERMONT CLASSICS IN TURF FEATURES

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vermont, Oct. 12.—Thoroughbreds continued to triumph in speed over Morgan and Arab horses in the second leg of the 200 mile endurance test for cavalry mounts which ended here tonight. Bunkie, a grade thoroughbred chestnut gelding who finished first yesterday and Mademoiselle Brown, a grade thoroughbred brown mare who finished two minutes ahead of Bunkie yesterday led the field of twenty-five horses over the 95 mile course, finishing in nine hours and nine minutes. Both are owned by the United States remount service.

Avil Watts, standard bay gelding, lost a shoe nine miles from here and did not finish within the 13 hour time limit.

Albert W. Harris of Chicago, riding Kemah Prince, was thrown when his horse stumbled on a rolling stone. Both Mr. Harris and the horse suffered only scratches. Tomorrow's journey will cover the sixty miles from here to White river junction.
