BIG DAY AT THE HERMITAGE GROUNDS The crowd that spent the day at the Hermitage yesterday was the largest in the history of the resort. Even the big Ogden day of last year was eclipsed.

Plenty of sports and amusements had been provided by the Elks and the shows were liberally patronized.

The athletic events began with the Purpletion, or race from the mouth of the canyon to the Hermitage grounds. Clifford Smith won in 15 minutes and Adrian Dalebout and Earl Freshaw finished second and third respectively.

The result of the other races were as follows: Girls race under 6 years, won by Mae Carver; girls race under 12 years, Eibel Rouse; girls' race under 16 years, W. Rouse; boys' race under 16 years, W. Smith; boys' race under 12 years, E. Wilson; boys' race under 10, E. Shreeve.

The race for slim ladies was won by Mrs. Storm. Mrs. Parker won the fat ladies' race.

The carnival grounds were visited by hundreds. Of the attractions, the Oriental show and the egg evader shared honors as the main drawing cards. Several cases of eggs were used by marksmen in their attempts to hit the colored doder.

The big event of the day was the wrestling match between Harbertson and McCarroll which was won by Harbertson who secured two straight falls. The first was in 31 minutes of fast wrestling and the second came easier in seven minutes.

A toe hold secured on the big fellow brought submission when McCarroll was unable to break the painful grip. A head and body hold did the work the second time.

Although McCarroll was much heavier and larger than his opponent, he was unable to use his strength to such good advantage as Harbertson who made good use of his past experience and knowledge of the game. There was a good crowd within the tent and the excitement of the match kept the fans on their feet throughout the exhibition.

Brig Harbertson and John Freshaw wrestled to a draw in the 10-minute preliminary.

AVIATOR DAVIS' NARROW ESCAPE Aurora, Ill., July 5.—Aviator O. T. Davis narrowly escaped death yesterday when against his better judgment he weakened before the jeers of a crowd and made a flight under unfavorable conditions. He was badly injured when his machine became unmanageable as he tried to make a landing and fell partly crushing him beneath it. He probably will recover.

Davis made the trip to Aurora from Chicago in an automobile which broke down, delaying him about three hours. He arrived and he decided not to go up. The crowd, which had been waiting impatiently, began to jeer. After ignoring the hoots and cat calls for a few minutes the aviator changed his mind.

He was returning from a trip into the country when he lost control of his machine. It made a few dips and crashed to earth. Davis was unconscious when picked up.

PIONEER MINING MAN SUMMONED BY DEATH Salt Lake, July 5.—John A. Kirby, one of the pioneer mining men of Utah and Nevada and a prominent citizen of Salt Lake for many years, died at the age of 58 years early yesterday morning at the home of his father, Isaac B. Kirby of Providence, R. I., his affliction having been tuberculosis.

About three months ago Mr. Kirby went east to avail himself of the Friedmann cure for his ailment, which he contracted in the mines and from which he had been a sufferer for several years. For a time of late it was thought that he was improving in health, but he suddenly grew worse

A Word to Utah Merchants Some of you complain that your townspeople are not giving you the support you are entitled to; that they patronize eastern mail order houses. You contend, and justly too, that the home merchant who is employing home people and building up the community should be patronized. But don't you think you are doing in a large way what the other fellow is doing in a small way when you push and sell eastern-made goods. Set him a good example by filling your shelves with Utah-made goods and advocate their use. Such a course will mean money in your pocket; it will mean that your patrons will have more money to spend with you; you will have less bad accounts. Utah-made goods are unsurpassed, and they should be given first consideration by dealer and consumer.
