MINISTER IS JUDGE OF THE MUNICIPAL COURT

H. J. Rice and wife of Emporia, Kansas, are visiting with their son and daughter in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rice, of the Virginia. Mr. Rice is the pastor of the First Congregational church of Emporia, and is also the judge of the municipal court of that city. He visited Chief of Police Norton today and talked over police court matters for an hour or more. In his home town Judge Rice is trying out a new system for meeting the ends of justice, and is making his court an educational rather than a penal institution. His system is to use persuasive methods to correct the inexperienced wrong-doer, instead of imposing fines or sentences of imprisonment. With the hardened offenders, the latter method is of necessity pursued. Mr. and Mrs. Rice have been in Ogden for nearly a week and have an excellent opinion of the city and community. They expect to remain in Utah until the latter part of the month.

In tomorrow's game it is expected the opposing pitchers will be Rustenhaven for Helena and Couch for Ogden.

SONG WRITTEN BY AN OGDEN MAN IS PUBLISHED

Fred C. Nalsbitt and W. B. Stowell of Ogden have recently collaborated a sentimental song, which is just off the press. The music was composed by Mr. Stowell and the words by Mr. Nalsbitt and the song is one of several that the two composers now have on the market, and which have been well received.

The title of the song is "I Never Knew I Loved You Until You Said Goodbye." The words and melody fit well together and an unusual feature of the song is that both verse and chorus are pleasing.

The words are as follows: I never knew I loved you until you said goodbye; I never dreamed how dear you were to me. I will miss you every moment, every moment till I die, And your image in my heart will ever be.

CHORUS: In my dreams I see you near me, but the vision fades away. My longings for you, darling, are in vain, But my heart it seems to tell me that there'll come a time some day, You'll love me and we'll never part again.

Second Verse— I never knew I loved you until you said goodbye, And told me to forget the happy past. The hours we spent together in the woodland, you and I, I know will make me love you till the last.

THEY WERE VICTIMS OF YELLOWSTONE HOLDUP

On their way home to Paterson, New Jersey, from a pleasure trip to the Yellowstone Park, U. S. Hancy and wife are visiting with their daughter, Mrs. D. L. Wheeler of this city. They will remain in Ogden a number of weeks before continuing their journey home. Mr. and Mrs. Hancy had the thrilling experience of being in the hold-up near the Old Faithful Inn July 29, in the park, when a bandit robbed about 170 people of $1600, taking nothing but cash, except where the tourists threw their purses containing jewelry as well as cash to the robber at his command. Mr. Hancy states that he saw only one bandit, while others of the party declared that there were two. He says that the fellow told the pleasure seekers at the outset that all he wanted was cash and that they need not hand out their jewelry.

There were sixteen coaches filled with tourists, when the bandit ordered all the passengers to line up along the bluff and get their cash ready to deliver. The fellow wore a black mask over his face and carried an ugly looking revolver. Mr. Hancy said that some of the party thought it was a joke in the beginning of the episode but that he did not. He felt certain that the hold-up was genuine from the beginning and he had no hesitancy in obeying the command of the bandit.

However, Mr. Hancy played a little sharp practice on the bandit who was busy collecting from the other passengers. He took the most of his money and placed it inside his stocking. He also gave his wife, leaving only a $2 bill in the purse, which he threw out to the bandit. After giving the fellow the purse, Mr. Hancy asked him if he would return it, to which the bandit replied that he would be pleased to accommodate him, and he took the $2 out and threw the pocketbook back to Mr. Hancy.

It was a startling and yet an amusing experience, Mr. and Mrs. Hancy say. Startling to face an ugly revolver in the hands of a masked bandit and amusing to see how the victims of the holdup sought to hide their valuables. They say that everybody began at once to hide things when the bandit did not have his eye on them and before the affair was over diamonds and other jewels were concealed in heavy heads of hair, in the mouths, under coach seats, in shoes and stockings and in every other possible place of concealment. Mr. Hancy states that the holdup lasted only a short time and that all were so relieved when the bandit made his departure that none took pains to learn the direction he took.

CALIFORNIANS ARE PLEASED WITH THIS CITY

General Sherman of Los Angeles and George W. Scott, superintendent of the Electric Railways of San Francisco, passed an hour in Ogden this morning. Both men are personal friends of Vice President and General Manager E. E. Calvin of the Oregon Short Line. They arrived in Ogden at 6:30 o'clock and departed for San Francisco on Pacific Limited, at 7:30. While here they breakfasted at the Potter cafe and walked about a portion of the business district of the city. In a conversation with Depot Master John Shields, they expressed themselves as having been highly pleased with their tour of the national park and with the courtesies extended to them by both the park employees and those of the Oregon Short Line. They were also much taken with the beautiful and clean city of Ogden, they said, so much so, in fact, that they would return here in the near future for a pleasure trip and to thoroughly investigate conditions in the city.

BEACRAFT GARAGE HAS NEW MANAGER

Through a recent arrangement with L. H. Beecraft, J. W. Nixon has taken a financial interest in the Beecraft garage on Grant avenue and will now act as manager of that branch of the Beecraft automobile and sporting goods interests. This change was made yesterday and was decided on by Mr. Beecraft, an account of his other business affairs demanding so much of his attention that he could not devote the time to the garage management that was necessary, as that part of his business has also reached large proportions.

With the installation of Mr. Nixon, who is an experienced automobile mechanic, as well as a promising business man, as manager, the supply and repair departments of the garage will be enlarged so that the public can be served to the best advantage. A special feature in connection with the enlargement of the supply department will be the putting in of a complete line of "Portage" tires.

STOCK MARKETS MARKING TIME

New York, Aug. 1.—With the stock and commodity markets still closed, the financial district marked time today, while word was awaited of the decision of the European powers for peace or war. To all outward appearances, Wall street was almost busily engaged as under normal conditions. At the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., representatives of some of the largest financial institutions in New York and Philadelphia, met today. The meeting was behind closed doors. It is understood that no definite time for the reopening of exchanges was agreed on. A meeting of the newly formed association of partners of stock exchange firms was held and a statement was made urging all exchange members not to engage in outside dealings in securities.

Unwise to Reopen. It was felt that it would be unwise to reopen the market until the London board, at least, should take up business again. Otherwise New York would again be placed in the position of bearing the financial burdens of the world.

Further engagements of gold were announced today. London took $60,000 and Canada $3,500,000. The extent to which the gold export movement would continue was one of the most important questions of the financial district at this juncture. Gold shipments to Europe are now so expensive and hazardous that it was the general opinion that the movement would be restricted henceforth.

Grain Market Normal. Chicago, Aug. 1.—For the first time since the declaration of war by Austria, Chicago wheat market opened in a normal way. First transactions showed a change of not to exceed 1 cent compared with the night before. September wheat was down three-eighths of a cent and December one cent. September, which closed at $2.38 3/4 last night, sold at $2c at the outset today, and December wheat, which closed at $1.12c last night, was bought at 90 1/2c at the start this morning.

Reports that foreign built ships would be allowed to take American registry, and that France, Germany, Austria and Italy would remove the import duties on wheat led to considerable buying. The close was firm, 1-4 to 1 1/4c above last night. The bullish character of the Oklahoma state report giving the crop condition as 52, compared with $2 a year ago, helped to sustain the advance, and so also did the prospect of a railroad strike west. The close was strong with gains of 1 1/2 to 3 1/2c net.

Business From Wheat to Corn. Chicago, Aug. 1.—Business on the wheat market today varied away from wheat and corn. It was decided that for the time being the wiser course was to turn attention as far as practicable to a commodity depending chiefly on domestic conditions and not upon the uncertainties of European politics.

The wheat market was only fairly active today. After having kept in 2c in either direction from last night's level, the market closed firm from 1-4 to 1 1/4c net advance. Corn ruled strong and active with an upward tendency all day. Drought damage and the threatened strike on the railroads west of Chicago was the cause. The net advance in corn for the day was 1 1/2 to 3 1/2c a bushel.

DEAD HORSE CAUSE OF MUCH EXCITEMENT

A somewhat tangled series of circumstances, which almost resulted in a catastrophe, caused considerable excitement at the Hermitage last night. As the story runs, Harry Gavros of Ogden was driving down the canyon in a single rig, when his horse took sick and dropped dead, at a point a short distance west of the Hermitage. It was left lying in the road and Gavros was the buggy towed to the city, by another traveller.

Francis Brown of North Ogden, with his wife and three children came up the canyon in a surrey. Brown's horse became frightened and backed the surrey down the embankment to the edge of the river. Mr. Brown was thrown out, but his wife and children managed to stay in until they were rescued from their perilous position by Chester P. Nelson and members of his family, who arrived at the psychological moment in an automobile.

He will continue his work this summer, healing the sick, and giving a lecture each day at the Parish house.

WAR NEWS

"The whole work of Emperor William has been devoted to the maintenance of peace. To the last hour he has worked for peace in Europe and he is still working for it. Should all his efforts prove vain and should the sword be forced into our hands, we will take the field with a clear conscience in the knowledge that we did not seek war. We shall then wage war for our existence and for the national honor to the last drop of our blood.

"In the gravity of this hour, I remind you of the words of Prince Frederick Charles to the men of Brandenburg: "Let your hearts beat for God and your fists on the enemy."

Enthusiastic cheers and the singing of the National Anthem greeted the close of the imperial chancellor's speech.

Ambassador Receives Note. Paris, Aug. 1.—The German Ambassador to France had packed and was ready to leave at 1 o'clock this afternoon when a dispatch reached him from Berlin making some sort of suggestion, which the French government took into consideration and about which it exchanged views with London and St. Petersburg.

Rome, Aug. 1.—The Messenger today says that the German ambassador informed the Italian government that Germany has sent simultaneous ultimatums to Russia and France.

The German government in its ultimatum to Russia asked her to suspend her mobilization within 12 hours. In the demand sent by Germany to France, the government at Berlin requires France to inform it within 18 hours whether, in case of war between Germany and Russia, France would remain neutral.

According to the Messenger, during the interview which followed between the Marquis Di San Giuliano and Premier Salandra, the two Italian statesmen were in complete agreement as to the line of conduct to be pursued by Italy in the present crisis.

NATIONAL PENNY BANK CLOSSES

London, Aug. 1.—The National Penny bank, an institution with many branches where small deposits are received, was closed today. In announcing their decision to close the doors, the directors said that owing to the serious financial situation at home and abroad, which has caused all stock exchange securities to suffer enormous depreciations so that they cannot be easily realized on, and because of the further difficulty in obtaining gold coins, the directors feel compelled, in the interest of depositors, to suspend business for a time.

M'REYNOLDS FOR SUPREME COURT

Washington, Aug. 1.—Senate leaders expect to see Attorney General McReynolds elected to the supreme court. At the White house the only available statement was that he was foremost in President Wilson's consideration.
