

POSTMASTERS' END SESSION

Two Day's Successful State Convention Closes Yesterday.

Elect Officers and Transact Much Routine Business—Important Addresses.

1911 CONVENTION—PROVOCATIVE OFFICERS.

- C. H. ROBERTS, President. MAY GRIFFITHS, First Vice-President. L. W. SHURTLIFF, Second Vice-President. J. P. DRISCOLL, Third Vice-President. J. A. HATCH, Sec. and Treas.

After two days of what was one of the most enthusiastic conventions ever held the Utah Postmasters' Association adjourned sine die yesterday afternoon.

The last of the visitors left for their homes on last evening's train, carrying with them pleasant memories of two days well spent in Ogden.

The morning session of the second day of the Postmasters' convention was formally opened at 10 o'clock by President Roberts, who had the secretary read a telegram received from Postmaster Peter Martin of Park City.

The quartette consisting of Ned Ballantyne, Leo Matson, Geo. O. Jev and Carl Allison, sang, after which the president announced that, owing to the fact that quite a number of the visitors would have to leave early this afternoon for their homes, the afternoon session would be a short one and devoted entirely to a miscellaneous business.

Postal Savings Bank. Chief Inspector Cochran was then presented and, after a very nice introductory speech in which he praised the Postmasters' convention, he went on to show the innumerable benefits that could be derived from the law, how the children would be urged to put their nickels and dimes in the postoffice for deposits, how the timid would be able to deposit without fear of a panic.

Mr. Cochran touched on numerous other subjects, but the one important thing was his explanation of the new law, so those present understood it thoroughly.

It was suggested that some one read a copy of the law as it was enacted and Postmaster Clove of Provo, was called on. Mr. Clove had secured a copy from Congressman Howell, which was read. Then questions were called for. Mr. Clove further stated that the Utah association had gone on record as having favored the postal savings law and therefore all should make application to the department that could do so.

Owing to the fact that there is no extra pay attached to the new work that will be entailed on the individual postmasters, only about fifty have made application to the department. He made a motion that a resolution be adopted commending the new law and that a copy of the resolution be sent to the department at Washington.

Some of the members asked whether a person could open an account at two postoffices, with deposits over $500. This point was well taken and Inspector Cochran, after looking up the matter, said no, that a person might do that for a while, but it would be found out and the person punished as it was against the law.

The quartette then sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," which was heartily applauded.

Postmaster Thomas said he did not like to see as important a matter as the postal savings law passed over without further consideration.

Mr. Cochran said that it would be against the law, but after an individual had deposited $20 he might draw out this amount and buy a United States gold bond, which would pay him more interest than the two per cent allowed on postal savings.

R. B. Quay, postmaster at Garfield, spoke on the necessity of the school teachers' bringing to the different committees becoming acquainted with the law and teaching it to their pupils, so as to inspire a spirit of saving in the youth of this country.

A paper on "New Orders Issued by the Department at Washington," was then read by Postmaster Odell of Logan. He discussed several points of interest with reference to the issuing of money orders to Mexico, stating that one could now purchase an order payable at the City of Mexico and the order did not have to be made out on an international money order but on the regular blank which the government furnishes.

RAPID TRANSIT GROWS WITTY

Files Lengthy Answer to Skeen Affidavit Regarding Stoppage of Cars.

Says Affiant Has Doubtful Residence—Unprofitable to Stop at Resort.

A lengthy answer replete with ironical and sarcastic phrases, the Ogden Rapid Transit company undertakes to show its reasons for not stopping its cars at the Lewis resort in Ogden canyon as demanded in an affidavit filed with the district court several days ago by J. D. Skeen, one of the campers at the resort.

The answer was filed with the county clerk yesterday afternoon and covers 20 pages of typewritten legal cap paper. The refusal of the street railway company to permit passengers to board its cars or alight from them at the canyon resort, grows out of differences which exist between the officers of the company and John S. Lewis, resulting from a judgment for $3,000 entered against the company for a right of way through the Lewis property several months ago.

J. D. Skeen several days ago filed an affidavit setting forth the facts and asked the court to compel the company to recognize the resort as a stopping place. The answer of the Rapid Transit company denies all of the allegations of Skeen's complaint except those which declare that the Ogden canyon is a beautiful resort and that the company's terminal is at the Hornetgate resort.

Skeen is frequently referred to in the answer as a "bird of passage," and with no property rights in the canyon which would give him license to demand of the company as to what points in the canyon it should stop its cars.

The street railway company says it owns only sixteen feet right of way through the Lewis resort, and if passengers are allowed to alight from its cars at that point they would be trespassers and the company would be accessories. That Skeen is a body and mischief-maker is one of the charges of the company. His complaint is deemed to be on the grounds of a lack of jurisdiction of the district court.

After listening to the arguments yesterday afternoon, District Judge Howell announced that he would take the matter under advisement and would render his decision later.

WALTER FORBES NOW OAKLAND TEACHER

Walter C. Forbes of this city, who recently graduated from Stanford university, California, has communicated with his brother, Dr. H. B. Forbes of this city, informing him that he has accepted a position as laboratory director and chief instructor in the chemistry department of the Oakland High school.

This position is a most desirable one, carrying a salary of $1,500 a year, and the young man's many friends in Ogden will be pleased to hear of his success in securing so important a station.

Mr. Forbes was chief chemist for the Amalgamated Sugar company of Ogden for nearly three years, after which he entered Stanford university for a more extended course in his profession.

ATTACHMENT IS ORDERED DISSOLVED

Judgment in favor of Susan McFarland as administratrix of the estate of Charles B. McFarland against James Kimball, George Halverson and the Utah National Bank to dissolve an attachment on certain property belonging to the McFarland estate, was rendered in the district court by Judge J. A. Howell yesterday.

Kimball and Halverson brought suit against Thomas McFarland to collect an amount alleged to have been due for attorneys' fees. Judgment was obtained by default, and an attachment on property which afterwards developed had been conveyed to Charles B. McFarland by Thomas McFarland for $250 was issued by the court.

Mrs. McFarland showed that the transfer of the property had been made in good faith and without any purpose to defraud the defendants, and the court issued an order dissolving the attachment.

WILL ORGANIZE INSURANCE CO.

George H. Davis Returns from California With News of Prosperity.

People of "Golden State" Forming Insurance Company With Western Backing.

George H. Davis of Salt Lake returned Friday from a month's visit at Los Angeles. He was accompanied to Ogden by Mrs. Davis, Mrs. David Eccles and the latter's daughters, Flora, Laura and Vivian, all of whom have been passing a number of months in California.

Mr. Davis said that Los Angeles is apparently as much on the "boom" as ever, and that not only is there no apparent stringency in the market, but large amounts of money are being shipped to the east—a most significant sign of prosperity.

"All California is now interested in the project of forming a western life insurance company," said Mr. Davis, "and there is no question that it is one of the most important enterprises contemplated in years, not only for California, but for the entire west."

The company will be known as the Western States Life Insurance company, and it will be made up of banking institutions throughout the west, as far east as Colorado and possibly Nebraska. There will probably be as many as 3,000 stockholders in the company, each one of which will be a banking concern of unquestioned standing.

The general idea of the enterprise is to invest the money in the west for western purposes. Millions of dollars are now sent east to be deposited in the great financial centers of the country, and when in case of emergency the west suddenly finds itself in particular need of funds in large amounts there is can much difficulty encountered in obtaining it.

"A great corporation of this kind will retain a vast amount of money in the west, where it will be available when needed. The company, when formed, will probably be capitalized at one million dollars, with a surplus of another million. There can be no question of the necessity for an institution of this kind, and in perfecting it the west will have taken one more giant stride in the direction of continued prosperity."

DEATH CALLS OGDEN PIONEER

Mrs. Julia Kiesel, widow of Julius C. Kiesel, one of the pioneers of Ogden, died at her home, 437 Twenty-sixth street, yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock from complications.

Mrs. Kiesel is a sister-in-law of Fred C. Kiesel. Her husband was prominently identified in business at Ogden until his death, having conducted the California Bakery for twenty-five years. Funeral announcement will be made later.

THEY FOUGHT OVER THE FIGHT

Tom Lion and Fred Bath were arraigned in police court on the charge of disturbing the peace July 8. Lion pleaded guilty, but Bath said he was not guilty. Lion was used as a witness against Bath and Bath was convicted, the court sentencing the men to pay a fine of $5 each or serve five days in the city jail at hard labor.

The evidence in the case showed that the men engaged in a quarrel in one of the lower Twenty-fifth street saloons Friday afternoon about the Johnson-Jeffries fight and, not being able to settle the dispute in words, proceeded to the back yard where an effort was made to settle the dispute by fisty-cuffs. Bath stated that Lion begged him for 25 cents and when he could him he had no money. Lion called him bad names. To uphold his reputation as a man, Bath said, he had to strike Lion.

"I was forced to hit the man, your honor," said Bath.

William Jones was charged with vagrancy, alleged to have been committed July 7, and he pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $10, or serve ten days in the city jail at hard labor. Notwithstanding the fact that Jones is a colored man, City Attorney Deane stated to the court that he had made a "white mark" in the municipal court annals, because he is the first colored man that ever pleaded guilty.

FAT FOLK STIFFLE IN HOT WEATHER

Is it any wonder that the fat people stiffle in the hot weather? They are jammed full of fat on the inside. The lungs demand great quantities of air each breath or beat of the heart, so that the oxygen in the air can purify the blood and send it back to the body to maintain strength and vitality. Most people do not use one-half the capacity of the lungs, which are nothing more or less than some 800,000,000 little cells like toy balloons, which, when they are not inflated with air, lie flat. If the fat that crows the lungs reduces the capacity of the lungs to take in air, you will see what an awful time the blood and body has of getting its oxygen. The reason of this fat is that the digestive machinery of man is not working right. Marmola Tablets, that have created such favorable comment among physicians and fat people by their wonderful reductions in so short a time, stop the body from making fat. They are harmless and reduce fat at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces per day. You do not need diet or exercise and you may eat when and what you will. The beauty of Marmola Tablets is not alone their ability to reduce fat, but they leave no wrinkles or flabby rolls of skin after the fat goes away. They are sold by all druggists, price 75 cts., or you may write the Marmola Co., 1121 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

AGED COUPLE IN CITY JAIL

Husband Arrested for Beating Wife for Not Supplying Him With Funds.

Wife Spent Thursday in Jail on Charge of Drunkenness.

A pitiful case of poverty and domestic strife in old age was brought to light yesterday in the arrest of William Nixon by Patrolman Marlin on the charge of disturbing the peace.

Nixon was found beating and kicking his aged wife yesterday, being evidently in a rage at her not having obtained money for his various wants. A possible solution for her negligence is the fact that she has been passing a week or more in the city jail for drunkenness, having been released Friday.

Nixon is a man of sixty years, bent with age, and possessed of a thirst which knows no quenching. His wife is similarly afflicted, and it is said that the couple have no semblance of a home, having been driven from pillar to post by their dissolute habits for a number of years.

The police are in hopes that a movement may be started for the purpose of placing the aged couple where they can be given an opportunity to mend their ways and be cared for in their declining years.
