Criticism of Fashion—Dressmakers Showing Very Different Models—Colored Damask Cloths and Napkins in Pale Shades Again in Fashion—Furbishing Up Ready-made Lingerie—Cheap Lingerie May be Made—Lovely—Hairpin Case for the Traveler—Cretonne Novelties for the Table.

CRITICISM OF FASHION.

A great deal of drastic criticism is being made just now apropos of the feminine toilette. If the truth must be told, it is partly—though only partly—merited, and the crisis caused by the criticism has had the curious and significant effect that fashion is following no definite direction. It tends to acidness in the general tendency of fashion is not more clearly defined at such an advanced date in the season.

The dressmakers all seem to have created quite different models, one from the other. This is not by any means a bad thing because it certainly has the advantage of avoiding uniformity and banality.

In the showrooms of some of them dresses may be seen which remain very narrow at the foot, while preserving the enlarged line of the bodice. At other houses skirts are shown very narrow at the knee line and finished by shaped flounces whose width undulates round the feet. The judgment and taste of well-dressed smart women in showing their preferences by the choice of their toilettes will surely decide the dominating tendency of the fashion and this will be seen in a very few days more.

It is much to be hoped that whichever way fashion turns she will succeed in suppressing the caricatures which sometimes ensue the critics' censure. As a matter of fact, there are certain fixed rules of good taste and harmony which no well-dressed woman can ignore and which should always influence the dressmakers and milliners, for it is quite disastrous for the renown of French taste that certain caricatures of "tires Parisiennes" silhouettes should have so much foundation in reality.

COLORED DAMASK POPULAR.

Damask cloths in pale colors with napkins to correspond are again coming into vogue for the luncheon table, and while colored linen is impossible for the dinner table, it is very attractive for less formal occasions and pretty sets in pale yellow, green, blue or pink are appearing in the dower chests of brides-to-be.

Colonel embroideries as well as colored damasks are being exploited for table uses. In the most up-to-date outfits and for these Japanese designs are particularly appropriate.

FURBISHING UP READY-MADE LINGERIE.

Most women like dainty fine underwear, but the woman who has not time to make her own is often at a disadvantage because of the price she must pay for really fine ready-to-wear garments. It is advisable when the pocketbook is limited to buy perfectly plain, untrimmed garments and put our own lace and hand work on them. Cheap lingerie is either coarse and trimmed with coarse lace, or else entirely undecorated, and the latter is preferable beyond a doubt to the refined taste, unless one is fortunate enough to get some bargains at a special sale.

The far-seeing woman always tries to profit by these sales, even though she is not in immediate need of what she buys.

HAIRPIN CASE.

Among the useful little et ceteras which make dainty homemade gifts for a friend who expects to travel is a hairpin case with a turnover flap resembling a pocketbook. This should be made of green or other serviceable color linen. The flap is calloped in white or in a darker color than the linen. The initials or monogram should correspond in color with the scallop.

Such a case may be made in handkerchief lines to fit over a chamouis sewel case, which is worn on a ribbon around the neck. The linen case may be easily laundered from time to time, while the suede bag is protected by the linen from getting soiled.

CRETONNE NOVELTIES.

While the dainty modern sets are attractive and most useful for hot weather, cretonne sets would be most acceptable. They are easily made and if the cretonne is of a cool pattern in blue or one of yellow and the centerpiece of yellow or blue flowers to match, a

Had Tuberculosis of Glands—Now Well

Glandular Tuberculosis has yielded to Eckman's Alternative when other remedies failed. Read what it did in this case.

257 Lauriston St., Philadelphia, Pa.
"Gentlemen:—In March, 1909, my doctor pronounced my case 'Tuberculosis in the Glands,' and a number of operations in a hospital failed to benefit me. In the meantime a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. On November 11, 1910, I started to work, and since that time have not lost one day's work through sickness. I highly recommend Eckman's Alternative to anyone who is suffering from Tuberculosis."
(Abbreviated.)

(Affiliated.) JOSEPH B. WHITE, Eckman's Alternative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and up-building the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Small size, $1.00; regular size, $2.00. Sold by leading druggists. Write Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet of recoveries.—Advertisement.

DESCRIBES NEW SIEGE GUNS

French Officer Says German Invention Carries New and Highly Explosive Shell.

London, Sept. 2, 4:30 a. m.—The Boulogne correspondent of the Express sends his paper the following: "A French artillery officer who has just arrived wounded from the front spoke with the greatest earnestness regarding the new siege guns which the Germans are using. He says the gun uses a new and highly explosive shell which has a most devastating effect. This new gun and shell were recently developed at the Krupp works and the facts that the Germans had it was brought into action at Liege, Namur and Louvain. "In all my experience, I have seen nothing like it," declared the French officer."

TURKEY WILL FIGHT GREECE

War Between Two Countries Only Question of Two or Three Days.

London, Sept. 2, 4:40 a. m.—A St. Petersburg dispatch to the Reuters Telegram company conveys a semi-official statement that in well informed circles in St. Petersburg the opinion is expressed that war between Turkey and Greece is now only a question of two or three days. Numerous Turkish troops, the dispatch states, have landed on the shores of Asia Minor at Smyrna, while near Chataja and to the east of Scutari fortifications are being feverishly thrown up under the direction of German officers. General Leman Von Sanders will command the second Ottoman army and Enver Bey will be commander-in-chief.

KAISER'S ARMY PERFECT MACHINE

German Entry Into Brussels Wonderful and Deeply Impressive Sight.

London, Sept. 2, 2:50 a. m.—The correspondent of the Telegraph who has just returned from Brussels says: "The German entry into Brussels was a wonderful and impressive sight. I have seen many military parades in times of peace, but never a parade on so vast a scale which went on without a hitch. "It was impossible to imagine that these men had been fighting continuously for ten days or that they had even been on active service. First of all came six cyclists, then a detachment of cavalry, then a great mass of infantry, then guns and field howitzers, then a pontoon train and then more infantry from half past one Thursday until Sunday morning without a break. "The pontoon trains were especially

FRESH TROOPS ARRIVE

Fight for Supremacy by No Means Ended—Teutons Reckless—Atrocities Not Exaggerated.

London, Sept. 2, 3:18 a. m.—The Chronicle's correspondent, from an unnamed town, sends an account of the third British battle, dated Monday, which follows:

"Desperate fighting in which the British troops are playing a heroic part, is taking place close by. The right wing of the allied forces, forming the northern army, has been fiercely engaged, but it is against the British or left wing that the Germans are flinging the whole of their weight, regardless of the enormous sacrifice of human life entailed. The enemy seems bent on breaking through our defensive line and so pushing back the allies nearer to Paris.

"The battle, which is still at an undecided stage, was preceded by very heavy artillery fire. The German guns were well served and the aim of their gunners was rendered very accurate by observation of aerial pilots who throughout the day hovered above the allied position, correcting any wild firing on the part of the German guns.

TEUTONS AGAIN SHELL MALINES

Troops Moving in Direction of Assche—May Move on Termonde, Near Ghent.

London, Sept. 2, 8 a. m.—A dispatch from Antwerp to Reuters Telegram company conveys the following official announcement:

"The Germans are again bombarding Malines, aiming at the steeple of the cathedral, which is a prominent landmark. "Certain movements of the German troops in the direction of Assche, in the province of Brabant, six miles northwest of Brussels, gave rise to the belief that the Germans were contemplating a movement toward Termonde, 16 miles east of Ghent. However, the Belgian troops have been reinforced on account of the necessity of preserving control of Waasland. The enemy advanced from Brussels to Assche yesterday, but could not penetrate further north.

"Ninove and Alost, 15 and 17 miles, respectively, from Ghent, in different directions, have been occupied by the Germans. "In the provinces of Antwerp and Limburg the situation is unchanged."

ALLIED ARMIES STILL INTACT

British Troops Efficient and Withstanding Germans With Wonderful Equanimity.

London, Sept. 2, 5:03 a. m.—The Paris correspondent of the Times, sends the following:

"Today's pushed up as near the front as possible but could only get general impressions of the events of recent days. "It must be borne in mind that although on the left flank the allied armies have been forced to withdraw, their lines so far remain intact. At no point has the enemy succeeded in driving a wedge through the circle which is drawing closer and closer around the capital and gaining in strength as it retires. "Amid all the welter of war the British troops produced the real quality of efficiency. The spirit of Kitchener apparently pervades the whole British expeditionary force. The transport and commissariat are all excellent and they have withstood the slaughtering tactics of the German general staff with wonderful equanimity."

WAGON BY AUTO KNOCKED FROM

Salt Lake, Sept. 1.—James E. Stanton, 11 years of age, of 523 South Third East street, escaped serious injury when he was knocked from a wagon that he was driving on Ninth East street last night. The wagon was hit by an automobile driven by S. H. Helt, a traveling salesman. Helt was arrested by the police and released on $250 bond, charged with driving an automobile while in an intoxicated condition.

Young Stanton was examined by Dr. Sprague at the emergency hospital and then sent home. It was discovered that the boy had not been injured except for a few slight bruises. The wagon belonged to Wayne Hapgood, a peddler, at 532 Second East street.
