URGE LEGISLATION FOR WATER PROJECTS

SALT LAKE, Jan. 19.—Outlining the policy of the organization regarding several matters of legislation in which it is vitally interested, resolutions were passed by the Utah Irrigation and Drainage congress in its final session at the Hotel Utah yesterday.

The resolutions, adopted by a unanimous vote and without discussion, were presented by Chairman C. C. Jacob. They may be summed up as: Approving the Smith-Fletcher bill and urging its early passage by congress.

Heartily endorsing the work of the Western States Reclamation association, with especially commendatory words for former Governor William Stewart and the other members of the association's executive committee.

Requesting President-elect Harding to appoint a citizen of one of the arid states to the position of secretary of interior.

Urging the Utah legislature to such action as will provide for co-operation between the state and the United States government in a detailed survey and investigation of the Green River irrigation project.

Indorsing the request of the director of the United States geological survey for an increase in the appropriation for stream gauging.

Expressing sympathy and approval for the work of the irrigation division of the bureau of public roads, United States department of agriculture.

Indorsing the federal farm loan act, and respectfully requesting speedy decision from the United States supreme court in which its constitutionality is now under question.

Before declaring the congress adjourned until the 1922 session, President E. G. Peterson expressed his warm appreciation of the general excellence of the many papers presented, the interest shown by the thoroughness of the general discussion and the close attention that delegates and visitors had given to the work in hand.

His Cigar Doesn't Taste Right

And Yet It Is the Same He Was Smoking With So Much Relief After Dinner, Last Night, Out of the Very Same Box, Too.

Every smoker has experienced this peculiar condition, it is usually the result of imperfect digestion of food. And the bland is rarely put where it belongs.

Such men are usually high livered, hard workers mentally, living under high pressure and high draught, and it doesn't take a great deal to disorder the stomach or render the liver torpid.

They should make it a practice to use after meals Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and thus avoid the sudden attacks of indigestion.

UNTAMED LIONESS HAS TOOTH PULLED IN ZOO

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Seven years ago under an African sun, Queenie, wobbled unsteadily through the jungle, a cub lioness, born to wild life in an untamed land.

In the Brooklyn Zoo Tuesday, she grappled in agony with a dentist, aided by keepers, ropes, iron bars and giant dental instrument, broke out a black tooth which had given her a toothache.

Her teeth had succumbed to the white man's civilization.

Just before the operation witnessed by newspapermen and motion picture operators, Queenie crouched in her cage like a sphinx. Iodine, cotton batting and cocaine were made ready with great forens and probes.

A half hour of uproar and the lioness was made fast. A side of the cage was opened and her head was dragged out. Then the park department veterinary began his work while Queenie strained at the ropes which bound her. Keepers with a rope about her head, held it down as gently as possible and placed a crowbar between her jaws.

When Queenie was released, she roared and tried to leap to her feet. But she was too weak.

CLOTHIERS DECIDE BIG ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN NEEDED

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 19.—Methods of reviving the business prosperity of the country were discussed at the annual mid-winter conference of the National Association of Retail Clothiers, which opened here Tuesday.

An extensive advertising campaign was decided on.

Speakers said prices have apparently reached their lowest level, liquidation of stocks in many instances causing sales to be made below cost.

Julius Morse, clothing manufacturer of Boston, said a "slight rise" might be anticipated when the buyers go into the markets in March followed by a probable drop of five or ten per cent in the fall.
