those whom he esteems, proves conclusively that there is much in the donor to admire. In this light, does the faculty of Sacred Heart academy, view Thomas Keogh, whose valuable donation to the library of thirty-seven elegantly bound volumes of standard authors, proves that he is a discerning friend. This is the first time that the academy has been so favored, the last collection numbering sixty-one volumes.

P. N. G. CLUB.
The Past Noble Grand club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Sawyer, Thursday afternoon and enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Baker, 3440 Washington avenue, June 3.

ARTISTIC PIANO RECITAL.

May time, joy and beauty were ushered in at Sacred Heart, the evening of April thirtieth, when on a blossom-laden stage, decked with floral tributes from devoted friends, stepped the dainty little Miss whose artistic appearance was in keeping with her excellent performance.

Not often has it been given to an amateur to render a program and be received with such attentive appreciation as that shown by the audience when Miss Helen Malone when, to Ogden, music lovers, played the following excellent numbers:

"Peer Gynt, Grieg, "Morning," "As the Death," "Anitra's Dance," "In the Hall of the Mountain-King."

"Soleil Poem," "Will of the Wisp," McDowell.

"Hungarian Dances, No. 5," Brahms, violin, Miss G. Malone.

"Liebestraum, No. 3," Liszt.

"Etude, Op. 25, No. 7," "Etude, Op. 25, No. 9," Chopin.

"Humoresque, Op. 101, No. 7," Dvorak, violin, Miss G. Malone.

"Concert Polonaise," Liszt.

The Peer Gynt suite displayed all the beauty of exquisite variety, and Miss Malone was as much at home in the plaintive phrases of "As the Death" as in the tumultuous measures of "Morning King."

The characteristic McDowell numbers were well received, but to many the Liszt selection was most melodious. It seemed a verification of Sidney Lanier's line, "Music is love in search of a word," and it is no exaggeration to say that Miss Malone made her audience feel the power of that word.

The erratic genius whose centenary we celebrate is a favorite of the young performer, so the Chopin Etudes were pronounced by some the finest numbers on the program.

The choice selections which served as interludes were rendered by Miss Genevieve Malone, whose talent has long since been recognized by Ogden audiences. They continue to marvel at her interpretation, which displays exceptional depth of feeling in one so young.

One shadow alone marred the occasion for Miss Malone and her circle of friends—the absence of Rev. P. M. Cushman whose train from Wyoming, where he had gone on business, was late, preventing him from offering the usual words of commendation. The thanks and appreciation of the audience were voiced in a most kindly manner by Mr. Don McGuire, and could each one present have voiced his or her individual sentiment, it would have been one of sincere congratulation to the admirable little mother of the beautiful, talented daughters. Father Cushman arrived before all the guests had departed, much to the delight of the artist of the evening and her intimate friends.

CHILD CULTURE CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Child Culture Club was held at the home of Mrs. Spaurthwaite.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Annie Wright, vice-president, Minnie Smith; secretary, Mrs. Spaurthwaite; treasurer, Mrs. Grace Farr.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, May 11, with Mrs. Vogel, 246 Twenty-third street.

DELIGHTFUL SURPRISE.

The senior class of Sacred Heart academy, which Miss Malone is a member, also the junior class of the institution, gave her a delightful surprise last Saturday. The luncheon was served in one of the recreation halls, which was decorated in the class colors, crimson and white.

Bright smiles, cheering words and a general air of happiness marked the occasion, and the hours sped all too rapidly. Dancing and an exchange of anecdotes and reminiscences of childhood days formed the pleasures of the evening hours. Miss Stewart, the other honored guest, will also graduate this year from the Conservatory of Music. Her recital is dated for May 14.

SURPRISE PARTY.

On Tuesday evening, several friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Poor and pleasantly surprised them, in celebration of the fifty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. Good night was said and the departing guests wished the aged couple many more happy anniversaries.

Manzel, Lee Hurst, E. Hanson, E. Bacheiler, J. White, J. Knight, W. D. Bacheiler, Messrs. Matilda Lyman, McKnight, Dodge, Messrs. L. Lyman and C. Hanson.

Miss Myrtle Rogers was hostess at a card party given on Wednesday evening in compliment to her guest, Miss Lydia Dixon of Salt Lake City. The rooms were beautifully decorated with spring blossoms, the prevailing colors being pink and white. High five was the game and five tables were filled with the players. Prizes were won by Miss Katherine Lewis and Herbert Garrett. Punch was served by Miss Edna Allen in a little arbor formed of blossoms and festoons of green. Supper followed the games and the table was especially pretty with pink bows and hyacinths.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL.

The music lovers of Ogden are eagerly looking forward to the most auspicious musical event of the season, which takes place at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday afternoon and evening.

In the afternoon, the celebrated Chicago Symphony orchestra, and soloists, will present the program under the masterful leadership of Adolph Rosenbeker, who has studied the violin under the famous Ferdinand David, composition with Richter Hauptmann and orchestra with Carl Reubner—all professors of the Leipzig Conservatory.

In the evening, the Ogden Tabernacle choir, with Prof. Joseph Ballantyne, director, and accompanied by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, and soloists, will present the oratorio, "The Messiah," by the great English composer, Handel.

Mme. Hemmi is a great artist. She has a charming presence to accompany a dramatic soprano voice, which has been pronounced marvelous by the critics. She has met with phenomenal success in grand opera.

Miss Harriet Frahm is the possessor of a beautiful voice—a rich contralto. Excellent range, purity of tone and wonderful power of expression are its characteristics. Miss Frahm was a student under Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson.

David B. Duggan, the renowned tenor, studied in Florence under Vancinelli, the old Italian coach, and later in Paris with Jean de Reszke, the famous French tenor and teacher.

His success in concert and oratorio work. The universal combination of beauty and music is possessed to the full by Miss Myrtle Elyvn, the clever pianist and pupil of Godowsky. She is undoubtedly one of the greatest artists of her day. Franz Wagner, the cellist, and Guy Woodard, the violinist, are also without peers on their chosen instruments, each having a brilliant career, the result of earnest work under great masters.

Source of Poison Dangers.
The action of foods and liquors on their receptacles may produce deadly poisons. Acid fruits cooked in copper vessels are a particular source of danger. A man who was taken ill in the hunting field with symptoms of mineral poisoning learned that the fine old brandy he carried in his back pocket had dissolved some of the copper in the sterling silver flask.

Inconsistent.
"I actually felt sorry for you when you proposed to me."
"Your actions and your statements don't seem to show that you care much for the truth."
"I'd like to know why? I did feel sorry for you."
"Yet you married me."—Houston Post.

A Modern Instance.
"Now, Mary," asked the Sunday school teacher, "can you tell me what King Solomon did when both women claimed the baby?"
"Yesuun," responded the little girl to whose home the stork had recently come with a double burden, "he made twins of it."

She Was Next.
Him—I was reading in the paper to day where one of these food cranks says that a couple can live comfortably on three dollars a week. Do you think that possible?
Her—No, Archibald, I do not. But I'll be a sister to you.

Necessary Optimism.
"The chronic optimist who says he 'loves the cold weather,'" says the Philosopher of Polly, "is usually the man who has not money enough to go south for the winter."

HASKELL MUST BE TRIED

Governor of Oklahoma Is Not to Escape on a Technicality

Muskogee, May 8.—Federal Judge Campbell here today overruled the demurrers of the defendants in the so-called Mott Civil Creek Indian land suits, brought by the government against Governor Charles N. Haskell and other prominent Oklahomans.

It was announced here today that Judge John A. Marshall of Utah will preside over the grand jury investigation into the Muskogee question to the frauds involving Governor Haskell and others. The cases will be taken up in the federal court here Monday next.

GAVE PROMISE TO BE QUIET.

Audience Willing to Be Good if Only Band Wouldn't Play.

A Kansas man tells of a music hall in a town of that state which bore the unenviable reputation of possessing absolutely the worst band anywhere. On one occasion a "head-liner" from Chicago had been promised by the management for a "turn," and consequently the hall was packed to the doors. When, however, the time had come for the "head-liner" to appear, instead of that eagerly awaited attraction the audience was astounded to see the agitated manager come before the curtain holding a telegram in his hand.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said he, "I very much regret to inform you that the 'Great Stewart' cannot (hisses and catcalls) possibly arrive for at least another half hour. (Great applause.) In the meantime the band will play you a selection."

At this a dead silence followed, which was finally broken by a man in the gallery.

"Smitty, Smitty!" he shrieked. "Don't let the band play. We'll be quiet, honest we will!"—Harper's Weekly.

Shepherd's Pic.

One quart of small thin pieces of cold boiled or roast beef. Season with salt and pepper, put into a buttered earthen dish and pour over it this sauce, two scant tablespoons flour. Stir together till brown. Add one pint hot water, stir and boil three minutes. Spread over the top the following mixture: Eight good-sized potatoes, boiled and mashed, one cup boiling milk, one tablespoon butter, salt and pepper to taste. Bake 30 minutes. I add chopped onion to the meat, but some might not care for that.

Importance of Prompt Deposits
The importance of depositing your checks promptly and putting in the bank all the cash you do not need for immediate use is apparent.

Losses are sometimes caused by carrying checks too long; and the holding over a large amount of currency is a temptation to burglars.

The prudent thing to do is to open an account with the Commercial National Bank and deposit all checks and currency promptly.
