

THE BOSS' MIND WASN'T WANDERING LIKE SCOOP'S

OGDEN STANDARD SPORTING PAGE

Joe Connolly has won a home in the outfield with the Boston Braves. He was a star in the International league with Montreal, having a batting average of .316 for last season.

Clark Griffith secured him for the Washington Nationals, but had so much promising outfield material that he sold him to Boston at the waiver price.

WON IN NINTH BY HELENA TEAM

With the score standing 0 to 0 at the beginning of the ninth inning, the small crowd of fans at Glenwood were settling themselves to see a ten or more inning game when BOOM! Up went the locals in a cloud of smoke and when the haze cleared away the score board could be seen with nine round zeros for Ogden while Helena had a most prominent 3 after a string of eight circles.

That man Ames was greatly responsible for the Knight's downfall. During the entire game he allowed but one lonely hit which was secured by Moorehead. He would let the locals swing the ball all right, but he did that to tease them. No matter how hard or how easy they struck nor in what direction they sent the ball, the sphere would roll or drop directly into the hands of Shay's men.

Fiddler also pitched great ball. He allowed seven hits all told, but up until the last inning the hits were so scattered that they were of no use scoring purposes. In the first four innings, only 12 Helensites faced the tall boy. The all-right support back of him was sufficient to discourage any batter.

After playing one-two-three ball for five innings, Helena came to bat in the ninth with strict orders from Donny Shay to do something. Thompson, pinch hitter, batted for Crittenden. He grounded one to Wessler who booted what should have been an easy out. Ames, the next man, fouled to Perkins. Spencer struck at three wide ones and the fans began to feel safe. Thompson stole second when Perkins threw wild over second base, and went to third. Kelley hit for two bases scoring Thompson. Quigley singled, scoring Kelley, and stole second. Lussli rolled a little one to Fiddler who slammed it mile high over Van's head and Quigley scored the third run.

Ogden was unable to do anything in the last part of the ninth.

COPPERS LOSE OPENER AT BUTTE

Butte, Mont., April 14.—Costly errors in the fourth inning of the season's opening game today between Great Falls and Butte gave the Electric the contest by the score of 4 to 1.

Kallio and Williams pitched good ball but the latter's support stood him in need. Despite the day was raw and cold over 2,000 saw the opening game, and although the game was devoid of any spectacular features, enthusiasm ran high.

Tigers Defeat Red Sox.
Detroit, May 14.—Edgar Willett, twirling the finest game pitched here this season, held Boston today to two hits—a triple and a single—and Detroit won 4 to 1. Cobb's hitting and base running helped produce Detroit's tallies in the fourth and sixth and Veach's double in the eighth. A wild pitch in the second inning gave the champions their only tally.

Darkness Ends Tie Game.
Cleveland, O., May 14.—Today's game was called today on account of darkness with the score 2 to 2. Fish or pitched a splendid game, allowing but five hits. Sixteen chances came to Shortstop Chapman, each of which he accepted without an error.

Quakers Lose to Pirates.
Philadelphia, May 14.—A losing streak which had reached seven straight, was broken by Pittsburgh today, Philadelphia being defeated 7 to 2. The visitors hit the deliveries of Mayer and Nelson hard and were in danger only once after the first inning, in which they scored three runs on three singles, a double and a pass.

Giants Defeat Cubs.
New York, May 14.—Wild pitching, hard hitting and frequent errors, by both sides produced a weird game at the Polo grounds today, New York defeating Chicago 14 to 11. The visitors got a long lead in the first inning, when they hit Marquard for two singles, a double and a home run, which with a pass yielded five runs.

Cheney went to pieces in the second half and filled the bases with non-out. Before Lavender retired the side the Giants scored four runs. Umpire Klem put Manager McGraw of New York and Shortstop Bridwell of Chicago off the field and fined Good and Clymer each $10.

Senators Beat Browns.
St. Louis, May 14.—Washington won the last game of the series from St. Louis here today 10 to 5. Walter Johnson started the game for the visitors and held St. Louis scoreless for three and one-third innings, making 56 consecutive scoreless innings. He has pitched against opposing teams.

Today's victory was Johnson's ninth straight win. Counting today's score made by St. Louis in the fourth inning only two runs have been made off him this season.

Reds Beat Dodgers.
Brooklyn, May 14.—Brooklyn's defense went to pieces today and Cincinnati walked off with the game that would have put the locals in first place. The score was 6 to 2. Brooklyn leading by 1 to 0 up to the sixth. Then Smith made a wild throw on a grounder by Bates and two hits and a fumble by Fisher let in two runs. Benton pitched a strong game, twice fanning Brooklyn batters with the bases full and two out.

PLAN SCHOOLBOYS MARATHON RACE
Chicago, May 15.—A marathon relay race extending from the national capital to Chicago will be the opening feature of the international athletic contests in Grand park from June 28 to July 6. It was announced last night. Schoolboy runners will carry a message from President Wilson to Mayor Harrison, who will be in the stadium in the park on the afternoon of June 28, when the carnival is formally opened.

The delivery of the document will entail the assistance of approximately seven hundred schoolboys, school superintendents along the route, mayors, the various municipalities and scores of automobile clubs.

The automobile route from Washington to Chicago is about 800 miles. The amateur running record for one mile is 4:15 2-5, but at least six minutes will be allowed the runners in this race.

Four or five days before the formal opening of the meet President Wilson will stand in front of the White House holding a proclamation addressed to the international athletic championships, Chicago. A schoolboy runner will receive it, dash onward for a mile and hand the proclamation, which will be in a waterproof carrier, to another boy, and so on the line will extend to Chicago.

SHAKEUP IN CREW.
Philadelphia, May 15.—The defeat of Pennsylvania in the triangular crew race on the Charles river on Monday resulted yesterday in another shakeup of the Red and Blue eight. Shoemaker, who stroked the freshmen crew last year, was shifted from bow on the varsity to stroke.

Captain Alexander, who was a stroke in the race against Harvard and Princeton, was sent to No. 7, while Maderia, who rowed No. 7, was moved to bow.

J. E. Meredith, the youngster who won high honors in the Olympic meet at Stockholm last summer, is keeping up the record he set then. SPECULATORS FOR FRANK CHANCE DAY

Chicago, May 15.—Ticket speculators are asking as much as $7 for reserved seats for "Frank Chance Day" at the American league baseball park Saturday. They demand that price for box seats on the lower floor and ask $5 for seats on the lower half of the upper deck.

It looked like a world's series crush when distribution of reserved seats began yesterday. Patrons who had expected a public sale were disappointed as all the reserved sections were exhausted before the advance applications were filled. The reserved section will seat 10,000.

President Comiskey guarantees that he can accommodate 40,000 people at the gate. Of this number of seats thirty thousand will remain unsold until the gates open Saturday morning.

Frank Leroy Chance, erstwhile "Peerless Leader" of the local National league team, entered Chicago today as an enemy at the head of the New York Americans. Notwithstanding this the sun burst through recent clouds and prospects were that "Frank Chance Day" next Saturday would see a record crowd at Comiskey park. Even now scalpers are getting double prices for the better seats, some of which they obtained despite the vigilance of the local management.

Chance stated that he would place the youthful Keating on the mound next Saturday and would play first base himself. Pitchers Warhop and McConnell are laid up at present, leaving the hurling staff rather inflexible.

WOMAN CHESS CHAMPION.
New York, May 15.—Negotiations are pending for another women's chess championship, match between Mrs. Natalie Nixdorf, a member of the Women's Chess club of New York, and Mrs. S. R. Burgess, of St. Louis, present holder of the title of American woman champion.

Mrs. Nixdorf has forwarded a for-game and in the attempt to make its fine points finer.

Realizing this, the college team has all too often "gone the professional one better" in the multiplicity and complications of its signals.

Don't make the same mistake. Don't have too many signals. Don't make them complicated.

Four signs for catcher to pitcher—four signs from pitcher to catcher—that is all you should need to bother with.

"Hit!" "The hit-and-run!" "A bunt!" (or sacrifice), and "Walt!" between bench and batter—these are sufficient.

"Steal!" a signal between the coach and the runner; "Will hit next ball!" a sign from batter to runner.

If you have a simple code for all these things, you have plenty for the average lad's game; and if you agree to obey signs and stick to it, other things being equal, you will seldom fail to vanquish the other clubs in your league or neighborhood, in just the same way that the Chicago Cubs, when at the height of their glory, conquered other clubs as good or better than they were, because of the perfection of their "inside baseball," engineered entirely by signs—St. Nicholas.

SIGNS AND THEIR PLACE IN BASEBALL
Minute, unseen telegraph wires run throughout your body. Doctors call them nerves. But they are as truly wires for the transmission of signals as are those of copper or of iron which are strung high on poles to carry the telegraph message or the telephone current. When you stand at the plate with your bat in your hands and see a fast ball coming, your brain telegraphs through the motor nerves to your arms, "Swing!"—and they do swing! If your muscles have obeyed your brain accurately, you hit the ball. If your brain has said, "Swing at the level of your waist," and the pitcher has pitched a low drop, then you get a strike called against you!

Baseball itself has nerves, and these invisible wires transmit messages. The signals they transmit are those "signs," as the league player calls them, by which one player notifies another what to do. A good part of a big league ball game is bound up in the giving of these signs or sending of these signals, and the attempt of the other side first to see and recognize these signs and then interpret them.

First, as to the fairness of this part of baseball. There is a rule and a penalty for the violation of that rule for almost every conceivable situation. There is nothing explicitly stated in the rules against the use of secret signs, or against the "stealing" of those signs by the other side, so long as signs are given or "stolen" without artificial aid. In other words, to watch a catcher carefully and discover what he is doing with his hands when he stoops down behind the bat and picks up a little dirt, is fair; to have some one watch him from the outfield with a pair of fieldglasses, and report by waving a handkerchief what he sees, is unfair. Any means of "stealing" signals which is open to either side and with no outside aid, is considered entirely legitimate in baseball. Wires, moving signs, shifting flags, fieldglasses, telegraph instruments, etc., are unfair, and, for many reasons, among which is a heavy financial penalty, are never resorted to any more in major leagues.

One of the many points of difference between a boys' team, a college team, and a major league team, is this matter of "signs."

The boys' team usually has two or at most three signs. The college team will often have them by the dozen, and the major league will have less than ten, but will have several different "sets" for the prescribed ten signals. The boys' team "doesn't bother."

The college team, seldom playing more than one or two games with any one opponent in a season, doesn't need multiple sets of signs, but often does overdo the signalling, apparently from pure joy in using the head as well as the hand and arm. The major league team gets along with as few signs as possible, but must be able to change those on the instant, if they are being read or "stolen" by the opposing players—St. Nicholas.
