DR. SHIELDS IS ARRESTED BY SHERIFF

As a result of a determined effort on the part of Sheriff T. A. DeVine to stop the sale of cocaine and other prohibited drugs in Ogden, two arrests have been made and the parties are in the county jail.
Last evening "Pete" Williams of North Ogden was arrested and this morning Dr. A. W. Shields, formerly of Huntsville, was apprehended and landed in jail.

Wong Long Quin, the Chinaman arrested a few days ago for selling the drug, furnished bail yesterday afternoon in the sum of $300 and was released from custody.

The sheriff says he has strong evidence against Williams and Shields, boys having purchased the drug from them. The case against Shields is exceptionally strong, the sheriff states. The doctor was caught by the sheriff furnishing a young man two marked coins with which to purchase the drug. The purchase was made and when Shields was searched at the county jail today one of the coins was found in his possession.

A druggist of the city, hearing of the arrest of Shields, hastened to advise the sheriff that the man had purchased the drug at his store, telling the druggist that he needed it for an operation that he was to perform.
Sheriff DeVine says he is not going to let up in his chase for men who are selling cocaine and that he will land them all in jail, if it is possible. He has a number of others in mind and expects to soon make more arrests.

BAND CONCERT IN CITY PARK SUNDAY

The A. F. of M. band of the city has arranged to give a concert on the City Hall square, Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30.

Some of the business men of the city are urging the boys to furnish a band concert every Sunday afternoon and it is said that an effort will be made to interest all the business people of the city in securing a fund to compensate the musicians. However, nothing definite has been done in this direction and there is no certainty as to whether the band will undertake to furnish musical programs regularly.

There will be forty musical instruments in the band Sunday. Following is the program:

- Washington Gray's March—C. H. Grafala.
- Enchantress Waltz—B. Lampe.
- Foot and Peasant—Fr. Suppe.
- Echoes of Saville—Marche Spanall.
- Prince of Pilsen—Selection.
- Waiting for the Robert E. Lee—Lewis Muir.
- Overture—Norma.
- March "Helena"—Louis Saville.

The last number is the composition of Mr. Saville, a member of the band and a resident of Ogden. It is said by musicians that it is a production of much merit.

Free Concert at the Hermitage every afternoon and Sunday evenings.

STEADMAN TO SERVE 25 DAYS

J. W. Steadman, one of the two arrested a week ago in the residence of Neis Peterson at 1905 Grant avenue, was arraigned in police court this morning on the charge of trespass to which he pleaded guilty. Judge Reeder imposed a sentence of 25 days.

Steadman claims that he found the house open and unoccupied when he stepped into the yard to get a drink. He and his partner, he said, were using it only for a lodging place and had not broken in feloniously.

J. A. Church, charged with riding a motorcycle at the rate of 25 miles an hour on Twenty-fifth street hill, pleaded guilty and was fined the minimum amount, $5.

Upon promising to remain sober during his residence in the city, A. Dykman, who had pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness, was given a suspended sentence. Dykman was arrested near Twenty-sixth street on Washington avenue at 5:30 o'clock last evening and drew quite a crowd because of the trouble he gave the officers before he was placed in the patrol wagon.

After listening to the statements of two persons from whom Frank Henderson had asked money, Judge Reeder took the case under advisement. According to the statements, Henderson was systematically begging from passing along several blocks before he was arrested by Sergeant Lallo.

Free Concert at the Hermitage every afternoon and Sunday evenings.

EMPLOYMENT AGENT IS IN COURT

E. G. Lallo, an employment agent, was arrested last night on a warrant and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, as a result of a complaint sworn to by John Glenn, a laborer.

A plea of not guilty was entered in police court this morning by Lallo's attorney and the date for the trial was set for tomorrow morning.

It is alleged by Glenn that he and Richard Wade paid to Lallo $1 each for shipment to a railroad camp at Roy. They got on the train, supposing that their transportation had been arranged for and found that they were compelled to pay their own way. When they reached Roy, Glenn claims there was no railroad camp there and he and Wade were compelled to walk to Ogden in the rain. When he and Wade asked for the return of their money, Lallo refused to give it to them and they complained to the police.

According to the police, Lallo has had similar trouble with other laborers.

Yesterday at high noon, at the home of the bride at Listowell, Canada, Dr. George G. Moyes of this city and Miss Ada Ross Grant, a charming and popular young lady of her home city, were married and the couple are now on their way to Ogden where they will permanently reside.

On the trip home Mr. and Mrs. Moyes will visit Buffalo, Albany, the Highlands on the Hudson and by boat they will go to New York where the honeymoon will be spent. Other cities of the east will be visited before they get home.

Dr. Moyes is a graduate of Northwestern college of Chicago and he has had two years experience in post graduate work in the Henroten hospital and the Chicago Polyclinic. He practiced in Idaho a short time after he came to Ogden, to establish a permanent practice of medicine. He is the son of William Moyes.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

WADE—The funeral of Evelyn M. Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Wade, was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Pleasant View meeting house, Bishop R. T. Rhees presiding. The religion class, of which Miss Wade was a member, attended in a body and each member placed a bouquet on the casket. Six members of the class acted as pallbearers and a class quartet sang "There Is No Death." Other numbers were given by the ward choir. The speakers were Bishop C. A. Hickenlooper, Thomas, Budgo, Eliza Rhees and Henry Jensen. Interment was in the North Ogden cemetery, Orson Hickenlooper dedicating the grave.

A MADE-TO-ORDER CITY.
Among the great cities of the world there is not one whose growth and development has been more remarkable than Berlin's. And there is no other city, not even St. Petersburg, the development of which has been guided by so much forethought and system. In the early part of the last century Berlin was not one among the great cities. In 1820 the city had only 202,000 population. In 1910, including the suburbs in the count, there was a population of 3,400,000. Berlin is typical of the New Germany. It is a city made largely in accord with blue-print plans.

The London World in recent comment upon the quick rise of Berlin to greatness remarks that Berlin dates from Sedan. It is declared that the modern German capital is the outward expression of a tumult of soul. The aim of those who have made the modern city, the London paper says, was to borrow all that is best from the other cities, in shops and palaces and improve on them and fuse them into something characteristically German of antique and modern ideas in man. It is claimed that the result is a failure to improve, a failure to fuse and a failure to Germanize. Berlin, says the British critic, conveys the sense of attempted ornamentation by people who do not understand the principles of ornamentation. And then this sour grapes commentator adds "that is why Americans like Berlin."

When the venom of the London World's discourse upon the marvelous growth of the German capital is extracted and the plain truth of the matter is told, the occasion of grievance will be recognized as based upon the fact that Berlin is a beautifully planned and artistically realized modern city, and not an incoherent jumble of antique and modern ideas in man. It is claimed that the result
