

THANKS JUDGE FOR SENTENCE

But Schumaker Not Without Sarcasm As He Gets 1 to 20 Years

"Thank you," exclaimed Joseph Schumaker, former Ogden tailor, in a loud voice this morning in the district court after Judge George S. Barker sentenced him to from one to twenty years imprisonment in the state penitentiary at hard labor.

The words were not given without a trace of sarcasm and Schumaker then turned to the deputy sheriff at his side and motioned that he was ready to go back to the county jail from where he will be taken to the state prison.

Schumaker entered a plea of guilty to a charge of forgery and grudgingly faced the court to determine what his punishment might be. He waived all time and requested that the judge immediately pass sentence.

The man was employed here as a tailor last summer with the Lindquist-Nylander company and is said to have filled in and cashed checks of the company totaling about $600. He then departed from Ogden and was arrested a few weeks ago in Idaho where he had obtained employment.

When first brought to Ogden Schumaker indicated that he would fight his case. He obtained counsel and prepared to have a trial to determine his fate. Today it was apparent that he had suddenly changed his mind, or he asked that the court proceedings be hastened.

Schumaker is about 40 years of age, stout, and quite a distinguished appearing man. He will be taken to prison tomorrow.

EXPERTS TESTIFY IN DAMAGE SUIT

Expert testimony given by physicians relative to blood diseases and results, consumed yesterday's and today's court sessions in the case of H. W. Everts against Dr. R. E. Worrell, in which Everts seeks $50,000 damages as the result of alleged paralysis which set in after he had taken treatment from the doctor to cure facial eruptions.

Dr. J. R. Morrell, Ogden physician, was on the stand for a long period yesterday afternoon and was followed by Dr. Edward I. Rich. Dr. Rich was again on the witness stand today.

Both physicians were called upon to give testimony regarding blood diseases, their causes and diagnosis. It was indicated today that most of the trial will now be taken up with expert testimony by physicians and persons who specialize in the diagnosis of diseases of the blood.

It is estimated that the trial will not be completed until next week.

LEADERS FOR GIRLS WANTED

Lack of Captains for Scout Troops Hampers Local Activity

Realizing the greatest lack in the advancement of Girl Scout work in Ogden is trained leaders, efforts are being made to obtain a number of new captains. Ogden women who are willing to give their time to the training of girls from 10 to 18 years old, on a program of Scout work outlined for them, are asked to volunteer for troops.

Training for Scout work will be given to new captains upon request to the Ogden Girl Scout executive board. Lack of sufficient Scout leaders is retarding the work of the Girl Scout movement throughout the United States, it is said. Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the secretary of commerce, who was recently elected president of the National council of Girl Scouts at the National convention held January 26 at Savannah, Ga., says:

"I want to bring to the attention of the women of this country the fact that we are in serious need of captains for our troops."

"We want at this moment 10,000 women, capable and intelligent and at least 21 years of age, who are willing to fill themselves to take charge of troops. Right now over 100,000 girls are anxious to join the Scouts but we cannot take them because of this lack of leaders. In another six months there will be need of another 10,000 captains. The life of the Girl Scout movement has not been long enough to provide enough alumnae for the work, so we must seek our captains from new material."

"The principles under which this movement has developed are now fairly well known, but the propaganda for securing captains cannot be too widely spread or too urgently stressed. It is because I know of my own knowledge the great, intrinsic worth of the work that I am willing to devote my time to it. It is because of this intrinsic worth that the movement has gone forward so surely and so rapidly. The training rounds out every side of the girl, as well as giving her amusements of a wholesome, instructive sort."

Tomorrow Morning
February 2nd.
 Place, 328 Twenty-fourth Street
 Time, 10 o'clock

You are cordially invited to call and learn the PIGGLY WIGGLY way whether you wish to purchase or not.

A Gift for Each Visitor

Piggly Wiggly is a big business that cuts 10 to 20 per cent off the family food bill. It is marketing reduced to the simplest and most pleasant method.

Piggly Wiggly is a "wait on yourself" grocery store, with the advantages of chain store operation developed to the highest degree of efficiency and economy in buying and selling foodstuffs.

Every Piggly Wiggly customer waits on herself and takes home her own purchases, paying for them as she leaves. Piggly Wiggly does a cash business only. At a turnstile entrance the customer picks up a market basket and passes into the aisles of the store. In this basket are deposited the articles selected by the customer from shelves and bins arranged along the aisles. All articles are plainly priced; there are no clerks to interfere or suggest something just as good. You select your favorite brands and at the end of your shopping journey your purchases are checked by an employee who knows all the prices and the total amount is arrived at by the use of adding machines. The articles are then placed in a strong bag without charge.

More than 700 Piggly Wigglys have already achieved success, and it is conservative to say that Piggly Wiggly stores will number at least 1000 before the end of 1922. All this has been accomplished in six years. People laughed in Memphis, Tennessee, when Piggly Wiggly first appeared. It was a great joke then, and a mystery. The nature of it had not been revealed. It is neither joke nor mystery now. There are thirty-seven Piggly Wiggly stores in Memphis doing a remarkable business. Chicago has sixty-five Piggly Wiggly stores; Washington, D. C., has twenty-eight; Denver has twelve and is preparing to open four new ones soon. There are Piggly Wiggly stores in St. Louis, New Orleans, El Paso, Los Angeles, Oakland, Salt Lake City and hundreds of other cities and towns. The Piggly Wiggly era has arrived; learn to Piggly Wiggly.

 No one has as yet been chosen to take the part of Caroline, Joan and Nell. Another tryout will be held tonight to pick those three characters. A business manager and a property manager will also be named. The play will be presented at the Orpheum theater in the near future.

While the Juniors are busy with their play, all the classes and different organizations in school are working hard on their parts in the vaudeville to be presented February 24, in the auditorium of the O. H. S.

The R. O. T. C. officers' banquet, originally scheduled for Feb. 24 at the Weber club, has been changed to Feb. 25, so that Friday night may be used by the school as a time for presenting their vaudeville.

The ninth edition of the O. H. S. Tiger, the school paper, was published today. It served as a "booster" for the Weber game next Friday.

Friday, the T. N. T. club will edit their second booster of the year, in preparation for the second game with Weber. The last booster urged the Tigers on to victory, and the club hopes that this will serve even a greater purpose than the last edition.

All the companies in the R. O. T. C. have fired on the gaily ranged, and soon two battalion teams will be picked. A regimental team will be chosen to enter the competition in the Ninth corps area.

possible hundred. Ed Swanson still leads the cadets in the number of points scored. Cadet Swanson gained 89 points.

Freud G. Taylor, president of the Weber club, addressed the students of the O. H. S. in assembly this morning, choosing for his subject, "The Life of William McKinley." Mr. Crawford, a student in the music department, rendered a cornet solo (tenor) from the opera Rigoletti, accompanied by the O. H. S. orchestra. At the conclusion of the assembly 15 minutes' yell practice was held to arouse spirit for the Weber game.

One more accomplishment of the T. N. T. club—a quartet consisting of Hinchell, Hess, Lippincott, and Edward Burrows gave two selections in assembly. The club first sang "Old Dog Tray," and, being called back for more, sang a few selections from "Jack and Jill's Et Ails." Edward Burrows was the soloist, the other three constituting the chorus. The quartet assisted in teaching the students many new school songs, to be used next Friday night.

Floyd Thomas, star guard of the tiger five, is still confined to his bed at home. It is thought that he will be unable to take part in the tracas next Friday night. However, the team has a string of able substitutes, that will be ready to replace him, in case he cannot play.

Commencing Friday morning general admission tickets will be sold at the high school. If students will purchase these tickets there will be a much better chance to get into the hall to view the game. Otherwise tickets will have to be purchased upon entering the building. General admission is charged to all those not holding reserved seat tickets, and student body tickets. These tickets will be on sale in the office. A few reserved seats are also on sale in the office.

OGDEN MAN FILES ON B. E. SPRING

George A. Spier of Ogden has filed on four second-feet of water from an unnamed spring in Box Elder county, with which he proposed to irrigate 129 acres. It is set forth that the water will be used also to flood alkali out of the lands it is proposed to irrigate.

WAITED TOO LONG TO PRESENT CLAIM

The industrial commission of Utah has denied the claim of Howard L. Bobbit of Ogden, who cut his thumb with a meat cleaver while employed at the Success Market, on the grounds that he waited too long before making his claim to the commission for compensation. He was injured October 22, 1920, and should have had his claim in before midnight, October 21, 1921. The application was filed October 25, 1921, and since the commission pleaded the statute of limitations, the claim is denied.
