FANTASTIC COIFFURES SHOW MORE FANTASTIC TRIMMING
Hats and hair styles aren't on any too comfortable terms these days. Hats are tilting sideways, backwards, and frontwards, even while the hair is rising upwards, higher and straighter than ever before. In fact, so antipodal are these two factors of headwear that women are having to solve the problem by dressing their hair unbecomingly for day time and street wear and reserving the ultra styles for carriages and receptions.

The chin to crown silhouette appeared most popular at one of the Cherut openings. This was achieved by swathing—no other word is adequate of description—broad bands of the hair conically about the head and finishing the cone far up top in a tiny roll with a single curl falling artistically from beneath it. On the left side it was bound by two large jeweled pins.
One of the latest fads seen here and strikingly bizarre is that of a strand of pearls caught at the top of this same chin to crown silhouette and dropping to the pearl trimming of the bodice, nestling there securely. Again, a black jet string is fastened on a wrist bracelet and caught in the high coil of the hairdress, appearing to pull down with it a huge soft puff of blonde hair.
Clair shell combs are also figuring among the novelties. They are more commonly known as crystal. Demitron shell bandeaux inlaid with stunning silver of grape designs are comfortably worn by women whose hair is neither dark nor light, but a cross between. Butterflies of colored spangles poised at almost every conceivable angle and to be had in all the pastel shades are as exquisitely delicate an ornament as any woman could possibly wish.

For the slightly powdered hair so much in vogue now a narrow band of jet and rhinestones is stunningly apparent. Diamond ends of huge hairpins set on a pivot make it simple to bend them to any shape of the head and are to be had at all of the exclusive shops.

The hair is still caught down low over the forehead and hiding the ears, so that for street wear the French twist is the only effect the hat seriously interferes with. Some women have found that after arranging the French twist high on the head they can catch it backwards with a hair clasp so they can put their hats on, wear them wherever they wish, and then, on removing them, loosen the clasp and the French twist goes back into place. It takes a kind of hair that is particularly firm to accomplish this and most women are finding they have to dispense with the Parisian twist except for evening wear.
The touring car coiffure is being adopted pretty generally here and for more use, too, than the occasions which its name signifies. Its chief characteristic is its extreme neatness and precision, being swathed closely about the head and inclosed in an invisible net.
Gauze is one of the novelty head styles. With the hair wrapped in the gauze a single thickness of it is allowed to veil the eyes, while at the side rising to tremendous heights at the back are black agrettes tipped in vivid scarlet.

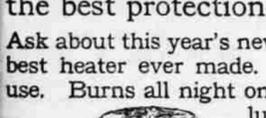

Pale golden brown is the fashionable color for hair. Handsome as it is when it is natural, it is quite as good looking when it is cleverly imitated. It is rather of a risk, however, dyeing gray hair to this shade. The gold tints are apt to fade and the hair to assume a reddish hue. Henna has been set aside almost entirely, for women have come to the conclusion that this red gold shade brings out the suggestion of age in a face quicker than any other tint.

THE MOTHER-IN-LAW
Recently a well known eastern judge declared that 75 per cent of the men and women who had been granted divorces would have gotten on happily enough together if it had not been for the mother-in-law.
"Sometimes it was the man's mother who made the trouble," he said, "and sometimes the woman's mother, but everywhere it was the mother-in-law who was the menace to domestic peace and happiness."
The trouble making mother-in-law sides with her own child instead of trying to make that child realize his or her course of responsibility and duty to others. She sympathizes with his or her injury and magnifies the other's faults until the breach widens into a divorce.

allowed to take up their permanent abode under a parental roof. There is no house in the world large enough it would seem, for "in-laws" to live together happily in.
When a woman's children marry, she should make a serious resolve never to interfere with the family affairs of her children nor give advice unless it is to hold them up to performing the obligations they have taken upon themselves.
A young wife is justified in resenting interference from her husband's mother. And the woman who backs up her son with undeserved sympathy fails in her duty as mother. For there is not a mother with a little son standing at her knee who cannot teach that boy to show reverence and respect to every woman. She can teach him to be generous, unselfish, tender, and affectionate. She can teach him to be the kind of husband that will make a woman happy.

NUT RECIPES
NUT GRAVY FOR POULTRY
To the gravy made and thickened for poultry, add a cup of boiled chestnuts, cut into little pieces. Let them stand in the gravy about five minutes before serving. This is good when rice is one of the vegetables offered with poultry.

Nut Bread
Dissolve a yeast cake in a half cup of boiling water, put with it one cup of hot milk and one cup of hot water, one tablespoon each of shortening and of sugar, add to it three cups of whole wheat flour and one of white flour—enough to make a soft dough. Knead for ten minutes, set to rise until it has grown twice its original bulk, put with a cup of chopped English walnut kernels, form into small loaves, let rise an hour longer, or until quite puffy, and bake.

Nut Sandwiches.
Chop the kernels of English walnuts, butternuts, pecans, or hickory nuts, and to every tablespoon of these allow half as much cream cheese. Season to taste with salt, soften with cream until it will spread easily, and use with thin slices of bread or of crisply toasted and buttered toast. If the latter, serve hot.

Nut and English Cheese Sandwiches.
Chop English walnuts fine; put with them an equal quantity of grated English cheese; moisten with thick cream or butter to a consistency which will spread, season to taste and spread on thin slices of bread or of crisply toasted and buttered toast. If the latter, serve hot.

Nut and Date Sandwiches.
Stone and skin dates, chop them fine, add half as large a quantity of minced nuts, work them to a paste with butter and spread on white or brown bread.

Nut and Fig Sandwiches.
Use figs instead of dates and proceed as in the recipe for nut and date sandwiches.

Salted Nut Sandwiches.
Chop salted nuts of any kind fine, mix with half as much cream cheese, moisten with cream or creamed butter until it will spread easily, and put on thin slices of white or whole wheat bread.

ARKANSAS WOMAN IS A FIRE FIGHTER

The fire drill in the schools of Arkansas is a result of the work being done in city schools of Little Rock by Miss McCabe, vice-president for Arkansas of the National Fire Prevention association. Miss McCabe is doing much more than this in her enthusiasm for fire prevention. She has visited a number of the cities and held mass meetings in which she addressed the property owners, advising them to abandon the shing roof, and as far as possible the inflammable buildings, even in residence districts.

NARROW ESCAPE OF MRS. LINDQUIST

Mrs. W. E. Lindquist of 3318 Washington avenue, escaped being struck by a carrier motorcycle yesterday and probably being seriously injured only because D. E. Cochrane, who was riding in the carrier, pushed Mrs. Lindquist away as the machine bore down upon her. As it was, she was slightly injured by her forcible fall to the sidewalk.

The motor was driven by W. A. Taylor who was demonstrating the machine to Cochrane. Cochrane rode in the package carrier in front. Taylor was running the machine along Washington avenue and at Twenty-eighth street shut off the power to turn down the street. Mrs. Lindquist was hidden by a passing automobile in passing which Taylor put on power and bore down upon the women whom he did not see. Cochrane retained his presence of mind and pushed Mrs. Lindquist to one side.

WOMEN TO SWOOP ON WHITE HOUSE

Washington, Oct. 29.—Women from President Wilson's own state will swoop down on the White House November 16, it was announced today, to discuss "votes for women" with the president. Suffragists from New Jersey are coming then to labor with their senators and congressmen in support of a constitutional amendment providing for universal suffrage. Leaders in the national suffrage headquarters here are seeking to arrange for the reception of the delegation at the White House. The visiting party will include many prominent women from the president's state several of whom are known to him.

POWER SUPPLY CUT OFF
Park City, Oct. 28.—Park City was in total darkness last evening for a period of about two hours when one of the main wires of the Utah Light & Power company was blown down and crossed one of the wires of the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph company, causing a short circuit. The local picture shows had to close down after a first alarm and the residences and business houses were lighted with candles and oil lamps.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the elimination becomes slow and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.
When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.
Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. (Advertisement.)
