ACCIDENT WAS CAUSE OF DEATH

The death of Rudolph Kramer, aged 65 years, occurred at 12:15 p. m. yesterday, at the Kramer residence, 2050 Ballantyne avenue.

Mr. Kramer was injured last Tuesday by being thrown from his conveyance near the corner of Wall avenue and Tally-third street. He was driving in a light spring wagon at the time, when his horse became suddenly frightened by boys playing ball near the street. The animal bolted across the railroad tracks, throwing Mr. Kramer out.

It was not thought at the time that he was seriously injured, and the pain in his side was attributed to pleurisy which later was diagnosed as pneumonia. It was found, however, that he had suffered a broken rib, the abdominal lining being badly torn, inflammation setting in.

Mr. Kramer was an expert gardener and has been for some time in charge of Lester park. He leaves a wife and a daughter, Mrs. J. G. S. Abels, and two adopted sons, aged 20 and 13 years.

Mr. Kramer was a native of Holland. He immigrated to this country in 1881 and settled at Grand Rapids, Michigan. In the year 1883, he came on to Ogden, where he has since resided, enjoying the love and respect of all. Funeral services will be held Tuesday, the exact hour and place to be announced later.

COURT GIVES WOMAN TWENTY-DAY SENTENCE

Several petty cases of drunkenness, begging and vagrancy were disposed of in police court yesterday, none of the offenders, however, being severely dealt with.

Jane Parsons was arraigned on the charge of drunkenness. The woman was not present, however, and Sergeant Critchlow was sent to ascertain her whereabouts. The officer reported that she was completing her toilet whereupon the court granted a brief recess. Jane soon made her appearance, her face shining like the noon-day sun. When informed that she was charged with drunkenness, she stated that she reckoned the accusation was correct. As it was the first time, however, since last Christmas day, she thought that the judge should be leniently inclined. The court was evidently of the same impression and gave her a suspended sentence of 20 days, the same to go into effect upon her first breach of sobriety.

P. F. Casey pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and was given the customary fine of $5 or five days on the rock pile.

The case of John Doe, charged with disturbing the peace, upon complaint of Anton Christanson, was ordered continued until the necessary witnesses could be present.

J. Pastan forfeited bail to the amount of $5 for peddling without a license.

Freshen Nuts

When nuts have become too dry to be good remove the shells let stand over night in equal parts milk and water, then dry them in the oven and they will be fresh and good; this is a nice little economy that may be used to good advantage in making Christmas dainties.

Mirthless Speed Makers

Progress is killing good humor. Engine drivers are not so gay as the postillions of the ancient diligences used to be. And now we have the chauffeur—dumb, stern, and worried—replacing the loquacious and jovial coachman.—Figaro, Paris.

NICK VACOS SAYS HE IS NOT GUILTY

Nick Vacos, charged with the murder of John Contos, on the evening of April 3 last, was arraigned in district court yesterday, and entered a formal plea of not guilty. The date of trial will be announced later, after a conference of court and counsel for the prosecution and for the defense. Vacos is still in solitary confinement in a cell on the west side of the county jail and is looking much better than when first arrested and locked up. He is not encouraged by the officers to discuss the tragedy or the cause leading up to it, but occasionally he refers to the shooting and insists that the victim brought the trouble on himself by a selfish desire to acquire wealth at the expense of those whom he had in his lists. While fully appreciating the fact that he is charged with a serious crime, the prisoner appears to be confident he will simply be given a ten or fifteen-year sentence, and is in no danger of capital punishment for "removing" his enemy.

THREE MEN HELD FOR BEGGING ON STREETS

There were three men in police court yesterday, charged with begging. One pleaded guilty while the others denied that they had been including in that manner of gaining a living. Officers Chambers and Burk testified that they had watched the men operating on Twenty-fifth street. The one who gave the name of E. Blunden and who entered the plea of guilty seemed to be the active one of the party, the others hanging about in the background while he approached those whom he met, asking them for money.

The two defendants who pleaded not guilty, Mack Allegre and John Jenkins, were asked to explain their actions. Allegre stated that he was employed in the city and was not aware of what Blunden was doing although he admitted that he had noticed the latter speaking to quite a number of people along the street shortly before his arrest. Jenkins stated that he left Edwardsville, Illinois a few days ago and had been making his way west, arriving in Ogden Friday afternoon in time to be arrested with the other two.

After considerable discussion of the matter, the court gave the boy, Blunden, a suspended sentence of 90 days with orders to get out of town at once. Jenkins, the weary youth from Edwardsville, was given a ten-day sentence on the rock pile, and the chief was instructed to inquire into the claims made by Allegre.

Bert Morphy is here. He can sing to high heaven, as his voice of wonderful power carries beyond the clouds. A representative of the Examiner met him yesterday and before the newspaper man could ask him why he spelled his name Morphy instead of Murphy, he started to talk, and this is a solemn declaration, if Morphy sings with equal ability, he will win the hearts of all those who are at Sylvan Park this evening, where an augmented brass band will accompany him.

Morphy has an interesting history. He is from Dublin. His family has produced great lawyers, great orators and an uncle was Morphy the famous chess player.

In the campaign of 1896, Morphy, but a short time from Ireland, sang at all the great demonstrations at which McKinley spoke. His voice is so strong that some one designated him as "The man who sings to beat the band," and it is said that no band of ordinary size, in double forte, can drown out his notes. He stood on a balcony on the tenth floor of a hotel in Philadelphia during the Elks reunion and sang to the great delight of an immense audience on the ground below.

He says his voice is insured for $25,000, but there is no danger of him losing it, for though it might stray away to the highest reaches or drop down to the lowest pitch, it would be heard calling for its own.

ENEMIES VOWED TO RUIN MORSE

New York, May 22.—Mrs. Clementine Morse, wife of Charles W. Morse, the former banker, asserted in an interview today, that long ago, persons high in power vowed that they would ruin her husband and that they have kept their vow against justice and truth.

Mrs. Morse declared that government officials had boasted also that they would cause Mr. Morse's downfall, but Mr. Morse said that she did not then believe the courts could be used as a party to the plans of her husband's enemies.

"How many people know that my husband has paid every dollar owed to every depositor in the Bank of North America?" she asked, adding, "Of an indebtedness of $7,000,000 more than $5,000,000 has been paid, and if Mr. Morse had his liberty he would not owe a penny today. It is incredible to me that a court can be used to destroy a man's property, and his family made to suffer."

Mrs. Morse said she had sold her jewelry gladly to pay the claims against her husband and one claim against her which was absolute blackmail, but which was paid to avoid notoriety. Practically all of the furnishings of the handsome home at 728 Fifth avenue, Mrs. Morse said, had been sold for the benefit of the creditors and the house was about to be sold over her head.

"When I leave, I will have no home; I don't know where I shall go," she added.

JOHNSON SPENDS $4,800 IN TWO DAYS FOR TWO ARTICLES

Philadelphia, May 22.—Jack Johnson has proven that he is a spender as well as a fighter. He received $5,000 as his share of the bout with O'Brien Wednesday night and in two days has let $4,800 of it go for two purchases. Yesterday Johnson was attracted by a special speed roadster and before the salesman knew what had happened he was in possession of $3,000 and Johnson was speeding down the street. He also purchased a big diamond for $1,800.

ADMITS HIS OWN GUILT IN GRAFT

Shawnee, Okla., May 22.—Confessing his own guilt and implicating others in a charge of grafting in the protection of "bootleggers" and "jolt keepers," Virgil Biggers, recently suspended as county attorney of this county, testified here yesterday in a bribery case in which William Mabon, a district judge, is defendant.

Biggers declared that Judge Mabon himself and others met the "bootleggers" in conference, agreed upon terms, and later accepted money brought to them by County Commissioner Robert Hager. Biggers said that certain sums had been delivered to Hager in an envelope by Oat Johnson and L. B. Howell, jointists.

Johnson then took the stand and reiterated the story of the conference and the passage of money. Mabon and Biggers were indicted several weeks ago following charges by the Rev. Mr. Bulkin, an evangelist, who charged county officials with accepting bribes from "bootleggers" and gamblers of Shawnee.

The Future Vocation.

It is customary in Spain when an infant begins to notice things to place before it a silver coin, a sword, a silver cross, a book and some fruit. The object to which the child stretches his hand indicates, according to accepted belief, his future vocation. The coin is for commerce, the sword for the army, the cross and the book respectively point to the church and the law or learning, while the fruit denotes a farmer or landowner.

Idle Questions.

This may be an age when time is money, but first reflect on the number of useless questions which we ask each other every day, and to which we neither receive nor expect answers.—Madrid Mundo.

SAYS THE "BAD DAY" RECURS

Chicago, May 22.—A special cable to the Record-Herald says that London is much interested in the theories of Dr. Herman Swoboda, a prominent physician of Vienna, on recurrent "bad days."

Dr. Swoboda says that men suffer one of these "bad days" without having committed any excess of any kind. A "bad day" comes to a man without any appreciable external cause. He may suffer from headache, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, nervous excitability or lassitude.

Strangely enough, the "bad day" recurs regularly every twenty-third or twenty-eighth day, or if not then, at multiples of either on every forty-sixth or sixty-ninth or every fifty-sixth or seventy-fourth day.

Dr. Swoboda applies this theory to mental phenomena too; thus, he says, a man's grief for a relative's death is deeply felt for twenty-three days, then begins to grow less. Nearly every natural death occurs on one of these critical days, says Dr. Swoboda, when the machinery of the human body is in bad working order.

MORMONS TO BUILD IN CHICAGO

Chicago, May 22.—The Mormons are going to build a temple in Chicago.

"The Re-Organized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints," as the church is officially named, has been active in the city for some time, and the leaders of the sect have gathered quite a body of believers about them.

The presiding bishop and the trustees of the church have taken title to a plot of ground on Homan avenue near Fifteenth street. It is the intention of the church to erect the building this summer.

This particular branch of the Mormon church has its headquarters in Lamoni, Iowa, and claims to be the only true and orthodox Mormon church in the world.
