SUFFRAGIST PASSES AWAY

Emily Davidson Succumbs to Injuries Received When She Attempts to Stop King's Horse in the Derby—First Martyr to Suffrage Cause

London, June 9.—Emily Wilding Davidson, the first martyr to the militant efforts of women to obtain the suffrage, died yesterday at the Epsom hospital as the result of a fracture of the skull sustained in an attempt to stop the king's horse during the running of the Derby on Wednesday last. Only the matron of the hospital and two nurses were present at the death. A few moments before her death two comrades draped the screen surrounding the cot with the fateful colors of the Women's Social and Political Union, which she wore when she made her sensational attempt to stop the horse in the English classic.

The woman turned a complete somersault, coming down across the legs of Jockey Jones, who had been left prone and unconscious after the fall of his mount. She struck on her head, and it was believed at first that her thick hair had saved her from more than concussion, but a later examination showed a fracture of the base of the skull. An operation was performed, but the case was hopeless.

Miss Davidson was noted for her daring feats in behalf of militancy. One of her earliest exploits was to barricade herself in a cell, and she was only subdued with the aid of a fire hose. On another occasion she cast herself down a flight of stairs in striking contest with a certain persistent invader of the house of commons, which she gained at one time by way of the airshaft. Her last exploit before the fatal Epsom accident was the assaulting of a Baptist clergyman in the belief that he was Chancellor Lloyd-George.

The funeral will be held Tuesday. The inquest will take place in London and many members of the Women's Political and Social Union will take a prominent part.

Speaking with great emotion at a Hyde park meeting yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Despard said she hoped that the cause of Miss Davidson would kindle a flame in the souls of men which would end the present awful situation. Miss McGowan, another suffragette leader, said Miss Davidson had given her life to call attention to the wrongs of women. She knew Miss Davidson had always held the view that a woman's life would have to be sacrificed before the women of the country would get justice.

In striking contest to the meetings of the Constitutional Union in Hyde park this afternoon, which met only with mild heckling, attempts of the W. S. P. U. speakers to address the crowd resulted in considerable disorder and a number of fights between the male bodyguards of the women were fished off their feet and the police had to escort them from the park. Several arrests were made.

The Daily Sketch has received a message from Christobel Pankhurst, who is now in Paris, in which she said:

"Miss Davidson died for women. She did this to call attention to their wrongs and win for them the vote. The government's refusal to grant the vote drove her to make her protest. The argument has not convinced Mr. Asquith of the seriousness of his position, but perhaps the woman's death will. Miss Davidson's memory will live in woman's heart and history for all time. There will be a public funeral in honor of this soldier who has fallen in the war for freedom."

FEDERALS TO WAIT AWHILE

Huerta's Troops Will Not Attempt Recapture of Matamoros Until They Can Stand 2,000 Men Against the Rebels

Mexico City, June 9.—The government will not attempt to recapture Matamoros immediately. It will organize as soon as possible a column of 2,000 men, but for the present the troops are not available. The general Vera Cruz, on which it is intended to send a force to Matamoros to dislodge the rebels, is still at Vera Cruz.

The war department denies that Zacatecas, capital of the state of the same name, has been taken by the rebels, but declares fighting still continues there. Private information, however, confirms the fall of the town and adds that the rebels are moving to the south against Aguas Calientes, and that Sattillo is in danger of attack. The rebels are practically in control of almost all the rural regions in the north. An area, including the states of Zacatecas, Durango and big sections of Chihuahua, Chihuahua, Sonora, Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas, is isolated, the only news received being an occasional courier or refugee.

The activity on both sides in the state of Michoacan resembles the game of hounds and hare, the rebels capturing towns only to evacuate them before pursuing federals. The monotony of the chase is broken at times by skirmishes which, according to official reports, the federals always win.

In Morelos the government has taken thousands of prisoners, some of them in fights, but most of them simple residents of the villages characterized as Zapata sympathizers. Most of these have been forced into the federal army, some have been sent to Quintana Roo territory, and the remainder have been shot. The Zapata adherents, however, still maintain their activity, but some of the bands have changed their field of operations to the neighboring state of Mexico. Yesterday they captured Tenancingo, an important mining town of that state.

In the northern Vera Cruz district, in which there are many American farmers and oil well workers, the rebels have made fresh advances, although the government professes to have received no news on this score.

It is reported that 100 more Americans are to be removed from Tampico this week on the steamer Mexicano, chartered by the Red Cross fund to carry refugees from Vera Cruz. The Mexicano, which was scheduled to sail Wednesday from Vera Cruz, has been held for additional refugees and sent from the capital and for the mobilization of other refugees at Tampico.

The railroads are now operating as far north as Aguas Calientes and San Luis Potosi. The line between San Luis Potosi and Tampico, over which the fuel oil is moved, was cut again Sunday.

Paris, June 9.—The Prix de Diane—the French Oaks—run at the Chantilly course yesterday, was won by an outsider, M. Callault's Moia, at 31 to 2, finished four lengths in the lead, with Comte de Saint Phalle's Cour Supreme, at 8 to 1, second. Herman B. Durry's Irish Lad Pilly, Banaber, at 23 to 2, was third. The race is a ten and a half furlong event for three-year-old fillies. It was valued at $25,000 this year.

WILL PLACE SMALL DUTY

Democrats Decide Again on Question of Putting Meats and Grains on Free List—Will Place All Livestock on the Charge List

Washington, June 9.—Revising their policy again, the Democratic leaders in the senate have decided to put a countervailing duty on imports of livestock and grains, fresh meats, flour and other grain products. These agricultural products are to be classed in the free list in accordance with the recent decision of a conference with President Wilson, but they will be free listed with a string to them. A countervailing duty means that the United States will charge on imports of cattle, sheep, hogs, wheat flour and such products a duty compensatory to any duty they may be charged by another country against America on her exports of the same commodities.

This decision has been reached in the finance sub-committee in charge of the agricultural schedule after repeated conferences with other members of the finance committee and Democratic senators particularly interested in agricultural raw materials and products. By the imposition of the countervailing duty, the party leaders now believe they will satisfy everybody, farmers, millers and manufacturers, since all are to be treated alike and the farmer can not claim

INVESTIGATE THE STRIKE

Sub-Committee Will Go to West Virginia Coal Fields Tomorrow—Operators in Fear of Further Trouble and Urge Long-Distance Query

Washington, June 9.—Confronted by a complicated situation, constantly growing more involved, the senate sub-committee named to investigate West Virginia coal strike conditions will leave for Charleston tonight. Examination of witnesses will begin Tuesday, with the appearance of scores of miners summoned by the agents of the United Mine Workers to testify in relation to charges that the workers had violated the law by West Virginia coal fields are kept in a state of virtual penance.

Senator Borah of Idaho, who has special charge of this branch of the investigation, will hear the first witnesses. Paul J. Paulsen of the United Mine Workers has been in West Virginia for nearly a week collecting witnesses, and it is expected that he will have on hand about 100 men to give their experiences in the West Virginia coal mines. They will be followed by witnesses testifying as to alleged interference with the postal service by mine guards, violations of the immigration laws, the shipment of farms and ammunition into the strike territory, and the "arrest, trial and conviction of citizens in violation of the constitution of laws."

The announcement of the indictment in the federal courts of officers of the United Mine Workers has complicated the strike situation since the senate adopted its resolution endorsing the investigation.

Intimations of mine operators who were here last week that the advent of the committee into the strike zone might inflame the miners and cause the cauldron of discontent to bubble over again did not frighten the investigators. However, if there is any appearance of a recurrence of riot and disorder, the committee may decide to leave the strike district and return to Washington for a "long-distance inquiry."

LOBBY PROBE AND TARIFF

Query Results in Most Rigid Investigation Senate Has Seen in Years—Develops a Fight Against Placing Wool and Sugar on the Free List

Washington, June 9.—Neither President Wilson nor the Democratic managers of the two branches of congress could estimate last night what effect the senate's remarkable "lobby investigation" would have upon the progress of the tariff bill, the currency reform plan, or other business of congress. In the six days of grilling to which he has subjected himself, the investigating committee has secured information and opened up channels of investigation that are likely to have an important influence upon the whole legislation in the future.

President Wilson's charge that an unusually large body of "lobbyists" was engaged in trying to influence changes in the tariff formed the basis for the inquiry now under way, but it has run far outside the scope of the tariff and has brought the senate committee up to the edge of what is expected to be one of the most searching inquiries ever conducted into the question of "legislative influence."

Progress on the tariff bill has not been hindered by the lobby investigation, but it is believed that before the reconstructed Underwood bill finally gets into the senate for debate the lobby investigation will have become a direct issue in the fight. None of the alleged "lobbyists" has been questioned as yet, but facts brought out by senators on the witness stand and the course the committee has determined upon for the future make it clear that congress will be urged to consider.

A registration law requiring every "lobbyist," legislative agent or other person who comes to Washington to influence himself or the interests he represents, the condemnation and possible prohibition of the present system of "manufacturing sentiment" in a state to influence that state's senators or representatives upon any certain legislative matter.

The chief influence of the lobby inquiry upon the present tariff revision probably will come in connection with the sugar and wool fights, around which will wage much of the forthcoming tariff debate in the senate. Well organized and extensive campaigns have been shown to exist on both sides of the sugar question, and systematic activity by the wool protective forces has been testified to by many senators.

President Wilson's friends in the senate are gathering material as the hearing progresses to support his free sugar stand by an effort to show that Louisiana, Hawaiian and Porto Rican growers and American beet sugar manufacturers have exhausted all possible means to arouse public sentiment against free sugar.

From the attitude of the members of the senate committee it is believed no recommendation will be made against senators voting on schedules of the tariff that might affect their own interests. Such a prohibition would affect many members on one or more items. Senators by the dozen have testified to ownership of farms and newspapers, and in lesser numbers to interests in lumber, coal, sugar, mining, oil, wool and manufacturing enterprises.

B. P. Newman of Newman Sheet Metal Works, doing business at Salt Lake City, has moved an equipped set of tinners' tools to Ogden and opened a shop at 281 24th street, opposite postoffice. Mr. Newman having secured the sheet metal work on the F. J. Kiesel new building now in course of erection, also other work in Ogden and Box Elder county deemed it wise to make this move.

In connection with the sheet metal business Henry James Newman, his son, will carry on a commission business, dealing in hay, grain and poultry supplies, etc. Mr. B. P. Newman is well known in our city, having once been a member of the Junction City Cornice Works, Newman Bros., proprietors. The building contractors will gladly welcome him back and renew old business relations. It will be remembered Mr. Newman was once famous with the old baseball team when Allen, Farley, Sam Brown, Greenwell, Will Brown, Wallace Boyle and the rest of the fans played good ball many years ago. The Newman family is pleased to meet their many friends.—Adv.
