THE BEACH

The man behind the oyster, who opens clams and oysters, is practicing the oldest craft in the human world. That's the conclusion of Professor Thomas Cherry, of the University of Melbourne. No need to wonder at the courage of the first man to eat an oyster raw. He did that before he became a man.

PROFITS IN PICTURES

No little has been said about the enormous salaries of screen stars. One large producing concern advertises the fact that its net earnings now are over $5,000,000 a year. More recently, a broker revealed the secret of other movie earnings. You need not be a player, nor a producer, nor a proprietor of a string of picture theatres to reap a harvest, according to H. M. Greenbaum and company, Cleveland brokers.

HOMELY GIRLS

A girl reader writes the editor about the "pretty girl contest" and wants to know when there's going to be a contest for "homely girls." "The pretty girls," says she, "have the best of everything, get all the sweethearts, have all the good times, and we homely girls just get left all around. Please have a homely girl contest."

RESPONSIBILITY

The successful executive divides responsibility. His work is to oversee, not to take care of every little detail. Give a person responsibility and that person will gain confidence in his own ability and find greater pleasure in his work. If Mr. Blank passes letters to his secretary with the words, "Miss Brown, I wish you would handle these," Miss Brown is going to work twice as hard and hold her head just a little higher.

STILL A BABY

When man grows cocky and boasts of his conquest of nature, he forgets that he doesn't know what matter, time, life, electricity, gravity, light and heat are. He is at a loss when it comes to defining any of the forces or other properties of the universe. He may observe, he may learn the laws governing the manifestations of nature, he may formulate theories, but seemingly a more intimate acquaintance with his environment has been denied him.

SAYS GERMANS ARE FRIENDLY CITES RULES ON PHYSICAL TESTS

Provo Woman Writes of Experiences on Trip to Europe Examination and Filling Out Questionnaires not Compulsory Says Gowans

PROVO, Oct. 23.—Germany, rather than the allies of America in the recent great war, is friendly towards the United States, according to the assertion of Mrs. Ida Smoot Dusenberry in a letter received here by Mrs. Allie Coierman. Mrs. Dusenberry writes from Den Haag, Holland, after having visited practically all of continental Europe en route to and on return from the International Council of Women at Christiania, Norway.

HAIR OF AMERICA AND ALL THINGS AMERICAN, she freely expressed throughout the allied countries, she declares and she also asserts that industrially Germany is the only country which is at rest. We sailed on the steamship Patria on the 6th of August and were two weeks on the water, but a more perfect sea was never perfectly calm. The ship was magnificent. The crew was congenial and there was one round of social functions. There are 45 ladies in the party with a representative from 42 states, so you can imagine the different types and kinds, but they are all charming and have been more than kind to us. The captain announced our arrival at Naples it was with little regret that we left the boat. We spent one day at Palermo. Took one hour's peep at the Reggia.

VISITS AT NAPLES. We spent two days at Naples from where we took a special train which carried us through Italy, Switzerland and France. The train was the most beautiful one I ever saw. It was built for the Kaiser and taken from the Germans and given to Italy. From Naples we visited Rome, Florence, Venice and Milan. We had perfect weather and nothing prevented us from racing from one place of interest to another at least 18 hours out of every 24. We had a splendid trip through Switzerland and at last landed in dear old Paris, where we received word that two days after we left Palermo there had been a riot and 1000 people were killed. Two days after we left Florence there had been an earthquake which had destroyed the hotel at which we stayed. We had only been at Milan a few hours when 50 people were killed during a labor parade. This gives you some idea of the unsettled condition that seems to have taken possession of the old world.

HAPPY WEEK IN PARIS. We had a happy week in Paris. The shops are wonderful and everything is so different. We all hated to leave. We spent one week in the gay places and let me assure you wickedness and corruption are rampant. We visited Copenhagen for a day and found a very handsome city. We were in Christiania for a week, where we attended the council and were entertained until we were dead to the world. I don't wonder that I love it. The king and queen entertained. Countess Aberdeen gave us a wonderful breakfast party. From Christiania we spent a week traveling through the fjords, here my knowledge of description ceases, nothing but divine can hope to express it. We arrived here this morning from Antwerp. We visited the "Field of Flanders" and other spots of recent war activity. While we were in France we spent two days at the battle of Verdun, and saw the remains of Roosevelt's grave. If the mothers of our boys could only see how beautifully the graves are cared for and what wonderful spots have been chosen to bury them, I am sure they would never want them sent home. I am sorry they can't all come and see.

Mr. Fosgren was both a carpenter and a farmer and until this spring had lived for a great many years at Bothwell.

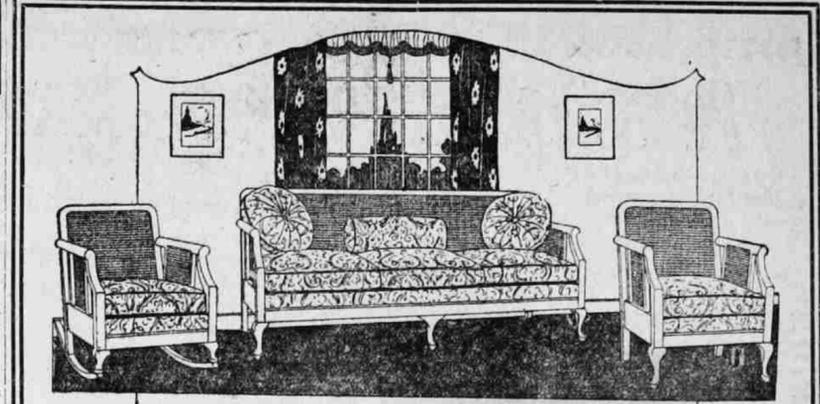

POCATELLO LOSES TEACHERS INSTITUTE POCATELLO, Ida., Oct. 23.—By a two-thirds vote of county superintendents present, Pocatello has lost the joint institute, held in this city annually for the past twelve years. Blackfoot will entertain teachers from nine counties next year. The counties favoring the transfer of the institute were Bingham, Franklin, Bear Lake, Custer, Butte and Oneida. The counties favoring Pocatello were Bannock, Caribou and Power. A straw vote of the delegates at the convention had indicated the vote some time before. Byrd Tregoe, editor of the Blackfoot Republican led the Blackfoot cohorts to victory and was able to make a combination with the extreme southeast which put the chance over.

FIVE HUNDRED SCOUR HILLS FOR LOST BOY TOGEELE, Oct. 23.—Searching parties looking for Marion Tanner, 16-years old, deer hunter lost in the mountains west of here, now number approximately 500 men. The entire eastern end of the county is in the hills under the leadership of Roy Wrathall. The Salt Lake Chemical works at Burmeister has closed down in order that its employees may aid in the search. Clover and trappers from Ophir, Clever and St. Johns were added to the parties today.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 23.—Physical examination of students in Utah and the filling out of health questionnaires is not compulsory, but entirely voluntary on the part of parents of the pupils, according to Dr. E. G. Gowans, state health supervisor of the schools. If parents or guardians who object to the activities of the school authorities along this line will write to the teachers, stating that on account of personal conviction or for any other reason they do not wish teachers or school nurses to have physical supervision over their children it will be omitted. Dr. Gowans announces. There have been only a few complaints, according to Dr. Gowans, to the program of the schools for sanitation and for physical jurisdiction over the welfare of the students. The wording of the Utah law gives the parents the right to object, however, if they do not wish their children to undergo the physical training and examination that is prescribed, except in cases where students develop contagious diseases, in which case, if contagious diseases appear, children can be examined and quarantine ordered, if necessary. The physical side of the development of the child as outlined, has little to do with the child's medical treatment, although the followers of some of the drugless systems, in these cases, the mere writing of a note to the teacher excuses them from supervision," Dr. Gowans says.

Large Crowd Greet Smoot at Brigham BRIGHAM CITY, Oct. 23.—The largest crowd that has ever attended a Republican meeting in this city was assembled at the high school auditorium last night. Senator Reed Smoot was the speaker for the evening. Hundreds were turned away from the auditorium. Emma Lucy Gates sang two selections during the evening. F. W. Fishburn acted as emcee. In a brief address by Emma Lucy Gates, the speaker strongly urged the reelection of Senator Smoot. She recounted her personal experiences on her concert tours from coast to coast telling of conversations in which those she had met praised the work of the senator from Utah. Miss Gates told some of the comments of Senator Smoot and declared his reelection a matter of vital importance to the nation as well as to Utah. Senator Smoot attacked the Democratic national administration on the ground of extravagance declaring it had wasted billions of dollars in the conduct of the war. The present war taxes were scored by Senator Smoot. He declared they are strangling business and are leading to discrimination. In case Warren G. Harding is elected to the presidency and a Republican special session of that congress will be called immediately for the revision of the revenue laws. The league of nations covenant in its present form was attacked by the senator on the ground that its provisions endanger the sovereignty of the United States. The inauguration of a rigidly economical policy in the conduct of state affairs was also urged by the senator.

Canada Proud of New Temple New Edifice at Cardston Will Be Among Finest of L. D. S. Churches LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Oct. 23.—(By Canadian Press.)—Set upon a hill, the highest point in the town of Cardston in the extreme southwest of Alberta stands, like the Acropolis of ancient Athens, the first such structure to be erected on British soil—a Mormon temple. Six years ago last August the first sod was turned. Year by year the imposing $1,250,000 structure has risen until today it stands almost completed, ready for the final dedication by the highest officials of the church, a ceremony which likely will take place in May or June of next year. Interior decoration, which has already made the temple famous throughout its length and breadth of the continent, is still progressing and it will be spring before the final touches are made. Once the temple is completed, dedicated and turned over to the care of temple officials for the special rites and ceremonies for which it was constructed, it will be sacred ground. No non-member will be allowed to set foot within its portals, and only members of the church who can carry a certificate from their bishop showing themselves to be in good standing in every particular, will be allowed to take part in the ceremonies within its walls. Surrounding the temple and lifting it up, is a great square within a retaining wall 235 feet square. Within are being developed beautiful artificial gardens in the center of which the temple stands, rearing its topmost point 140 feet in the air. The structure is built of Nelson granite bearing eight dollars in gold to the ton. On the interior the finest of woods, paintings and rugs vie with each other to lend a tone of quiet magnificence. Throughout all the rooms special W. O. Robinson of the B. Y. C. retawoods are used in decorating. Theretive to the plans for the event.

POLITICS RUNNING HOT IN CACHE COUNTY LOGAN, Oct. 23.—The political campaign here is getting hotter with each passing day and both parties are making a strenuous effort to eject their county tickets, for the consensus of opinion among politicians here is that the voters generally have made up their minds on the national issues and are prepared to register their convictions at the polls. But there is uncertainty as to state and local tickets. The Democrats have adopted the policy of holding home meetings in all parts of the city and county and apparently are making a very effective canvass in that way. All agree that a big vote will be polled on Nov. 2.

TWO THIRDS OF BEST CROP STILL IN GROUND BURLEY, Ida., Oct. 23.—Two-thirds of the best crop and more than half of the potato crop is still in the ground on the Mindoka project, with little prospect of their being harvested as the result of nine inches of snow falling during the middle of the month. It is estimated by sugar factory officials that there are approximately 5,000 acres of best on the south side Mindoga project and only 500 acres have been dug. Of the 6,000 acres of potatoes grown about 5,000 acres are in years or have been shipped. Four years ago, this month potatoes and beets were frozen in the ground. Should the weather turn cold at the present time with the ground so thoroughly water-soaked the farmers stand little chance of harvesting their potatoes.
