Seaside Attire Calls for Variety—Black and White Serge Suit With White Straw Hat Very Attractive—Parasols of White Taffeta With Colored Borders—Gloves of Brilliant Colors Worn—How to Make a Gladstone Collar—Artificial Fruits Used Extensively on Evening Gowns and Hats—Milk and Its Food Value.

SEASIDE ATTIRE.

The woman who spends the hot summer months at the shore must provide an entirely different wardrobe from the woman who migrates to the mountains or country.

The shore calls for a variety of smart promenading costumes, for a great amount of the time is spent on the beach. Paris dictates that striped serge, white homespun or serge, heavy white shantung silk or chambray-colored cloth be selected for the walking costumes for seashore wear. The striped serge is varied in design, from narrow hairlines to broad awning stripes. Costumes of the latter are rather daring if worn in the city, but at the shore are extremely smart. One attractive model is of awning-striped serge in tones of flamingo red and white. It is fashioned with a long Dutch tunic, which is side pleated, falling in straight lines over a foundation of plain white serge. The short jacket of the plan serge, trimmed with the striped material, is fastened in front with a single button of flamingo-red porcelain. A broad girle of red silk, completes the costume.

Another striking suit is fashioned of striped black-and-white serge. A broad patent-leather belt is worn with this mode, and a hat of white straw trimmed with black patent leather belt is worn with this mode, and a hat of white straw trimmed with black patent leather and lacquered wings.

The all-white hat is always in good taste for seashore wear, and the most becoming models are of corded white silk with a picot edge.

Parasols of white taffeta with borders in vivid coloring are in vogue. Some of these have long handles tipped with porcelain or enamel to correspond with the border.

Gloves of brilliant colors are worn with costumes of striped materials or with the all-white costume. Usually the girles are of the same color.

Buckskin shoes with white soles and heels are the latest offering of the shoe manufacturers. Other models have heels and borders about the top of leather in a vivid tone. Red, orange, green and yellow are the favored colors.

HOW TO MAKE A GLADSTONE COLLAR

The big neckwear novelty is the Gladstone collar, high in back and pointed over the ears. It may be easily made by using a fine organza handkerchief and a half yard of fine wire boning.

Put a dot in the center of the handkerchief with a lead pencil and cut on a straight line from two corners of the handkerchief so that they meet at the center dot; then cut a small semi-circle with the former dot as center, making a place for the collar to fit the neck snugly. Sew strips of wire collar supporters from the neck circle diagonally across to both corners of the back and bend so that the collar stands up and out. The raw cut front may be neatly hemmed or bound with a bias strip of the same material.

Little artificial fruits are used extensively this season. A certain red and yellow silk apple is especially popular and may be used to trim hats or as corsage and in many instances has been used in place of flower trimming on evening gowns.

Artistic as they are, they may be made with little difficulty by the girl who wishes to look chic.

Roll small bits of cotton wadding into a hard ball, and cover over with a small circle of brightly colored silk—red and green and yellow are all appropriate. Tie together with a strong thread and cut away all surplus material. With a coarse needle, thread in black darning cotton, make a large French knot on the top of the apple and draw the needle through to the other side. Pull tightly so as to make a slight indentation where the knot lies and fasten with a few strong stitches.

They may be bunched together for hat trimming or branched along a strip of narrow ribbon when used on evening gowns.

MILK AS A FOOD.

The food value of milk, though a hackneyed topic, is worth a moment's consideration, writes D. S. Burch in Farm and Fireside. Though it is a liquid, milk contains more dry matter than some solids. Skeptics can surprise themselves some dull day by putting a pan of milk in the inner part of a double boiler, evaporating it and observing the dry matter it contains. The figures that follow are interesting, too.

Foods	dry matter	energy
Milk	12.5	310
Mushrooms	11.9	185
Oysters	11.7	225
Spinach	7.7	95
Tomatoes	5.7	100

Notice that milk contains more food solids and units of energy than any article in the list. Milk also is more nourishing than tea, coffee or the common soups as ordinarily made. It also has this advantage, that practically all of its solid matter is digested. It really contains no waste.

A quart of milk weighs about 2.1 pounds, which makes milk almost always cost less than five cents a pound, the cheapest of all common foods except flour and grain products. Cheap cuts of meats and starchy vegetables such as potatoes. All these products require preparation and cooking, which add to their original cost and should be considered in preparing foods.

How to Keep Face Young and Attractive

The way to ward off old age is not to fear it, not to allow one's self to be oppressed by the dread of advancing years. The only legitimate preventive and avoid trying experiments with preparations not endorsed by physicians. An entirely safe and effective way to keep the complexion young-looking and beautiful is to apply ordinary mercurochrome wax at night under a like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. This gradually absorbs the withered, faded cuticle which is replaced by the more youthful, pink-tinted under-skin. One ounce of this wax, replaced by the more youthful, pink-tinted under-skin. One ounce of this wax, replaced by the more youthful, pink-tinted under-skin.

FEMALE ANARCHIST ON HUNGER STRIKE

Rebecca Edelson.

Rebecca Edelson, the young female anarchist who is doing time at the Blackwell's Island workhouse in New York city for several days. She says she would rather starve to death than serve three months for inciting to riot in a speech during the anti-Rockefeller demonstrations. If she continues her hunger strike she will be forcibly fed.

son men and women are not Christians is that there seems to be a spirit of unbelief among us. While we all believe that Jesus was a good man and an example of all that is high, some say He was not the Son of God. Until you recognize the divinity of Jesus you will not know the joy and the happiness of His presence.

"Then again we have those with us, homeless and friendless, who feel that no one cares for them, so they drift on and on. You and I can only reach them by showing them, not by our preaching and praying, but by our lives, by a kind word, by a hearty hand shake, by ministering to them in their sickness and sorrow, that we have something that they have not."

LABORER INJURED

Bingham, July 26.—Sam DeCampo, a laborer employed by the Utah Apex Mine company, was severely injured in the mine this afternoon. One of the motors that are used to haul the ore out of the mine passed over his body. It is believed that he will recover. The accident is said to have been caused by the motor men of two ore cars misunderstanding the signals. An empty car entering the mine collided with a loaded one coming out. DeCampo, riding on one of the cars, was knocked under the empty car, which passed over his body. Severely crushed and bruised, he was removed to his home at the Highland Box, where he was treated by the company physician.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Salt Lake, July 27.—Siegel, a well-known Salt Lake jeweler, and Evelyn Fitzgerald, a dancer, who has been appearing at the Pantages theater, are in the Groves Latter-day Saints' hospital, suffering from serious injuries received in an automobile accident at Eleventh South and Main streets at 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. Siegel is suffering from two fractured legs, a possible fracture of the arm, several minor bruises and possible internal injuries. The young actress, who was his companion at the time of the accident, is suffering from a broken leg and a number of bruises.

After the performance at the Pantages theater Saturday evening, Miss Fitzgerald, who is known off the stage as Mrs. Evelyn Crow, went automobile driving. During the course of the night the two visited Casa Contenta on Twelfth South street, where they remained several hours. Returning to Salt Lake Mr. Siegel and his companion left Casa Contenta shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday morning in Mr. Siegel's small, but fast, roadster.

Crashes into a Tree. At Eleventh South and Main streets, while going at a rapid rate of speed the automobile struck an elevation in the road. The machine turned at right angles and before it was possible to right it the car had crashed into a big tree at the roadside.

The force of the impact threw Miss Fitzgerald from the machine into a ditch at the side of the road. In the fall her right leg was broken. Mr. Siegel was dashed with terrific force against the steering wheel of the machine. Both legs were fractured and he was so seriously bruised about the chest as to suggest the probability of internal injuries. Flying glass from the shattered windshield struck Siegel's head and face in several places. The front of the car was telescoped against the tree, and the steering wheel broke off in Siegel's hands.

The noise of the crash of the automobile into the tree was heard by several persons dwelling in the vicinity. E. M. Shea, 1671 South Main street, was the first to appear on the scene. He observed at once the seriousness of the accident and notified the police.

When the rescuers arrived Miss Fitzgerald was lying on the ground, morning. Siegel was still seated at the steering wheel which had been broken from its place. Police Officers McMartin and Killain and Driver Moore were sent to the scene of the accident and removed the injured persons to the emergency hospital at the police station, where they were attended by Dr. H. B. Sprague. Later they were removed to the Groves Latter-day Saints' hospital.

At the hospital last night Siegel said that the steering gear of the machine broke when he struck the Eleventh South street obstruction and that he was then unable to control its course. Mr. Siegel said that Miss Fitzgerald and her sister formerly lived in Salt Lake and that he had known them for a long time.

WARM WEATHER IS WEEK'S FORECAST

Washington, July 26.—Warm and generally fair weather over the whole country was forecast tonight by the weather bureau for the first half of the coming week.

"The next disturbance of importance to cross the country," said the bureau, "will appear in the far west Monday or Tuesday and move eastward crossing the great central valleys Wednesday or Thursday and the eastern states near the end of the week."

"This disturbance will be attended by local showers and thunderstorms and be followed by a change to cooler weather in the northern and central states. There are no indications at this time of a disturbance in the West Indies."

HINDUS NOT WANTED IN THE NORTHWEST

Salt Lake, July 27.—That East Indians are undesirable citizens and should not be allowed to land at Vancouver, B. C., at any time, is the feeling of the people of that city, according to W. T. Hirsten, who is a guest of the Hotel Utah.

Mr. Hirsten said that the people of Vancouver had taken a decided stand against the importation of Hindus to Canada, and that so far they had been backed up by the government. The 350 Hindus who arrived at Vancouver a short time ago were not allowed to land and were later provided by the citizens of the city with provisions enough to last them until they reached their homes. Mr. Hirsten said that the people of Canada, at least the western part of it, had decided that it should be a "white man's country," and that from the expressions of the people they intended to live up to this plan. The people of British Columbia do not want a cheap class of labor—such as the Hindus furnish. The Hindus will not only work for less than a white man, but they will save money and send it to their native land, where a white man with a family would starve.

Pacific, at least in the western part of the dominion, can be operated with oil instead of coal."

"Speaking of the opening of the Panama canal, Mr. Hirsten said: "It will mean so much for the western part of the United States and British Columbia that few of us realize its full extent. One of the things that it will mean will be that the people of northern Europe those from the countries that have done so much to develop the United States and Canada, will have an opportunity of reaching the great possibilities of the western world at a cheaper rate than ever before. It also will mean a reduction in some of the freight rates from the old world to the western coast, and, I may say, the west is already awakening to the opportunities it will have."

"That the building of a government railroad in Alaska will mean much to the United States, and especially to the northwest, is the opinion of Mr. Hirsten, who spent three years in Alaska. "It is a most wonderful country, the possibilities of which no man knows," he said.

CATTLE THIEVES BUSY

Salmon, Idaho, July 26.—Sheriff Stroud has returned from the upper Lemhi valley, where he found evidence that cattle thieves have been operating on a large scale. About seventy-five stolen cattle were found in a corral up a creek eighteen miles from Leadore. Six miles from the top of the range there is a basin with good feed and water, and it was in this place that the thieves were caught. The cattle were sent to the county jail, but some were found in the basin where they had gone in hopes of capturing William T. Powers, who is the self-confessed goldpuncher who on July 4, 1912, took from Carl Valentine, a banker of this city, about $2000 in jewels and shot him so that his leg had to be amputated. The officers first went to Superior, Wis., where they consulted with the wife of Powers and with her father, who gave them evidence of the confession made by Powers after he had been injured in a railroad wreck. Powers is serving a fifteen years sentence in Iowa for forgery, but had applied for parole. The officers hoped to capture him but his attorneys withdrew the petition for parole.

RETURN WITHOUT PRISONER

Pocatello, Idaho, July 26.—Sheriff Lowry and County Attorney C. Douglas Smith returned yesterday from Des Moines, Iowa, where they had gone in hopes of capturing William T. Powers, who is the self-confessed goldpuncher who on July 4, 1912, took from Carl Valentine, a banker of this city, about $2000 in jewels and shot him so that his leg had to be amputated. The officers first went to Superior, Wis., where they consulted with the wife of Powers and with her father, who gave them evidence of the confession made by Powers after he had been injured in a railroad wreck. Powers is serving a fifteen years sentence in Iowa for forgery, but had applied for parole. The officers hoped to capture him but his attorneys withdrew the petition for parole.

CHARGED WITH ABDUCTION

Salmon, Idaho, July 26.—George Reader alias George Allen, is in the county jail charged with the abduction of Clara Warren, a girl 14 years of age. She is the adopted daughter of John Warren who lives near Leadore. Reader had been working for Warren, who had discharged the young man on account of his attention to the girl, the parents objecting on account of her youth. The young couple went to a picnic and were absent for several days, being finally located in a cabin in the mountains. Word was sent to the sheriff, who went up and arrested the young man and brought him to Salmon.

JUDGE G. F. GOODWIN ON CHRISTIANITY

Salt Lake, July 27.—The services at the First Methodist church last night were devoted to short talks on "Why I am a Christian." Judge George F. Goodwin, one of the speakers, said in part:

"The answer to the question, 'Why I am a Christian,' involves the answer to two questions—First, Why did I become a Christian? and second, Why did I remain a Christian? The greatest influence that caused me to become a Christian was the teaching and example of a god-like father who preached the gospel for more than forty years, and the greatest and saintly influence of my mother in the home. My experience as a lawyer led me to believe not only in the historical Christ, but that He was the divine Son of God. As I came to meet the problems of life I realized that unless I could rely on some power greater than myself and more heroic than I was, I was likely to lose the great purpose of life. When I had children of my own I wanted to leave them something of the priceless treasure of a faith in God. If there was no other reason I would be a Christian because of my children."

"My reasons for being a Christian are summed up by Lyman Abbott in the following quotation: 'I believe evil, disease, sin and death are awful realities. I believe that this world is a field of battle; real not when battle. As a boy I enlisted for life with the hope that when my enlistment ended I might be able to say, 'I have fought a good fight.' I believe Jesus Christ came into this world to lead this campaign for truth against real error, for purity against real vice, for love against real selfishness and malice. I believe that under his leadership the eventual victory is not doubtful, but I have never found that the way to win a victory is to under-estimate the forces of the enemy.'"

Major J. H. Berry of the Volunteers of America said in part: "Dr. John Balton Shaw once said, 'I like the gospel of money because it is the gospel of second chance.' I believe in the gospel of second chance or third chance or fourth chance. There are a great many people in the world today who have never had the first chance. Another rea-
