LUSITANIA WAS UNARMED SHIP

Berlin, May 28, via London, May 29, 12:08 a. m.—It is understood that Germany's reply to the American note concerning Germany's submarine warfare, which will be delivered to the American ambassador tomorrow, will be furnished to the German press on Sunday for publication.

Washington, May 28.—The passing of two weeks with no reply from the German government to the note from the United States concerning violations of American rights in the war zone has caused widespread speculation in official and diplomatic quarters.

Two circumstances contributed to the development today of further tension in an already delicate situation—the insistence of reports from London that the American steamer Nebraskan was torpedoed, and published information that Germany would send a series of notes in answer to the American communication, delaying a discussion of the merits of the question until there was an agreement on facts.

While high officials scrupulously avoid comment, it was evident that they were loath to believe the German government had underestimated the intense feeling of the American people on the Lusitania disaster with the loss of more than 100 American lives, or would seek to delay the reparation demanded by the United States.

Urges Haster. Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, confirmed the London reports that he had sent wireless messages to the German foreign office declaring the American press was becoming impatient over the delay in sending the German reply, and that the Nebraskan incident had aggravated the situation. It was explained at the embassy that the ambassador was not expressing his own opinion in these messages, but merely keeping his government informed, as usual, on the state of public opinion in the United States.

Berlin dispatches saying that Ambassador Gerard had been in daily conferences with German foreign office officials, and therefore had probably sent in advance the main points to be contained in the German reply were shown to Secretary Bryan tonight. He said that while the ambassador had sent his own conjectures, nothing that could be called an outline had been received, and that he was not aware that any official information had been given as to the contents of the reply.

Trend of Opinion. The general trend of comment in official and diplomatic quarters was that if the preliminary note from Germany proposes an agreement on the facts of various causes mentioned in the American note, there would follow immediately a counter-proposal from President Wilson for a suspension of submarine warfare, which might endanger American lives or vessels, while the diplomatic discussion was in progress.

The German government, according to published reports, is represented as intending to inquire as to whether the Lusitania was armed or unarmed and whether she carried munitions of war. The position of the United States government is that the Lusitania sailed unarmed from an American port and did not resist capture. Whether or not the vessel carried contraband of any character did not, in the American view, deprive her of the right under the rules of international law, universally acknowledged, to be given an opportunity to transfer crew and passengers to a place of safety before being destroyed.

Facts Not Denied. Officials pointed out, moreover, that the British liner, by careful investigation before sailing, was found to be unarmed, and that there was no denial here of the fact that she carried munitions of war.

This was shown on her manifest, published the day of sailing. Collector Dudley Field Malone of the port of New York, who was in Washington today for a conference with President Wilson on what were described as personal matters, explained that his assistants had made a thorough investigation of the Lusitania, and that she had no guns aboard, either mounted or dismounted.

WILLIAM POWELL DIES IN SALT LAKE

Salt Lake, May 29.—Utah lost another of her pioneer railroaders yesterday with the death of William Powell, 62 years of age. Mr. Powell had served as an engineer first with the Union Pacific and then with the Oregon Short Line for thirty-five consecutive years. He was compelled to retire in 1913 because of the spinal trouble which finally resulted in his death.

As an engineer Mr. Powell had made almost every run in the intermountain region. His many friends in Ogden, Salt Lake and other towns of the state will be represented at the funeral services, which will be held from the Sixteenth ward chapel tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Powell is survived by his widow, Martha Gillespie Powell; his brother, Thomas Powell, and a sister, Mrs. Annie Powell Butt.

INDUSTRIES OF THE COUNTRY IMPROVE

New York, May 28.—Dun's Review says:

"Steadily expanding industrial operations—due mainly, but not wholly, to the big war demands—have a stimulating effect generally, although the many uncertainties of the foreign situation make for caution everywhere. Hesitancy in new enterprise, however, does not imply any lack of confidence in the future, but rather a disposition to await further developments in regard to this country's diplomatic relations with Germany. Fundamentally, domestic conditions gain in strength; gold is again flowing this way and the banking position is unusually sound, with ample funds available for all requirements, collections are somewhat less difficult on the whole and, while credits are still closely scanned, commercial failures during May made much the best exhibit of the year. Moreover, the purchasing power of the people is enhanced as the number of unemployed diminishes. Prospects for large traffic movements in grain and other staples prompt the transporting companies to enter the market more freely for needed equipment, and buying on the part of these interests, together with the urgent war demands, results in continued improvement in iron and steel."

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS. Provo, May 28.—Mrs. Oscar B. Young was stricken with paralysis yesterday. Her left side is affected, and the ability to speak is almost entirely gone. Today, however, she appears to be slightly better, and hopes are entertained for her recovery.

CARPENTIER GAME; THE WAR PROVES IT

Georges Carpentier as a soldier. Before the war, American followers of boxing believed that Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion of Europe, had every qualification of a boxing champ with the exception of gameness. The war proves that he is as game as there is, for he is making a record as pilot of an airplane.

DANCING AROUND WITH AL JOLSON

"Dancing Around," With Al Jolson, Will Be the Attraction at the Orpheum Wednesday June, 10th.

"Dancing Around" comes first in the title, but Al Jolson never comes second in anything in which he appears. As an entertainer, Al Jolson occupies the head of the table, even if the table is round. As in the case of McGregor, where Jolson sits in the head. When a Chicago critic lately said that "Al Jolson can be more continuously amusing than any comedian on the American stage," the reason for his popularity is revealed. There are many comedians who can make people laugh continuously, as per the various sidewalk conversationalists. But when Jolson makes people laugh they are not ashamed because they laughed! He has wit, humor and a wonderful ability as a singer of comic and sentimental ditties. He has made popular more songs than any dozen singers of his time. When Jolson appears in a musical piece, the plot disappears. It may bob up now and again, but it is not long on view. He never confines himself to the lines of the general run of the story. It begins anew where Jolson leaves off, and proceeds for a while. And that is why "Dancing Around" is never twice the same show. It begins at 8:15, but there is no telling when the final curtain will come. Much depends on the audience. Hysterical men and women in the audience often stop the show. Jolson is often compelled to appeal to the audience—or to some hysterical person—to stop laughing so that he can proceed. And it is no unusual thing for him to sit down on the runway, beg a cigar and have a nice little half-hour talk with the audience. DeWolf Hopper makes one fine curtain speech during the evening, but Jolson will make twenty. Al Jolson is "out of his part"—most of the time—taking the audience into his confidence, dancing, singing and joking, he is always "Gus." That is his character in all Winter Garden shows. Besides Jolson, in "Dancing Around" there are a "drove of dainty dimpled divinities," and a long list of talented principals—a company of well over a hundred. There are eleven big sets in this "mastodon of musical extravaganzas," and several new and startling spectacular effects. In the way of dancing it has been called a "torrid tempest of terpsichorean triumphs." Anybody who has been to a Winter Garden show knows what to expect in the way of dress, or undress, and "Dancing Around" is said to be a sensational marvel. Seat sale opens next Friday.—Advertisement.

BOYS THINNING BEETS. Spanish Fork, May 28.—Hundreds of youngsters commenced work thinning beets today in the fields near Spanish Fork. The recent heavy rains have delayed the work on the beets until they are larger than usual when thinning starts, so all the schoolboys will have employment for a while, at least. The beet stand is an exceptionally good one.

J. R. BURROWS ENDS LIFE WITH A GUN

Salt Lake, May 29.—Just as the theaters were emptying their crowds on the streets and hundreds of persons sought shelter from the rain in nearby doorways, J. R. Burrows, 24 years of age, of Weiser, Idaho, stepped into the entrance of the Dundee Woolen Mills, 215 South Main street, and fired a "Dancing Around" into his right temple. He died almost instantly.

The body crumpled and fell, breaking a large plate glass window. Hundreds of persons rushed to the scene while others summoned the police.

Chaufeur George Moore and J. C. Egbert and James Woodard, city detectives, hurried to the scene in the police ambulance. Assisted by patrol men, they placed Burrows' body on a stretcher and removed it to the police station. An examination there showed that life was extinct and the body was then taken to O'Donnell & Co's morgue.

PROGRESS MADE BY THE BRITISH

Paris, May 28, 10:30 p. m.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight says: "The British troops have made progress toward La Bassee. The enemy has continued to deliver counter attacks with increasing violence near Angres. Five times they made these attacks during the day, but every time they were rolled back. During the night, two counter attacks met with the same result. Thus, in less than twenty-four hours the Germans attacked seven times, but our artillery and infantry made any German progress impossible. We are holding entirely every one of our positions, despite a continuous and very violent shelling.
