PLAIN CITY TO BE LIGHTED BY ELECTRICITY

A movement is on foot to light the homes of Plain City with electricity. For a week past an agent of the Utah Power & Light company has been canvassing that place for subscribers. The company, according to the agent, offers to extend its lighting service to Plain City on condition that 100 applications for the light shall be made. Here is a copy of the agreement which applicants are asked to sign.

The undersigned, residents of Plain City, Utah, hereinafter called the consumers, hereby apply to the Utah Power & Light company, hereinafter called the company, to be supplied with electricity under the conditions stated below, with electric current for lighting purposes and power for small motors installed at premises in Plain City, Utah, and each installation is to consist of approximately as stated opposite signature below.

The consumers agree to take said current within sixty days from date hereof, and such additional current as may be required or used as above specified from the company, and to pay for same monthly at the office of the company in Layton, Utah, as follows:

"Twelve and one-half cents per kilowatt hour consumed and in case the consumption is less than 16 kilowatt hours per month, to pay a minimum charge of $2 per month.

"This application is for a service to continue for a term of two years from the turning on of current, and upon the expiration of such term or any subsequent like term, the same shall be considered as renewed for like period unless written notice to the contrary is given by either party at least thirty days prior to the expiration of such term.

"The consumers agree to provide suitable places, to be approved by the company's inspectors, for the installation of the company's meters.

"This application, upon acceptance by the company through its Ogden division manager, is to become a contract for the period above stipulated.

"This application is made and accepted subject to all rules and regulations of the company, present or future, on file and for distribution at its office.

"No promises, agreements or representations of any canvasser or employee of the company shall be binding upon the company unless the same shall have been incorporated in this contract in writing, before the same is signed and accepted."

Up to noon Saturday 44 applicants had signed for the light. Besides this a number of applications for power also had been made. The power, for the most part, is to be used for pumping for irrigation.

CITY TO HAVE A MOTOR PATROL WAGON

Calling attention to the necessity of the police department being better equipped for catching and handling violators of the law, Superintendent of Public Safety T. Samuel Browning last evening recommended that the board of commissioners authorize the purchase of a motor patrol wagon at a cost of $2000. The recommendation was favorably received and the order for the machine was made. It will be purchased of the Kissel Motor company of Hartford, Wis.

ed and the auditor instructed to draw warrants for the several amounts: Finance and public affairs $1,155.48 Public safety 872.89 Streets and public improvements 2,069.61

Total $4,097.98 Seven applications for licenses to conduct rooming houses in the city were handed to the department of public safety for investigation. It is expected that the chief of police will make inquiries regarding the kind of houses usually kept by the applicants.

The petition of J. Pinter, "the collar button man," asking for a refund of $5 on a certain license which was of no value to him because the chief of police would not permit him to sell his buttons where he had a license to sell, was granted.

CLAIMS BARGE WAS NEVER RETURNED

Alleging that a borrowed barge and two saddle horses were not returned, Kate Y. Noble yesterday afternoon filed a suit in the district court against P. A. Mattson to recover $2,100.

The plaintiff claims that she owns Fremont Island, which is ten miles south of Promontory Point in the Great Salt Lake, and that she has to maintain a barge for transit to and from her island.

In June, 1912, she claims to have loaned the defendant the barge and two saddle horses for the removal of a band of sheep from the island. She states that the barge was left on the rocks near Promontory Point to be dashed to pieces by the waves and that the horses were turned loose on the commons. The boat should have been returned to the pier at Farmington, the plaintiff claims.

ALFALFA LOST BY LACK OF DRAINAGE

As the spring advances it is found that considerable alfalfa in the Plain City district has been winter killed. This is especially true of alfalfa grown upon flat ground where the drainage is such that the water from the melting snow in the early spring is not readily carried away, but freezes around the roots at night. This freezing process, it is thought by farmers who have given the matter considerable attention, is what destroys the plant. Their theory is that as the ice around the roots expands during the freezing, it tends to lift the crown of the root upward. The effect of this is to break the bark of the root below the surface of the ground, thus destroying the sap channels of the plant.

On sloping ground where the water does not stand and freeze, the alfalfa is making a normal growth while on the flat ground it presents little more than a blasted stubble.

LARGE ACREAGE PLANTED IN BEETS

General Manager L. R. Eccles of the Amalgamated Sugar company recently visited the Cache valley district in the interests of his company. Planting, he says, is later in Cache Valley than in Weber county.

Speaking generally of the sugar business in the territory controlled by the Amalgamated, Mr. Eccles states that his company will not make improvements this year that are not absolutely imperative. The factories will all be placed in proper condition for the sugar campaign, year but not a dollar will be spent on the machinery that is not absolutely necessary for the business.

Field Superintendent Job Pingree states that nearly all the beet fields of this district have been planted and that this week will mark the close of the planting, except on ground that is too wet.

The area this year is greater than ever before totaling 7000 acres planted to sugar beets as compared with about 6000 acres last year. He states that farmers who are raising beets for the Ogdens factory have planted 900 sacks of beet seed this season, which is more than in any previous season.

Mr. Pingree is of the opinion that the beet growers with a large acreage will do well to look ahead for help at an early time, as he anticipates that farm labor will be scarce when the time arrives for thinning the beets.

I. W. W. IN THE CITY POLICE COURT

William Gurley and H. L. Brooks, who state they are members of the Industrial Workers of the World, enjoined the tedium of police court this morning when they advanced arguments defending themselves for stealing rides upon the railroad. The two were arrested last evening and locked up in the city jail on a charge of trespass.

Brooks acted as spokesman for the two and he said that he had left his various jobs because of inhuman conditions. He said he is now suffering from kidney trouble and indigestion because of the bad surroundings and poor food he was compelled to eat at the places where he worked. Both left Seattle for Salt Lake three weeks ago and had "beaten their way" the greater part of the distance.

Brooks argued that it was all right to steal rides from the railroad company. "I would steal a ride any time in preference to walking," he said. "Would you steal a hammer in preference to buying one?" asked Judge Reeder.

"No, I wouldn't do that," said Brooks. "I don't need the hammer." The exchange of views continued for some time along similar lines and at one point Brooks declared that the arresting officer made his living only from the misfortunes of others.

Judge Reeder ended it all by giving them three days each in the bastille. Florence Hall, charged with vagrancy, failed to answer to her name and forfeited $25 bail which she had secured in the interim between court adjournment yesterday and today.

BURK READY TO ADMIT HIS GUILT

George Riley was given 30 days for drunkenness and Bud Reed, charged with the same offense, secured a suspended sentence, as it was his first offense.

William Burk, charged with burglary in the third degree, was arraigned before Judge Reeder this morning and bound over to the district court following his waiving of a preliminary hearing. His bond was fixed at $500.

He expressed his determination of pleading guilty and having the court proceedings over at the earliest possible date.

Burk is the man who was arrested while in the act of burglarizing the second hand store of J. T. Alvord on Grant avenue Sunday afternoon. Had he delayed his operations an hour or so, a charge of second degree burglary could have been placed against him, which would mean a longer sentence.

Burk has the tips of his fingers on one hand amputated and bears a large scar and tattoo marks on the left wrist. While he was being Bertilloned, previous to being given into the custody of the sheriff, some one remarked that a man with so many scars should remain away from all wrongdoing, as he easily can be traced.

MRS. HILTON IS CALLED BY DEATH

Following an illness of over twelve months, Mrs. Emma Pearson Hilton, the wife of C. H. Hilton, floor manager at Wrights, died at the home on Vine street in Murray, Utah, last evening.

Mr. Hilton had been a resident of Salt Lake for seven years, removing to Ogdens seven months ago, at which time Mrs. Hilton was too ill to make the trip. Mr. Hilton had been at his wife's bedside for a number of days preceding her death.

ESSAYS ARE TO BE JUDGED BY WOMEN

The judging of essays on the preservation of birds in Utah will begin tomorrow for the awards offered by the Historical society of Ogdens. The best essays of each grade in the schools will be submitted to the principal and the principal will in turn select the best twelve or fifteen from the school, to be submitted to the judges.

All essays will be handed in anonymously, with only numbers to identify them. The ladies who are to act as judges advised this method of procedure to prevent any possible criticisms that favoritism was shown.

STEAM SHOVEL AT WORK IN YARDS

A number of laborers were put to work in the passenger yards at the depot this morning, filling the inter-sections between the rails with gravel. A large Oregon Short Line steam shovel has been requisitioned and the huge machine was able to unload the gravel cars fast enough to keep a dozen shovellers busy leveling the gravel as it was dumped upon the tracks. The gravel is from south of Salt Lake.

Gravel was ordered in place of cement because of the necessity from time to time of repairs on the steam pipes that are laid beneath the tracks for the heating of passenger cars.

CITY BONDS ARE HELD UP IN NEW YORK

Due to recent communications reflecting some uncertainty as to whether the R. M. Grant company of New York will take the city bonds in the sum of $100,000 recently refunded to them, the board of commissioners today passed a resolution authorizing Mayor Fell to negotiate with the Liberty National bank of New York to protect the bonds and, if they are not taken up when due on May 1, to pay them.

To this end, Mayor Fell has kept the wires hot the past day or two and has succeeded in making arrangements with the Liberty bank to advance the amount of the bonds, if necessary.

The Grant company has of late been somewhat critical, picking legal flaws in the refunding and going to the length of intimating that perhaps the company could take up only $51,000 of the issue. The company has been advised by the mayor, however, that if it takes any of the bonds, it must accept the entire issue of $100,000.

PIANO RECITAL Society

With a splendid program of classic piano compositions, including the imposing Beethoven Concerto in E Flat Major No. 5 (Allegro-Adagio-Rondo) Mr. Lester Hinchcliff, last night at the Weber academy, established a firm footing on Ogdens' ladder of pianistic fame.

Mr. Hinchcliff is one of Ogdens' native sons and a worthy pupil of Professor Squire Coop, by whom he was presented in his initial recital. Mr. Coop also played the orchestral part (arranged for piano) for the big Beethoven Concerto.

In his recital last evening, Mr. Hinchcliff showed the result of competent instruction, conscientious personal effort and natural ability; the control, technical powers and understanding interpretations, which marked every rendition, was a compliment to his musicianship. The generous applause from the large audience present, which followed the playing of each number, was well earned.

In addition to the Beethoven "Concerto," the following program was played by the young pianist: "Ricordati" (Gottschalk); "Song Without Words" (Mendelssohn); "Nocturne" opus 15 No. 2 (Chopin); "Etude" opus 25 No. 9 (Chopin); "Rhapsodie Hongroise" (Liszt) and "March-Militaire" (Schubert-Tausig).

A feature which lent additional dignity to the recital was the fine rendition of the baritone solo, Prologue-opera Paganini (Leoncavallo), by Mr. Melvin Peterson, one of Salt Lake City's foremost baritone.

WORLD'S MARKETS

New York, April 29.—Despite a rise in American stocks at London, international stocks were the weakest here at the outset today. Lack of support for the well-known issues was the most significant feature of speculation.

Restricted dealings touching new low levels. Sentiment was uncompromisingly bearish. Traders on the short side of the market made the most of the political situation here and abroad, the financial embarrassment of the southwestern roads and announcement of a forthcoming issue of 45,000 New York City 4-1-2 bonds, which constituted a depressing influence on the market.

The stock market was again under pressure at the opening today. Large blocks of the leading issues were marketed and prices in some cases fell to the low point reached in yesterday's market. Canadian Pacific sustained the severest loss with a drop of four and a quarter points.

Restricted dealings did not affect the stability of the market, prices holding well, despite the paucity of the demand. New York City's new 4-1-2 per cent bonds were dealt in on the curb at 100 3-4. Older City issues bearing the same interest rate changed hands in the board at 101 1-2.

Railroads went off sharply, Canadian Pacific selling five points under yesterday's closing and other shares setting back to around the morning's lowest. Steel and Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific touched the day's bottom prices. Political advices from abroad relating to the Scutari incident were less favorable and were responsible for the resumption of pressure against international stocks.

What's the price of a good suit of clothes?

Twenty-five dollars. You can buy our clothes for less than that—$20, $18; you can pay more than that—we have very fine clothes at $30, $35, $40. But $25 is a good average price; most men who appreciate good quality and style in clothes, good tailoring and fit, are willing to pay as much as $25.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

Suits at $25 will surprise you, particularly if you've been accustomed to going to a custom tailor to have clothes made to measure; more particularly if you've patronized the so-called low-priced tailor; most particularly if you're getting what you think are made-to-measure clothes at $25 or less.

Better see how true this is: $25 is a price you can afford, and you'll say so when you see the clothes. Better come and look at the new spring styles.

Influential buying sent July oats up to 34 1-8@1-2c after opening 1-8c off at 34 1-4c. Provisions were unchanged to 5@7 1-2c higher, the improved tone being due to an increase in demand. SCHOOL TAXES AND THE GYM

Hyrum Pingree, president of the board of education, has issued the following statement in regard to the proposed bond issue and the school taxes: "The tax levy we ask for the next fiscal year is as low as it has been for the past four years," replied Mr. Pingree. "A comparison of the tax levies asked by the board for the school fund during the past four years may prove illuminating at this time. They were as follows: 1910 9 mills 1911 8.7 mills 1912 8.3 mills 1913 8.3 mills
