

DISCLOSURE OF ROMANCE

Young William Weightman Meets an Iowa Girl at a Long Island Resort and Weds Her After a Few Days' Courtship

New York, Aug. 12.—An interesting romance was disclosed today in the announcement of the marriage of William Weightman, great grandson of William Weightman, the drug manufacturer of Philadelphia, who left a fortune of about $60,000,000 when he died a few years ago, and Miss Mary Healy Powers of Shelby, Ia. Young Weightman, who has just become of age, has spent the last seven years range riding in the Dakotas, but coming into a fortune of several millions as his portion of the original Weightman estate he decided to settle down to the life to which his wealth entitled him. On a visit east last month he met Miss Powers at Sag Harbor, Long Island. Yesterday the couple quietly drove away from their host's home in an automobile to New York, 100 miles away and were married in the "Little Church Around the Corner." They expect to start shortly on a tour around the world, returning in about two years.

FOUNDLING ON TRAIN

Denver, Colo., Aug. 11.—On an incoming Knights Templar special this afternoon, former Governor and Sir Knight Alva Adams discovered in one of the seats of the day coach an infant baby wrapped in immaculate linen, which had been left there by the mother of the child. On its breast was pinned the following note:

"To whom it may concern: I am leaving this child, a girl two weeks old, to the mercies of the passengers. If the man or woman who will adopt it will insert an ad in the Denver papers five years from now, I will send him or her $500."

The note was unsigned. Adams carried the infant back to the Pullman and when he announced his discovery every one of the sixty Sir Knights in the car wanted to adopt the foundling. Mrs. Raber, wife of the superintendent of the Pueblo Traction company, was finally given the baby by acclamation.

Then followed an unwritten ceremony in the Templar ritual and the little waif was christened Conclave Raber. The knights crossed swords from lines each side of the aisle and the little foundling was cheered to the echo as its foster mother passed beneath the flaming arch.

STEAL COCOANUTS; TROUBLE FOLLOWS

Washington, Aug. 11.—Fourteen hungry coconut sailors on the American steamship Hannibal came near causing a diplomatic incident, according to advices reaching the state department today, and it was only through the good offices of Commander George N. Hayward, in charge of the vessel, which is surveying the Atlantic approaches to the Panama canal, that a misunderstanding with the republic of Panama was averted. In conjunction with the charge d'affaires at Panama and Governor Arca of Colon, the naval officer explained the raid of his men on the coconut grove of the Panamanian.

"The explained incident and the courteous way in which the commander handled the matter," said the report today from the legation at Panama, "caused the complaint to be withdrawn."

The complainant, Senor Aguilar, was thoroughly indignant because of the action of some of the men of the Hannibal who were on shore leave. They coveted and took several of the planters best specimens of fruit. "Caramba," the planter ejaculated when he discovered his loss. "I will demand satisfaction!"

YOUNG STUDENT SEES THE COUNTRY

New York, Aug. 12.—A youth describing himself as John Davis of Seattle, a student in the University of Washington, says that he made a trip across the continent on the top of Pullman cars. He was arrested yesterday in Jersey City when found asleep on the roof of one of the cars attached to the Chicago express, fortunately the first time that he had been disturbed by the police. He said he wanted to see New York and was not to be stopped by lack of funds. The police learned that he had responsible relatives here and discharged him.

"NORTH-ENDERS" LOSE

Provo, Aug. 11.—Project Engineer J. L. Lytel has received advices from Washington that Director F. H. Newell of the reclamation service has refused to grant the application by the board of directors for the north-end stockholders of the Strawberry Water Users association to lease fifty second-feet of water for the system to be used in their canal, already constructed, this season, on the ground that he did not consider it advisable under present conditions. This is taken here to mean that the reclamation service officials are of the opinion, that with the lease of water granted, which is objected to by many if not most of the south-end stockholders, there would be less chance for the two factions of the water users to come together and agree on a plan for the completion of the distribution system of the project. Mr. Lytel expects Supervising Engineer L. C. Hill and Judge Morris Bean, head of the legal department of the reclamation service, here in latter part of the month for a conference with the water users, when it is hoped some agreement will be reached that will make available for use the water of the project, which is ready to be released through the tunnel. The crusaders were members of the Animals' Friends society, which is opposed to nosebags. After they had scattered nosebags and oats in the gutters of several streets, the women sought out Postmaster Arthur Fisk and protested against the long hours and hard work to which the horses in the postal service are subjected. Postmaster Fisk suggested that the society use its good offices to try to get ten more horses for the San Francisco postoffice.

"MISSED SHOT" KILLS Bingham, Aug. 11.—Mike Dipinto, aged 20, an Italian miner, was almost instantly killed at the Highland Boy mine at 2 o'clock this afternoon when he unwittingly drilled into a "missed shot" that had failed to explode when the previous blast was fired. The explosion of giant powder at close range mangled the victim so badly that he lived only a few minutes. Dipinto is survived by a widow and infant living in Italy, and a brother, Felix, who is employed in Bingham. The body will be shipped by Under-burial E. W. Hall to Salt Lake for burial tomorrow. CHAVEZ BEATS BRANNIGAN Denver, Colo., Aug. 11.—Benny Chavez of Trinidad, Colo., defeated Patsy Brannigan of Pittsburgh, Pa., here tonight before the State Athletic club after ten rounds. The decision was popular. The men are bantam-weights. There's no power in knowledge unless you know how to put on the harness and hitch up.
