Looking for Missing Man and Automobile

Police are searching for a Hudson automobile and its owner, Thomas E. Gardner, of Green River, Wyo. Both the car and the owner are reported missing, and it is feared that foul play might have overtaken Gardner. Gardner was last seen in Green River and at that time was carrying currency amounting to $1000. Later the automobile was seen in Rawlins, with some one other than the owner operating it. Ogden police have been notified to keep a lookout for the missing car.

MRS. LEATHERWOOD RE-ELECTED HEAD OF FEDERATED CLUBS

Mrs. E. O. Wattis of Ogden Chosen First Vice President; Mrs. William Douglas Named District President

Mrs. E. O. Leatherwood of Salt Lake was unanimously re-elected president of the Utah Federation of Women's clubs at the morning session of the thirty-seventh annual convention which is being held in the Elks' club. Mrs. Leatherwood was chosen by acclamation when a delegate arose and moved that the rules be suspended and she be elected by acclamation. The delegates arose in a body in favor of her election and broke into applause.

Mrs. E. O. Wattis of Ogden was chosen as first vice president, succeeding Mrs. E. G. Peterson of Salt Lake. Mrs. Wattis has served in the past as second vice president. Her election was also gained by acclamation.

To succeed Mrs. Wattis as second vice president, Mrs. J. T. Cowan of Salt Lake was unanimously chosen.

Three district presidents were then elected to head the organization in their respective districts and also to act as vice presidents for the state organization. These selections were Mrs. J. A. Widtsoe, Salt Lake; Mrs. J. E. Cotter of Lehi and Mrs. William Douglas of Ogden.

Mrs. E. G. Gowans of Salt Lake was chosen as corresponding secretary and Mrs. John Culley of Ogden as recording secretary. Mrs. O. J. Enking of Salt Lake was elected treasurer and Mrs. C. W. Wilson of Salt Lake as auditor. For state organizer, Mrs. W. E. Knox, Salt Lake, for historian, Mrs. Edward Le Compt, Park City, Bureau of Information, Mrs. Julia Lynch, Salt Lake.

This morning's program was given over to an address of Mrs. Archie Bowman on "Child Welfare," and an outline by Mrs. J. E. Widtsoe of activities of the women during the National Education association convention held in Salt Lake during June.

COLLEGE FUND

A report was made by Mrs. Cleason S. Kinney of Salt Lake of the college fund which is used for the purpose of placing students in college. It was reported that the sum of $15,410 is now loaned to students. A particularly pleasing feature of the report was that although many students had borrowed money, none had failed to repay as promised. It was also brought out that a loan was made to an ex-service man who not only repaid the sum borrowed but insisted upon donating $5 to the fund.

Mrs. R. B. Porter reported that the endowment fund now contained the sum of $850.

The convention will close tonight following an address in the Ogden tabernacle by Professor William A. McKeever of the University of Kansas which has been arranged especially for the delegates. The subject of the address has not been announced.

This afternoon resolutions were to be drawn and presented. The session was to open with community singing and reports from each club president on the subject, "What Can We Do For Our Girls." Installation of the new officers was to follow.

At 4 o'clock the delegates and visitors will be taken for an automobile drive about the city and will be shown points of interest.

ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual banquet of the organization was held in the Weber club last night and was characterized by sparkling wit and good fellowship.

Mrs. Edward Bichel of Ogden, past president of the Utah federation and now general federation director for the state, presided as toastmaster. Toasts were given by Mrs. E. O. Wattis of Ogden, Mrs. C. S. Kinney of Salt Lake, honorary vice president of the general federation; Mrs. E. M. Leatherswood of Salt Lake, president of the federation; Mrs. C. H. McMahon of Salt Lake and Mrs. R. B. Porter of Ogden.

Mrs. Kinney and Mrs. Leatherwood were presented with flowers by the Ogden club women. Musical selections were given by Mrs. Royal Eccles, Mrs. T. Don Beason and Lester Saville.

The arrangements committee included Mrs. J. E. Wright, chairman, and Mrs. J. R. Cooper of Ogden. Covers were laid for 135.

The annual address of the president of the federation, Mrs. E. O. Leatherwood of Salt Lake, was the feature of the session this morning. Mrs. Leatherwood spoke of the necessity for revising the plan of financial revenue of the federation, which, she said, was just what it had been a quarter of a century ago.

The president spoke of the generosity of the newspapers and magazines of the state in giving space to club news, and said that it was one of the greatest aids to the work in which the federation is interested. She recommended that the printing of year books be dispensed with on account of the expense of the paper and printing. A federation directory and the space allotted in the magazines will take the place of the biennial issue of year books.

Mrs. Leatherwood commended the growing sense of civic pride in the small towns of the state through the influence of the women's clubs of their communities.

PRESENTS REPORT.

Mrs. R. P. Porter of Ogden, retiring director for Utah in the general federation, presented her report. She was followed by Mrs. Edward Bichel, present director. Mrs. Bichel gave a report of the directors' meetings of the general federation, which she recently attended in Washington, D. C.

The afternoon session was consumed principally with departmental reports and an address by H. L. Herrington of Ogden, president of the National Consumers' association, on "Women in Our Industries." Mr. Herrington spoke of improved conditions for women working in factories and the part the club women had taken in bringing about such conditions.

Mrs. J. A. Widtsoe of Salt Lake, give an interesting report of the National Welfare conference which she attended recently in New York. Child welfare was the keynote of the convention. Mrs. Widtsoe said, and the point was brought out that the city child was better nourished than the country child.

Mrs. C. H. Blanchard of Salt Lake, author of several juvenile books, presented the matter of children's book week, November 15-20. Mrs. Blanchard said that there was a more unified effort than ever before to supervise the reading of children and an effort was being made to place the best literature in the hands of the one of the impressionable age of childhood. The aim of children's book week is not to take away old favorites, but to put the new more attractive form, and to discover the best in the work of new authors. The co-operation of the club women was asked in the work of the movement. Following Mrs. Blanchard's talk, a resolution was passed by the convention protesting

ROTARIANS HEAR SCOUT RALLY TO DR. McKEEVER BE HELD TONIGHT

University of Kansas Man Talks on "Boy Problem" at Luncheon

Pictures Taken in Yellowstone Park to Be Shown

Government to Provide Well For Guard Corps, Major Says

Commending the interest of the Rotarians in the "boy problem" and the active measures taken by the organization toward betterment of conditions for children, Dr. William A. McKeever of the University of Kansas, was the chief speaker at the Ogden Rotary club luncheon this noon, held at the Weber club rooms.

Dr. McKeever said that in his profession he was practically a "field worker on the boys' and girls' problem." Because of this work he said he was particularly pleased to address the Rotary club, inasmuch as the Rotarians "have done something significant for the welfare of the world by taking up the boy problem."

He urged the Rotarians to take up one point at a time and approved a proposed plan to keep in touch with the boys when they leave school at the eighth grade. "That is when most boys do leave school," he said. "Get in touch with every boy and 'big brother' him, encourage him, help him along."

There are four major endeavors in life, he said, enumerating the play department of life, work department of life, sociability and religious life. A "square deal" for the boy in each of these was urged by the speaker.

Contests held in Kansas and Oklahoma to determine which city of each state is the best in which to raise children were detailed by Dr. McKeever. Winfield, Kan., won in the first contest and added 500 people to its population because of its splendid showing. The Oklahoma contest is now being conducted with twelve cities entered. These contests are based upon the "four great institutional units," he said, naming the home, the school, the church and the community as the units. Publicity was declared by the speaker to be "the great essential of the campaign," newspaper space being sought to advertise the plans and the results.

PLAN CAMPAIGN.

The Canadian Pacific railroad is planning to carry through similar campaigns along its entire system with a view of bettering communities, he said.

Dr. McKeever said there was a present tendency to expend too much money on amusements for children, saying that America is today "spending more for indulgences and extravagances for children than for schools, on the basis of two to one." He added that much of this amusement is commercialized until it becomes dangerous, appealing for "clean" sports and for a campaign against "the gambling craze" among boys.

A short reel of the activities of the French scouts filmed in France will be shown.

The money derived from the show, which will last three days, will go toward purchasing an auto truck, according to Scout Executive Goates. The truck when purchased will be used by each scout troop in the city. A feature film will also be shown on the program during the showing of the scout picture.

The largest demonstration will be given in the central heating plant in the rear of the Alhambra theatre, beginning at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and continuing throughout the day. Mayor Frank Francis, members of the board of city commissioners and the public are invited to attend.
