BOOSTING THE PAVING OF AVENUES ON THE BENCH

The report of Commissioner Chris Flygare to the board of city commissioners this morning, that jurisdiction had been gained for the paving of Madison avenue, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-eighth streets, was referred to the city engineer for the purpose of determining what drainage grade there is on the avenue.
The report of Commissioner Flygare was based on the signatures on a petition of property owners for the improvement, more than the required per centage of the property in the district having been pledged. It is said that property owners on Madison avenue desire to have as good a street surface as Jefferson avenue, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-seventh. It is also said that a petition to include Madison, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth may soon be presented to the board of commissioners.
Property owners on Twenty-fourth street, between Washington and Harrison avenues, are planning to get up a petition for paving with a view to making that street as modern as Twenty-fifth street. Should jurisdiction be gained in this district, it would mean that considerable paving will be done in the city during the year. Twenty blocks were paved in 1914.

MABEL SMITH GIVEN PROHIBITION BILL TO ONE HUNDRED DAYS IN JAIL REACH GOVERNOR BY MONDAY

Mabel Smith, a white woman, was given the alternative of paying a $100 fine or of serving 100 days in jail in the police court this morning, after pleading guilty to a charge of selling liquor without a license. She was arrested several nights ago, by Detectives Peterson and Burk.

Through an error in the police court records, the statement was made in the Standard last night that this case was tried yesterday morning, that the defendant was a colored woman and that she was fined $20. An investigation of the records made this morning brought the error to light and it was found that the woman tried yesterday was Minnie Smith, colored, who was arrested Monday night on lower Twenty-fourth street, by Detectives Charles Pincok and George Wardlaw, on a charge of vagrancy.

The case of the City of May Grant was also taken up this morning. The defendant was charged with selling liquor without a license and was arrested at the Glen rooming house on Grant avenue, February 23, 1915, by Detectives Peterson and Burk. A plea of not guilty was entered by the defendant at the preliminary hearing last week and this morning her attorney, W. W. Harcombe, requested a jury trial.

The request was granted and the following jury was secured: A. T. Hestmark, William Moyes, Robert Hoggan and George J. Reeder. The witnesses for the defense were Thomas Kato and D. Shiba, Japanese, Police Sergeant H. C. Peterson and Detective Thomas Burk.

Kato is a college graduate, speaking excellent English. He stated that he went to the Glen hotel with Shiba on the night of February 23, and purchased two pints of beer from the defendant, paying two silver dollars for it. John F. Morrison of this city, a Buick automobile for $750. The doctor authorized payment yesterday and the young lady agreed to deliver the machine, but it was not forthcoming when the doctor met her last evening.

Miss Wiseman stated that some parts of the machine were not at hand and that it would be better for the doctor to wait until the missing parts arrived from the factory, which would be only a few days. The doctor demurred, saying that he had paid for the machine and that it should have been delivered immediately. To settle the matter, the young lady gave Morrison a check drawn in her favor in the name of V. B. May of Salt Lake, for the amount which he had paid her for the machine.

The check was accepted, but Dr. Morrison became suspicious and began an investigation, assisted by Deputy Sheriff Curtis Allison. The bank on which the May's check was drawn was called by telephone and the advice was given that May had no funds in the bank. Then followed a hasty retreat to County Attorney J. E. Evans' office where the young woman was charged with forgery. In the meantime, Miss Wiseman had departed for Salt Lake. Armed with a warrant for her arrest, Deputy Sheriff Walter Richey left for Salt Lake at 2 o'clock this afternoon to take the girl into custody.

The officers say they have had trouble with Miss Wiseman before in the issuing of checks and that she is capable of turning a clever deal. She is rather handsome and is said to be not more than about 21 years old.

Should it turn out that May signed the check, which would release the girl from the charge of forgery, Miss Wiseman will be charged with embezzlement.

GERMAN REPLY IS RECEIVED

Imperial Government Appreciates Evidence of Friendly Feelings of United States.

Washington, March 4.—The official text of the German government's reply to the American note suggesting that Germany and Great Britain agree on a plan to lessen danger to neutral shipping in the war zone, was made public here today. It follows: "The Imperial German government have taken note with great interest of the suggestion of the American government that certain principles for the conduct of maritime war on the part of Germany and England be agreed upon for the protection of neutral shipping. They see therein new evidence of the friendly feelings of the American government towards the German government which are fully reciprocated by Germany. "In its accordance with Germany's wishes, also to have maritime war conducted according to rules which without discriminatorily restricting one or the other of the belligerent powers in the use of their means of warfare, are equally considerate of the interests of neutrals and the dictates of humanity. Consequently it was intimated in the German note of the 16th instant that observation of the declaration of London on the part of Germany's adversaries would create a new situation from which the German government gladly would draw the proper conclusions. "Proceeding from this view the German government have carefully examined the suggestion of the American government and believe that they can actually see in it a suitable basis for the practical solution of the questions which have arisen. "With regard to the various points of the American note, they beg to make the following remarks: "Sowing of Mines. "First: With regard to the sowing of mines, the German government would be willing to agree as suggested, not to use floating mines and to have anchored mines constructed as indicated. Moreover, they agree to put the stamp of the government on all mines to be planted. "On the other hand it does not appear to them to be feasible for the belligerents wholly to forego the use of anchored mines for offensive purposes. "Right of Search. "Second: The German government would undertake not to use the submarines to attack mercantile vessels of any flag except when necessary to enforce the right of visit and search. "Should the enemy nationality of the vessel or the presence of contraband be ascertained, submarines would proceed in accordance with the general rules of international law. "Misuse of Neutral Flags. "Third: As provided in the American note this restriction of the use of the submarines is contingent on the fact that enemy mercantile vessels abstain from the use of the neutral flag and other neutral distinctive marks. It would appear to be a matter of course that such mercantile vessels also abstain from arming themselves and from attacking submarines by force since such tactics, contrary to international law, would render impossible any action of the submarines in accordance with international law. "Fourth: The regulation of legitimate importations of food into Germany suggested by the American government appears to be in general acceptable. Such regulation would, of course, be confined to importations by sea, but that would on the other hand include indirect importations by way of neutral ports. The German government would, therefore, be willing to make the declarations of the nature provided in the American note, so that the use of the imported food and foodstuffs solely by the non-combatant population would be guaranteed. The imperial government must, however, in addition, emphasize having the importation of other raw material used by the economic system of non-combatants including forage, permitted. To that end the enemy governments would have to permit the free entry into Germany of the raw material mentioned in the free list of the declaration of London, and to treat materials included in the list of conditional contraband according to the same principles as food and foodstuffs. "The German government venture to hope that the agreement for which the American government have paved the way has been reached after due consideration of the remarks made above and that in this way peaceable neutral shipping and trade will not have to suffer any more than is absolutely necessary from the unavoidable effects of maritime war. These effects could still further be reduced if, as was pointed out in the German note of the sixteenth instant, some way could be found to exclude the shipping of munitions of war from neutral countries to belligerents on ships of any nationality. "The German government must, of course, reserve a definite statement of their position until such time as they may receive further information from the American government enabling them to see what obligations the British government are on their part willing to assume."

"Wear-Ever" "USE GOOD UTENSILS"

Says Mrs. Vaughn
Every woman who has attended the lectures at the Orpheum this week has been impressed with the fact that Mrs. Vaughn believes that the woman who prepares the food for the family is entitled to the very best in the way of utensils.

A good workman must have good tools. There is no reason in the world why the woman who performs this task of feeding the family should not have the very best tools to be had.

The first cost of Wear-Ever Aluminum ware may seem a bit high, but consider that this wear will last through a generation. That it will always be a pleasure to use it. That foods can be better prepared with it. That it lightens the burden of kitchen work in more ways than one. Nearly every utensil which Mrs. Vaughn uses can be had here. If we haven't it we'll get it for you.

35 BODIES FOUND

Hinton, W. Va., March 4.—The number of deaths resulting from the explosion last Tuesday in the Layland mine on Quinimont mountain remained unknown at noon today. Thirty-five bodies had been brought to the surface, but rumors that half a dozen more dead had been found spread among the scores of anxious friends and relatives who flocked to the mouth of the mine. There was still much confusion as the number of men who entered Tuesday morning. The company made known the names of 177 employed in the workings affected. Whether all were at work when the explosion occurred officers of the company were unable to say, but the opinion prevailed that perhaps twenty escaped. Little hope was entertained that any of the buried men were still alive.
